Political Camps Organizing Fast

TEN days remain for the political tide to ebb and flow before the cataclysm. So far, ebbing and flowing is a mild description of the action of politics. To borrow from the Germans, it has been storming and stressing. But be that as it may, underneath the apparent turbulence there is an organization and purpose that would complement the leaders of the national parties.

There are chronic politicians and acute politicians. The chronic boys have been shaping the political destiny of the A. S. U. O. for months while the acute aggregation have but lately entered the fray. To trace some of the present political tendencies back to their roots would probably necessitate a research in early Oregon history so no attempt will be made to deal with other than the acute phases.

The amendment reducing the number of offices from 22 to 6 was fortunately anticipated by the solons and tickets were arranged in most cases either way. It has had the effect, however, to a certain extent, of retarding the solidification of parties.

The passing of the amendment, followed by the disqualification of Hubbs served to give a unique touch to 1929 nettifogery. The Hubbs party had already made a long step toward completing a ticket and when the debacle came was upset for a time. Reversals are common in politics and new candidates were immediately proposed. Laird, Hunt, Dobbin, Norblad and Anderson were suggested and the latter chosen as the most likely. At present the ticket reads Anderson, president; Norblad, vice-president; Fenlason, secretary; Naomi Moshberger, senior woman for the executive council; Tussing, junior man on the executive council; Swindells, yell leader.

The other ticket is headed by Stoddard and has the advantage of consistency to date. On Stoddard's ticket are Horn, vice-president; Bea Milligan, secretary; Florence McNeuey, senior woman; and Dezendorf, junior man. None of these names are definitely settled upon by the two machines, except the top men. So those who find themselves political aspirants against their will or without their knowledge need not become libelous.

Class offices are being snatched up with avidity and promised more eagerly than ever before. The usual fund of appointments are to be parcelled out on the promise of support. Many of the ambitious who earlier had eyes on more stellar positions are now looking toward class offices. Important developments and more definite tendencies are expected by politicians to be brought about today and tomorrow so as Caesar once so astutely remarked, "Hasta Manana."

University at last On the Air

THE first of a series of University programs under the sponsorship of the Emerald was presented over the local radio station KORE last night. Members of the Junior Vodvil cast who contributed their talent to making the hour delightfully entertaining are to be congratulated. Under the direction of George Weber and Alpha Delta Sigma, professional advertising fraternity, the Campus Groaners trio, the banjo quintet and Madge Normile, "blues" singer, gave representative numbers of the Vodvil which will be presented May 3 and 4 in the Heilig theater.

Since it was decided to launch a series of university broadcasts under the auspices of the Emerald last night, the Vodvil numbers having already been scheduled, the programs were combined to provide an exceptionally attractive opening entertainment.

The next period in which the university will be on the air over KORE is Friday night starting at 8 o'clock. The first unit of the program from 8 to 8:30 p. m. will feature the Vodvil players again, while the Emerald hour will be from 8:30 to 9:00. Coach Reinhart of the baseball team will feature the Emerald's university hour with a discourse on the Web-foot's baseball chances following yesterday's defeat at the hands of the Meiji university players from Tokio.

Love letters written by Jack Edward Jones to Phyllis J. Van Kimmel, prominent star of the campus movie, will be read tonight during the progress of the breach of promise trial to be held in Judge B. C. Gavitt's moot court at the Lane county court house at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Van Kimmel seeks $25,000 damages from Jones as heart balm.

Attorneys for the plaintiff protested yesterday because there was no woman on the jury selected. They will seek to put a woman on the jury tonight when the present jurymen are challenged.

The intimate love affairs of the movie star and the defendant will be related from the witness stand when they and witnesses are called to the chair, according to attorneys for both sides.

Bill Adams and Lester Ochler, attorneys for the plaintiff, will base their case on the point that on April 12, 1929, the date fixed for the marriage, Jones broke his contract and refused to marry Miss Van Kimmel.

Defense attorneys, John Bell and Chris Bosen, will charge that the defendant's promise to marry the movie star was extorted from him when he was in a state of mental coma, and that the plaintiff's entrance into the motion picture world against his wishes has made the marriage impossible.

The trial will be held especially for pre-legal students, but all others interested in the case will be admitted providing there is sufficient room in the court. Interest in the case has been growing during the past week and a large crowd is expected.

DUCK SOUP

With politics starting it reminds us that there are two promising candidates for Prexy. Tom Stoddard is promising anything down to his shirt and Johnny Anderson is promising the sleeves of his vest.

The Sig McKie hotel is rumored as Anderson's headquarters (because of the food at the Fiji house) and Big Bill Dashney is the power behind the campaign.

Stoddard hides out in some secret shanty on Hilyard street, where big doings are reported. Foxy Bus Sullivan seems to be the Mark Hanna since the other manager quit.

The Oregon and Sherry Ross chapters of Phi Psi seem to have pulled a bum trick on somebody, but we can't find out whom as this goes to press.

At present the Stoddard ticket claims 3 votes (all frosh) at the Phi Delt house (exclusive of Tom), 57 at the Fiji house, Laughlin at the A. B. C., and, well, A. T. O. 3, Ally Up 1, Beta 3, Bach 4, Chi Psi 1, Delt 5, DeeEee 4, Kappa Sig 2, Phi Psi 8, Phi Sig 25, Psi Kappa 2, S. A. E. 3, Sigma Chi 45, Sigma Nu 73, Spec 0, S. P. T. 3, Theta Chi 4, New Dorm 8, Friendly 3.

The Anderson ticket boasts of all the Fiji house, A. B. C. 1 (but flanking out), A. T. O. 3, Ally Up 5, Beta 3, Bach 4, Chi Psi 2, Delt 5, Dee Eee 4, Kappa Sig 2, Phi Psi 7, Phi Sig 89 (40 yet to be pledged), Psi Kappa 2, S. A. E. 4, Sigma Chi 1, Phi Delt 53, Sigma Nu 3, Spec 45, S. P. T. 4, Theta Chi 3, New Dorm 8, Friendly hall 3.

It must be remembered that all these votes may not come through as expected. All have been promised, however, and the politicians consider them as good as gold.

Stoddard isn't sure of the 3 votes conceded him at the Phi Delt house, and Anderson isn't quite sure just how he can count on the 3 at the Fiji house.

THE ABOVE MATERIAL WAS SUBMITTED BY SOMEONE WHO IS APPARENTLY IN ON SOME INSIDE STUFF.

Will the writer please contribute dope as he gathers it from day to day?

Anderson backers are now claiming that Johnny swam the English channel once, but then so are Stoddard backers claiming that Tom was on a clean-up committee once.

READ THIS CAREFULLY BEFORE VOTING.

Will some girl please submit the standings of the sororities on the candidates?

Bathing suits and formal attire were the rage at the McDonald theater last night when Miss Lois Mathews was chosen as "Miss Eugene" in the contest to determine the most beautiful girl in Lane county. Blanche Ellis, dark haired and tiny, won the position of alternate. Fourteen girls competed for the title of "Miss Eugene" and the judges had a difficult time choosing the one to represent this city in Portland, in the latter part of May.

The judges made their decisions on the basis of physical beauty, personality and stage presence. The result was not announced until after the second appearance of the contestants on the stage. Only one co-ed from the University of Oregon entered the contest and none of the entrants were from out of town, but they made a very presentable group of bathing beauties.

McDONALD—Richard Barthelmess and Betty Compson in "Weary River." Also Vitaphone vodvil and other talking features.

HEILIG—The Taylor Players present "Up in Mabel's Room."

COLONIAL—"The King of Kings," featuring H. B. Warner, William Boyd and an all star supporting cast.

REX—Marjorie Beebe in "The Farmer's Daughter." Also another chapter of "Tarzan the Mighty" and news reel.

ELECTION ANNOUNCEMENT
Bachelordon announces the election to honorary membership of Thomas Simons.

'Theatre' Magazine Received by Library

Eleven bound volumes of the "Theatre Magazine," a publication devoted to the American stage, arrived at the main library recently. The volumes are for the early 1900's and were gotten to complete the files already possessed by the library. One of the interesting features of the series is that the covers, on which are portraits of well-known stage folk, are bound with the issues.

PLEDGING ANNOUNCEMENT

Phi Beta, women's national professional fraternity of music and drama, announces the pledging of Norma Jacobs, Ruth Leut, Jacquelyn Pringle, Katherine Starr, Margaret Turner, Margaret Whiting.
