

Oregon Frosh Defeat Salem

Many Errors Feature Tilt; Three Circuit Clouts Made in Game

By WARREN TINKER

The Oregon frosh won a hectic game of baseball from Salem high school yesterday afternoon by a 16-7 count. The contest was featured by many errors and several heavy batting spears which included three home runs.

The three four base swats made during the game were by Beachley and Lyons of Salem in the sixth and Parke, frosh, going the round in the third. Beachley's homer was a mighty effort landing clear across 18th street through right field.

Frosh Score in First

The frosh scored once in the first inning and then quit until the third. A series of walks and infielders' errors gave the frosh one run and three on base when Parke came to bat in the third. He smashed a nice homer over center field and brought Barnes, Smith and Blackburn in ahead of him.

Long, frosh pitcher, showed up well after walking several men in the first two innings. In the third he gained control and struck out three men in succession. He had the situation well in hand for the remainder of the six innings he pitched. Long struck out eleven men in six innings.

Bowden, Salem lefthanded pitcher, was relieved by Lyons in the fifth after a disastrous third inning and nearly as bad a fourth. Lyons did but little better, the frosh hitting ferociously in the fifth and eighth innings.

Salem Comes to Life Late

Salem woke up in the seventh and staged a belated rally, scoring two runs. Basche, frosh pitcher who relieved Long in the seventh, walked George, Salem catcher, and Belt hit a single over second base. Gambel took a walk to first and filled the bases. Pitcher Basche struck out Bowden who came up next and allowed Kitchin to hit, scoring two of the men on bases. Gambel was touched out at third and Lyons swung three times to end the Salem rally.

A nice catch by Barnes, frosh center fielder, in the fifth prevented a possible Salem score. A blow by Lyons dropped over second and looked like a sure hit. Barnes made a shoe string catch and pegged the ball in before the man who was on base could get started toward home. Slow fielding counted for several scores made by both sides. The frosh took many opportunities to steal bases that should not have been allowed. Kitchin, Salem second baseman, made three errors, all er throws from home plate in attempts to catch men stealing bases. Although many of the frosh scores were on errors, several men did creditable work with the bat. Blackburn, third base, batted 1000 per cent in four trips to the plate, drawing two walks and getting two hits. Hande, Olinger, Parke, and Hilgers also did good work with the willow.

Belt, Beachler, and Lyons batted best for the Salem aggregation. Beachler and Lyons got home runs while Belt hit three times in four times at bat.

The frosh leave this morning for Monmouth where they will play the Oregon Normal school two games, one today and one tomorrow. The contests will be a part of the May Festival, an annual affair at Monmouth.

Nothing is known of the strength of the Normal school team but Spike Leslig, frosh coach, is not confident and expects to start his best men against them.

Summary of the game:

R. H. E.
Salem	7 4 6
Frosh	16 10 5

Batteries: Salem—Bowden, Lyons, George. Frosh—Long, Basche, Barbar, Parke.

Umpire: Skeet Manerude.

William Haggerty Wins Angora Journal Prize

Some people may know their groceries, but Bill Haggerty, Bobby Warner, and Marie Roberts, of the specialized press class might well be qualified to assert that, "We know our mohair."

Last term the Angora Journal, a magazine published in Portland by A. C. Gage, pertaining to the mohair industry of the world, questioned Arthur Caylor, instructor of the class, on the feasibility of holding a contest for the best article extolling the many uses of the mohair from Angora goats. Professor Caylor accepted on behalf of the class and the articles were prepared. What would be the prize? Everything from mohair mops to a live goat was predicted. The papers were submitted and nothing was heard until this week when Mr. Haggerty, Mr. Warner, and Miss Roberts received first, second, and third prizes, respectively. The awards were not mohair-lined kimonos but checks calling for three, two, and one, in simoleons of the realm.

Sigma Nu Mows Down Phi Delt

Theta Chi Takes Tilt From Bachelordon, 11-4

The horseshoe pill of the donut league got lots of rides yesterday afternoon. In both tilts socking the apple on the eye came easy for the boys, chalking up two home runs in one game and two three-baggers in the other.

Phi Delta Theta started the merry-go-round with two runs in the first canto of the tilt against Sigma Nu, when Fletcher's three base hit sent two men across the platter. But from then on the Phi Delt boys were shut out for the rest of the tilt.

The Sigma Nu also started out strong and scored three men in the last of the first canto, when Egermayer's three-bagger sent three men around the horn. In the fourth period they also gathered in a few runs, four in all, which put the game on ice for a 7 to 2 victory.

Kretzer did some good flinging for Sigma Nu, allowing only two hits. Twelve men also retired to the bench after taking their cuts at the ball without being able to connect. The Bachelordon-Theta Chi tilt was somewhat frayed around the edges, a little ragged, you know, and resulted in a win for Theta Chi, 11 to 4. Carrol and Baker, the first two men up for Bachelordon, smacked the apple for a trip around the horn. But after these warming up exercises Theta Chi settled down and succeeded in sending seven more men across the platter than Bachelordon.

No games will be played on Friday, because of the varsity game with Washington. Saturday morning will start things going again, with two tilts at eight o'clock and a total of seven games for the morning's schedule. Following are the games:

League A—Kappa Sigma vs Sigma Nu, 9:30; Phi Delta Theta vs Theta Chi, 12:30; league B—Phi Sigma Kappa vs Psi Kappa, 8 o'clock; Phi Kappa Psi vs Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 11 o'clock; league C—Alpha Beta Chi vs Chi Psi, 8 o'clock; Phi Gamma Delta vs Delta Tau Delta, 11 o'clock; league D—Sigma Pi Tau vs Alpha Upsilon, 9:30.

Batteries for yesterday's games: Sigma Nu—Kretzer and Kerron; Phi Delta Theta—Hummelt and Calkins; Theta Chi—Johnston and Kichson; Bachelordon—Brockman, Carrol, Wilkinson and Simpson.

Josh Alexander Heads Last Call for Oregon

A final effort is being made to secure more subscriptions for the Oregon. Josh Alexander has been named to head the drive, which is definitely the last this year. All students who have not as yet turned in subscriptions are urged to do so now if they wish a copy of the year book.
