

Frosh Team Going North Friday Night

Squad Is Handicapped Without Management Says Coach Leslie

Nine Men Leave on Shasta For Washington Game

The freshman basketball squad will leave for the University of Washington campus to play the Husky teamings without the services of a manager, was the word received by "Spike" Leslie, frosh coach, regarding action taken by the student council Tuesday evening. The team will leave on the Shasta at 6:45.

According to the coach this will handicap them on the trip as a manager is needed to make arrangements and to handle the equipment, especially as they will travel on the train rather than in a bus. A manager is also needed at the game to keep score and time, "Spike" says.

After having lost three of their four games to the Aggie rooks the frosh are doubly anxious to make a creditable showing against the Washington freshmen. They will undoubtedly encounter very strong competition when they go north as the Husky pups have defeated the Aggie frosh already this year.

The northeners have played many more games than either of the Oregon teams as they are entered in the Seattle industrial league.

It was still undecided last night as to who would be the eighth and ninth men on the squad to make the trip. Kermit Stevens, Vincent Dolp, Stephen Fletcher, Don Ragen, Billy Keenan, Henry Levoff, and Jesse Bradley are sure of going, but the other two positions are still a toss-up between four men. These men who are working toward selection were members of the squad that journeyed twice to Corvallis. They are Estill Phipps, Paul Bale, Claude Mahan, and Don Baird.

Cast Announced for Dramatic Production

Twelve Actors to Play Nine Parts in 'Craig's Wife'

Twelve actors have been cast for the nine parts in "Craig's Wife" to be put on by the drama department Thursday, February 28, and Friday, March 1. The campus will have the opportunity to see the three leading parts played by two different sets of actors.

Mrs. Craig, the lead, will be played by Helen Allen Thursday night and by Grace Gardner Friday night. The part of Walter Craig will be played by Gordon Stearns at the first performance and by Perry Douglas at the second. The role of Mazie, the housemaid, will also be played by two different people. Lucille Andre will take the part the first night and Jay Ingalls the second. The rest of the cast will perform both nights. Miss Austin, aunt of Walter Craig, is to be played by Mary Graham. Eleanor Remick will play the role of Ethel Landreth, the niece of Mrs. Craig. The gossipy old lady across the street, Mrs. Francis, is to be played by Sylvia Edmonds. Fletcher Udell is taking the part of Billy Berkman, a friend of Walter Craig's. The chief inspector from Scotland Yard, Joseph Catelle, will be portrayed by Jack Dennis. Harry, Catelle's assistant, will be played by Milton George. Edward Merges will take the role of Eugene Fredericks, a young professor of romance languages and the fiance of Miss Landreth. The whole thing is under the direction of Otilie T. Seybolt, head of the drama department.

Rac Scheduled for Talk to Albany Club

John M. Rac, associate professor of business administration, has been scheduled to talk to the Albany Ad club Tuesday, February 19.

"Advertising Costs in Wholesale and Retail Trade," is the subject which Professor Rac will discuss before the advertising club. Dean David E. Faville, of the school of business administration here, addressed the last monthly meeting of the Albany Ad club. Dean Faville has received notes expressing appreciation for the valuable information that the business administration department is making available to state business clubs by addressing their meetings.

Business Professor Has Article Accepted

Professor James T. Brown of the school of business administration at the University of Oregon, has been notified that one of his articles on business has been accepted for publication by the Western Advertising Magazine.

"Style in Business," is the title of Professor Brown's article. A master of arts degree in journalism has been given that department at the University of Michigan. Twenty-four credits have been placed as the minimum for graduate courses leading to the master's degree.

My First Job Professors Relate How First Money Earned

When M. H. Douglass, now university librarian, was a boy, there was no doubt in his mind about where the power behind the church organ came from. It came from M. H. Douglass, the official organ pumper, while he was earning his first dollar at the rate of 10 cents an hour.

Mr. Douglass did not gain the important position of pumping the organ for the church, however, until he had acquired some experience pumping for a man and a woman while they practiced. The organ was big, Mr. Douglass says, and the hour was long. Pumping for the church was much easier, he says, because the work was not so steady.

"I had several experiences pumping the organ that were not so pleasant," Mr. Douglass says. "One time at the evening service, the preacher talked too long and I went to sleep behind the curtain. I woke up to find someone shaking me and the preacher saying 'That will be all.'"

"Another time I had been to the city and had been up rather late. I went to sleep while I was pumping the organ. The music stopped right in the middle of the hymn. I sneaked out the back door and avoided the organist until I had to go back to the church for the next service."

About this same time, Mr. Douglass also made some money working for a man who had a truck garden and some fruit trees. Mr. Douglass hoed the garden and also climbed on the ladder to pick fruit while his employer stood below to hold the ladder. Mr. Douglass's source of pride in this venture was that he was the only boy who was asked to come back and work. "My employer called me up and told me," he said, "that I was the only boy who could pick cherries and still not move the ladder."

Vinton Hall Elected Daly Club President For School Year

Officers elected at a recent meeting of the Oregon Daly club to serve for the remainder of the school year were Vinton Hall, president; Frank Harrow, vice-president, and Nellie McDonald, secretary and treasurer. Hall is a sophomore in the school of journalism and is a member of Phi Sigma Kappa. He is also a day editor on the staff of the Oregon Daily Emerald. Harrow is a freshman in physical education and is also a member of Phi Sigma Kappa. Nellie McDonald is a sophomore in physical education and is affiliated with Alpha Delta Pi.

It was decided at the meeting to lay plans for the changing of the club into a real organization, for the adoption of a pin and a constitution, and for the holding of one meeting every month at the Anchorage.

The members of the Oregon Daly club number about 30 students who are from Lake county, and who are receiving money from the Bernard Daly Educational fund. This fund, which totals over $1,000,000, was left by Dr. Bernard Daly, a pioneer of Lake county, to help students graduating from Lake county high schools gain an education.

The most deserving graduates of the Lake county high schools are picked by a special board, and are allowed $600 a year toward their expenses while in college, being allowed to attend any institution of learning they desire. The only condition laid down is that the student must have spent the entire four years of his high school career in Lake county high schools.

Get Your Dates for Senior Ball Now to Avoid Rush, is McKenna's Advice

Only nine days until the Senior Ball, men. Do your dance shopping early. That is the advice of Francis McKenna, senior class president, in speaking of the ball which will be at the Woman's building Saturday, February 23.

Francis McKenna, senior class president, in speaking of the ball which will be at the Woman's building Saturday, February 23.

The Senior Ball is the only strictly formal dance given on the campus. McKenna stated, and this lends it an added importance. For students should be interested in coming. It is the last dance that the seniors, as a class, will sponsor. Thus it is doubly important more permanent than present marriage. The advocates of companionate marriage do not demand that society establish companionate marriage but merely to recognize it since it is already being practiced by the more highly educated classes. It would be a move toward the elimination of war and disease, he said.

"The idea of companionate marriage did not originate with Ben Lindsey or his associates, but has been in practice for a long time, and should be made available among the lower classes, because this is a democracy, and we should have faith in our democracy. Education of the masses is paramount," one of the speakers said during the discussion.

The chief attacks made on the proposed system are by preachers who know nothing of companionate marriage but see it as a horrible let-down in moral code, another stated. It is not free love; it is not trial marriage, he said.

The negative argued that the system would legalize vice, that marriage would not be based on love, that a tendency would arise for the disowning of children, and to the members of the class of '29.

All the various committees, under the directorship of Larry Shaw, general chairman, are fast bringing their plans to an end, he chimed. There are promises of new, different features, most interesting decorations, exceptional punch, and, above all, A GOOD FLOOR.

The tickets are under the general direction of Jimmy Johnson, as well as being in the hands of hall and house representatives, and on sale at the University Co-op. Freshman men are excluded from this function due to the fact that they cannot wear tuxedos. Seniors and juniors are being given the preference in the ticket sales, and since there is a limit of 350 couples set, the tickets will probably not last much longer. The music will be furnished by the Varsity Vagabonds.

Geology Classes Make Trip to Skinner's Butte

Dr. E. L. Packard's classes in general geology made a field trip to Skinner's butte yesterday under the direction of Farrell Barnes, senior in geology.

The formation of the butte was studied and the old quarry on the western side was visited in order to view geological structure of the butte.

Prep Debaters Will Contest for Two More Cups

DeCou and Barker Donate New Trophies to Oregon School Forensic League

Announcement that three handsome silver loving cups will be given this year for championships of the Oregon state high school debating league, instead of one as in years past, was made yesterday by Dr. Dan E. Clark, assistant director of the university extension division, who is secretary of the league.

Dr. E. E. DeCou, head of the mathematics department here, has donated another state championship cup, the last DeCou cup having gone permanently to Ashland high school as a result of last year's debates.

In addition, Bart Brown Barker, vice-president of the university and one of the founders of Delta Sigma Rho, national honorary debating fraternity, has offered two sectional championship cups. One of the cups will be awarded to the winning high school in Eastern Oregon, and the other will go to the winner in Western Oregon.

Offering of a sectional cup is expected to intensify interest in the competition for district and sectional championships. In the case of both sectional cups, and the state cup, permanent ownership is possible only when a high school has won the trophy three times.

As in past years, the final debate for the DeCou cup will be held on the university campus, some time in May, with winners of the two sections competing.
