

Track Squads Prepare For Spring Meets

Time Trials Underway For Frosh; Varsity Tests Saturday

Track Will Be Repaired For Coming Season

With about 90 men out for freshman and varsity track, Bill Hayward, veteran coach, is working all of his track and field aspirants hard in order to develop their endurance. Cutting of the two squads will not begin until a short time before the first meets when then half of the men will be selected for the rest of the season.

Varsity time trials will be held next Saturday afternoon to ascertain the approximate maximum speed of each sprinter and distance man in his chosen races. The trials are designed to give Hayward an idea of the ability of each man and to allow the men a chance to run in timed competition.

Freshman time trials and workouts are being held daily in the various events. Not enough of the men signed up have been coming out, according to Hayward, and all those expecting to make the freshman squad should be out for the try-outs. Records made at these trials will be a deciding factor in whether a man is retained on the squad when it is cut.

Hayward field is not in the best of condition for either the track or field events but a day's warm weather will put it in shape, thinks Hayward. Repairs on the track are under way so that everything will be ready for the beginning of the conference season.

Epley Attends Meeting Of Press Conference

Malcolm Epley, senior in journalism and assistant director of the public relations bureau of the university, left this morning for Los Angeles where he will represent George H. Godfrey, director of public relations, at a convention of the western division of the American Association of Collegiate News Bureau which will be held April 18. Epley, who was accompanied by his wife and son, Malcolm, Junior, will also drive to San Diego and Oakland where he and Mrs. Epley will visit relatives.

New Members Added To Emerald Staff

Eighteen students were named on the revised night staff of the Oregon Daily Emerald at a meeting of night editors, assistants, and candidates for positions on the staff at the journalism building last night, according to Harry Tonkon, chief night editor, who presided at the meeting.

Those appointed to the newly revised night staff are: Fred Bechill, Alyce Cook, Charles Barr, Merlin Blais, Thornton Shaw, and Max Carman, night editors, and the following as assistant night editors: Beatrice Bennett, Evelyn Hartman, Gracemary Riekman, Warren Tinker, Josephine Barry, Dulcie Lyt-sell, Jessie Foley, Gladys Mack, Marthiel Duke, Dorothy Page, Fern Baker, and Ellen Salway.

Announcement was made yesterday of the appointment of three reporters and a day editor to the Emerald news staff by Art Schoeni, managing editor.

New reporters now covering beats are Eleanor Jane Ballantyne, Mary Ellen Mason, and Jo Barry. Ruth Newman was appointed to the position of day editor. Miss Newman has worked on the Emerald in previous years, but has been absent from school for a year during which she was employed on the Grants Pass Courier.

Women, Faculty, Students, to Vie In Free for All

Naomi Moshberger Will Be In Charge; Tournament Begins April 17

A tennis tournament for which all women, faculty and students, will be eligible will be played next week, according to Naomi Moshberger, who will supervise it. The meet will have no connection with the intramural tournament which will take place in the near future.

The list will be open until April 15, and those who wish to enter may sign up on the bulletin board at the entrance of the women's gym.

The tournament, which will begin April 17, will be a regular elimination one, and matches will be played at the convenience of the contestants instead of at a regular scheduled time.
