

Drama Banquet Given Last Night

Miss Wilbur Honored at Large Gathering

About 110 guests assembled last night at the formal banquet at the Woman's building, given in honor of Miss Florence E. Wilbur, director of drama. About the U-shaped banquet table which was laden with purple and yellow iris and Scotch broom, students who have worked with Miss Wilbur for the past three years and others who have entered the department more recently said their formal farewell to the director who has spent so much time and energy toward building up the drama department.

After spending two weeks here at summer school, Miss Wilbur will leave for New York. On July 7 she will sail for England. During her travels in England, France, Italy and Germany drama and the study of European theatres will occupy most of the director's time.

Stephenson Smith, professor of English, was toastmaster for the evening. Dean Esterly spoke on "Dramatics as a Part in Shaping Character and Manners," and Dean Shirrell gave a short address on "Dramatics in the High School."

"The Campus and Its Theatre" was the topic which Dean Rebec used for his four minute speech. Lawrence Shaw, student of drama, spoke on "Players from the Wing."

Musical numbers were furnished by Miss Dorothy Villiger, violinist, accompanied by Leon Barlow. Several harp selections were given by Miss Emily Williams.

Following the banquet, the guests adjourned to Alumni hall, where three of the Guild theatre players gave a playlet, "The Beau of Bath," written by Constance D'Arcy MacKay. Constance Roth, Lawrence Shaw and Veral Wright composed the small cast.

A musical atmosphere for the drama was furnished by Emily Williams.

termezzo. The first number will be the larger part of the first act of Leoncavallo's "Pagliacci." Appearing in this act are Esther Seeger, Harry Scougall and Jack Dennis.

The second number is the entire second act of Charles Gounod's "Faust." Singing in it are Janet Pearce, Mrs. Edythe Hopkins, Pauline Guthrie, Ernest McKinney and Harry Scougall. As an intermezzo, Gretchen Kier will sing Mozart's "Il re Pastore" aria. The violin obligato to this aria was composed by Lauterbach and will be played by Gwendolyn Hayden. Olga Kracke will be at the piano.

Washington Abolishes Dean of Men's Office

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, May 17—(P.I.P.)—Abolition of the office of dean of men and the substitution for it of two personal officers with advisory but not disciplinary powers was ordered by the board of regents Saturday. President Spencer approved of the move on the grounds that it gave to the office younger men with a better understanding of student problems. The 1928-29 budget, which includes increases in faculty salaries, was approved by the board. Construction of a cottage for the director of the Puget Sound biological station was authorized.

'Adam and Eve' Wins U. of W. Canoe Fete

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON, Seattle, May 17—(P.I.P.)—Historical events from the time of Adam and Eve were represented in the canoe floats in the Junior Day canoe carnival Saturday. Adam and Eve won first prize. Queen Elizabeth in her royal barge took second, a depiction of the Boston Tea Party won third honors, and the Jean of Arc entry was fourth.

Services for Students Planned by Unitarians

Special services for University students will be held at the Unitarian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. "The Call for Leaders" is the topic of the sermon to be delivered.

Services of this nature are held annually as a farewell gesture to members of the graduating class who have attended the church while in college. All students are invited.

Sigma Chi Wins From Phi Sigs

Phi Delt's Take Tilt From Bachelordon, 11-3

Sigma Chi advanced another notch in the league B standing yesterday afternoon when they took the Phi Sigs into camp for an 8 to 2 victory. Stanley Almquist did the chueking for the Sigma Chis, and besides throwing a good game, was responsible for four runs when his willow club sent the horseshoe bill for a couple of nice rides.

Until the last canto the Phi Sigs were held scoreless. Staging a last inning rally when Almquist allowed three long bingles, the Phi Sigs sent two men across the platter. The threatened hitting fest fell short, and the Sigma Chis walked off with the tilt.

Schroeder, for the Phi Sigma Kappa, showed good delivery from the mound and tied Almquist for the number of hits allowed, four each. Schroeder sent five men to the bench and Almquist eight.

Bachelordon went down before the onslaught of the Phi Delta Theta nine yesterday afternoon for an 11 to 3 defeat. Hummelt was in the box for the Phi Delt club and did some good tossing. His support looked good and allowed only three men to cross the rubber for the five hits off Hummelt. Carrol did the chueking for Bachelordon.

This win for the Phi Delt's advances them to the third notch of the league A standing. Bachelordon still holds the basement position with four consecutive defeats.

Two tilts are scheduled for Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock. League B: Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Psi Kappa; league C: Delta Tau Delta vs. Chi Psi.

Summaries for yesterday's games:

give the Oregonians competition in these events. Harry Speidel, letterman, is the state college's lone javelin thrower. Ben Herron, another Cougar frosh record holder last year, is competing his first year on the varsity in the pole vault, broad jump and high jump.

Lee Barnes, University of Southern California's world champion pole vaulter, uses a pole that is 2 3/4 inches shorter than the world's record height of 14 feet 1 3/4 inches he has attained with it. The Trojan track captain cracked his favorite pole, a 14 foot 1 inch bamboo stick, shortly before he broke Sabin Carr's 14.1 record, but instead of taking a longer pole to go after the mark, Barnes resorted to a 13 foot 11 inch stick that he has packed along all season in case of emergencies.

Barnes holds his pole about two feet below the height he expects to clear, so that his short implement does not keep him from soaring to extraordinary heights. According to Dean Cromwell, Trojan coach, part of Barnes' success lies in the speed with which he approaches the standards and crossbar.

Low Brow Fiction Is Very Popular at W.S.C.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, May 17—(P.I.P.)—Low brow tastes in reading matter among Washington State students in general and co-eds in particular have recently come to light. According to the latest magazine stand reports — "Adventure stories and cheap fiction in general, are the most popular. Outstanding in this field are the Confession and True Story type of magazine with co-eds buying ninety per cent of the student trade."

(The first two patterns in) THE AMERICAN SERIES

A NOTABLE project!—to perpetuate, in sterling silver, the outstanding periods in America's artistic development.

Thus far, there are only two designs, covering the entire scope of American life. MINUET—representing Early America... PINE TREE—representing the America of today. Each is notable not only for historic importance and fidelity to period, but for its charm and individuality.

In view of the widespread interest shown in the American Series sterling, we have arranged a complete display of both MINUET and PINE TREE. We shall be glad to show these patterns to you.
