

Teams Named For Woman's Class Contest

Basketball Tournament Begins Next Monday; Schedule Out Later

Girls Who Want Tryouts Should See Miss Hodge

Class teams for intramural basketball were chosen Tuesday night by Miss Phyllis Gove, Miss Louise Hodge, both instructors in the physical education department and coaches, and Miss Mahalah Kurtz, head of basketball. The schedule for games, which begin Monday, will be posted later, says Miss Hodge.

Those selected for places on the teams are as follows: Senior first—Dorothea Lensch, captain, Marjorie Landru, Hilda Top, Mae Moore, Edna Barthel, and Jeanette Hermance. Senior second—Vesta Orrick, Margaret Price, captain, Beth Ager, Thelma Perozzi, and Eunice Daniels.

Junior first—Marjorie Kelly, captain, Naomi Moshberger, Marjorie Goff, Betty Summers, Mally Kurtz, and Edna Dunbar. Junior second—Alice Smith, captain, Betty Beam, Elva Balsiger, Betty Pennoek, Winifred Kaiser, and Leone Swengel. Junior third—Mary Elizabeth Kennedy, captain, Margaret Hurley, Olga Sadilek, Betty Allyn, Genevieve Diluso, and Ruth Walters.

Fresh first—Ann Stange, Edna Murphy, Dorothy Goff, and Ella Redkey. Fresh second—Juanita Young, captain, Frances Haberlach, Marie Nelson, June Thompson, Mary Ellen Foley, and Alice Cook. Fresh third—Juanita Kilbourn, Estelle Mays, Katherine Feldman, Jeanne Bell, Mary Steinhauser, captain, and Gladys Gregory. Fresh fourth—Lucile Butterfield, Dulcie Lytsell, Lee Thomen, Catherine Duer, Helen Roark, and Jean Marlatte.

Miss Hodge announced that if any mistake has been made in the lineups, and if any girl still wishes to try out, that she should come and see her at once.

Inter-fraternity Rifle Competition Revived

Intramural rifle competition has been revived by Seabard and Blade, military honorary, according to Palmer Schlegel, sophomore in military science, who is in charge. The matches will be held early in the spring term. Each of the fraternities entering the contest will choose a five man team from its members, and a cup will be presented to the house with the highest score. Firing will be done from three positions; namely, sitting, kneeling, and prone.

The rifle meet has been taken up for the first time since 1924, when Pi Sigma Chi won the intramural rifle cup, housed at the present time at Theta Chi.

A few of the frats have entered this year's meet, and Mr. Schlegel expects that a larger number will be signed up.

Psychological Tests Scheduled for Class

Dr. Howard Taylor's class in employment psychology will take laboratory tests this month under the direction of Dan Stephenson in order to learn the method of testing and grading subjects.

The tests to be taken include the Army Alpha test, given to drafted men during the world war, and valuable for comparing scores made by men in different vocations; the Moss Social Intelligence test; the Pressey tests of emotion; the MacQuarrie test for mechanical ability; and two of the Seashore music tests.

The tests are ones of reaction study, and include true and false questions, memory questions, and tests of judgment and observation.

Epic Poem Read Before Group by Dean Rebec

An audience of 86 persons gathered Sunday afternoon at Alumni hall to hear Dean George Rebec read "Sohrab and Rustem," the great epic poem by Matthew Arnold, British Victorian poet.

Material for the poem was taken by Arnold from "Shah Namah," the "Iiad" of Persia. It deals with tragic conflict, in which a Persian warrior unknowingly kills his Tartar son in a duel.

Ten Commandments of Popularity for U. of W. Girls Gain Approval

All campus celebrities at the University of Oregon who were interviewed as to their opinion of the "Ten Commandments of Popularity," as adopted by the Y. W. C. A. group at the University of Washington, were in favor of the rules.

"Modern, but sensible and proper," said one junior.

The women at Washington who drew up the commandments decided that for popularity, sex appeal comes first, but after that, what makes a girl popular they questioned. The ten commandments they listed are:

Always be a "lady."

Use good taste in selecting your clothes and do not let actions belie that taste.

Always be a good sport. Do what the majority wants, but not to the detriment of your own convictions and ideals.

Campus Aero Club Studies Meteorology

Other Aviation Subjects Scheduled for Tonight

A special meeting of the University of Oregon Aero club will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in room 205 Commerce to discuss plans for visiting flyers and aviation business men, one of whom will speak to the club next week, Leonard Delano, president of the club, announces.

An informal discussion on navigation, with several standard textbooks as references, will be led by Tom Ward. A report on some new developments in amphibians and flying boats will be made by Myrtis Gorst, secretary of the club, and Delano will give a short talk on aviation developments in the Orient.

Delano will also discuss a few subjects on aeronautical meteorology as outlined by Willis Ray Gregg, head of the United States meteorological bureau.

News of aviation courses in Pacific coast colleges and some developments in college aviation will be given at this time.

Cosmopolitan Club To Hear Hempstead

"The International Educational Situation" is the topic upon which "Jack" Hempstead is to talk at the business meeting of the Cosmopolitan club, which is to be held this evening at 7:30 at the Y. W. C. A. hut.

Rifle Team Begins Inter-college Shoots

The rifle team will begin competition today, with the first of a series of shoots to be used in compiling final scores for the matches with the University of Washington, at Seattle, and with the University of Dayton, Ohio. The shooting will take place in the afternoons at the dance. If not all, then do these two certainly—bridge and dance.

Read the papers. Know your current events, politics and athletics. It is well to converse on serious topics as well as light ones.

Handling a "line" is helpful. Even if you are not the type, this "you-great-big-wonderful-boy" stuff does get over, used in moderation of course.

Do not neck. If a girl is charming and peppy enough to interest a boy she need not worry about being the gold-digger type.

Do not kiss promiscuously. There is no harm in kissing a boy friend of whom you are particularly fond.

Dress attractively, but not necessarily expensively. A boy notices the general effect you produce, so be as pretty as you can. Do not make-up heavily.

rifle range every day until Saturday noon, when the complete scores of the ten men placing highest in accuracy, and those of five alternates will be sent for comparison to the two universities competing with Oregon.

Howe to Read for Frosh Commission

Selections from the Rubaiyat are to be read by H. C. Howe, professor of English, at the meeting of the frosh commission which is to be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. Bungalow.

A violin solo by Helen Althaus will complete the program.

Plans for an all campus affair of some kind to raise money for the Y. W. C. A. which were discussed at a meeting of the frosh commission cabinet yesterday afternoon, will be announced at this meeting.

Women's Advertising Fraternity to Pledge

Gamma Alpha Chi, national women's honorary advertising fraternity, will formally pledge six recently-elected members Thursday. The ceremony will be at 11:45 in the men's room at the Woman's building, followed by luncheon at the Anchorage.

The six neophytes are: Betty Hagen, Margaret Harris, Dorothy Davis, Alice Edwards, Elaine Henderson, and Mary Klemm.

St. Mary's Students Will Sponsor Dance

Bishop Sumner to Speak Before Group Sunday

The second all-campus informal dance sponsored by St. Mary's chapter of the National Student Council is scheduled for Saturday night after the O. S. C. Oregon basketball game. It will be held in the parish hall at the rear of the Episcopal church, at the corner of Seventh and Olive streets.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair will include Mr. and Mrs. Nowland B. Zane of the school of architecture and allied arts. Reverend Frederick G. Jennings, pastor of the Episcopal church, Walter T. Sumner, Episcopal bishop of Oregon, and Miss Juliette Gibson and Frank J. Palmer, both teachers in Eugene high school.

Bennett Swanton, president of the chapter, and Alexander McKeown are planning the dance.

Bishop Sumner will be guest of honor at a breakfast Sunday morning for all Episcopal students at which Reverend Jennings will act as toastmaster. Bishop Sumner will speak on student aims. The breakfast, which will immediately follow the corporate communion service at 7:30, is being managed by Janet Osborne.

Students wishing interviews with Bishop Sumner while he is on the campus may have them, Miss Osborne said yesterday, by calling Dorothy Thomas at the Y. W. bungalow.

New York Stage Star Ex-university Student

Clyde Fillmore, known to his classmates of 1898 at the University of Oregon as Clyde Fogel, has been acclaimed a great actor of Broadway. Dean Straub, his former instructor in Greek, said yesterday that Fillmore's success is far from

Mr. Fillmore was in the movies for several years, playing opposite Florence Vidor, Ethel Clayton, and Wesley Barry. But on account of ill health, he was forced to give up his active part on the screen and take up scenario writing.

His old schoolmates are hoping, however, to see him back on the legitimate stage very soon, where he has gained his greatest renown.

Bertram Jessup, '27, Visitor on Campus

Bertram Jessup, '27, who was associate editor of the Emerald during the reign of Sol Abramson as editor, is on the campus for a few days visiting friends and acquaintances here.

Mr. Jessup has been an employee of the government in the state of Washington for some time in the past and is now located in Portland. He expects to return there today following his visit here.

Madden Cuts Hand While Dissecting Cat

Edmund Madden, sophomore in biology, is suffering from a deep cut on the hand, which he received as a result of an accident Tuesday afternoon. Madden was dissecting the spinal cord of a cat when the scalpel he was using slipped, inflicting the wound. He was taken to the dispensary for treatment.

Former Law Student Receives Recognition

Francis Taylor Appointed To Haiti Financial Staff

Noteworthy recognition has come to Francis Emory Taylor, former law student of the university, in his appointment to the staff of the financial adviser of Haiti. Announcement of the appointment of Taylor, now a New York attorney, was made by Dr. A. C. Millsbaugh, present adviser.

Mr. Taylor left the university in 1924 when he received the $1000 Penfield scholarship in international studies in the graduate school of New York university. He took his masters degree at New York, and later became a member of the New York school's government department. He was associated in law in New York with John MacGregor. Mr. Taylor is the son of Prof.

and Mrs. F. C. Taylor of Pacific university, at Forest Grove, from which he graduated in 1922. He will be the legal member of the Haiti adviser's staff, filling a new position created because of the need of drafting new land laws on the island.
