

Women Veto Present Plan For Athletics

Point System Abolished By Delegates at Seattle

W. A. A. Conference Goes To Reno

The point system of awards for women's achievements in athletics will be abolished in western colleges following a decision made at the seventh annual sectional W. A. A. conference held April 11, 12 and 13 in Seattle.

According to Mahalia Kurtz and Dorothea Lensch, who attended the conference as Oregon delegates, the method of change will be left up to the individual colleges, though certain recommendations were made. One of these would abolish the system slowly by first doing away with points given for captains, team managers, and heads of sports, and by ceasing any differentiation between major and minor sports. The other suggested method would do away with the system at once and substitute a new system of awards based on seasonal participation in sports.

Olympic Meet Considered
A committee was appointed to work with the Physical Education association in keeping the western colleges informed about participation of women in Olympic meets. College women will act as hostesses for the women athletes who try out for the next Olympic games.

Other questions decided were that W. A. A. should encourage inter-house competition among women, that it should sponsor all athletic clubs and that the association should give more cooperation to other women's activities.

Many Colleges Attend

Thirty-two colleges were represented at the meet, and 55 official women besides the delegates were there also.

The national W. A. A. conference for 1930 will be held in Ann Arbor, Michigan, and the eighth western sectional conference is to be held in 1931 at Reno, Nevada.

The trophy for the best display of athletic equipment, won last year by Oregon, went to U. C. L. A.

AMENDMENTS UP FOR STUDENT BODY VOTE

To amend Article III, Section 2, Clause d; by striking out "one of whom shall be a member of the Board of Regents," and also; "and in case there is no satisfactory person available who is both an alumnus and a regent of the university, the committee named is at liberty to appoint another member of the Board of Regents."

To amend Article III, Section six, Clause one to read: Publications Committee:

Membership: This committee shall consist of seven members.

One member from the faculty of the school of journalism who shall act as adviser for all student publications.

One member of the alumni of the university.

One member of the faculty at large.

The editor of the Emerald.

The editor of the Oregonian.

The Vice-president of the Associated Students.

The President of the Associated Students shall act as chairman.

The Graduate Manager shall act as secretary but shall be non-voting.

The appointive members of this committee shall be appointed by the retiring President and President-elect of the Associated Students and President of the university not later than June 15 of each year.

Clause 2; Duties: to remain as now defined in the present Constitution, April 11, 1929.

To add Clause 3 to read:

The Staff of Publications: Every member of the Associated Students is eligible to be a member of the staff of any publication of the Associated Students.

Each year during the third week in April the present editorial staff of each publication shall meet and nominate not more than four persons for the office of editor for the coming year according to procedure prescribed by the Publications Committee.

The nominees' names shall be handed to the Publications Committee immediately. By a petition of not less than one hundred students, further nominees may be named by the students at large and handed to the chairman of the Publications Committee not later than the first week in May. From the whole group of nominees the Publications Committee shall recommend not later than the second week in May one person to the Executive Council for final approval to occupy the office of editor. If the Executive Council should reject the recommendation, the Publications Committee shall reconsider the original group of nominees and recommend another person to the Executive Council for final approval.

To amend Article VIII, Section one: by striking it out and inserting the following:

"Two regular meetings of the Associated Students shall be held each year on dates provided in Article VI, Sections one and four, at which time student nominations and committee reports and installation shall take place."

To amend Article III by making the present sections eleven, twelve, and thirteen be known as sections four, five, and six respectively; present section four to become section seven; present section five to become section eight; present section six to become section nine; present section seven to become section ten; present section eight to become section eleven; present section ten to become section twelve; to strike out Article IV and all pertaining to it and add the following to Article III, to be known as Section thirteen:

Student Affairs Committee: Clause one; membership: This committee shall consist of five members.

Senior Woman from the Executive Council.

One member from the faculty at large.

Vice-president of the Associated Students.

President of the Women's League.

President of the Associated Students shall act as Chairman.

Contest Themes For Extempore Talks Given Out

Men Speak on Politics and Business; Women on American Culture

The topic of the men's extempore speaking contest, as announced yesterday by J. K. Horner, general manager of the contests, will be "Politics and Its Relation to Business."

The general subject of the women's extempore speaking contest will be "Foreign Indictment of American Culture." This subject was phrased as a debate question by the Pacific Coast Forensic League for some of the debates next year.

Listed by Horner as some of the sub-topics which may be developed under the heading of the men's subject are:

1—Farm relief and politics.

2—Oil business and politics.

3—A business executive as president.

4—Tariff and business.

5—Income tax and business.

Mr. Horner has not yet made a list of sub-topics for the women's contests, but advised contestants to read general matter. Much, he said Monday, has been printed stressing the indictment that Americans are cheap and materialistic, and wholly dominated by the dollar. The speeches will discuss the pertinence of this indictment.

The prizes, $30, $15, $10, and $5, for both men and women are granted from a sum put aside by Mrs. W. F. Jewett from the estate of the late Mr. Jewett.

The preliminary try outs will be held on May 1 for the men and on May 8 for the women. Final hearings will be held May 9 for men and May 16 for women.

Education Professors Back From Conference

F. L. Stetson and C. L. Huffaker, professors of education, returned to the campus Monday from Spokane, where they attended a three-day convention of the Inland Empire Educational association. Both were active in committee work while at the conference.

Professor Stetson was appointed a member of the committee to nominate officers for the coming year and a member of the council on educational psychology. He was also elected chairman for next year's northwest conference of Phi Delta Kappa, educational honorary, which will be held in conjunction with the convention of the Inland Empire association.

Miss Hair to Give Talks

Mozelle Hair of the extension division, who is state president of the Business and Professional Women's clubs, will give addresses to clubs in Astoria, The Dalles, and Pendleton this week.
