

Ten Events Listed on Athletic Program of Week

Ken Robie Stars During Recent Willamette University Series

By RICHARD H. SYRING
Sports Editor

Nearly every form of endeavor included in the University of Oregon's athletic repertoire will come into its own this week. Ten events are scheduled, ranging from varsity baseball games, freshman ball tilts, to relay meets and a golf and tennis match.

Bill Reinhart

Today the Web-foot baseball nine faces the Aggies in Corvallis. On Thursday the freshman relay team will journey to the O. S. C. campus for a meet with the Orange and Black youngsters. While the yearling tracksters are away, the freshman baseball team will cross bats with the Salem high school aggregation on Reinhart diamond at 3:30. Friday afternoon finds the Oregon varsity at home entertaining the University of Washington baseball players at 3:30. A similar form of entertainment will be dished out on the local diamond Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

Friday afternoon will find Coach Earl (Spike) Leslie and his hard-hitting freshman baseball team in Monmouth for a two-game series with the Normal school of that place. The second tilt will be played Saturday. The Eugene Country Club will also be the scene of competition when the Lemon-yellow golfers meet the Washington Huskies, Saturday afternoon.

Changing the scene to Seattle, Coach Bill Hayward and a select group of relay men will be entered in the annual University of Washington relay carnival Saturday afternoon. Not to be counted out, Coach Ed F. Abercrombie and five tennis players will be in the Puget Sound city for a match with the Huskies.

Coach Bill Reinhart and his fence-busting Oregon baseball nine will meet today what was at first thought to be an easy Oregon Aggie baseball team. But as a matter of fact, the Orangemen are much stronger than previously supposed. Playing their first conference game in Seattle last Friday, three Husky pitchers failed to stem the O. S. C. batting attack. Crashing out seventeen bingles the Aggies won, 13 to 3. The second contest was dropped to Coach Tubby Graves' men, 5 to 4.

Coach Coleman of the Aggies has been experiencing the same difficulty that Reinhart had last spring—lack of capable hurlers. Bill Cloyes, varsity initial sacker last year, has been transformed into a pitcher and this position seems to be to his liking. He is credited with the win over Washington. Harvey Boultinghouse, Art Bjontegard, Mildard Bostock and Ralph Hudson round out the rest of Coleman's chuekers.

Another bit of hard luck in the Aggie baseball camp is the inability of Captain Bern Hafensfeld to play. The scrappy second sacker has had his right leg in a cast since the season opened because of a bad knee, and it is expected that he will be out for the season.

The Oregon baseball nine demonstrated one thing against their two-game series with Willamette last week-end and that is the ability to hit. With little outdoor hitting practice and playing on comparatively cloudy days, the Webfoots crashed out 13 hits for each game. With this dynamite in their bats to move the players around the bags, Oregon's varsity nine should experience little difficulty this season.

Probably the most outstanding individual performance during the series was the work of Ken Robie, varsity shortstopper. Last Friday saw him play his first time on the varsity, being a member of the 1927 yearling team. He is the fastest fielder in the infield. In the first Willamette game he speared a drive behind second that looked like a safe hit in the ninth inning. Already he promises to be one of Reinhart's heavy batsmen. He garnered two hits in the first Bearcat tilt and made it four straight in the second. Robie is not a novice at baseball. He comes from a baseball family. Last year his brother was captain of the University of California nine.

American Teachers Charged With Forcing Religious Instruction

(By United Press)
BRUSSA, Turkey, April 30.—Three American school teachers, graduate; Miss Jennie Wilson of Smith Lucille Day, an Oberlin College Boston and Miss Edith Sanderson of Berkeley, California, each were sentenced here today to three days' imprisonment and a fine of $1.50 on charge of disseminating religious propaganda.

The trial was held last Wednesday. Three women being specifically charged with teaching Christianity to Turkish women in violation of the national laws of the country. All pleaded not guilty. The judge at the trial, who has shown sympathy toward the women, allowed them to serve prison sentences in their own homes.

He stated, however, that the charges had been proved and that it had been clearly shown at the trial that students had been forced to read prayers and to propagate religion contrary to educational regulations prohibiting religious teaching.

Oratorio Society To Stage 'Elijah'

Huge Chorus Will Support Artists, May 2-3

Mendelssohn's majestic oratorio, "Elijah," one of the most stupendous productions of its kind ever staged, is to be presented to Eugene Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week, May 2 and 3, by the Eugene Oratorio Society of more than 200 voices. It is organized and directed by John Stark Evans and will be given in the auditorium of the music building at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Evans has been working for months with his 200 voices to bring them to a degree of unison and perfection. He also engaged four of the finest soloists to be had: Rollin Pease, baritone; Franklin Riker, tenor; Jennie Johnson, contralto; and Jane Burns, soprano.

Rollin Pease is perhaps America's greatest interpreter of the title role of the Prophet Elijah and has won fame in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and many other prominent music centers as an Elijah such as Mendelssohn himself must have conceived of when he wrote the scenes between the prophet and the mighty "Lord God of Abraham" or the priests of Baal. The effects are terrific in their strength and triumph, according to Mr. Evans.

Jennie Johnson coached with Herbert Walker. He is a famous Elijah, who, as a boy of 12, sang in the first production of this great oratorio under Felix Mendelssohn himself.

Franklin Riker, dramatic tenor, has a nation-wide reputation. He has sung in most all the cities of America. Jane Burns, soprano, is one of Portland's favorite concert singers. She has just returned from two years' study in New York.

With these four competent artists, an expertly trained chorus, and a director of John Stark Evans' ability, the success of Elijah is predicted by music staff members.

Willamette Carnival Has Many Clever Costumes

WILLAMETTE COLLEGE, Salem, April 30.—(PIP).—During freshmen who appeared as Spanish cavaliers, Russian slave drivers or pirates, towels, and gunny sacks forced into the realm of fashion, a faculty lady with flaxen curls and a Dutch costume, and even the Hunch Back of Notre Dame were among the co-ed who attended the Co-ed carnival at Willamette College which was held last Wednesday.

Reed College Head To Teach Summer Class

Dr. Norman F. Coleman, president of Reed college, will take the place of Dr. William Foster, Newton, Mass., in the Eugene summer faculty. He will lecture in two educational courses in Eugene, July 9 to 13 inclusive.

William P. Maddox Speaks at Luncheon

William P. Maddox of the political science department spoke at a luncheon held Saturday afternoon by the American Association of University Women. The subject was "American Policy for the Prevention of War."

Board Named For A.S.U.O. Election Day

Polls Open From 9 a. m. To 3 p. m.; Counting To Start at 3

Proposed Amendments Fail To Arouse Comment; All Favored

By CHARLES B. BOICE

A. S. U. O. elections will be held tomorrow. Polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on the main floor in Villard hall. The election board has been appointed and all will be in readiness for the election Wednesday morning. Voting will cease promptly at 3 o'clock and counting of the ballots will begin. The first results of the counting will be posted at 4 o'clock at Villard hall and every hour thereafter new counts will be put up.

In every living organization on the campus political meetings have been or will be held before tomorrow morning and the houses will with but very few exceptions definitely line up with one ticket or the other.

Almost reaction whatever is noticeable in regard to the proposed amendments to the A. S. U. O. constitution and by-laws. As one person put it when questioned about the proposed changes, "They are all innocuous enough to deserve the support of the student body."

There are no big issues at stake. Two of the amendments merely bring the constitution up to conform with the way the business is being handled at the present time. One amendment creates a lecture fund, which most students think is a fine thing to do. The fourth one leaves the setting of awards to a committee and the students seem to think that is another good idea.

Voting Rules Stressed

Herbert Socolofsky, vice-president of the student body, wishes to emphasize Sections 7 and 9 of Article III of the constitution regarding voting. They are as follows: Article III Sec. 7—Electioneering—No electioneering or soliciting of votes shall be permitted within the limits established around the polls by the inspectors.

Article III Sec. 9—Voting for Wrong Number—When two or more candidates are to be elected and the voter casts his vote for less than the number to be elected, that portion of his ballot shall be void.

Election Board Named

Following is the election board: 9-10 a. m. Table No. 1—Carvel Nelson, May Tobin; Table No. 2—Bill Winter, Sally Hughson; Table No. 3—Ed Winters, Louise Clark; Table No. 4—Homer Dixon, Martha Swafford, Eugene Laird, inspector.

10-11 a. m. Table No. 1—Keith Hall, Marian Barnes; Table No. 2—Bill Haggerty, Edith Dodge; Table No. 3—Bill Prudhomme, Nancy Peterson; Table No. 4—Frances McKenna, Violet Mills, Paul Hunt, inspector.

12-1 p. m. Table No. 1—George Hill, Katherine Kneeland; Table No. 2—Al Boyden, Betty Higgins; Table No. 3—Phil Sheridan, Grace Gardner; Table No. 4—Stewart McDonald, Bernice Hensley, Joe Holday, inspector.

Gaskell is Secretary

Counters will include those sitting at the last table and the following: Phil Holmes, Marion Leach, Fete Sullivan, Eleanor Poorman, Lyle Loughran, Frances Cherry, Glenn Potts, Shirley Ruth, Vena Gaskill is general secretary of the board.

If those named on the board cannot appear as scheduled they are requested to send some representative from their house to take their place. Voters whose names begin with A to F inclusive will vote at table No. 1; from G to L inclusive, table No. 2; from M to R inclusive, table No. 3; from S to Z inclusive, table No. 4.

California Caravan's Police Siren Escort Disturbs Classes

At 11:30 yesterday morning the sound of police sirens rent the campus air, and industrious students dashed to the windows to see their brother speeders get pinched. It was not speeders, however, but four uniformed cops who were officially ushering a parade of the California Redwood Empire association into Eugene.

They came and kept on coming, more than a score of cars, and ninety-five people. Cars plastered with pictures of redwoods, banners, pennants, flags, almost all proudly bearing the name of the driver's native town, Eureka, Fresno, Sacramento. Each took his turn at the corner of the Lemon O, sending a generous splash of water over his mudguards as each balloon tire hit the puddle where the street car tracks were taken out recently.

One man frowned—his car had been all clean and shiny. Another grinned, thinking perhaps of the roasting he would give Oregon's climate when he got back home. And all of them filed on, en masse, in their tour of Eugene, which had to be completed by 12:10, when the entire Pacific coast caravan were to have luncheon at the Eugene hotel, sponsored by the Eugene chamber of commerce.

Drama Tournay Is On This Week

Four High Schools Enter One-act Plays

Plans for the second drama tournament May 3 and 4 are taking definite form as rehearsals for "Shall We Join the Ladies?" continue and as drama students make arrangements for the four high school plays and a drama luncheon to be given this week-end.

Four high schools, Roseburg, Enterprise, Mills City, and Eugene, have entered the contest and will vie for the cup which is presented to the school producing the best one-act play. Last year the cup, which is awarded by the Guild theatre players, was won by Roseburg.

Mrs. Kathleen Clark of Grants Pass, Mrs. Elizabeth Kerr Day of Portland, and H. C. Kohler of Salem will act as judges Thursday and Friday evenings when the one-act plays are produced.

Following the luncheon, which is to be given Friday for all the guests and drama students, the Guild theatre players will stage Sir James M. Barrie's play, "Shall We Join the Ladies?"

For the past week rehearsals have been intensive. Miss Florence Wilbur, director of drama, in selecting this one-act play has chosen one which is difficult to obtain and is seldom produced.

The afternoon play will be an invitational affair, but the evening performances will be open to the public with a small admission fee.

"The Locked Chest," by John Masefield, has been chosen by the Roseburg students. Eugene high school will stage "Two Crooks and a Lady" by Eugene Pillop, and a translation from a Mexican play will provide variation when Mill City high produces "Maria Cotita."

The fourth play, to be presented by the Enterprise students, is "The Purple Dream" by Donald Breed.

Infirmiry Occupants Few Over Week-end

Fewer patients occupied the infirmiry this week-end than usual. Most of these had colds or other minor ailments, according to the nurse in charge.

Those under the nurses' care are: Jean Temple, Emily Williams, Warren Powell, William Baker, and Sam Itzkowitz, Itzkowitz, whose back and leg were injured in an automobile accident, was transferred from a local hospital.

Measles are holding Wilfred Brown and Winona Irving in the infirmiry annex. L. L. Estil keeps them company with a case of mumps. All three will be released in a day or two.

Pendleton Will Debate Western Champs Here

Pendleton won the debate from The Dalles on April 27 thereby winning the eastern championship in high school debate.

They will meet the winner of the western championship on May 18 at the University of Oregon to decide the state championship.

Twenty-Six Are Elected To Sigma Xi

May 16 Initiation Date; Hold Joint Banquet With Phi Beta Kappa

Active Members Include Only Those Active in Research Work

Six active members and twenty associate members were elected to Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific fraternity, at a meeting of the group which was held at the University of Oregon medical school in Portland Friday evening, April 27.

Newly elected active members are: Elton R. Edge, graduate student in zoology; H. Birnet Hovey, graduate assistant in biology; Dr. William Levin, instructor of public health and bacteriology at the Portland medical school; and Dr. Karl Martzloff, instructor of pathology at the medical school. David T. Jones, head of biology laboratories, and Roland J. Main, graduate assistant in biology, were promoted from associate to active membership.

Associate Members Elected Those elected to associate membership were: seniors: Lillian Bramhall, major in animal biology; Beatrice Mason, physics major; Herbert K. McClain, Richard Roehm, and Floyd A. Van Atta, chemistry majors.

Graduate students: Gladys A. Puchler, mathematics; Clifford L. Constance, psychology; Bruce E. Foster, physics; Charles A. Goodwin, physics; Herbert H. Jasper, psychology; Henry Howard Lipp, chemistry; Rollo Patterson, botany; Marion Warner, biochemistry; Frank E. Trotman, biochemistry; William D. Wilkinson, geology; and Hubert J. Yearian, physics, all of the University of Oregon. Graduates from the medical school at Portland chosen were: H. R. Allumbaugh, physiology; V. Thomas Austin, pharmacology; John B. Flynn, pharmacology; A. J. Hockett, pharmacology; and Frank E. Trotman, biochemistry.

Initiation To Be Wednesday Initiation will take place on Wednesday, May 16. A joint banquet with members of Phi Beta Kappa will be held after the initiation.

Election to active membership in this group depends entirely upon accomplishment of actual research work, and its presentation in form worthy of publication. Other candidates may be elected later when their research work is satisfactorily completed.

Present officers of the group are: Dr. Roger J. Williams, president; Dr. Clinton H. Thienes, vice-president; Dr. W. P. Boynton, secretary; Dr. R. R. Huestis, treasurer; and Dr. Ira A. Manville, assistant treasurer. New officers will be elected at a meeting of Sigma Xi members Friday, May 9, in Villard hall.

Amos Burg Travels To Portland By Air

Amos Burg, special student in journalism, took off last night from the Eugene airport with Albert E. Parmenter, Corvallis flyer, in his Curtiss biplane, for an air trip to Portland and return. The flight was to be made over the Cascade mountains for the greater part of the way, to give Burg a chance to take pictures of some mountain scenery for a news reel. He expects to make the return flight this morning.

Extension Division Head Visits Campus

Dean Alfred Powers, of the extension division, is on the campus today. He is here to work in connection with the summer session.

Dean Powers was recently chosen vice-president of the Oregon Social Hygiene society, which is planning a three year program for the benefit of Portland and the entire state.

U. H. S. Places Second In Typing Competition

University high school won second place in accuracy in competition with thirty-six other Oregon high schools in the state typing contest held Saturday at Corvallis, while Eugene high school retained the cup awarded for first place.

Crowley Joins 'Hole In One Club' Friday On Golf Course Here

A high honor has been tossed into the waiting arms of a University of Oregon student. Membership in the "Dodo" club is one of the things most desired by golfers. Ed Crowley, member of the varsity golf team until recently and one of the best intercollegiate golfers on the coast, has joined the "hole in one club," known to golfers as the "Dodo" club.

In Ed's own words we have the story of his exploit. "I've joined the Dodo club at last—sure was a thrill. On the fourteenth, a 147 yard creekhole, at the Eugene Country club last Friday afternoon. I used a masher niblick; the ball lit about three feet from the cup and trickled right in."

Crowley states that besides the personal satisfaction of having accomplished the rare feat he will receive a couple of cases of ginger ale, a dozen or so golf balls, many cigars and numerous cigarettes.

The feat climaxes eight years of golf for Crowley and according to the golfer it was mostly luck and the first and probably the last hole in one he will ever make.

Sinclair's Next Post Cheyenne

Word From Washington Is Told in Dispatch

The next post of Colonel William S. Sinclair, commander of the local R. O. T. C. unit, will be at Fort Russell, Cheyenne, Wyoming, a dispatch from the war department at Washington declares. The announcement of Colonel Sinclair's successor as Major Frederick A. Barker of Fort Lewis, Washington, was made at the beginning of this term, but as is customary in such cases, the transfer of the local commander was not announced at the time.

Ordinarily it is the custom for the war department to transfer R. O. T. C. commanders every four years. Colonel Sinclair, however, is now serving his sixth year with Oregon. "Well, the suspense is over," he declared, when commenting upon the dispatch. "Of course there is no use repeating at this time that I am as sorry as I can be to leave the University, because you all realize I am."

Faculty Meeting Will Honor Burt Barker

The faculty of the extension division will hold an informal meeting in Portland in honor of Vice-president Burt Brown Barker and Mrs. Barker, Saturday, May 12.

A report will be received at this time on the extension work in other states. This report will be given by Dan E. Clark who has been at the National Extension Association convention at Lawrence, Kansas.

Movies Taken by World Debaters To Be Shown Thursday in Villard

"Oregon's World Debate Tour" in pictures will be presented to the student body and Eugene townspeople by the members of the globe trotting forensic trio, Benoit McCroskey, W. E. Hempstead Jr., and Avery W. Thompson, Thursday evening, May 3, in Villard hall at 7:30 o'clock.

As may be judged from the title of the motion picture record of the enterprise, the scenes include graphic reproductions of the native Hula girls and surf board riding of Waikiki beach, Hawaii; shrines and temples, parasols and rickshaws of Japan; Chinese coolies and revolutionary troops in the cities and villages of the orient; student life in tropical Manila and modern as well as ancient life in the Philippines.

The travelogue, featured by some forty minutes with accompanied lecturing on the part of each of the men who made the trip, will take the audience on up through Burma with its gilt-edge pagodas, India, with the burning of the Hindu dead, and the bathers in the filthy water of the Ganges. Indian scenes also include a shot of Mahatma Gandhi, non-cooperationist leader of the sun-baked empire.

Scenes of the Holy Land, familiar to students since earliest childhood, will be followed by a beautiful reel on the pharaoh land of Egypt where the men visited the ruins of Karnak and Luxor and the valley of the kings, in which King Tutankhamen is buried.

PhiBetaKappa Honors Efforts Of 25 Seniors

Lyle Veazie Leads List Of New Members; Rating Is 1.36

Initiation Ceremonies Will Be Held in Woman's Building May 16

Elections to Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, last night added the names of twenty-five seniors to the Oregon chapter roster. Running true to form, female names won the largest majority of the coveted positions as there were fifteen members of this sex included on the list.

Here are the newly-elected members:

Joanne Ackerson, Justine Ackerson, Elsie May Allen, all of Eugene; Farrell Barnes, Prineville; Edward Best and Julia V. Braunger, Eugene; Harriet M. Clark, San Diego, Cal.; Charlotte Crouch, Eugene; Herbert L. Deal, Canby; Dorothy Delzell, Salem; Helen Falconer, Enterprise; Edward Fortmiller, Albany; Robert Giffen, Eugene.

Veazie Ranks Highest

Gladys Grant, Portland; Naomi Hagansen, Portland; Esther Hardy, San Diego, Cal.; Glenn Howard, Astoria; Kathryn Kirk, Oregon City; Florence Jones, Salem; John Lebor, Portland; Beatrice Mason, Eugene; Arthur Remmen, Portland; Ronald Robnett, Albany; Alice Southwick, Milwaukie; and Lyle Marian Veazie, Portland.

Lyle Veazie had the highest scholastic rating of the entire group with an average of 1.36 for her college career to date. She is a major in the Romance Language department.

Many From Eugene

Eugene had the largest number of representatives included among the members with eight. Portland was second with six. This group of new members is somewhat smaller than the corresponding number elected last spring when twenty-eight were voted in. Six more were voted in at the annual elections last fall.

Wednesday, May 16, has been set as the date of initiation. Following the initiation ceremonies there will be a banquet at Alumni hall in the Woman's building held in conjunction with Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific fraternity. Dr. Joel Hildebrand, professor of chemistry at the University of California, will be the chief speaker.

W. E. Milne, professor of mathematics, is president of the local chapter and M. H. Douglass, librarian, is secretary.
