The Bumper Crop of 'Legal Opinion'

for future elections. The opinion thus far gathered is highly contradictory and tends to show that one can prove almost anything by a law book as well as by the Bible.

The Emerald does not hesitate to predict that the Sunday movie question, which seems to be one of the most important cinders in the eye of the brotherhood, will be decided by a large favorable majority regardless of the student vote.

A minister of our city protested vehemently that a sinful individual such as Lindsey should not be allowed to speak to young men and women here. As a result the average small lecture crowd swelled until the doors of the Woman's building bulged and the entire season's lecture series was paid for in one night—and more than a thousand persons were bored to tears for an hour and a half.

The students do not ask a great deal. Let the brotherhood withdraw its objection to student voting until after election. Then if the movie question isn't settled so decisively that the student vote could not possibly alter the result, let the brotherhood contest the election.

N. B. Although it is not generally the policy of this paper to offer comment in this column, the Emerald wishes to endorse heartily the sentiments contained in the following communication.—Editor.

DISAPPROVES BOYCOTT

To the Editor: Though I am not a legal voter I have watched with interest the developments in the case concerning student votes in the coming election.

There is one criticism which I should like to make in regard to the matter contained in the Emerald on the subject and that is concerning the hint of boycott contained in a communication and a similar hint contained in an Associated Press dispatch quoted in the editorial columns.

I realize, of course, that there was no real threat of boycott made and I am sure that you will agree with me that Oregon students probably would not resort to a weapon of this kind even though the problem were one of much greater importance than it seems to be.

Of course, it is a good idea, on the other hand, for the churches to remember the amount of money that students spend in Eugene, because that amount of money entitles them to some consideration.

NON-VOTER.

DECISIONS CITED

To the Editor: Allow us to submit some facts pertaining to the question of student voting. Particularly would we like to point out the fact that in this state the place where an unmarried man sleeps shall be considered and held his residence.

In the Constitution of the State of Oregon, article 2, section 4, entitled, Residence, it states, "For the purpose of voting no person shall be deemed to have gained or lost a residence by reason of his presence or absence while a student of any seminary of learning." We feel the University of Oregon falls under the category of a seminary.

In section 3907, Oregon Code, it specifically states in the following emphatic language, "The place where an unmarried man sleeps shall be considered and held to be his residence."

place where the college is located if he is free from parental control, regardless of the place where his college is located as his home, and has no other home to which to return; but his mere presence at the college is not sufficient, as his residence must be bona fide, with no intention of returning to his parental home after completing his studies." The student who intends to vote should be frank with himself. Is he really acting in good faith in declaring his residence to be Eugene?

To cite other cases of importance, Parsons v. The People, 30 Colo. 388: "A student who came into the state for the purpose of attending school, and resided in the county and precinct within which the school was situated for more than six months and intended to so reside until he completed his college course of four years, but did not intend to reside in said county after completing the course of study, and was without intention as to what place he would make his permanent habitation, was not a resident within the meaning of the constitution and was not a legal voter in the precinct in which the college was located."

Also in Pennsylvania, Fry's Election Case, 71 Penn. St. 302, it is stated that "Students at a college living at the place in which it is located, whether supported by themselves and emancipated from their father's families, with no intention to return to their homes, or supported by their parents, who visit their home in vacation, and may or may not return after graduation, have no such residence as will entitle them to vote in the district where the college is."

From this we conclude that some students may vote, others may not, and the individual circumstances around each case will decide. But remember, fellow students, the burden of proof is on you to establish a residence by evidence other than your mere presence in Eugene.

TWO STUDENT BARRISTERS.

Duck Soup

Place your contributions in the box in the hall of the old library. Yesterday was a pretty fair day and so far we haven't had to censor anything.

Will you please publish in the Emerald a list of all churches in the Eugene Federation of Church Brotherhoods. I for one would like to at least know the names of our big political bosses.

We have tried to help you out by calling on those we thought belonged to the "Brotherhood" but they want their names kept quiet.

NEWS ITEM

College Side Inn was totally demolished last night as a curious mob battered down the door and rushed in to see for themselves if the rumor that Bill Doyle was seen to go in without Beda Kiblan could possibly be true.

"No," he said, as he advanced in his hotel lobby, "I must keep my good name and reputation clean. I can not be dishonest."

But again, that almost irresistible impulse came over him. At last he heaved a mighty sigh and said, "I cannot fill my fountain pen with the hotel's ink."

BROADCASTING... the Blindfold Test GRAHAM M'NAMEE announcing

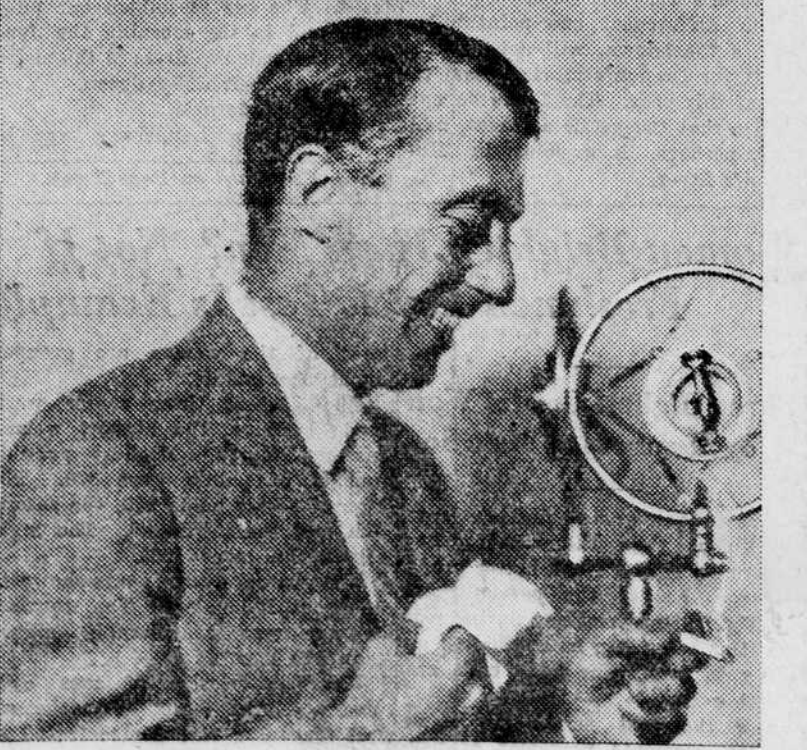

BRAND No. 1... "doesn't appeal to me" BRAND No. 2... "we'll waste no time over this" BRAND No. 3... "as smooth as a winter broadcast" BRAND No. 4... "full of static... No. 3 wins!"

On the afternoon of July 24th, Graham McNamee, in the presence of responsible witnesses, made the blindfold test before the microphone. A camera and stenographer recorded the result.

"This is Graham McNamee speaking... broadcasting the results of the blindfold cigarette test. They are trying the blindfold around my eyes and are going to give me one each of the four leading brands to choose from... I am now smoking the first cigarette... The taste doesn't appeal to me. It's a bit harsh. We'll try that one aside and try No. 2... No, that's worse than the first one. We'll waste no time over that... Well, here's No. 3..."
