

Varsity Trims Frosh Team In Practice Game

McEwan Drills Webfoots Hard in Preparation For Beaver Contest

Christensen Will Be Back In First Lineup Soon

A grim and determined Oregon varsity football squad last night settled down to the real training grind in preparation for the coming fray with Coach Schissler's Beavers. It was the first real workout for the Webfoots since the California game last Saturday.

Instead of being disheartened by the defeat the Beavers showed over on them, the Oregon men merely have the old fighting spirit more firmly instilled in their minds. This was evident last night when they tore through the first string frosh lineup in relentless fashion.

Fresh from a day's rest on Monday and a light practice Tuesday night, McEwan's gridders cut loose full force and piled up several touchdowns against Reinhart's fighting freshmen.

It was a real scrimmage while it lasted, and although the yearlings put over a score of their own early in the game, the varsity came back seeing red and after that they were never headed.

Forward Pass Only Tally
The first year men made their lone tally after completing a long forward pass. The varsity resorted to a varied running attack for the most but used a few short passes to keep the frosh puzzled.

Bobbie Robinson suffered a slight injury during the scrimmage period but will not be kept out of the lineup at any time because of it.

All of the rest of the Oregon team with the exception of George Christensen, giant tackle, are in fit condition. The squad as a whole looks better now than it did immediately preceding the Bear contest.

Christensen, who is one of the bulwarks that makes up Oregon's strong forward wall, was out to practice last night without his crutches. He was just an onlooker and not in uniform however, but it was good to see the big boy around without the crutches which he has been using since the California game.

It is expected that Christensen will be in suit for tonight's workout, and he said yesterday that his ankle felt about as good as it did just before he went into action down in Berkeley.

McEwan Cautions
Coach McEwan is not likely to take any great chances of having any of his men battered up before the Aggie tilt, so it is probable that scrimmages will be few and far between before the team goes over to Corvallis. The line will get its share of hard work though, and it will have to be a Beaver with exceptionally strong teeth that gnaws his way through the Webfoot forwards consistently.

The line will be at its full strength when it goes into the contest against Oregon State. With Christensen in his regular position the Oregon line is rated from tackle to tackle equal with the best on the coast.

McEwan will devote the rest of this week and all next week in working out methods for stopping Maple and the rest of the Aggie backs in addition to developing an offense which will work successfully against the Beavers.

13-to-9 in a speedy tilt yesterday. Titus and Ragsdale acquired most of the points for the winners while Swindells played the outstanding role for the Sigma Chi's. Both teams lacked effective combination work and good shots. The losers made a grand attempt to drag themselves out of last place when near the close of the game they threatened the Psi Kappa defense by tying the game with a basket garnered by Marden, substitute. But Titus, Psi Kappa forward, spiked

Register in Home Town Says Carlton Spencer

Vote Made Unquestionable If Registration Is Legal

"One beneficial result of the recent election has been to arouse in students more interest in the electoral franchise than ever before. There is no legal reason why any qualified student should not vote if he will register properly," said Carlton E. Spencer, professor of law in the University of Oregon, commenting on the difficulties that recently arose concerning student registration and voting in Eugene.

The important point to follow in insuring the privilege of voting, according to Mr. Spencer, is for the student to register in his home county, whether that be Lane county or some other. This should be done by appearing in person before the clerk of the county of which the student is a resident, or by filling out a registration blank before any notary public or clerk of another county and having it sent to the clerk of the student's county.

The certificate of registration which the student obtains from registering in his home county will entitle him to vote anywhere in the state on state and local issues.

"If, being away from home, you wish to vote on local questions in your home town," Mr. Spencer said, "write to your county clerk within 30 days before the election for an application blank for absent voters. After making application you will be sent a ballot which you may fill out and return by mail.

"The important thing is to register in your home county. If you do that you may vote anywhere on state and national questions or you may vote in your home town by mail on all questions."
