Vodvil Satire Set To Start Friday Night

Musical Comedy to Give Picture of Campus Student Life

Play Written by University Man

Two Pony Choruses Plan To Entertain With Specialty Acts

By WILFRED BROWN
The reading room of the University of Oregon library, not as it is, but as it conceivably might be,

with some slight exaggeration; a fraternity house entertaining the show girls of the Eugene railway station upon the arrival of the students at the beginning of the year—of such scenes is composed "Oh Dear," the annual Junior Vodvil, which will open at the Heilig theater Friday night.

"Oh Dear" is a satire on life at the University of Oregon in the form of a musical comedy. In it is blended the inimitable humor of Don Johnston, author of the plot, with the music of Boone Hendricks, who collaborates with Johnston in the production of the show. Jo Ralston wrote the lyrics of the songs.

The show concerns itself with the activities of Jack, a naive frosh member of the Alpha Beta Gamma fraternity, played by Kermit Stevens, and Mary Frances, an equally naive freshman member of the Alpha Alpha Alpha sorority. Betty Barnes takes the part of Mary Frances.

The romance which develops between Jack and Mary Frances proceeds well for a time, and then is momentarily disrupted as romances usually are in stories.

Initiations at the Alpha Beta Gamma house, co-incident with the appearance in Eugene of "Oh Gosh, Oh Gee," traveling musical comedy, is responsible for the break-up.

Mitzi, played by Madge Normile, star in Vodvils of other years, the leading lady of the show entertained by the Alpha Beta Gammas, contributes a song and dance to the program, and a great deal of complication to the plot. Herb and Al, two brothers of Jack, played by Homer Dickson, who measures six feet four and upwards in his stocking feet, and Jack Jones, who can make five feet six if he stretches, are instrumental with Mitzi in temporarily breaking up the budding romance.

In the end, of course, everything is straightened out all right. Bob, Mary Frances's brother, played by Billy Siegfried, appears on the scene. Polly, a very curious and very talkative member of the Alpha Alpha Alpha sisterhood aids Bob in unsmiling the affair.

The two pony choruses and the men's chorus, 36 dancers in all, are being trained under the direction of Virginia Moore, dancing director of the Vodvil, as

Contest for Plane Ride Closes Today

Twenty-five Essays In; Word Limit Is 300

Hobi-Emerald contest will close promptly at 3 o'clock today, and all contributions should be handed to Arden X. Pangborn, editor of the Emerald, in the journalism building.

A free airplane ride will be the prize to be awarded to the student who is judged as presenting the best essay on any campus activity upon which he wishes to write. The word limit on the essays has been set at 300 words, and the student may choose any subject which has a connection with the campus. Already 25 papers have been turned in to those in charge of the contest.

A Travelair plane will be used for the ride, which will be contributed by the Hobi Airways of Eugene.

Student Tickets For Band Concert On Sale at Co-op

Doc Robnett Announces That Special 75 Cent Ducats Are Limited

Two Separate Programs Planned Thursday

Only a limited number of student tickets, calling for $2.00 seats at 75c for performances of the Royal Belgian band May 2, will be sold, according to Ronald Robnett, assistant graduate manager. These tickets will be on sale at the Co-op today for either the afternoon or evening performance, or both.

Two separate programs will be given by this band of 80 musicians led by Captain Arthur Prevost. Reserved seat tickets for the matinee will be $1.00, $1.50, and $2.00. General admission in the afternoon will be 75c and $1.00. Evening prices for reserved seats are $2.00 and $2.50, and for general admission $1.00 and $1.50.

The Royal Belgian band is more than a "band" in the American sense, inasmuch as it is also what the French call a "Harmonie." This word has no English equivalent and is best expressed as a combination of band and orchestra.

The leader of the band, Captain Arthur Prevost, is recognized as a genius for his mastery in arranging symphonic works for this organization. His repertory exceeds 100 classical works. Upon Stravinsky's request, Captain Prevost has arranged Petrouchka. At the instigation of Prokofieff, Casella, and other modern composers, he has also arranged their works in a most satisfactory manner. Captain Prevost's arrangements of the most important works of Bach, Cesar Franck's Symphony, Mendelssohn's Organ Sonata, and courses of other classical works, are equally astounding. As to the popular side of the band's repertory, it comprises over 200 works that are an overwhelming success. Captain Prevost also has a collection of 64 military marches.

Northwest Libraries Discuss Co-op Buying

An attempt is being made among the libraries of the northwest to start a method for cooperative buying of periodical sets among themselves.

M. H. Douglass, librarian of the University of Oregon library, received a letter to this effect recently. Series will be bought by the Union Lists Libraries cooperatively and the various volumes will be circulated as they are needed among the different libraries. This will enable these institutions to secure expensive and valuable sets between them that a single library would be unable to purchase for itself.

Manager of Hockey Schedules Contests

Intramural hockey game will begin this afternoon at five o'clock, according to Ruth Burcham, head of that sport. The schedule for the first week follows: Wednesday, frosh first vs. frosh second; Thursday, juniors vs. mixed team; and Friday, seniors vs. sophomores.

Varsity Squad To Cross Bats With Beavers

Reinhart to Take Team To Corvallis This Afternoon

Bill Baker Slated To Fill Pitcher Box

Webfoot Nine Has Batting Workout to Correct Big Weakness

Billy Reinhart will take his varsity ball tossers to Corvallis today to play off the game against Oregon Aggies, which was rained out last Saturday. First plans were to play off this contest at the end of the regular playing season but good weather conditions caused Jack Benefiel, graduate manager, to schedule it this week.

Baker May Pitch
Bill Baker probably will take the mound against the Orangemen today, continuing where he left off last week. When Saturday's game was called off, at the end of the fourth inning, neither team had been able to score and the Aggies only made two hits off Baker's submarine slants. Ira Woodie, veteran receiver, will be behind the plate. The remainder of the lineup will be the same that started the first Aggie game played here Friday. Carl Nelson, first; Ken Robie, second; Frankie Andrews, short; Harold Olinger, third; and Dave Epps, Kramer Barnes, and Ray Edwards, outfield, will complete the lineup.

Batting Drill Emphasized
Coach Reinhart has been drilling his team in batting practice this week, correcting minor weaknesses in the men's work. He is confident that the team will be able to garner its share of base hits today and the men are on edge to take the Beavers into camp. A win today would give the Webfooters a even break in the series and would enable the locals to meet the Idaho Vandals here Friday with a 500 percentage.

The three sophomore regulars on the Oregon team are showing good form in the practice sessions. Frankie Andrews and Harold Olinger, infielders, and Kramer Barnes, center-fielder, are the second year men and Coach Reinhart has predicted a great future for them in conference ball. Barnes poked out a nice hit in the first Aggie game and he possesses a strong throwing arm. Olinger played errorless ball and Andrews made only one misplay.

Japanese Newspaper Arrives at Library

The Japan Times enthronement number, printed in November, 1928, in commemoration of the enthronement of the 124th ruler of that country, has just arrived in bound form at the main library.

The number is printed in English and contains a most interesting and varied insight into the coronation ceremony and life of Japan.

The opening pages are devoted to pictures of the Emperor and Empress, scenes taken from the enthronement ceremony, and portraits of the different princes and princesses of Japan. These are followed by articles and pictures on every phase of Japanese life.

After an entertaining story on the enthronement ceremony itself, one finds articles about political parties, literature, the judicial system of the country, the Japanese army and navy, art, climate, of Japan, religion, the country's international situation, and a general treatise on Japanese life from flowers to fashions.

Frosh Tennis Squad Blanks Salem High

The Oregon freshman tennis team blanked Salem high 3 to 0 in a meet held on the campus yesterday afternoon. Two singles matches and one doubles went to the freshman by overwhelming scores.

Don Ragen, freshman, defeated Goode, Salem, 6-0, 6-0. Jack Rhine, frosh, won from Williams, Salem, 6-0, 6-1. Potwin and White, freshmen, took their doubles match from Allen and Hageman, 6-0, 6-2.

The freshmen will play the Oregon State rooks this Saturday in their first collegiate competition.

For President

Here are the two candidates for the presidency of the student body. On the left is Tom Stoddard, and on the right is John Anderson.

'Green' New Title Of Campus Movie; Preview Is Given

Staff Announces Picture Will Be Shown This Coming Summer

Seventy of Four Hundred Scenes Completed

"Green": the tentative title for the campus movie which was chosen yesterday afternoon by the production staff, composed of Bea Milligan, Carvel Nelson, and Jim Raley.

A preview of a few of the first shots was shown last night at the Heilig theater. The committee also announced that "Green" will be shown throughout the state during the summer and that the staff is working hard to finish the picture in time to show it in Eugene before school is out. Seventy of the 400 scenes have been completed.

The sub titles will be printed by Nowland B. Zanc, associate professor of design. As a special feature they will be printed throughout with a photographic art background, of campus buildings and scenes.

"Green" is the story of a green freshman who came to college to get an EDUCATION.

In the preview shown last night the scenes, while overdrawn as to length and timing of action, are clear and exceptionally well lighted. Although the scenes shown were so few as to make it almost impossible to make a good judgment of them, it seemed that the acting was spontaneous and fresh. McBride of Hollywood as photographer and director is responsible for the success of these scenes.

Verne Elliot of Portland has the lead as a naive but devil-may-care freshman. He films well.

Dorothy Burke of Portland as the leading lady leads him astray.

Phyllis Van Kimmell of Salem and Norman (Buddie) Eastman of Silverton provide comedy relief.

James Lyon of Portland takes the part of the bold, bad villain.

University Library Receives New Index

The library recently received the first issue of the Educational Index, which, according to M. H. Douglass, librarian, probably will prove to be one of the more important guides to periodical literature.

The index has lists of educational periodicals and new books in the fields of education and psychology. It also has a classification of college and university publications and of federal, state, county and city documents.

The Educational Index was published by the W. H. Wilson company of New York, which puts out the Reader's Guide to Periodical Literature.

Extempore Speaking Meet to be Tuesday

The Jewett extempore speaking contest preliminaries for men have been postponed to Tuesday, May 7, at 3 p. m. in Villard, according to J. K. Horner, university debate coach. With eighty entrants already in, and an entire speaking class scheduled to enter, the list has become too congested. The class will conduct its own preliminaries in order to limit the number.

Radio KORE Gives Campus Music Talent

Extension Department Cooperates With Daily Emerald

Latest Election Returns Feature

Junior Vod-Vil Performers Present Numbers

KORE PROGRAM
8 to 8:15—Talk by Hugh Ross, professor of law.
8:15 to 8:30—Emerald report of election returns.

The extension division of the University of Oregon will cooperate with the Emerald tonight in presenting the first broadcast to be sponsored by the university over the local radio station KORE. Hugh Ross, professor in the law school, will be the featured speaker of the Emerald Hour. His subject will be "Remaking History," which will deal with the proposed pageant in Eugene this summer.

Latest returns on the student body elections today will be announced during the hour. A news review summarizing latest campus activities will be presented by Jack Hempstead, associate editor of the Emerald, and in charge of the Emerald hour.

Junior Vodvil talent supplied entertainment over KORE last night with a special "Whoopee" program. Many of the stars of the forthcoming production, "Oh Dear," were present in the studio and together furnished an atmosphere of spontaneity and pep.

Program Impromptu
The entire program was impromptu and was ably handled by Bob Warner and George Weber, masters of ceremonies. Johnny Robinson and his Varsity Vagabonds played numbers from last year's Vodvil and many request numbers.

Madge Normile, blues singer, sang "Mr. Devil" from last year's show, "How Come You Do Me Like You Do," "Taint So," and "Dumb and Devoted."

The Mad Minstrels, a banjo band composed of Howard Wall, Graham Covington, Dave Mason, Jack Morrison, and Bob Smith, played their own arrangement of "Mississippi Mud," and "Tee-San."

Jo Ralston, Marjorie Clark, and Louise Storka, composing the girls' trio in the Vodvil sang "Dancing Rhythm," and "Sleepy Old World."

The Campus Groaners, a men's trio, composed of Don Eva, Omar Palmer, and John Low, sang "I'm Sorry Sally."

Maxine Glover and Marjorie Clark sang and played several duets and George Weber and Miss Glover played together on the piano, "Where the Shy Little Violets Grow," "She's Funny That Way," and "Button up Your Overcoat."

Request Numbers Many
Request numbers poured in all evening indicating that the program was being received favorably by a large audience. An atmosphere of fun and hilarity permeated the affair. Numbers were constantly being dedicated to friends of the performers. George Weber and Bob Warner made wise-cracks during the announcements that kept the studio in a riot.

Bill Hammond, business manager of the show this year, outlined the progress of the ticket sale, explaining that tickets can be secured at the Heilig theater after Thursday for the show which will be presented Friday evening, May 3, and Saturday afternoon and evening, May 4.

Patriotic Organization Makes Gift of Books

The Oregon State Chapter of the Daughters of Founders and Patriots of America voted recently to make a gift to the graduate school of the university of twenty-five dollars worth of history books, according to a letter received from them by H. M. Douglass, librarian.

A small yearly gift is also promised by the organization. The books are to be purchased under the supervision of Mr. Douglass. He believes books on Colonial History, on the collected writings of American statesmen, or on similar material will be bought.

Student Elections to Be Held in Friendly Hall Under New Rule

CANDIDATES FOR STUDENT BODY OFFICES

PRESIDENT: John Anderson, Tom Stoddard
VICE-PRESIDENT: Dick Horn, Harold Kelley, Walt Norblad
SECRETARY: LaWanda Fenlason, Beatrice Milligan
SENIOR WOMAN ON EXECUTIVE COUNCIL: Florence McNeerney, Naomi Moshberger
JUNIOR MAN ON EXECUTIVE COUNCIL: James Dezendorf, Rex Tussing
YELL LEADER: Chuck Reed, James Swindells
JUNIORS ON CO-OP BOARD: Kendall Newport, Ted Park
SOPHOMORE ON CO-OP BOARD: Esther Kaiser

Ballot Boxes Will Be Open From 9 A. M. Until 3 P. M.

Special Issues To Be Voted On

Results Will Be Ready By 8:30 Is Opinion

Please do not call the Emerald office for election returns before 8:30 tonight. The Emerald will broadcast returns over radio KORE beginning at 8:00.

Breaking a precedent of approximately 20 years, the student body elections today will be held in Friendly hall from 9 to 3 o'clock rather than in Villard, on account of congestion at class time, was the decision made last night by Art Anderson, student body vice-president who is in charge of the election, and a committee composed of Keith Art Anderson, Eugene Laird, Roy Herndon, Hal Anderson and Wig Fletcher. This same committee will keep order at the polls and insure against electioneering.

In accordance with the constitution, the Australian system of balloting without signatures will be used. Students will enter the front door of Friendly, singly cast their ballots so that no one may see or influence their voting, and will drop ballots in box going out rear door.

Results Ready at 8:30
Votes probably will be counted and returns made by 8:30 o'clock, said Anderson. The amendments abolishing the student council, and the fact that no opponents were named for the Co-op board of directors, will make the ballots easier to count.

Either John Anderson or Tom Stoddard will be student body president-elect by late tonight. Dick Horn, Harold Kelley, or Walt Norblad, will win vice-presidency. LaWanda Fenlason and Beatrice Milligan are vying for secretary. The office of senior woman on the executive council will be won by Florence McNeerney or Naomi Moshberger, and junior man by James Dezendorf or Rex Tussing. The man leading yells for 1929-1930 games will be either Chuck Reed or James Swindells.

The counting board as appointed by Anderson, will meet immediately after closing of the polls. Those on the committee are Joe Holsaday, Paul Hunt, Henrietta Steinke, Olive Banks, Beryl Harrah, Kenton Hamaker, Bob Hynd, Bill Winters, John Halderman, Don Campbell, Eleanor Flanagan, and Edwina Grebel.

Committees Named
Anderson asks the following persons to take votes at their appointed hours or furnish a satisfactory substitute:
9 to 10—Edna Dunbar, Luola Benge, Doug DeCrew, Al Cousins, Leroy Hall.
10 to 11—Murdina Medler, Katherine Talbot, Ina Tremblay, Bill Hammond, Lyle Laughlin, Paul Lamb.
11 to 12—Lou Anne Chase, Margaret Agnew, Diana Deiningor, Bruce Titus, Franklin Hall, and Anton Peterson.
12 to 1—Shirley Rew, Marjorie Love Peyton, Mary Frances Dillard, Henry Baldrige, Arlen McCarty, and Ralph Owens.
1 to 2—Bertha Alm, Betty Fairchilds, Laura Anderson, Ed Applegren, Jack Dowssett, and Chuck Silverman.
2 to 3—Carl Rodgers, Verne Dale, George Stadelman, McKay Ricks, Helen Allen, and Louise Gurney.

Dr. A. B. Hall Returns
President A. B. Hall, who has been visiting in Chicago, Washington, D. C., and various other eastern cities for the past two months, is now in Portland on university business. He is staying at the Imperial hotel. President Hall expects to be back in Eugene Wednesday.
