Washington and Oregon To Vie in 2:30 Event On Hayward

By CHAL NOOE

Oregon is liable to win a track meet any day now, but yesterday wasn't the day. Washington babes nicked the frosh 69 to 54 in their dual meet. This afternoon at 2:30 on Hayward field the big teams of the two schools take up the battle. Today is the day, maybe. On paper Oregon's doped to lose, but Oregon fight must be taken into consideration.

"Ice" Edmondson, Washington track coach, brought 13 freshmen tracksters from Seattle. They won. Coach Bill Hayward had six fairly experienced men to count on. They gathered six first places. Washington babes were necessary to get the seven first places. The six firsts for Oregon were made by four men. Coach Hayward is pinning his hopes on Standard in this afternoon's meet with the Washington varsity. Wetzel is doped to duplicate past performances in the weights. Vic will run into some tough competition in the shot, however. Brix, the Washington weight man, holds the northwest record in the shot put.

The Husky team has another star performer in Steve Anderson, who holds the northwest record in the high hurdles. Anderson will also be seen in the century, the low sticks, and the high jump.

With Crawford laid up, Oregon's hopes for points in the hurdles are somewhat blasted, but Kelley, Prendergast, and McGee may come through with some markers. Good news was received at the Oregon camp yesterday. Bredthauer, sophomore broad jumper, has made up his deficiencies and is eligible to compete.

Frosh Squad To Meet E. B. U. Debaters Soon

Freshmen having doffed their green lids for good, will attempt to show the Eugene Bible University debaters that they are worthy of such a right, when the two schools meet in the final interscholastic forensic meet of the season, Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock in room 107 of Villard hall.

Harry Tonkon and Calvin Bryan will uphold their end of the argument by taking the negative of the question, "Resolved, That capital invested in foreign countries should be protected only by the government of the country in which the capital is invested."

The Oregon cross-question system will be used, and as usual, there will be no judges' decision rendered.

relds Maedonald in the eighth, marked up another.

After allowing six hits which the Aggies made count for five runs, Fuller retired in favor of Art Schoeni, southpaw, at the beginning of the fourth. Schoeni gave a nice exhibition of portside chucking and received credit for yesterday's win. Maedonald took up the burden at the beginning of the eighth and set the visitors down in short order. During the four innings that Schoeni worked, he allowed but two hits and one run. His submarine ball was working perfectly.

Game Thriller

Aside from the numerous "boners" on each side, yesterday's game was a thriller from the first to the last innings and had the crowd in a frenzy most of the time. Les Johnson, Webfoot initial sacker, garnered three hits and one walk. This is the best batting streak Johnson has ever had on the varsity. Except for some poor base running he would have had a perfect day in the field.

Oregon's victory over the Aggies placed them first in the percentages with two wins and one defeat. The second game of the four-tilt series will be played this afternoon at Cervallis.

Newsman Will Play Scribes

Oregonian Writers to Meet Webfoots in Baseball Game May 20

May 20, 1928, will be Sunday this month, because the day preceding it is Saturday. But that is not its only claim to the "red-letter" distinction of the calendar.

Some time past Sam Wilderman, University publicity agent, sent a letter to a certain Don McLeod, of the Morning Oregonian in Portland, and the results of this scented missive bid fair to be far reaching.

McLeod, it appears, is manager of the Oregonian house league. This league is not of the Epworth or Christian Endeavor variety, but is a baseball team. Wilderman, according to rumor, made certain disparaging remarks about the prowess of this editorial nine, and went so far as to intimate he had first hand knowledge of a diamond crew that could make the Oregonian willow swinging scribes look like bushers.

Following a furious longhand exchange of opinions, it was arranged that Wilderman show his hand in fair joust on the Vaughn-street diamond in Portland, May 20, at 10 a. m. Since that date the "Webfoot Mysteries" have been holding secret workouts every evening after nightfall in preparation to make good the Wilderman boast.

Just recently has the line-up for the game been divulged, and, hark ye, mates, it sounds like a winner. It is made up of various coaches, professional scribes, and economists of note on the campus. The outfield is especially imposing. They are hitters, and exceptional fielders. The Oregonian sockers will get no quarter from these garden men, especially from the left field where Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, will evort. Captain John J. McEwan, football coach, will be in center field and Bill Hayward, track coach will take care of the spaces in the right.

William J. Reinhart, baseball coach, is scheduled to do the chucking, and Earl "Spike" Leslie, frosh coach, and Jackson Bliss, assistant baseball coach, are staging a hot fight for the opportunity to receive the elder Reinhart's slants.

Delbert Oberteuffer, head of the Physical Education department, may draw a place on first. Arden X.

Pangborn, editor-elect of the Oregon Daily Emerald, will be the man or the keystone sack. Third base is still up in the air. George Howard Godfrey, of the journalism faculty, may take the position on the hot corner, according to scouts. Short-step will be ably taken care of by Virgil Earl, director of athletics on the campus.

The "Webfoot Mysteries" will take their own "ump" to Portland in the person of "Skeet" Manerud, famous ex-Oregon quarterback.

Little is known of the Oregonian team personnel at present, except that Lair H. Gregory, Oregonian sports editor, will be on the mound against the Webfoots.

Japanese Battle Continues Outside Tsinan-Fu

(By United Press) PEKING, China, May 11—Mrs. W. T. Hobart, American Methodist missionary at Tsinan, was murdered by Chinese troops April 29, the American legation was advised today.

Tsinan Evacuated

TSINGTAO, China, May 11—Tsinan has fallen before the vigorous drive of the Japanese expeditionary forces and the Chinese nationalist army has evacuated, it was learned here today. Vigorous fighting preceded the rout of General Chiang Kai Shek's remaining forces, estimated at about two thousand.

The remnants of the southern army for hours had bitterly resisted the Japanese approach and had signalled they would not surrender even though Japanese planes whirled overhead and the Japanese gunners laid down a steady barrage on the walled city.

Walled City Endangered TOKIO, May 11—Fighting between Japanese and the Chinese nationalists behind the walled city of Tsinan-Fu was resumed today and heavy casualties were inflicted on the Chinese. The Japanese lost nine killed and 117 wounded.

Remnants of the nationalist army are entrenched in the walled city, which was reached by Japanese artillery fire and half of it occupied. The Japanese advance was halted by negotiation for the surrender of the southerners.

the Japanese are gradually clearing a wide area of scattered nationalist units, who are making a stubborn resistance and subjecting the invaders to continuous sniping.

The Japanese forces are handicapped by lack of hand grenades.

An airplane dropped leaflets within the walled city advising the nationalists entrenched there to surrender but they at first refused. Later it was reported that negotiations were proceeding and that fighting had temporarily ceased.

The fighting outside the city, as the Japanese extended the area they hold was reported to have been heavy with the Chinese suffering the heavier casualties.
