

U.S. Foreign Policy Must Be Liberal

Dr. R. C. Clark Sees Need of Fair Play And Disarmament

By CAROL HURBERT
If hell breaks loose in the world and the United States is dragged into another war, she will fight against Great Britain.

So said Dr. R. C. Clark, professor of history, in an interview he gave the Emerald yesterday on "America and Her Foreign Policy."

"The most serious controversy that prevails at the moment," he explained, "is with Great Britain. The inability of the powers to agree on disarmament and the rivalry of the two may lead to serious disagreements, although I do not think that there will be any war."

"The main hope is that there has been a change of administration in the United States and there is likely to be a change in the British government. It is conceivable that the Labor government will come into power at the next elections in May and will be more willing to make concessions for disarmament."

Dr. Clark was prevailed upon to give his interview in the interests of International Week which is now in progress on the campus.

In speaking of the foreign policy of the United States in relation to Great Britain he remarked, "I rather believe that on the whole it has been correct."

"I didn't believe in our cruiser bill, however, that has been held as a sort of club over Great Britain's head."

"I think that America is right in demanding that there should be absolute equality between the two nations in their naval strength. It seems that the policy of the present British government is to evade the carrying out of that resolution, but I think that there should be some means of satisfying that without America's launching out on an ambitious program of naval construction."

"I don't think," he stated, "that we have anything ourselves to fear from other nations. The United States is now the great outstanding nation of the world, so overwhelmingly rich in resources as to make it dangerous for others to attack her."

"If we are brought into any trouble with outside powers I think it will be because of our aggressiveness."

"True patriotism isn't in exalting your own country above others. We must distinguish between patriotism and ultra-nationalism. There is nothing necessarily conflicting between loving your own country and others."

"There is a wrong sort of patriotism."

Y.W.C.A. Cabinet Spends Week-end At Rock Creek

Members of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet returned Sunday night from the Y. W. lodge at Rock Creek, six miles north of Oregon City, where they attended a cabinet training conference at which Oregon, Oregon State, Willamette, Linfield, and Linfield junior college were represented.

The Oregon delegation was active in the program, leading discussions, arranging programs, and presenting stunts. Dorothy Thomas, secretary here, led the discussion on "Religious Education and Program," as well as the discussion after dinner Saturday night on the coming Seabeck conference. Plans for the dinner, which was in the form of a Seabeck rally, were arranged by Margaret Edmunson, former president of the campus Y. W., and Marion Pattulo, conference chairman on the local cabinet, was toastmistress. Helen Chaney, secretary, and Gwendolyn Shepard, in charge of publicity for the 1929 conference at Seabeck, talked at the dinner.

Two stunts were presented by the Oregon delegation, one Friday night in which Eldress Judd, Mildred McGee, and Gwendolyn Shepard took part, and a second one Saturday night by all of the Oregon representatives.

Hikes, stunts, indoor games, and group singing constituted the recreation for the group. About 50 women from Oregon Y. W. cabinets attended.

World Rover International Week Talker

Frances Warnecke Will Tell of Adventures In India

Dr. Roy Akagi Also to Speak

Lois Nelson, Dorothy Hallin to Head Tea Which Honors Pair

Plans for the men's banquet and the tea in honor of Frances Warnecke, guest of the Y. W. C. A. for International Week, April 17 to 20, are progressing rapidly under the chairmanship of Wayne Veatch, head of the net committee, and Mildred McGee, who is in charge of the tea. The dinner and program are two events in a larger program of speeches, luncheons and pageant.

Miss Warnecke landed last Monday from Calcutta on her return from a trip around the world, and will talk to the group of students and townspeople assembled at the tea on the subject of her experiences in India for the World Student Christian federation conference December 19. She is an interesting speaker, according to Dorothy Thomas, Y. W. secretary, and can tell anecdotes on everything from how she took a bath in India to her dinners with princes and kings and especially the one at which the Maharaja of Mysore entertained the whole conference. Everyone interested in meeting Miss Warnecke will be welcome at the tea, according to Miss Thomas. Another guest at the same affair will be Dr. Roy Akagi, another speaker for International Week brought to the campus by the Y. M. and the Y. W. The hours will be from 2 to 6 Thursday afternoon, and everybody will be welcome.

Gracia Haggerty to Receive Members of the freshman commission will serve at the tea, with Lois Nelson and Dorothy Hallin directing. Dorothy Jones will be in charge of the kitchen and Gracia Haggerty will receive. Mildred McGee has planned special "international" decorations, and has arranged a background of music for the whole afternoon.

The 30-inch-high friendship doll sent to the University of Oregon by the children of Japan will be exhibited at the tea. The doll wears three kimonos made just as the adult kimonos are made, and has with her hair ornaments and a toilet case. The doll was one of 57 sent to the United States after the Churches of Christ of America had sent dolls from America to Japanese school children.

Feature to Be Announced A feature of the banquet for men Wednesday night will be the announcement by Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the department of geology, of the winners of the Murray-Warner essay contest, sponsored by Mrs. Warner, donor of the Oregon Museum of Fine Arts, in the interests of friendly relations between the United States and the Orient. Three divisions make up the contest: one for American undergraduates, one for freshmen, and a third for Japanese, Filipino, Chinese, and Indian students.

Besides Dr. Smith, other members of the judges' committee who will decide the winners of the contest are L. Kenneth Shumaker, supervisor of English A; George Godfrey, director of the bureau of public relations; Dean David E. Faville of the school of business administration; and Verne Blue, of the history department.

Complete Program Listed The complete program for the banquet, as arranged by Harold Gulde, chairman of the program committee, is as follows:

1. David Devaputra, "What Oregon Means to Me."
2. Eugenis Padilla, "International-Mindedness."
3. Jan Van der Vate, "Who Understands?"
4. Leonard Jee, "The Effect of American-Educated Chinese on China."
5. Felix Legrand, "The Presence of the French Students and the Intellectual and Social Life in the University."
6. Charles Yoshii, "America's Part in International Friendship."
7. Burt Brown Barker, "International Friendship."

Saw Solo to End Program Songs by Filipino students and a saw solo by Vincent Monterola will complete the program. Dr. John Straub, dean emeritus, will act as toastmaster for the occasion, which will be a strictly man's affair. Invitations to the 50 foreign students.

To Head Group

Joe Pigney, right, and George H. Godfrey, left, have been chosen as officers of the Oregon Professional Sport Writers association. They will act as president and vice-president, respectively.

Sports Writers Choose Officers For Organization

Pigney Elected President To Succeed Arden X. Pangborn

Godfrey Is Vice-president And Secretary-treasurer

Joe Pigney, associate editor of the Oregon Daily Emerald, was elected president of the Oregon Professional Sport Writers' association at the spring meeting of the organization Saturday. George H. Godfrey, director of the University of Oregon public relations bureau, was named vice-president and secretary-treasurer.

Arden X. Pangborn, the retiring president of the association, commended the work of the group in its series of all-Oregon radio programs held weekly over KORE, Eugene broadcasting station. The talks have been temporarily discontinued but will be resumed next week, according to Sam Wilderman, who has been in charge.

Burke and Van Dine Chosen Marty Burke, sporting editor of the Seattle Post Intelligencer, was taken into the organization as honorary member, and Harry Van Dine, campus correspondent for the Portland Telegram, was elected to full membership.

Pigney has been connected with both the Morning Oregonian and the Oregon Journal, and at various times has been a member of the staff of the Eugene Guard and the Eugene Register. In the past year he was assistant publicity director of the A. S. U. O.

Association Long Organized The Oregon Professional Sports Writers' association was organized on the campus several years ago by George Godfrey, Godfrey and Sam H. Wilderman, director of publicity for the A. S. U. O., are the only charter members here at present.

Portland members include L. H. Gregory, sporting editor of the Oregonian; Web Jones, George Cowne, Dick Godfrey, Lee Bostwick and James McCool, Oregonian; George Bertz, sporting editor of the Journal, and the Journal staff writers, Larry Smythe, and Harry Leeding; Kenneth Binns, sporting editor of the Telegram, and Cy Allen, assistant editor; and Billy Stepp and Tom Shea of the Portland News.

Production of Pageant To Be Talked at Dinner

A dinner for faculty and townspeople will be held tonight at the Osburn hotel to consider the desirability of the Eugene and the university community undertaking the production of a pageant more or less along the lines of the pageant "Katawa" produced here two years ago. The affair will be for the purpose of perpetuating the great event of the coming of the pilgrims. Dr. James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts, will be toastmaster. Hugh Rosson is chairman of the faculty committee.

Any faculty members who are interested may obtain tickets from Edgar E. DeCoo, mathematics professor. Already more than 60 have arranged to attend.

Naomi Hohman Made Head of Pi Delta Phi

Naomi Hohman, junior in romance languages, was elected president of Pi Delta Phi, national French honorary, at a meeting held Thursday in the Oregon building. Other members elected to office were Jennie Klemm, junior in romance languages, vice-president; Phoebe Finley, junior in English, treasurer; and Doris Hartly, sophomore in English, secretary. Charles Howell, of the romance language department, gave a talk on the French comedy, "Le Medecin Malgre Lui," which will be given April 19 in Guild hall theater, sponsored by Pi Delta Phi.

John Bovard Returns From Research Trip

Plans for New Hospital At California U. Studied

Complete Unit Here Possible

Facilities for Recreation Discussed on Trip On Coast

A hope that "ground will be flying early this summer" and a conviction firmer than ever that Oregon can have a splendid infirmary building for $100,000—these thoughts Dr. John F. Bovard, head of physical education brought back to Eugene when he returned Friday from Berkeley, California, after attending a meeting of the Pacific coast heads of recreation work and viewing the University of California's plan for the new student hospital.

Cost Estimated at $350,000 The California infirmary, estimated to cost $350,000 includes hospital equipment, has 100 beds and four stories, the lower two being devoted to the clinic and dispensary, and the upper two to beds and hospital equipment. Dr. Bovard explained yesterday afternoon, declaring that, "most certainly if California can have such a large, complete and well-equipped hospital for $350,000 we can surely have a complete, modern unit for $100,000."

Hospital Well Equipped No ward in the California university's hospital will have more than four beds, most of them will have two. A plug will connect a telephone and radio music to every room, and every room will have lavatory equipment, with showers rather than tubs. Beds will be wheeled, doing away with moving to wheeled stretchers, and all doors will be large enough to permit their passage in and out. There will be a sun porch.

To Be Complete Student Hospital It's to be built to be a complete student's hospital and it certainly is," commented Dr. Bovard. "Yes, I'm all the more convinced that we can have a fine building here. They are working on the same theory we have here, that the health service can educate students and better health habits and improve the contact between students and the medical profession."

Many States Visited Meeting with men in his work from Utah, Idaho, Washington, California, and British Columbia April 4, 5, and 6, in sessions of the Pacific coast association of recreation workers, Dr. Bovard heard his theory that a knowledge and understanding of applied sociology as well as a foundation in physical education is essential in recreational work expressed and approved.

"It was primarily to study the qualifications for recreational workers that I attended and it was interesting to find that conviction recognized. We are trying to show those who engage such workers that simply a personality particularly fitted, or a complete physical education is not sufficient. A practical knowledge of social problems is essential."

Mothers Get Attention Growing attention is being given to providing recreation for mothers, he said, describing newly instituted camps where recreation is provided for all members of the family and all housework and child care away from the mother, giving her opportunity.

Annual R.O.T.C. Inspection Slated For Tomorrow

San Francisco Man to Visit Local Group; Honorary Sponsors Dinner

Lieutenant Colonel Waddell, of San Francisco, staff colonel and R. O. T. C. officer, will make an administrative inspection of the local unit of the R. O. T. C. Wednesday, April 17. The actual training inspection of the university unit will be made some time in May by Major J. H. Tierney, who is stationed in Eugene and united with service work.

The members of Scabbard and Blade, national military honorary, will entertain Colonel Waddell at a luncheon Wednesday afternoon. Following this luncheon, Colonel Waddell will leave for Corvallis, where he will inspect the O. S. C. unit in the afternoon.

Sponsors Band Tour to Eugene

King Albert of Belgium, under whose patronage the symphonic band of the Royal Belgian Guards, consisting of 81 selected musicians, will entertain Eugene crowds at McArthur court May 2. The tour of America which is being made by the band is in the nature of a good will visit.

Senior Fair Sex To Seek Annual Leap-week Dates

Committees Announced To Plan Schedule April 25-27

Picnic Saturday Afternoon To Be 'No Date' Affair

Plans are rapidly being completed for the annual Senior Leap Week, scheduled for April 25-27, according to Olive Banks, general chairman. The senior women may be seen looking the senior men over for prospective victims to their wiles. The senior men for their part may be seen around the campus grooming themselves and practicing sweet "Thank you, I'd like to go's" in preparation for the time when their positions will be reversed, and they will be called on to advance or repel the attentions of the fair sex.

Sub-committees Selected Heads of the committees have selected their sub-committees. These follow:

Co-ed's Revenge committee: Charlotte Carl, chairman; Katherine Kneeland and Marion Leach.

Kappa Koffee committee: Louise Clark, chairman; Kathleen Tharaldsen, Marion Leach, Doris Wells, Virginia Russell and Dorothy Creath.

Patron and patroness committee: Joyce Maddox, chairman; Louise Stora.

Publicity: Elaine Crawford, chairman; Maryhelen Koupal.

Palmer Heads Picnic Committee Agnes Palmer has been chosen to head the committee for the picnic, but she has not yet announced her co-workers. The picnic, which is to be a no-date affair, will be held Saturday afternoon and evening, April 27, at Swimmers' Delight. Busses will be chartered to take the class to the rendezvous at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The order of the day will include eating and swimming, and later, dancing. As there are many dances scheduled on the campus for Saturday night, the picnic will adjourn at 8 p. m.

Sweetser Gives Herball To U. of O. Library

An immense Herball, consisting of 1755 pages, has been presented recently to the University of Oregon library by Professor A. R. Sweetser.

The book is a rare collection of material on plant and herb life, accompanied by interesting illustrations. Printed by a London publishing company in the year 1640, it represents a unusual specimen of old printing and ideas held at that time on the medicinal value of herbs and plants.

The opening pages are dedicated to "The King's Most Excellent Majesty."

There are 17 "clafes or tribes" included in the volume. The treatment of each "claffe" is divided into sections, description, names, time and place, and "vertues." According to this book, herbs can do anything from removing wrinkles to curing impediments in speech.

Oregon Leads In Publication of Math Works

Research Papers Printed In Three Leading Journals

State Eighth in Field of Study

Work of Milne and Davis Is Instrumental in Big Showing

The University of Oregon leads all universities west of the Mississippi in the number of research papers published during the past year in three leading mathematical journals, "Transactions of the American Mathematical Society," "American Journal of Mathematics," and "Annals of Mathematics," it was announced here by Professor E. E. DeCoo, head of the department of mathematics, who has just received word of this achievement from Professor Tomlinson, Fort of Lehigh university, who edits the mathematics section of the American year book.

Davis' Work Gets Mention

This remarkable showing is due to the researches of Professors W. E. Milne and David R. Davis of the university mathematics department. Professor Davis' contribution on the "Calculus of Variations," receives special mention; while the published work of both professors is highly praised.

The state of Oregon also stands eighth of all the states in the union in this published mathematical research field, it is stated. This is considered a real achievement, since this state, with one large university, was in competition with many states having several similar institutions.

Two Others Gain Recognition

Two other notable numbers of the university publications in this field are "History and Synopsis of the Theory of Summable Infinite Processes," by professor Lloyd S. Small, and "Trusts, Moments and Shears in Elastic Arches," by Professor E. H. McAllister. Both have gained national recognition.

Further research in important scientific fields will be possible henceforth due to the appropriation by the last session of the legislature of a special fund for this purpose.

Donut Baseball Season to Begin This Afternoon

Sherry Ross Clashes With Sigma Pi Tau; Fijis Meet Gamma Hall

The opening games of the intramural baseball season will be played this afternoon at 4 o'clock, with Sherry Ross hall meeting Sigma Pi Tau and Phi Gamma Delta tangling with Gamma hall.

Games will be played on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. Merrill Hagan, who is in charge of the intramural baseball, asks that each house be on the field promptly and keep as close to the schedule as possible, as some forty games must be played in all. Each house is asked to co-operate in carrying out the schedule.

Following is the schedule for the week of April 16 to 20:

Tuesday, April 16—Sherry Ross vs. Sigma Pi Tau; Phi Gamma Delta vs. Gamma hall.

Thursday, April 18—Beta Theta Pi vs. Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Sigma Nu vs. Phi Kappa Psi.

Friday, April 19—Bachelordon vs. Omega hall; Alpha Tau Omega vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Saturday, April 20—10:00 a. m., Sigma Chi vs. Phi Sigma Kappa; 10:00 a. m., Psi Kappa vs. Zeta hall; 2 p. m., Delta Tau Delta vs. Chi Psi; 2 p. m., Alpha Beta Chi vs. Phi Delta Theta.

The week day games will be played at 4 o'clock, while on Saturdays the games will be called at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. Bill Adams and Merrill Hagan will umpire all of the games.

Mrs. E. W. Allen to Read Own Play at Silver Tea

Mrs. Eric W. Allen, wife of the dean of the school of journalism, will read one of her own comedies, "Know Your Place," at a silver tea this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Unitarian church. The tea will be sponsored by the women's alliance of the church and will be open to the public.
