

Parade And Open House Worry Frosh

Social Affair Saturday Night Lures Yearlings To Miss Paddle Party

Cigarettes To Be Popular With Sophs on March

By HARRY TONKON

Evidently, the humble frosh were not given any consideration last night by the heads of the various houses. The leaders of the living quarters failed to realize that this Saturday is the day of the annual frosh parade when the pitiless first-year men will be forced to yield to a gauntlet of paddles and other things.

Just how these young fellows who sport the emblem of the class of 1932 will be able to hobble their way to the dances on the night of open house is a question that is puzzling many folks on the campus, let alone the fact that the freshmen will have to dance.

Freshmen will probably argue that such affairs as open house are conducted for the benefit of the new students, and therefore they should be given some consideration in the matter of selection of a date for open house. They feel that they will not be able to recuperate from the effects of the freshmen parade in time to peacefully enjoy the five-minute dances at the various women's houses.

Frances Hill, president of the sophomore class, who is general chairman of the frosh parade, states that the scheduling of open house for the night of the parade does not in any way exempt the male members of the class of 1932 from participating in the activities during the morning. Hill again warns the yearlings that they must be present early Saturday morning when the line forms for the parade. More sophomores will probably be hired to round up the delinquent first-year men who wish to evade their initiation in order to attend the social affair in the evening.

Sophomores have requested all freshmen entrants in the line of march Saturday to bring sufficient number of cigarettes or cigars, for the second-year men will be cold and busy, and therefore will not be able to get along without their regular smokes. And, above all, freshmen are advised that extra "backs" may be forthcoming if no matches accompany their packages of wrapped tobacco.

Any frosh who thinks that he will be able to "crash the gate" at the parade without laying down a ten-cent piece is gravely mistaken, for Clarence Barton, head of the collection committee, is devising a system whereby every initiate will be compelled to hand over a dime. If freshmen insist upon asking questions and the like as to what the dimes are for, they may readily expect more and heavier swats.

Realizing that there may not be as many lettermen present at the affair this year as have appeared before, the paddles committee, headed by Stamford Brooks, is arranging to secure pieces of oak that will give an everlasting effect to the youngsters of 1932.

It looks like the ghosts are really coming; it looks like the frosh will be due for something horrible, judging from what will be the contents of the posters advertising the parade.

ade. Board Smith and his assistants are preparing something in the way of death notices that will be more frightening than anything that has ever been placed before the eyes of the wee frosh.

Bill East, chairman of the paint committee, urgently requests that the freshmen organize to paint the most beautiful "O" ever seen on Skinner's butte.

Frosh are again reminded that five hours of house-to-house dancing Saturday night will not be accepted as an excuse for non-participation in the initiation ceremony Saturday morning. The practice of asking special privileges and absurd questions regarding exemption and other details of a similar nature will be disregarded entirely by the committees for the parade.

Journalistic Sorority Will Initiate, Sunday

Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalistic honorary, will have an initiation meeting, to be followed by a breakfast, next Sunday morning, it was decided yesterday noon when in the first session of the year members of the chapter met at luncheon at the Anchorage, with Miss Dorothy Baker, president, in charge.

Miss Serena Madsen, junior, and Miss Ruth Hansen, senior, will be initiated at Sunday's meeting, arrangements for which are being made under the direction of Miss Margaret Clark.

Detailed plans for the event, including the selection of the meeting place, have not yet been made, according to Miss Clark.

Miss Clark was chosen treasurer of the chapter following the resignation of Miss Marion Sten, editor of the Oregana. The newly elected treasurer is a member of the junior class.

Welcomes were extended to Mrs. Harris Ellsworth, who with Mr. Ellsworth, field manager of the Oregon Editorial association and now of the school of journalism faculty, moved to Eugene from Portland this fall.

Plans for inviting Kathleen Norris, noted California author, to speak before a meeting of Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism honorary for women, were made at the luncheon.

At the present time there are 88 aspirants for the yearling team. Coach Reinhart says that there will be no cut this season and that he welcomes all frosh between the weights of 100 and 300 pounds to try out for the team. Several new men have shown up during the last week; Heyden, Lane, Hollingshead, Smythe, Case, Mahan, Bean, Buzan, Moaffit, Kjoness, Tenant, Gaske, and Blancher.

As yet there has been no regular first string picked but Al Brown is getting the call at quarter, DeMers at fullback, with Glenn and Disney at the two halfback positions.

Erdey and Tarbell seem to be getting the preference in the call for ends, and West and Schulz are capable of holding down the tackle posts. Last night Fetters and Besonette were at guards, but Anderson rates in that position too. Forsta, at center, looks good.

Oregon freshmen meet Monmouth normal on Hayward field October 19 and everything is being pointed for that game. Monmouth is supposed to have a good aggregation this year and it will be a real battle for the frosh.

Dean Prutsman Talks At College Banquet

Miss Hazel Prutsman was the principal speaker at a formal banquet at the Heathman hotel, in Portland Friday, October 5, given by Mill's college. Dr. Reinhart, president of Mill's college, talked on the undergraduate curriculum from the viewpoint of the woman's college.

Dr. Coleman, of Reed college, spoke on the undergraduate curriculum from the viewpoint of the private college. Miss Prutsman spoke on the undergraduate curriculum from the viewpoint of the state university. The topic of her speech was "The Undergraduate Curriculum, Its Content and Method."

Jim DeMers, Fullback, Makes Big Rents in Second String Line

Thirteen New Aspirants Answer Pigskin Call

The freshman class and "Bill" Reinhart have a good football team. Last night was the first bit of scrimmage but one glance at the huskies on the first string line-up would convince the most skeptical. If anyone needed any further evidence he had only to watch big Jim DeMers pick his holes and plow through them.

While these 22 men on the first and second strings were mixing up, there was a similar, if less polished, scrimmage going on in another part of the field. The third and fourth string men battered each other with the gusto of the first actual play of the season.

Y. W. Vespers To Be Held On Thursdays

The Y. W. C. A. vesper services will henceforth be held on Thursday afternoons at five o'clock, it was decided yesterday at the cabinet meeting. These five o'clocks will be in charge of Harriet Fuller, with Margaret Lee Slesher handling the musical part of the program.

Six new members have just been added to the cabinet. Mary Klemm is the newly appointed secretary, interchurch work is in charge of Eva Davis, Elizabeth Gessler is chairman of the service committee, and Mildred Johnson heads the social committee. Dorothy Thomas is handling publicity, and Eleanor Poorman is the new adviser of the frosh commission. As soon as the president of the frosh commission is elected, she will take her place on the cabinet.

Postponed Matches Will Be Held Today

Due to unfavorable weather conditions the women's tennis tournament matches were postponed until this afternoon at four o'clock. They will be held today rain or shine and all racket wielders are advised to show up at the University courts to play off their schedules.

For those in doubt as to whom they are to meet the schedule will again be listed. Jean Bell plays Irene Greenbaum; Virginia Mynard, Beatrice Phipps; Malhalah Kurtz, Alice Wingate; Lucille Murphy, Caroline Haberlack; Jane Cochran, Gladys Haberlack.

The tennis tournament this year has attracted many entrants, and is proving very popular with the Oregon co-eds who wish to become more proficient in this sport.

Basketball and Handball Fall Sports Taken Up At Meeting Tuesday

Reinhart and Milligan To Have Charge of Sports

The first intramural league meeting of the year, under the auspices of the physical education department, was held yesterday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock.

Basketball and handball, the only two fall sports that necessitate the sanction of all houses, were taken up by the 18 members who represented their halls and fraternities.

The problem that confronted the league in regard to pledges of houses, living at the present time in the dormitory, and their eligibility for playing for either was smoothed out satisfactorily. By an unanimous vote it was decided that any man pledged to a fraternity but living at the dorm must play for his respective house. An additional ruling was, however, inserted, stating that a man pledged while playing for a hall team, remains with the original group throughout the tournament.

On October 22, the first basketball game will be unleashed, and the following day the doubles handball tournament will start.

A practice schedule sheet will be posted in the gymnasium office at 2:30 o'clock today. House representatives are urged to affix the practice hours most available.

All the teams will be divided into several leagues and the winner of each division will play off in a round robin tournament for the championship.

The essential rules and regulations for the intramural leagues of last year remain the same as follows:

No awards are given for any events. Participants in varsity or freshman contests or any intercollegiate contests are not eligible. No additional entries will be recognized after the drawings have been made. Candidates for varsity teams may be declared ineligible for intramural competition at the discretion of the coach of the sport. Each entering team or organization must provide the intramural league with one responsible representative.

Billy Reinhart and Scott Milligan will supervise the basketball and handball tournaments, respectively.

Gilbert S. Hermance, instructor in physical education and conductor of league meetings, requests that all organizations who have not signed up for these sports, do so by 5 o'clock this afternoon in order to hasten the drawings which are planned to be completed by 3 o'clock Thursday.

McArthur court will soon be available.
