

'Chuck' Jost Gives Billy's Men Workout

Reinhart Is in Portland At Rules Meet; Big Dickson Heaves Ball

Benefiel Busy Arranging List of Practice Tilts

Chuck Jost, assistant coach, sent the varsity hoop team through an hour of practice last night. Coach Billy Reinhart was attending the meeting of the rules committee of the Northwest conference held in Portland, and left instructions with Jost to put the squad through a good workout. The former varsity star carried out his orders.

The short session came as a relief to many of the hoop tossers as the practice periods have lately been long and hard. The team worked out Saturday afternoon and Reinhart will have the men out every afternoon this week.

According to Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, who returned to the campus this morning from the conference football schedule meeting held last week in Los Angeles, the list of pre-season games for the basketball team will be announced in a few days. He is dickering for several games, and if he is successful in landing them, the team will see plenty of action against some strong teams.

Homer Dickson, lanky center candidate, has set a high mark for some of the other boys to shoot at. He easily tosses a basketball over the rafters in McArthur court. The distance from the floor to these beams is 54 feet and Dickson more than clears them. He also picks a ball with either hand. Dickson is showing much improvement in his playing and is locating the basket with his tosses.

Harold Olinger looks better each day and should develop into a capable reserve for the team. Roy Hughes continues to show his flashy play.

Free Airplane, Prize For Winning Article

An opportunity to win a new, fully equipped airplane or a complete university course in aeronautics has been offered students of the University of Oregon, in competition with undergraduate students from other colleges of the United States, by the Alexander

Well-Known Playwright of K. G. O. Praises University Extension Work

Helen Norris, of Medford, well-known K. G. O. playwright, has declared that most of the credit for her success is due the University of Oregon extension work and the helpful and understanding instructors with whom she came in contact while pursuing studies in that division.

"They gave me inspiration, encouragement, and, most of all, faith in myself," she wrote in the first December issue of the Broadest Weekly, published in Oakland, in which her life was reviewed and her accomplishments listed.

Miss Norris in a letter received on the campus acknowledged her election as an honorary member of Pot and Quill, women's writing honorary, with real enthusiasm. "I feel like I am one of you after all," she wrote.

To date she has had five plays accepted, and most of them have been broadcast from the Oakland station. Some of her first work has been accepted in eastern stations. "Just Plannin'," "That Awful Difference," "Ann Manages," "Baker's Dozen," and a Christmas story, "Frankincense and Myrrh," are the titles of the short one-act plays that she has sold.

Miss Norris has been an invalid for several years and has been subjected to a number of severe operations in hope that she might some day be able to walk. Out of the narrow life her invalidism naturally gave her she has been able to build plays that fill a real need on the radio programs. Most of her work is sympathetic and homey, and very simple in setting. With it she has engaged a large and appreciative audience which brightens her life with stacks of letters.

Members of the correspondence department have watched her work

Library Finds Unsolved Problem With Crowded Housing Conditions

The University of Oregon library this year has an unsolved problem to face in the overcrowded condition of the buildings. Previous years have seen the same conditions prevalent but not to so marked a degree as this year, according to M. H. Douglass, librarian.

"Besides the waste of students' time caused by this plight, there is an added expense in maintaining the library," Mr. Douglass declared yesterday. "Three desks in separate buildings are kept operating, which means a greater outlay than if they all could be combined in one large building. Books are stored or are in use in eight buildings on the campus and have to be carted back and forth from one building to the other, all of which calls for a greater library force, and an added expense to the university."

Much time is wasted by the student, Mr. Douglass said, in traveling from one library to the other.

Aircraft company of Colorado Springs.

The best series of four articles, either technical or non-technical, 400 to 600 words in length and dealing with aeronautics will be the basis for the award which will be made on June 1. All contestants must write to the company to register before receiving details of the contest, an announcement concerning the competition declared.

Phi Kappa Psi Beats Sherry Ross Hall 19-0

Campus East-West Game Taken by Aerial Attack

The campus East-West football tussle on Hayward field Saturday resulted in a 19-0 win for Phi Kappa Psi, the westerners, over Sherry Ross hall, the eastern boys. The game was even during the first half, but in the third quarter the Phi Psi gathered 13 points and completed their total with six more scored in the fourth quarter.

Both teams worked their aerial attacks to advantage, and the Walt Browne-Al Browne passing combination was responsible for two of the westerners' touchdowns.

The first two scores came shortly after the opening of the second half when the Phi Psi's gained the ball on Sherry Ross' 30 yard line and put over a touchdown in seven plays, Al Browne making the score. The second score followed immediately. The Phi Psi's kicked off, and on the inside kick Walt Browne carried the ball to midfield. A pass, Al to Walt was incomplete. Another pass, this time for 25 yards, was completed and Walt Browne carried the ball over for the score, after outdistancing his nearest tacklers. The point after touchdown was made on a pass from Al Browne to Olson, and the score stood 13-0 for the westerners.

Two and a half minutes before

Some students have to study at the Condon reserve library, the business administration library, and the main library. It takes time to go from one building to another, and students incur a lack of efficiency in studying as a result.

Condon reserve library seems to be suffering worst from overcrowding, and some evenings, Tuesday and Thursday especially, the library is filled to overflowing. The capacity of the main library also has often been taxed, but on the whole it shows a less crowded condition than Condon reserve.

"Checks have been made on the number of students using the libraries this year," said Mr. Douglass. The purpose of these checks is to help us plan the space for a new library building. By this means we can judge fairly accurately the amount of room needed for each department of the library when we get the new building.

the end of the last quarter, the Phi Psi's put over their last score. Another Browne to Browne pass and good line plunges by Felter and the Brownes made it 19-0 for the western eleven.

Bob Foster, Larry Shaw, Pete Hamilton, and Boat Chamberlain starred for Sherry Ross. The Brownes, Fred Felter, Carl Smith, and Barney Olson were the Phi Psi mainstays. Both lines showed well.

Four Theta and two Chi Psi scouts were in the stands, and a good number of campus football fans were on hand to watch the showings of their favorites on each team.

Officials for the day were: Beryl Hodgen, referee; Oscar Behnke, umpire; and John Wharton, head linesman.

Phi Beta Kappa Plans Initiation Banquet

The annual fall initiation and banquet of the Oregon chapter of Phi Beta Kappa will be held in the Alumni hall of the Woman's building, Wednesday, December 12. The initiation will be at 5:30 and the banquet at 6:30. The address will be given by Rev. James A. Fraser of Baker, Oregon. His topic will be "From a Minister's Study." Mr. Fraser will also deliver the assembly address Thursday.

Benefiel Returns From Los Angeles Meeting

Jack W. Benefiel, graduate manager, returned to the campus yesterday from Los Angeles, where he attended the four-day session of the Pacific Coast Graduate Managers' association in Los Angeles, of which he is ex-president. A business meeting and the making up of the football schedule were the work of the conference.

Varsity

(Continued from Page One) U. S. C. tilt. U. C. L. A. is profiting by the example set by other Pacific coast teams, and is attempting to schedule the University of Florida for a game in Los Angeles.

Laugh at "PIGS"—tonight only!

DR. L. L. BAKER
General Dentistry
1209 Pearl Street
Eugene, Oregon
Phone 2929

Fencing Squad Makes Progress Under Coaching

Several Meets Slated On Winter Term Schedule; Prospects Rated Good

The fencing squad is rapidly rounding into shape, and many of the members are becoming formidable opponents for their instructor, Warren C. Powell. Most of the men have mastered the fundamentals and are taking up the more advanced work.

Next term more individual instruction will be given, and the teams are to be selected. There are five men on a team with three alternates. A second team will also be chosen for competition with some schools. The teams will be selected strictly on ability, and the length of time that a man has been out will not enter into the selection. Some of the men who have come out recently have proven themselves more adept at the sport than those who have been out much longer.

Two men who show fine possibilities are Perry Douglas and Winchester Heicher. These two probably will be the nucleus around which the team will be built.

Fencing is open to everyone, and Mr. Powell is anxious for a large turnout so that good teams may be chosen to represent the university. Meets are to be arranged with Multnomah club, Reed college of Portland, and possibly schools in California, where there are large turnouts for the sport.

The classes are held every day except Saturday at 4 o'clock in the mat room of the men's gym.

Forty-five Register At Pacific Relations Meeting in Portland

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY, Salem, Dec. 10.—(P. I. P.)—Forty-five students, half of them occidental and the remainder oriental registered at the Pacific Relations conference on the Reed college campus in Portland recently, it is announced. The conference was sponsored by the Northwest Student Council.

The significance of the Pan-Pacific conference is that it was entirely a student enterprise and was the first meeting of the kind held in the Northwestern states. The subject matter, which involved the study of international relations of the Pacific countries in social and inter-racial relationship between the occidentals and the orientals, was treated as inquiry. The aim of the conference was to establish a better understanding between occidentals and orientals.

Four main issues were presented: (1) There is no superiority or inferiority among races; (2) Each nation should have the right to control its own racial populations; (3) It is unwise and unfair that there should be discrimination between races; (4) Racial inter-marriage is unwise in most cases. The members of the conference heard a number of lectures on inter-racial problems. Each lecture was followed by table discussion.

German Club Changes Meeting to Wednesday

In order not to conflict with the performance of the senior class play, the meeting of all those interested in the formation of a German club, which was scheduled for this evening, will be held tomorrow evening instead. The hour is 8, and the place is the Three Arts club, 1415 University street, according to Dr. K. Reinhardt, of the German department, who is sponsoring the organization.

Hugh Biggs Speaks At High Twelve Club

Hugh Biggs, assistant dean of men, was speaker at the High Twelve club's weekly luncheon Friday. In his opinion tax payers are not wasting their money when they pay taxes for support of the University of Oregon. Most students at the university, he said, are serious in their studies and are there to better themselves and take advantage of their opportunities.

"PIGS" is the best exam antidote!

High Seas Love Takes Role in New Rent Book

'Cameron's Odyssey' On Co-op Shelf; Circus Yarns Feature Story

The latest and best addition to the "High Hat" library is "John Cameron's Odyssey," transcribed by Andrew Farrell from the unfinished story told by John Cameron himself of his adventures and love affairs on the high seas.

At the age of 17 Cameron set sail, seeing the age of the sail pushing out the age of oars, and also the most recent age of machinery. Most of his adventures were on the Atlantic, Indian, and Pacific oceans.

In the preface, Andrew Farrell gives many splendid definitions of many nautical terms, and excellent notes describing the various situations and instances throughout the story.

This 1928 edition is illustrated with photographs as well as many pen and pencil sketches drawn by Charles Kuhn.

Another outstanding book which may also be found on the "High Hat" shelves is "Circus Parade" by Jim Tully. It is a story of the author's own experiences while with a small six-car circus traveling throughout the country.

At a very young age, Tully began the life of a tramp, a sturdy, red-headed youth beating his way from town to town, homeless and forsaken. Now he is living in Hollywood, writing scenarios.

In "Circus Parade" each chapter is rather a short story of its own, relating his experiences with one certain man or in one certain instance. George Jean Nathan says, "If there is a writer in America today who can lay hold of mean people and mean lives and tear their mean hearts out with more appalling realism, his work is unknown to me."

Dr. Brachet Speaks At Deady Hall Tonight

Dr. Albert Brachet of the University of Brussels, will speak at 105 Deady hall this evening at 8 o'clock on the subject, "The Organizers and Their Behavior in the Development of the Egg." This address is the last of a series of three on scientific subjects that have been presented on the campus by Dr. Brachet. The location has been changed from Villard.

"PIGS" tonight—Great comedy! Forget your troubles—see "PIGS!"

Independence Creamery

Wishes the Student Body a Happy Christmas

Better than writing!

Send the EMERALD Home!

Keep the folks at home in touch with the activities at the university.

An Emerald by mail every day will mean more to your family than the small subscription price does to you; and also it's

An ideal Christmas gift

Oregon Emerald

Phone 1895

Don't Forget "PIGS" at the Heilig Tonight