

School Heads To Meet Here In Conclave

Week-end To Be Spent In Instructive Talk For State Pedagogues

City Superintendents and Principals Will Attend

Problems involved in financing the state's educational system will be discussed when county and city school superintendents, principals and other educational workers gather on the university campus for a two day conference at the school of education on Friday and Saturday, November 23 and 24.

Among the leading educators of the state who will be heard during the conference are: C. A. Howard, state superintendent; Fred Petersen, superintendent of Klamath county schools; Thomas H. Gentle, University of Oregon extension division, formerly of the Monmouth Normal school faculty.

Victor P. Morris, professor of economics, University of Oregon; Dr. James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of liberal arts and head of the department of economics, University of Oregon; C. L. Huffaker, University of Oregon school of education; George A. Hug, city superintendent for Salem; Rex Putnam, principal, Union high school, Redmond; Austin Landroth, principal, Pendleton high school; Fred L. Stetson, professor of education, University of Oregon.

Phi Delta Kappa, national honorary educational fraternity, will entertain the visitors at a banquet on Friday evening, November 23, at which time Dean Gilbert will speak on "Important Points of Public Finance."

Student's Record for College Work Listed

Scholastic and Activities On Campus Is Shown

The office of the dean of women has for some time kept a record of the student's activities. Interest to the many activities and due to the fact it was necessary to enlarge the chart. The folder as it now is shown a complete record of the four years in college.

The activities have been clipped from the Emerald but this is not absolutely accurate. Therefore the girls will be asked to come to the office and look over their record of activities and see if it is up to date.

The activities record card has a twofold purpose. First it serves as an individual recommendation or to recommend someone particularly fitted for certain occupations. Secondly, it shows the relation between the scholastic record and the activities chart. It is a complete record of the extra-curricular part of the student's educational training.

The card is divided into eight major groups under the heads, athletics, committees, fraternity or dormitory honors, honoraries, scholastic honors, student offices, miscellaneous.

Orchestrates Plans Tea For Visiting Alumni

Orchestrates, dancing honorary, has planned a tea for the alums and all those interested in dancing to be held immediately after the game on Saturday, whatever time that may be. It will be held in the dancing room of the Woman's building just off the sun room. There will be entertainment for the guests and members of Orchestras will dance.

Former R.O.T.C. Head To Be Campus Visitor During Homecoming

Colonel W. H. C. Bowen, former commandant of the R. O. T. C. of the University of Oregon, will be one of the visitors on the campus for Homecoming. He will be a guest of Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geology department.

Before joining the faculty of the University of Oregon in 1918 Colonel Bowen commanded Fort William McKinley in the Philippines, the largest United States army post before the World War. At one time he was also governor of one of the provinces in the Philippines.

He succeeded Lieut-Colonel John Leader as commander of the R. O. T. C. here, and later became professor of history at the Hill Military academy in Portland. He has now retired and is living in Portland.

Alumni Athletes To Be Guests at Lettermen Feed

Carl Nelson, Chairman, Is Planning Banquet To Honor Former Heroes

Homecoming alumni lettermen, football men who will earn sweaters this fall, and active members of the Order of the "O" will be entertained at a banquet at the Anchorage following the Oregon-Montana clash Saturday afternoon.

Carl Nelson, who is in charge of the affair, has Harold Kelly and Clare Hartman assisting him in making plans for the occasion.

Promptly at 1:45 p. m. Saturday after the campus luncheon, the Order of the "O" parade will form at the Igloo and march to their special seats in the rooting section after circling the running track.

Following the game, at 6 p. m., the banquet will be held. Lynn S. McCready, of Eugene, has been chosen toastmaster and will take charge. Guests at the dinner will include the Oregon and Montana coaches.

Hodge Will Lecture To Sigma Xi Friday

Dr. E. T. Hodge, professor of economic geology, will give a lecture on "The Geology of Mount Hood" to the members of Sigma Xi, national honorary scientific society, Friday evening, November 23, at 8:00 o'clock in Deady hall, room 105.

Professor Hodge is an authority on the subject of Mount Hood, having made an intensive geological study of this region last summer.

Betas Triumph Over Phi Psi's In Speedy Game

A.T.O. Noses Out A.B.C. in Sluggish Match 13-10; Losers Lead 2-1 at Half

Seigmund dribbled in the first shot of the game and paved the way for the Betas' 34-to-10 triumph over the Phi Kappa Psi's, representative of league A. It looked like a landslide after the initial quarter began. Dolp, Beta center, sizzled through Brown, Phi Psi guard, for the second basket. A respite occurred. Phi Psi's offered resistance, in fact they opened an attack and Foster, willow guard, ran in for his team's first basket. The Betas got on the boat, from this point, and Andrews, forward, came in one, and twice, three times for successful shots. Kelley, guard, made another one, so did Dolp and the first quarter closed 14-to-2, in favor of the Betas.

The Betas looked plenty sweet. Despite the fact that it was a losing game they were playing, the Phi Psi's put up a stiff resistance. A foul was called on Andrews, for charging, but Brown failed to convert. Dolp nestled the first basket in the second quarter, two minutes and 35 seconds after initial tip-off. Andrews planted one before the whistle blew.

In the third quarter the tilt became hot and from there until the final whistle it was a rough, fast match. Brown, Phi Psi forward, had to be removed from the game on account of an injury to his right eye. The Betas, not to be outdone, sacrificed Brownell to the cause, when he was removed for a severe blow to his ankle. By the close of the third quarter the score read, Betas 24; Phi Psi's 3. In the closing period, Dave Epps, Beta coach, benched Andrews, Seigmund and Kelley and substituted Brownell, Gunther and Seales. The losers opened up and came through for 7 of their 10 points. Foster was the outstanding man for the losers, while the Betas had an all star five. Lineup:

BETAS (34).....(10) P. K. P.
Andrews (10).....F.....Ragen
Seigmund (6).....C.....(3) Elkins
Dolp (10).....C.....Johnson
Kelley (2).....G.....Brown
Hall.....S.....(7) Foster
Ragnell.....S.....McGee
Gunther (4).....S
Seales (2).....S
Referee, S. Milligan.
A. B. C. and A. T. O. acted like a bunch of Scotchmen when they refused to shell out any points yesterday at the men's gym. The score finally ended 13-to-10 in favor of the latter team. Six minutes after the game began Neer for the A. B. C.'s squeezed in a neat basket and that's all that happened. Score, first quarter, was 2-to-0. A. B. C. Mahan, center for the A. T. O.'s, got big hearted in the second period and converted a foul. Score, second quarter, 2-to-1. A. B. C. Neer shot another one in the third quarter, but Pahl, A. T. O. forward, came through, too. David, left handed artist, pulled off a champ shot, so did Knowlton for the opposing team. The third quarter closed 6-to-3 in favor of the Alpha Beta Chi's. In the last quarter the tilt reached a fever pitch, both teams thought they were handing out too much. The ball didn't have a chance. A. B. C. was leading by their small margin until two minutes before the final whistle, when Mahan pumped in two baskets in a row and put the game on ice. Lineup:

A. T. O. (13).....(10) A. B. C.
Kafoury (4).....F.....(4) Neer
Pahl (2).....F.....(4) David
Mahan (5).....C.....(2) King
Waffle.....G.....Yerkovich
Knowlton (2).....G.....Fields
Referee, I. Reynolds.

Major G. H. Eckerson Talks To Aero Group On Airplane Structure

Differences in types of airplane construction, characteristics of popular light airplane models and possible future of some new aerodynamical developments were subjects of an informal talk by Major G. H. Eckerson, chief pilot of the Hobi Airways of Eugene, before a group of campus aviation enthusiasts and members of the University Aero club in the Commerce building Wednesday evening.

Among the types of planes discussed were the Travel Air, Stearman, Waco, Air King, Eaglerock, American Eagle, Boeing, Fokker, Bach and Keystone. Faults and advantages of the low wing, Junkers type of monoplane now being put on the United States market were discussed.

Professor C. H. Hicks of the mathematics department joined in the discussion. He promised to give a talk on the general mathematical phase of aerodynamics at the meeting of the group next week. It was announced that W. J. Chamberlain, instructor of the Oregon State Aero
