

Aggies Meet Varsity For Ball Opener

Webfoots Clash Today On Local Field With O. S. C.

McDonald Billed For Work in Box

Oregon Favored to Take Game; Paust Slated Corvallis Hurler

Oregon will play its first conference baseball game of the 1929 season against Oregon State this afternoon at 3:30 on Reinhart field. Three more games between the two teams are scheduled. The first will be tomorrow afternoon at Corvallis. Two more, May 31 and June 1, will be played after the return of the Webfoots from their road trip.

Bill Reinhart

Both Oregon and O. S. C. lost to Meiji university this week, but the Aggies took the worst beating. The Japanese won 13 to 8 from the Staters and edged out Oregon 1 to 0.

Reynold MacDonald will pitch for Oregon, Bill Reinhart, Oregon coach, announced yesterday. Last year he was the deciding factor in Oregon's winning the northern title from Washington State last June. Ira Woodie, two year veteran, will catch MacDonald's throws.

Paust Likely Boxman

A tentative lineup of the Oregon State team lists Wesley Paust as pitcher. Paust pitched the only game which O. S. C. was able to take from Oregon last year. "Chief" Thompson, Indian Oregon State slugger, probably will catch for them.

Les Johnson, first base; Ken Robie, second; Frankie Andrews, shortstop; and Harold Olinger, third, will make up the Oregon infield. Johnson and Robie are veterans. Andrews and Olinger will be playing their first conference game. They are sophomores. Don McCormick, letterman, may replace Olinger at third at some point in the game.

Two Sophs in Lineup

Oregon State also has two lettermen and two sophomores in the infield. Grayson and Pennell, first and second base, starred on the rooks last year. Quayle, shortstop, and Hafenfelt, third, are the Aggies' experienced men.

The Oregon outfield will be selected from four veterans, Cotter Gould, Ray Edwards, Dave Epps, and Carl Nelson, and one sophomore, Kramer Barnes. Nelson is a utility man and may be used either in the outfield or in place of Johnson at first base. Epps, Edwards and Barnes started the game against Meiji and will probably take the field today.

Bellville, Ballard, and Hammer are three Oregon State outfielders played in the Aggie game against Meiji and are likely to oppose Oregon today.

Dr. Wm. Burnham Hygiene Authority To Speak Tonight

Men's, Women's Education Honorary Groups Will Banquet at Osburn

Dr. William H. Burnham, former professor of educational psychology at Clark university, and nationally recognized authority on school hygiene, will address the members of Phi Delta Kappa and Pi Lambda Theta, men's and women's educational honoraries, at a banquet to be given in his honor at the Osburn hotel this evening.

The banquet will begin at 6:15. Members of Pi Lambda Theta have arranged a brief musical program to precede Dr. Burnham's address.

Four members of the Oregon faculty who studied under Dr. Burnham while students at Clark will attend the banquet. They are Dean H. D. Sheldon, Dr. Edmund S. Conklin, Dr. H. R. Crosland and Dr. B. W. DeBusk.

Burnham is on a short speaking tour through the northwest. Thursday he addressed the teachers' association of Portland, and tomorrow he will go to Monmouth to address the students of the Normal school.

Relay Contestants To Arrive Today

Accommodation Plans Made for Preppers

Plans have been made for the accommodation of the 200 delegates as they arrive today and Saturday morning to take part in the track meet held Saturday at Hayward field at 2:30 o'clock, for state championships. Lyle Loughlin, chairman of accommodations, yesterday announced the committee to assist in taking care of the delegates when they arrive and report to the Igloo. It consists of John Yorkovich, Jim Dezenfior, Irving Kincaid, Clarence Barton, Earl Miller, and Chuck Maginnis.

The Oregon Knights also will help in the accommodation of the athletes. They will be at the Igloo when the delegates arrive and will take charge of the boys assigned to their respective houses and attend to the transportation. Saturday morning they will take the boys from their houses to the field.

Women's Rhythm Dancing Classes To Give Recital

School of Physical Ed To Present Two Programs

Lighting, Costumes More Elaborate Than Ever

The advanced classes in rhythmic dancing at the University of Oregon will be presented in a recital at the Woman's building on the campus tonight and Saturday evening, April 26 and 27. The recital will be sponsored by the school of physical education for women.

Special music has been arranged for the affair, numbers ranging from those of Frescobaldi of the 17th century to the modern compositions of Prokofieff.

The recital, the only one to be given this year, will be more elaborate in lighting and costuming than those given last year, according to Martha Hill, instructor in physical education who is directing the affair.

A group of scenes from the life of Schumann which was presented last year will be repeated by request. A primitive dance to music by Cyril Scott and a renaissance sketch in the style of Botticelli to music by Frescobaldi will be two of the unusual numbers presented.

"David and Goliath," a sonata in eight parts, will embody all the charm of realistic music of that period, depicting the whole story of the fight between David and Goliath and the exultation of the Israelites at their victory.

Trio of Psychology Men Get Iowa Posts

Three members of the psychology department will assume positions in the University of Iowa next year. Frances Robinson, LaGrande, who graduates in June, will leave for Iowa City after commencement to attend the University of Iowa summer school. At the opening of the winter term he will assume the position of graduate assistant in "personnel problems," which has been especially created for the Oregon man. Robinson is a member of Phi Delta Kappa, educational honorary.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Jasper (Eleanor Cleaver) are both going to do work along psychological lines. Mrs. Jasper will do work in the child welfare research, which is connected with the psychology department. Mr. Jasper will have a graduate assistantship with an additional experimental field in a psychopathic hospital. He will teach at the University of Oregon summer school this summer.

Geology Department Purchases Sextant

The geology department has just received a sextant, which will be used in the geography and aviation courses. A sextant is an instrument used by geographical explorers and navigators in determining their position. This particular instrument has an attachment called an "aviation bubble" for use in aeroplanes. The instrument purchased by the geology department is of the kind used on the "Southern Cross" on its recent flight to Australia. It cost $125 and will be introduced to classes next fall.

Prep School Track Meet Plans Ready

More Than 200 Enter Relays Scheduled For Saturday

Most Contestants Will Arrive Today

Entertainment Committee Banquet at Dorm And Movie

All preparations for the third annual Oregon high school relay carnival which is to be held Saturday have been completed and all is in readiness for the entertainment of the delegates, the majority of whom will arrive sometime today, according to Lawrence Ogle, general chairman of the affair.

Of the nineteen high schools entered in the meet all but Hillsboro and Forest Grove have sent in their complete entry lists. So far in these entry lists there are over 200 delegates listed.

Representatives Meet

Representatives from the various houses met in Virgil Earl's office yesterday afternoon to draw for delegates. In accordance with the drawing, the teams will be housed as follows: Benson Tech, of Portland, will be placed with Alpha Tau Omega and Kappa Sigma; Corvallis at Sherry Ross and Sigma Pi Tau; Bend at Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Grant high school, of Portland, at Theta Chi and Alpha Upsilon; Mill City and Albany at Delta Tau Delta; Silverton at Sigma Phi Epsilon; Roosevelt at Chi Psi; Jefferson at Phi Delta Theta and Bachelorlor; Vancouver, Wash., high school, at Sigma Nu and Psi Kappa; Hill Military Academy at Alpha and Zeta halls; Franklin high, Portland, at Phi Sigma Kappa, Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Kappa Psi; St. Helens at Phi Kappa Psi; Hillsboro at Sigma hall, and Forest Grove at Omega hall.

Sharp to Assign Houses

Jim Sharp, chairman of the housing committee, has announced that the delegates are to make the place where they are assigned their headquarters, and no houses, under any circumstances are to swap delegates without the consent of the housing committee.

The various fraternities and halls will be expected to have a representative at the Igloo in order to meet the delegates when they arrive and to conduct them to the place at which they are to stay.

Features Scheduled

Entertainment will include a banquet given at the new dorm by the Order of the "O" at 6 o'clock Saturday, and a free show at the McDonald Saturday night. Hal Padlock, chairman of the entertainment committee, has announced that there will be several features, consisting of campus talent, added to the McDonald program.

Seven relay events and five individual events are to be run off during the meet. The relay events are the quarter mile, the two mile, the half mile, one mile, sprint medley, and shuttle low hurdles. The individual events will be the pole vault, 100-yard dash, broad jump, high jump and shot put. These events will be held at Hayward field tomorrow.

Two More Leap Week Events On Calendar

Koffee at Kappa House And Barroom Bust Wind up Affair

Now that the roller skating marathon, one of the features of Senior Leap Week, has been inscribed on history's pages, eyes of senior men and women are turned on the final events on the calendar—the Kappa Koffee from 4 to 6 today and the Barroom Bust tonight from 9 to 12 p. m.

Dates will be in order for both affairs with the senior co-eds doing the asking and the men the accepting.

Apache costumes will be in order for the Bust at Hendricks hall tonight and varied forms of Parisian whoopie will be on tap for the four-year revelers. The Koffee will be held at the Kappa house with campus togs a la mode.

Campus Activity Essays Pour In Hobi-Emerald Contest Offers Plane Ride

Entries in the Hobi-Emerald campus activity essay contest announced on Wednesday by the Emerald began to pour in yesterday. The first batch of returns in the contest, the winner of which will be given a free airplane ride, gave promise of a large number of essays to choose from.

To date the most popular subject seems to be the Junior Volvyl. It is expected that a large number will write articles on some phase of campus activities during their spare time over the week-end, and that by the time the contest closes at 3 o'clock May 1, the number already received will have trebled.

A free airplane ride will be awarded the best article turned in before the closing date. This contest is the first of a series to be sponsored by the Oregon Daily Emerald and the Hobi Airways of Eugene, for which free rides in Hobi (Continued on Page Four)

East-West Game With University Of Miami Is Planned

Contest Will Be Played At Night in Prize-fight Arena

Florida Team Rated as One Of Strongest in South

An intersectional football game between the University of Oregon and University of Miami, Florida, to be played at night under flood lights in the arena in which the Stribling-Sharkey fight took place, are the tentative plans of John J. McEwan, Oregon's head football coach.

"We are waiting for the final word from Florida," said McEwan "but it looks like the plan will be a go. If the game is arranged we will probably play St. Mary's college in California for the first of the big post-conference games and then move on across the country to Florida."

The game, if plans go through, will be played on December 7 in the big reconstructed arena that Tex Rickard and Jack Dempsey built for the big fight last February.

A football game at night is something different, and, according to McEwan, has certain advantages over the game in the daytime. A night game is assured of a larger crowd, and in Florida, will assure the Oregon team of cool weather.

Miami university produced, last year, one of the strong title contenders of the southern football teams. And authorities say that next year's team will equal if not better last year's record.

The Oregon team, although it's record at the beginning of the season was not of championship calibre, came out along at the last with enough strength to win most of its closing games. Among these games was the contest in which Oregon defeated the O. S. C. team which overwhelmed New York university in an intersectional game.

Campus Movie Dance To Be Saturday at 1

The campus movie dance on Fairmount Heights Saturday will be a cord dance, Jim Ray announced last evening. Men will wear cords and women regular campus spring clothing.

This will be a chance for all who have had their screen tests taken to appear before the camera, and others as well. For those who do not have means of transportation, cars will be provided, leaving the administration building at 1 Saturday for Will Jewett's tennis court. All who plan to participate must see Francis Mallins at the Sigma Alpha Epsilon house. The Varsity Vagabonds will furnish music for the occasion.

Former Oregon Student Is Featured in Article

An article about a former University of Oregon student has appeared in the house organ of the Scripps-Howard newspapers, published in New York City. John E. Finneran is now general manager of the Scripps-Howard national advertising department. While attending college he served as advertising manager for the Eugene Guard, later working on the staff of the Western Farmer, Portland Journal, and joining the Gardner Advertising company.

Second Hour Of Broadcast Tonight, 8:30

Emerald Will Feature Sports Talk, News Review, Music

Reinhart to Give B. B. Prospects

Sidelights of Ore.-O. S. C. Game This Afternoon May Be Dope

The second Emerald Hour broadcast will go on the air at 8:30 tonight over radio station KORE with a sports talk, a news review, and music being featured.

Bill Reinhart, varsity baseball coach, will talk on Oregon's prospects for the coming season. As Oregon will play O. S. C. this afternoon at 3:30, Reinhart will no doubt be able to give many sidelights on the game, as well as up-to-the-minute inside dope on the work of the nine.

News Review on Program

A short news review of general campus events of the last few days will follow Reinhart's baseball talk. Jack Hempstead, associate editor of the Emerald, will give the news review, which will be written by Art Schoeni, managing editor.

Tonight's program will close with musical numbers, as yet unannounced.

Inaugurated Tuesday

The Emerald Hour broadcast was inaugurated over KORE station last Tuesday with a program of talks and music. The special programs are sponsored by the Emerald in the interest of the university and will be a feature from KORE every Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday nights for the rest of the term. In the future, professors will be asked to give short talks on subjects along their lines of study, and campus organizations will be urged to cooperate by offering comedy sketches, talks, or music for the broadcasts.

French Section In Latin Quarter Setting for Ball

Sewers Part of Decorations Of Biggest Costume Dances of Year

A French boulevard in a Latin quarter surrounded by sewers and slums will be the setting for the Beaux Arts ball, to be held at the Campa Shoppe at 9 o'clock tonight, Clarence Lidberg, chairman of the decorations committee, announced yesterday. Sufficient tables will be scattered among the decorations for those who care to use them.

"The plans of all other committees have been completed, and all is in readiness for the biggest costume ball of the year," stated Glenn Gardner, general chairman of the affair. The unusual refreshments of rye-bread, cheese, and beer, will be in accordance with the French atmosphere, according to Amy Porter, chairman of the eats committee.

This term the traditional slope in the floor at the Campa Shoppe has been removed. Meridith Landaker, junior in architecture, is chairman of the floor committee. The poster committee has been kept busy making new posters for the last few days, due to the popularity of the first set. The busts, grouped with the pioneer, made by Verne Larson and Phil Haymond, freshmen sculptors attracted so much attention that they disappeared.

Gabriel, Oregon Grad At Cornell, Praised

Orin Stafford, professor of chemistry, has received a letter from Cornell university giving a good report of the work of Holton Gabriel, who left here as a graduate student last year. Since then he has been a teaching fellow at Cornell.

Dr. Clyde Mason, who wrote the letter to Professor Stafford, is himself a graduate of Oregon. He graduated after a four years' course in chemistry here ten years ago. After that he was given a teaching fellowship at Cornell and is now a member of the staff.

Student Nominations For A. S. U. O. Offices Proposed at Assembly

Anderson and Stoddard Will Vie for President; Three-cornered Race For Secondary Job Looms

Elections to Come on May 1; Amendments Slated To Be Voted on at Annual Spring Polls

No great surprises resulted from yesterday's regular student body meeting, as one after another the speakers nominated candidates as already lined up. John Anderson and Tom Stoddard will head the two tickets for presidency, while Dick Horn, Harold Kelley, and Walt Norblad will vie for the vice-presidency.

The office of secretary attracted LaWanda Fenlason and Beatrice Milligan. Florence McNeerney and Naomi Moshberger will compete for senior woman and James Dezenfior and Rex Tussing for junior man on the executive council. Either Chuck Reed or Jim Swindells will be the student body's next yell leader.

Phi Psi Paddlers Win Over Betas, 2-1, in Water Polo

Kappa Sigma Edges Out Alpha Tau Omega By One Point

Intramural Contests Fast; Good Defense Shown

A goal by Fred Smith six seconds before the end of the game broke a tie and gave the Phi Psi a victory over the Betas in the most spectacular of the two hardball water polo contests played yesterday. The battle waged on even terms during most of the contest with fast swimming and skillful defense work by both teams.

Just as the time-keeper drew a deep breath for the closing whistle, Fred Smith plunked it in to clinch the game.

Bill Pittman was instrumental in the Kappa Sigs' 4 to 3 win over the Alpha Tau Omega splashes. After the A. T. O.'s amassed a 3 to 1 lead, mainly by two pot shots at the beginning of the second half, Lloyd Magee and Pittman each shot one, bringing Kappa Sigma up on even terms. Pittman repeated, and the Kappa Sig squad held their one-point lead safe the remaining few minutes.

Wm. Knight Wins Jewett Prize in Oratory Contest

Padilla and Leland Fryer Receive Second and Third Awards

William Knight, sophomore, won first place in the Jewett oratorical contest held in Friendly hall last night. The subject of his speech was "The Sling of Justice." He based his oration on the Biblical narrative of David and Goliath. Mr. Knight described the habitual crime situation in the United States as being a Goliath and the law, which is trying to down it, as David. The people, according to Mr. Knight, must take the task in hand and see to it that the situation is done away with. First place carried a prize of $25.

Second prize went to B. N. S. Padilla, sophomore, who in his oration, "The Philippine Question," gave a most appealing demand for independence in behalf of his countrymen. This prize was $15. The third prize was won by Leland Fryer, also a sophomore, from Yamhill. His speech was "Holy Hokum." Ten dollars was the amount for the third prize.

Judges for the contest were: George Turnbull of the school of journalism, Verne Blue, history department, and Charles Howard of the school of law.
