

Gilbert Tells Of Hospitality Shown Team

Governor of Hawaii Had Reception at Palace For Oregon Players Return Game at Portland Hoped for Next Season

"The journey of the University of Oregon football team to Hawaii was of high educational value to all members of the party, and it will go far to promote good will between the American continent and our island possessions," said Dr. James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, sciences, and the arts, who returned with the team Wednesday from the voyage to the mid-Pacific islands. "It will also help the people of Hawaii to feel more keenly their close attachment to the Pacific coast and continental United States."

The first impression—and the most lasting—of Hawaii, according to Dean Gilbert, was the exceptional hospitality which the Oregon representatives received from the Hawaiians. Just after the ship entered Honolulu harbor, before it had arrived at the dock, Dean Gilbert said, it was boarded by representatives of the University of Hawaii and the Honolulu chamber of commerce who decorated the Oregon men with leis, the official emblems of welcome. The football team of the Weber junior college, of Weber,

James H. Gilbert

Utah, which also made the trip to play McKinley high school, of Honolulu, received a like welcome. As the vessel approached the dock, it was greeted by band music and the singing of "Aloha."

Entertained by Alumni
Immediately after we had disembarked, our party was met by Oregon alumni and friends," Dr. Gilbert said. "We were loaded into cars decorated in Oregon colors and driven through the city to the Royal Hawaiian hotel, where we made our headquarters while in the islands. Through the many graduates and former students of Oregon who are living in Hawaii; former Oregon faculty members, such as Dr. Charles H. Edmundson and Melton K. Cameron; and President Crawford and Coach Otto Klum, of the University of Hawaii, all the members of the party were given the opportunity of seeing the attractions of the city of Honolulu and the island of Oahu. We were given trips around the islands and shown over sugar plantations and through pineapple canneries. We visited the Bishop museum, containing the finest collection in the world of Polynesian material, both ethnic and biological; and the art collection in the museum of fine arts at Honolulu."

Governor Gives Reception
One of the most important honors accorded the visiting Oregonians was the official reception given by Governor Farrington of Hawaii New Year's day, according to Dean Gilbert. "This was held in the former palace of the Royal Hawaiian line," he said. "With some alterations this now serves as the home of the territorial governor. This old palace is full of interesting historical relics and the walls are lined with pictures of the monarchs of the island kingdom, which later became a republic before being annexed to the United States."

The spirit of hospitality, which is so marked in Hawaii, has largely done away with the antagonism which exists between races elsewhere in the world, Dr. Gilbert said. "The first game witnessed by the Oregon party was between Weber junior college and McKinley high school, which has, perhaps, the most cosmopolitan student body in the world. A large part of the football squad was made up of Chinese, Japanese, and native Hawaiian stock. These Orientals gave a marvelous exhibition of football, achieving a striking victory over Weber, who had not been beaten for five years."

Dean Gilbert expressed the hope that a return game between Oregon and the University of Hawaii

Ex-Prexy Active

David G. Wilson, Portland, who was president of the high school press conference last year and this year is acting as one of the judges to pick the best prep papers in the state. Wilson, prexy a year ago, Estill Phipps, Medford, president this year, are both enrolled in the university school of journalism.

might be played at Portland next year. "The showing made by Klum's team, the fact that the Hawaiians play well a type of football which figures speed, spectacular runs and forward passes; the cosmopolitan make-up of the island teams, and the growing interest in Oregon in things Hawaiian," he said, "should make this proposed game one of the most popular on the schedule of Pacific coast teams."

"If the return game is played, the state of Oregon, Portland civic organizations, university officials, and the student body will have to begin early and plan diligently to approximate the royal welcome accorded the University of Oregon representatives in the city of Honolulu last December."

League Plans Large Ticket Sale for MacLaren

(Continued from Page One)
Preston Gunther, Bachelor, Erven Kincaid, Chi Psi, James Dezenoud; Delta Tau Delta, Mark Gill; Delta Epsilon, Chuck Silverman; Friendly hall, David Williams; Gamma hall, Earl Wymore; Kappa Sigma, Bob Beavers; Omega hall, Robert Hardy; Phi Gamma Delta, Douglas Kennett; Phi Delta Theta, John Card; Phi Kappa Psi, Bob Miller; Phi Sigma Kappa, Dick Givens; Sherry Ross Hall, Charles Kingsley; Sigma hall, Ralph Mills; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Douglas Wiggins; Sigma Chi, Bob Evans; Sigma Nu, Tillie Sleum;

Gems from the Latest Magazines

By WILFRED BROWN

"Steinmetz—Jove of Science," Jonathan Norton Leonard, World's Work, January, 1929. First installment of an intimate biography of the little big man of the scientific world, who came to America when Germany grew too small to hold him. "Prohibition Victorious," Ernest E. Cherrington. Current History, January, 1929. The secretary of the World League against Alcoholism professes to see in the recent election America's complete and wholehearted endorsement of the 18th Amendment.

"Coal from Cabbages," Grover C. Maeller. Popular Science Monthly, February, 1929. Description of this and other accomplishments of modern chemistry such as food from sawdust and cotton from banana stalks. The chemist presented as the Merlin of the twentieth century.

"Friendly Visiting in an Armored Car," John Palmer Gavit. Graphic Survey, January 1929. The writer lauds the Hoover journey to South America, but half-humorously laments the vehicle in which it was made.

"Rotarian and Sophisticate," Booth Tarkington. World's Work, January 1929. A vigorous reply to Mencken and Sinclair Lewis. "The Secret Government of Macedonia," Sloyan Christowe. Living Age, January 1929. A tale of the long-continued efforts of the Macedonians to establish themselves as an independent nation on the turbulent Balkan Peninsula, where the boundaries of Greece, Jugoslavia, and Bulgaria converge. Purported to be

Sigma Phi Epsilon, Row Buzan; Sigma Pi Tau, Bub Short; Theta Chi, Allen Bean; Zeta hall, Robert Gummerman.

Reba Brogdon has appointed Dolly Horner, to supervise selling at McMoran and Washburne; Amy Porter, in charge of sales for women's organizations; Louise Smart, in charge of men's organizations; Helen Chaney, to divide the town in sections for individual selling.

Sigma Delta Chi Elects Fourteen Into Membership

(Continued from Page One)
were elected to associate membership in the Oregon chapter of Sigma Delta Chi on the basis of achievement in the active field of journalism. Those elected were: A. J. Crookham, city editor of the Oregon Journal; S. R. Winch, business manager of the Journal; Jennings Sutor, news editor of the Journal; Jack Biddine, editor of the McMinnville Telephone-Register; A. E. Voorhies, editor of the Grants the first interview with Ivan Michailoff, young leader of the rebels.

"Mr. Hoover Must Face the Music," Paul Y. Anderson. The Nation, January 9, 1929. A concise summary of the problems which the president-elect faces as he returns from his southern jaunt, finding "politics a perennial mess, legislation a present mess, and the future a prospective mess."

The January issue of the Review of Reviews is devoted principally to a series of articles dealing with the development, resources, and possibilities of the Pacific coast. The articles are:

"From Wilderness to Empire," Allan Nevins.

"The Pacific Era Begins," Nicholas Roosevelt.

"Why the Coast is Optimistic," Agnes C. Laut.

"The Heritage of the West," Paul Shoup.

"Our Second Largest Stock Market," Sidney L. Schwartz.

"Food from the Far West," Lloyd S. Tonny.

"The Lure of the Coast States," Stephen T. Mather.

With the January 1929 issue, four magazines, the World's Work, the Forum, the Review of Reviews, and the Golden Book have changed radically in their makeup, considerably lessening the conversation which was formerly characteristic of them. The new magazines are increased from the conventional to the oversize dimensions. Larger type, more frequent and more varied illustrations are decorations, and a greater variety of stories and articles add greatly to the attractiveness of these four periodicals.

Pass Courier; C. J. Gillette, editor of the Forest Grove News-Times; George Cheney, editor of the Enterprise Record-Chiefdom; and Ben Liffin, editor of The Dalles Chronicle.

Sigma Delta Chi was installed at the University of Oregon in 1913, and since then has aided in stimulating interest and achievement in journalism on the campus. Practically all of its alumni are now actively engaged in newspaper work throughout the country. Among the associate members of the Oregon group are such outstanding journalists as George Palmer Putnam, New York publisher and author, and Fred Lockley, Portland writer.

The present officers of Sigma Delta Chi are Carl Gregory, president; Wilfred Brown, secretary; Donald Johnston, treasurer, and Arthur Schoeni, correspondent.

Newspaper Directory Soon To Be Off Press

Turnbull Compiles Index Oregon State Journals

The annual directory of Oregon newspapers compiled each year under the auspices of the school of journalism of the University of Oregon will be off the press in about ten days, it was announced Thursday by George S. Turnbull, editor of the Oregon Exchanges, in which the directory is printed.

The directory which is published in the January issue of the newspaper magazine contains the names and locations of all newspapers in the state as well as the names of the members of the staff of the publications.

Mr. Turnbull, who is a professor of journalism, has practically the whole list compiled except for the data on about six papers which have failed to send in information as yet. As soon as these publications send in their information, the directory will be run off the press and appear in the January issue of the Oregon Exchanges.

ROLLER SKATING

DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY

2:30 to 5
7:30 to 10

CLASS AND SCHOOL PARTIES WELCOME AT SPECIAL RATES FRIDAY NIGHT COLLEGIATE NIGHT

Winter Garden Skating Rink

MEN'S Oxfords

At Prices that Mean Real Savings

We want you university men to get acquainted with our real values in good looking oxfords. They've got the collegiate leather heels, and many are in grain leathers. The styles and prices are right too.

here are a few samples of what we offer:

- Men's black grain leather oxfords, medium toe, leather heel ..... $4.98
- Men's black calfskin oxfords, medium narrow toe, leather heel ..... $4.98
- Men's tan calfskin oxford, round toe, rubber heel ..... $4.98
- Men's sport two-tone, brown and tan oxford, priced at ..... $4.98
- Men's patent leather formal dress oxford, light weight sole, leather heel ..... $4.98

Many other styles $2.98 to $4.98, and remember, they're all out where you can look them over and choose for yourself.

WILLIAMS Self Service Store

77 East Broadway
Serve Yourself and Save

George Washington Was Right - - -

... when he expounded his theory about telling the truth and we feel the same way when we tell you a "Kistwich" sandwich is the best sandwich you've ever tasted.

Toasted in butter, and filled with chicken, cheese, tuna fish, or what have you, you have a sandwich that can't be beat. If you've tried them you'll agree with us. If you haven't, you've missed a real treat.

Lemon 'O' Pharmacy

13th and Alder

We Never Sleep . . . .

which goes to prove that we are the most wide-awake place in town. Whenever you are hungry—no matter the hour—drop in and order anything from dinner to a sandwich.

You'll like it here!

Imperial Lunch

Same Location 15 Years—There's a Reason

727 Willamette Fred Gerot, Prop. Phone 579

To the Representatives of Oregon High Schools

THE Emerald finds deep pleasure in welcoming to the Oregon campus you who are our future contemporaries in the pursuit of higher knowledge.

For many of you this is the first glimpse at collegiate life. You will doubtless gain much benefit from the contacts which you make here—both with university people, and with students from your sister high schools.

Further than this, we are anxious that you should see and enjoy the beauties and activities of the entire campus; for it is our job to portray this activity each day.

To those who are interested in the newspaper publishing field, we are especially pleased to extend our hospitality.

And to all of you, we hope that we may contribute something to the enjoyment of your visit.

