Chinese Divided At Smith Quizzed Flood Bill Presented

by United Press

Foreigners Endangered

SHANGHAI, May 10.—The Japanese at Tsinan-Fu today attacked the menacing Nationalists following a three-hour bombardment and forced them to surrender, a dispatch received here tonight said.

The Japanese offensive was said to have completely demoralized the Nationalists, who suffered heavy casualties.

A Japanese brigade enroute from Dairen to Tsinan-Fu also fought a pitched battle with the southerners at Koteim, 15 miles east of Tsinan-Fu and forced the Chinese to retreat in disorder, after heavy losses. The Japanese had 25 casualties.

They are reported to have split the Chinese army, one section of which is now crossing the Yellow river. The other section is in retreat southward toward Tsinan-Fu.

Hospitality toward foreigners is increasing here and the Japanese authorities announced they will send marines outside the foreign settlement if the menacing situation warrants it.

C. C. Wu, Nationalist delegate, was ordered to leave Paris Thursday for Washington to confer with Secretary Kellogg regarding the Tsinan-Fu situation.

Smith Answers Committee

NEW YORK, May 10.—The Al Smith-for-President headquarter here has collected $103,301 and spent $92,090.28, George R. Varnam, Smith's campaign manager, told the senate campaign investigating committee. Varnam's detailed statement was submitted after Gov. Smith had put aside his big cigar for a quiet half hour on the stand in the hotel where the hearing was held.

"I haven't any plans for campaigning," Smith said. "I promised the people of this state when I was inaugurated governor that I would do nothing that would take time from the discharge of my duties as governor."

"I told them I would be governor of this state and that the job would take all my time."

"I don't know anything about anything other than in New York City," Smith said. "I just know my friends have been working here. You can get what they have done from them."

Flood Bill Up to President

WASHINGTON, May 10.—President Coolidge received the $325,000,000 flood control bill for consideration and signature late today.

The president is expected to sign the measure, but approval may not be announced until late within the ten-day period allowed by law, because of the necessity for sending the bill to the justice and other departments for study.

Bremen Crew Start West

CHICAGO, May 10.—The German-Irish crew of the Bremen arrived at the municipal airport here at 4:55 p.m. today from Cleveland to the enthusiastic cheers of several thousand persons who had waited in the rain all afternoon to see the famous trans-Atlantic fliers.

Ford Confers with Lindy

DETROIT, Mich.—Henry Ford conferred with Colonel Chas. A. Lindbergh on the airman's European flight plans within an hour after he returned from England today. The conference was held in Ford's office at Dearborn and dealt with Lindbergh's project of using a Ford plane.

The conference lasted about an hour but no announcement of Lindbergh's plans was forthcoming.

Co-op Will Purchase Books After May 15

It was the intention of the University Co-op to begin taking in old books on May 10, but the date is to be extended to May 15, when it is hoped that all courses for next year will be settled upon, according to a statement issued yesterday.

Because of the unsettled plans regarding a junior college for the campus next fall, and because of the numerous professors who are leaving this year, the Co-op has been unable to get complete lists of the books to be used next year.

Nobile Plans Polar Flight in Dirigible As Weather Is Good

COPENHAGEN, May 10.—General Umberto Nobile plans to leave at 4 a.m. Friday in the dirigible Italia for the North Pole, it was announced here tonight.

Nobile issued orders for a start at 4 a.m., after receiving a weather report from the meteorological institute, Aaromsoe, indicating conditions for a flight won't be excellent. It was expected Nob le would take the Italia direct to the North Pole through the St.

Mothers Will Be Honored at

Event Saturday Afternoon Is In Alumni Hall

Most recent announcements in the plans for the Mothers' Weekend program, which begins on the campus today, center around the tea to be given Saturday afternoon and the special vesper service Sunday afternoon, according to Luola Benge, general chairman of the first University of Oregon Mothers' Week-end.

The tea, which will be held in Alumni hall and the sun porch of the Woman's building from 3 to 5 Saturday afternoon, will be given by both sons and daughters in honor of their visiting mothers. Miss Benge especially stressed the invitation to the men of the University, assuring them that they will enjoy the affair. All faculty folk and townspersons are also invited to the tea as guests.

Music by members of Mu Phi Epsilon, music honorary for women, will be featured in Alumni hall at intervals throughout the tea hours, and will consist of piano solos by Mary Clark, Virginia Hunt, Lois Everson and Bernice Bereovich; vocal numbers by Mrs. Harry Scoulard, Gretchen Kier and Evelyn Dew; violin solo by Beatrice Wilder; and a harp solo by Emily Williams.

Members of Mortar Board and other prominent senior women of the campus will act as hostesses, and members of Kwama will serve.

Decis Wells, in charge of the receiving line, has announced that the following will greet the guests: Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall, Dean Virginia Judy Esterly, Mrs. Frank Chambers, Mrs. Elmer Shirell, Mrs. Eric W. Allen, and Miss Hazel Prutsman.

If the men of the campus who have their mothers as guests this week-end cannot be persuaded to come to the tea by any other means, the sherbet, wafers, and tea or coffee should entice them, the committee believes.

The vesper program has been planned to begin at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, in order that mothers motorcycling back may leave as early as possible. The program will last a half hour. President Arnold Bennett Hall will talk briefly during the vesper service, and Henry W. Davis, head of United Christian work on the campus, will preside.

Two selections from the oratorio, "Elijah," will be presented by the combined glee clubs and Eugene Oratorio society under the direction of Eugene Carr, instructor in music. Emily Williams will give two harp numbers, and members of Kwama will usher. Margaret Nugent is in charge of the vesper program.

Miss Benge wishes to stress, again, the fact that students should reserve seats for their mothers for the canoe fete, if they have not already done so, and also that they provide rooms for their mothers during their stay in Eugene, as these cannot be provided by the committee. Students are also asked to see that their mothers are registered at the Administration building this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Music Students Give Program Down Town

Students from the school of music presented a varied program before the weekly luncheon meeting of the chamber of commerce, yesterday.

Will Kidwell, '27, who is in charge of music week in Eugene, gave a short explanation of the purpose in observing a national music week, and then introduced the players.

Madame McGrew spoke on "Music for Everyone," and gave a brief history of the music department at the University. Those appearing on the program were Kenneth Brown, violinist; Violet Mills, contralto; Lawrence Wagner, trumpet; John Mohr, baritone; they were accompanied by Vera Ratcliffe and George Barron.

R. J. Moore Fatally Hurt In Accident

Crash Results in Skull Fracture and Brain Concussion

Hilyard and 16th Streets Scene of Collision; Parents Here

Robert J. Moore, Chi Psi, of Newberg, Oregon, died at 12:35 yesterday afternoon from a double fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain, received in an accident at Sixteenth avenue east and Hilyard street at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The motorcycle on which he was riding south on Hilyard street collided with a car driven by Miss Harriet W.

Thomson, professor of physical education in the University, who was driving west on Sixteenth street. Moore was hurled about 36 feet through the air from the spot where the collision took place before his head hit a water pipe sticking about two feet out of the ground. The force with which he hit the pipe broke it off and threw him completely around. He fell against the house on the southwest corner of the intersection.

Miss Thomson Tells Story

Miss Thomson tells the following story of the accident: "I was traveling west on Sixteenth street and he was going south on Hilyard. I slowed up for the intersection as I always do because people travel pretty fast going out that way. I saw no cars coming and was just about ready to put on the speed again when I saw him flash into sight. I started to turn my car to the left to keep from hitting him. It seemed to me that he tried to put on a little extra speed to get by. His motorcycle hit the right front wheel and fender of my car and turned it over. He was thrown clear over the handlebars and landed under the shrubbery around the front of the house. I got out of the car as soon as I could. I had to climb out of the window. I rushed right over to where he was and had some one call an ambulance and the police. They came right away and took him down to the Pacific Christian hospital and then I went down and stayed there all afternoon."

Jackson Tells of Crash

Bob Jackson, senior in the University, was sitting in the window of his home on the opposite corner of the street from which the accident happened. He heard the impact of the collision and looked out to see Moore flying through the air. He and his mother rushed out immediately and then phoned for an ambulance. Mrs. Jackson said that at first she did not know that there was a boy in the crash until Miss Thomson asked about him. The car driven by Miss Thomson had turned over on the motorcycle, completely covering it, and Moore had been thrown under the shrubbery next to the house.

Moore was rushed to the hospital, where he died one hour and 35 minutes later. He did not regain consciousness. Virginia Moore, Chi Omega, sister of Bob, was notified immediately after the accident and phoned her parents at Newberg. They caught the next train and arrived here at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, not knowing of their son's death until they had arrived here.

No inquest will be held on the case, Coroner W. W. Branstetter announced last night, as it appeared that no one was at fault. Eye witnesses of the accident reported that Moore, who was traveling fairly rapidly before he entered the street intersection, sped up in an attempt to avoid the collision. Miss Thomson was driving at a moderate rate of speed, it was said.

Bob was 19 years of age. He was a sophomore in pre-law. His sister is the only other child in the family. He was a graduate of Newberg high school and three years ago was president of the high school conference held here.

Out of respect for their brother the Chi Psi's have withdrawn from participation in the junior weekend festivities. The body will be taken care of by the Finley Undertaking parlors of Portland. Complete funeral arrangements have not as yet been made.

Second Collision Averted

A second serious accident was narrowly averted at the same spot. In the confusion attending the accident two ambulances were called and rushed to the scene. The first one to arrive stopped diagonally across Sixteenth street. A few seconds

Mary H. Perkins Will Help Collect Words For New Dictionary

Miss Mary H. Perkins, of the University of Oregon English department, is assisting in the collecting of words for the New American Dictionary, under the direction of Professor W. F. Craigie, editor-in-chief, of the University of Chicago.

Professor Craigie recently completed the Oxford dictionary, the new English dictionary, published at the University of Oxford press. The book went to the press in March, and was the culmination of years of extensive research and labor. Then Professor Craigie came to America and is planning a dictionary, modeled on the same lines as the Oxford dictionary, but having in it only English as it is spoken in America, since the 17th century. This will include the "Americanisms," "colloquialisms" and phrases peculiar to various parts of America. The words will be gleaned from the material printed since 1620.

Miss Perkins will spend the earlier part of the summer reading pioneer material in Oregon searching for words, and she will also seek words from the logging camps and other language breeding centers. The word list in this dictionary will be a tremendously large one, according to Miss Perkins, and it will probably be years before it is completed.

Decorations On Prom Near End

Dream Follies Pony Chorus To Be Feature

The interior of the Igloo is fast assuming the appearance of an immense Chinese temple. By tomorrow evening it will portray as closely as possible an ancient Chinese place of worship. A feature of the decorations is a giant Buddha. This statue will stand twenty feet high and is about twenty feet thick at the base. It will be surrounded by hideous, glaring dragons, all lending to the great effectiveness of the quaint Chinese architecture.

The pony chorus from the "Dream Follies" will furnish the feature for the prom, with two or three good numbers. The chorus was secured for the prom by Jane Cochran, in charge of the feature arrangement. "The decorations are very likely to be as much of a success to 99 per cent of the junior class as they will be to the rest of the campus," said Ed Winter last night. The reason for this statement is the poor turnout on the part of the juniors to help in the decorating. All juniors are urged to go up to the Igloo and give a little help on the job.

Paul Wagner, who is in charge of the floor, plans to have an ideal dancing surface by Saturday night. The floor is being first cleaned with gasoline to remove all the dirt which has accumulated there since the last dance. After the dirt has been removed, a coating of wax powder will be sprinkled on the floor and will be worked over until a proper dancing surface is obtained.

With Governor and Mrs. Isaac L. Patterson leading the list, a host of distinguished patrons and patronesses have been invited to attend the prom by Ethel Lou Crane, head of this committee. The other distinguished persons asked to be present are: President and Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Gerlinger, Judge and Mrs. G. F. Skiptow, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Brown Barker; Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Mr. and Mrs. George Turnball, Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, Dean and Mrs. E. L. Shirell, Dean and Mrs. James H. Gilbert, Dean and Mrs. H. D. Sheldon, Dean and Mrs. Eric W. Allen, Dean and Mrs. John F. Bovard, Dean and Mrs. F. E. Folts, Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Pallett, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Spencer, and Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Oberterfe.

They caught the next train and arrived here at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, not knowing of their son's death until they had arrived here.

No inquest will be held on the case, Coroner W. W. Branstetter announced last night, as it appeared that no one was at fault. Eye witnesses of the accident reported that Moore, who was traveling fairly rapidly before he entered the street intersection, sped up in an attempt to avoid the collision. ### Oregon All Set For Invasion Of Orangemen

Todays Tilt on Diamond Will Shake Existing Northwest Tie

Aggies Described as Hard Hitting; Webfoots Said To Be in Form

Northwest Conference Division

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Oregon	1	1	.500
Aggies	2	2	.500
Washington	3	3	.500

By HARRY DUTTON

The three-cornered tie that exists between the northwest division teams is due to go by the board this afternoon, when the Webfoots and the Aggies clash at 1:30 on Reinhardt diamond.

When the dust has settled, Oregon will either be leading the conference or trailing it. The same thing goes for the Beavers.

The strength of the two nines may be judged by the "Goliath" Epps results of the Columbia games. Oregon beat the cliffmen during the fore part of this week 15-7 and 9-2. Earlier in the season O. A. C. lost to the Irishers 11-9 in one game but came back in the second tilt to win 10-5.

Aggies Are Hitters

In the case of the Aggies this showing may not do them justice, for they are reported to have shown considerable improvement recently. Jerry Calhoun, Washington chuckie, who has pitched two games against the Ags this season, winning one of them, believes Ralph Coleman has the heaviest hitting team in the conference, which makes up to some extent for their mediocre pitching staff.

Oregon has apparently hit its stride and the boys seem to be finding the apple and soaking it with great gusto. Ray Edwards is getting especially adept at knocking it into the open spaces. In Wednesday's game with Columbia he connected for two homers. And errors? The varsity succeeded in making but two in the Columbia tilts, both in the first game. This is considerably different from the 13 chalked against them in the second Washington rampage.

With clouts like Edwards, Epps, Gould, Ridings, McCormick, Mason, Gabriel, Robie, and Nelson, ambling up to the rubber for the Webfoots, and onion smashers of similar ilk for the Beavers, in the persons of Quayle, Belleville, Maple, Hammer, Logan, and Bauer, taking their cuts, the game should be an interesting spectacle to witness. It looks as if the old horseshoe is scheduled to receive some real battering today.

Pitcher a Mystery

Coach Reinhart has not definitely decided who will start against the Aggies in the box. "Curly" Fuller and "Big Train" MacDonald are both raring to go for the opener this afternoon. Fuller is the likely man and will probably get the assignment, leaving tomorrow's tilt in Corvallis for MacDonald.

Cecil Gabriel is apt to get the call to catch although Ira Woodie will make a close bid for the job. Ira has been steadily pressing his sophomore competitor in the last week. The chances are good for Carl Nelson starting on first. Les Johnson may draw the berth, however, as he has been whetting up his hitting eye of late.

Gordon Ridings seems to be out of his slump. He's fielding them and hitting them and he is getting on speaking terms with his hearing arm. He will begin at second. "Rabbit" Robie will cover the short lot. This snappy little fielder can't be budged from his berth.
