

F. E. Folts Takes Harvard Position

Second Business Ad Dean To Leave Oregon

Franklin E. Folts, assistant dean of the school of business administration at the University of Oregon for several years, has accepted a position as professor of industrial management in the graduate school of business administration at Harvard University, it was announced here this week.

Professor Folts will work with Dean Robbins at Harvard in the field of industrial management. Dean Robbins resigned recently here to accept the place at Harvard.

Folts Oregon Graduate
Professor Folts graduated from the University of Oregon in 1919, and in 1920 was made instructor in the school of business administration. He received his degree of master of arts in 1923, and in 1924 became assistant dean of the school.

At Harvard Professor Folts will continue research studies started here, particularly in the field of industrial management. Much of his time will be in research, he states, and the results of his findings will be available for the University of Oregon as well as Harvard.

In collaboration with Professor A. B. Stillman, Mr. Folts has written a textbook on interpretative accounting that is soon to be published. He has also written for periodicals and professional magazines.

The present accounting system now in use in the school of business administration here is the work of Dean Robbins and Professor Folts. Both men have also assisted for several years in the annual short course held here for commercial secretaries.

School Heads Praised
The rapid growth of the school of business administration here is held to be largely due to Professor Folts and Dean Robbins. Enrollment has increased from 346 in 1924 to 462 at the present time, and during this period standards have been steadily raised. The graduate school has also shown marked progress during this period.

Officials of the University are warm in their praise for Professor Folts, whose work on committees and in other activities has also been noteworthy. Both Professor Folts and Dean Robbins will remain here for summer session, and will offer courses in the school of business administration.

Argentinean Leads Second Golf Round

(By United Press)
SANDWICH, England, May 10.—With all the American leaders in, Jose Jurado, of Argentine, led the field in the second round of the open golf championship today with an aggregate of 145.

Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen, of the American team, were tied for second place with 148.

Wild Bill Mehler, the leader yesterday with a 71, shot a 73 today for an aggregate 149. Hagen scored a splendid 73, but it was of no avail against the heartbreaking pace the quiet Argentinean machine gun set.

Tommy Armour of the American team and Douglas Grant, Anglo-American amateur, passed out of the tourney with mutual aggregates 161—16 strokes behind Jurado. John McHugh, San Francisco, and Bob Stuppel, Chicago, also were eliminated.

Tax Bill Delayed by More Amendments

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Progress toward a vote on the tax bill in the senate was delayed today by a new amendment by Senator Caraway, democrat, Arkansas, proposing a fifty cent tax on every $100 on futures transactions in wheat, cotton, and other produce exchange.

The amendment was a substitute for the one Caraway advocated yesterday calling for a tax of ten cents per $100. It exempts from the high tax, however, all cotton and grain dealers who swear to carry out their contracts by actually delivering the commodity.

Caraway's amendment was defeated 24 to 47, after an hour's debate. The senate then adopted a finance committee amendment restoring a tax of one per cent per $100 on futures produce trades. This was eliminated in the house bill.

Kapowsin, Washington, Swept by Huge Fire

(By United Press)
TACOMA, Wash., May 10.—Fire of undetermined origin swept Kapowsin, 30 miles southeast of here, early this morning and wiped out in its entirety the principal business block of the town. This loss was estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000, largely covered by insurance.

Engine company No. 11 of the Tacoma fire department rushed to the scene in 40 minutes following an appeal for help, but it was too late for any service, the flames having completed their work of destruction.

Flyer Plans Non-stop Frisco-New York Flight

SAN FRANCISCO, May 10.—Ernest Smith, first civilian to fly to Hawaii, announced today he was having a plane built for a non-stop flight from here to New York, a feat heretofore unaccomplished.

He was going with such speed that he was unable to stop before tearing the rear bumper from the first ambulance.

Problems Are Presented By Retiring President

At the summons of Donald Beelar, retiring president of the student body, the retiring officers marched before the audience to make their farewells at the 11 o'clock assembly yesterday morning. Heading them was Herbert Socolofsky, vice-president during the past year. The chairman then summoned in the recently elected officers, headed by Joe McKeown.

"I feel like a condemned man," Beelar remarked before the installation, "because of this custom that obliges every retiring officer to tell what he did or didn't do." The ex-president felt extremely grateful, he said, for the confidence that has been placed in him by the University of Oregon.

Briefly he outlined the problems which the new officers would have to face during the coming year—building programs, the problem of finances. In regard to the latter, he presented the fact that every year Oregon State College has an income of $1000, that of the University of Oregon is only $800—making an annual difference of approximately $300,000. Beelar is of the opinion that there is nothing to justify such a huge balance in favor of G. S. C. Other problems that the retiring president presented are the keeping of committees alive, and keeping politics clean. In spite of the A. S. U. O.'s difficulties, Beelar still thinks that politics at the University of Oregon are far cleaner than at middle-west schools.

"I want to thank you sincerely for the high office to which you have elected me," were the first words of Joe McKeown after taking the oath of office as new president of the student body. "I will give you the best I've got," he said in retiring, "and I'm sure the other officers will do the same. I hope we can prove ourselves worthy of the offices as Don Beelar and his administration have done."

During the last ten minutes of assembly, Christine Holt introduced the visiting Japanese dolls which have been displayed on the campus for the last two days.

Whitman May Queen To Be Elected Soon

WHITMAN COLLEGE, Walla Walla, May 10.—(P.L.P.)—The election of the May Queen will be held the latter part of this week. The queen this year will be chosen from the senior class, whereas before she could be chosen from any class in college. The votes are 25 cents each. It is expected that there will be much competition among the sororities for the queenship.

Money for the awards is derived from a gift of $2,500 from Henry Failing of Portland and $1,600 from C. C. Beekman of Jacksonville, the interest being used to encourage oratory in the senior class.

It is planned that the judges will be three University alumnae chosen

Senior Orators To Win Awards

Failing - Beekman Prizes Amount to $250

Prizes totaling $250 will be awarded winners of the Failing and Beekman Oratorical contest, which will be held during commencement week. This is a senior contest and five have already signified intentions of competing, says J. K. Horner, professor of public speaking.

Because of the valuable and worthwhile money awards offered, it is hoped that many will write orations and enter the contest.

Any member of the senior class who is enrolled in the classical, scientific or literary courses of the University, is eligible to try for the first prize of $150, known as the Failing prize, or the Beekman award of $100.

All orations must be original and they will be judged on the basis of originality of subject, the style of treatment and the manner of delivery.

Money for the awards is derived from a gift of $2,500 from Henry Failing of Portland and $1,600 from C. C. Beekman of Jacksonville, the interest being used to encourage oratory in the senior class.

It is planned that the judges will be three University alumnae chosen from those present for the commencement exercises.

Mr. Horner asks that as many as possible make efforts to compete. They should see him as soon as they make their plans to do so, as he desires to keep a record of all prospective competitors.

Sand Island Object Of Compromise Bill

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Senator C. C. Dill, democrat, Washington, has introduced a compromise bill in the senate which is designed to end the controversy between Oregon and Washington as to possession of Sand Island at the mouth of the Columbia river.

The bill would divide between the two states the fund of more than $400,000 collected by the federal government stipulating it shall be used for the propagation and protection of fish in both states. Future revenues would be divided and expended by the Oregon and Washington fish and game commissions.

Observe Mother's Day, Sunday, May 13th

—The sweetest day of all the year is the day on which tribute is paid to the most wonderful person in the world—"Mother."
—One form of showing your true affection for dear mother is to remember her with something appropriate—gift merchandise, of course, is always acceptable.
—Just an inkling:

New, Chic Kidskin Gloves $2.98 and $3.50
—Very simple cuffs impart a mite of sauciness to these gloves, which your youthful mother will adore. The fact they are the celebrated "Fownes" make is your assurance they are correct in every respect.

New Silk Moire Handbags $2.98
—They qualify as Mothers' Day gifts because they have so much charm about them. Choice of amber, brass and nickel embellishments, in delightful styles. They take to such fashionable colors as brown, tan, navy, grey also black.

Lovely Washable Gloves, Pair 79c To $1.25
—Their silk finish give them a distinguishing air. Varied colors and patterns.

Leather Purses Are 98c to $6.90
—A bag with clever angles is a favorite with our modern mothers. So varied are the styles that it would be confusing to define them in detail.

Some Fragrant Token
—Will delight her, whether she's young or older. If you know her favorite scent, give her that, in a brand that is good. In attractive bottles.

Georgette Silk Hankies 35c
—If she is far away, tuck a pretty hand painted kerchief into the special delivery letter she'll get on Mothers' Day.

—Women's pure linen handkerchiefs in white, are daintily hemstitched, 25c.
—Oh, yes, Marcel Caps are much in demand. Priced at 29c and 59c.

Spring Frocks

$13.50 and $16.75
