

Frosh Cinder Artists Meet Rooks Today

Yearling Relay Team Doped Weaker Than Corvallis Men

Oregon's Strength Lies In Shorter Dashes

This afternoon at 3 o'clock on Hayward field the frosh relay team will be confronted by the O. S. C. rooks.

The rooks have already had one track meet this year and show much better material than the frosh. The Oregon men are fairly strong in the sprints, however, and should be able to win at least one of the shorter races.

Raymond Neveau, Virgil Scheiber, Paul Bale, and Dick Jennings are the men about whom the frosh chances are centered.

Unless changes are made, the men will be entered as follows:

880-yard relay—Raymond Neveau, Roy Brown, Lloyd Ruff, and Tom Johnson.

440-yard relay—Paul Bale, Virgil Scheiber, Hubert Allen, and Neil Whisnant.

Three-mile relay—No Oregon entry.

Distance medley—Bale, 220; Neveau, 440; Dick Jennings, half-mile; and Clifford Beckett, one mile.

Campus Car Caravan Greets Royal Band

The symphonic band of the Royal Belgian Guards has come to town. Down through the streets of the campus they came—in sightseeing busses.

Ahead of them marched the brass band of the university.

And then came a bicycle corps of small boys.

Thrilling small boys with dirty faces.

After them marched the R. O. T. C. corps. A few were soldiers with stiff backs and straight faces.

On the back of the busses half a dozen urchins were perched enjoying the moment's notoriety.

Behind these came a string of campus flippers—pale orange, red, and rusty black. The procession went so slowly that the co-ed cars perforce must stop.

Half a hundred students sat along the greensward and laughed as the foreigners rode slowly along and waved at them. Here and there a co-ed languidly returned that wave.

Yes, a fitting reception for the symphonic band of the Royal Belgian Guards sent on a good will tour under the patronage of his Majesty King Albert and his highness Prince de Ligne, Belgian ambassador to America.

Intramural Ladder Tourney to End Soon

The women's intramural ladder tennis tournament which has been going on for the last two weeks will come to an end next Wednesday, according to Ernestine Troemel, instructor in physical education, who is coaching the players. Teams will be chosen immediately after the tournament ends, and interclass games will begin.

A number of women have played matches without changing their positions on the chart at the entrance of the Woman's building. Miss Troemel has requested that this chart be brought up to date at once to be used in choosing the class team.

The players now rank in the following order: Grace Vath, Alice Wingate, Beth Salway, Henrietta Steinke, Naomi Moshberger, Kathryn Langenberg, Irene Greenbaum, Althea Clark, Esther Malkasian, Louise Huls, Harriet Osborne, Daphne Hughes, Frances Haberlack, Mildred Pike, Ione Garbe, Helen Detrick, Carolyn Haberlack, Virginia Sterling, Kathryn Kjosness, Marion Pluke, Winifred Weter, Julia Currie, Marian Van Seyoee, Arlene Earhart, Anne Stange, Mary Steinhauser, and Eleanor Rennie.

Freshman-Salem Game Moved To Saturday, 9 A. M.

Second Tilt Scheduled to Follow Varsity-Idaho Contest

The Freshman-Salem high baseball game scheduled for this afternoon has been moved ahead to Saturday morning at nine a. m., because of the conflict with the Varsity-Idaho game, also to be played this afternoon.

The frosh will play a second game with the Salem nine immediately after the final Oregon-Idaho game Saturday afternoon. This will give local fans ample baseball for one day.

The yearlings, fresh with two victories over the Ashland Normal school last week, are eager to show their stuff on the home field. Spike Leslie, frosh coach, has been giving the squad stiff workouts all week and intends to give everyone a chance to play in the two games. Waffle and Charles are slated to start in the two games on the mound with Hoag behind the bat. Both Charles and Waffle turned in good performances in the Ashland games. The rest of the starting lineup will be practically the same.

Exhibit of Paintings Here to End Today

Today will be the last day that the exhibition of Maynard Dixon, native California mural painter, will hang in the little art gallery.

Yesterday afternoon, tea was served in the little art gallery by Mr. Nowland B. Zane to a group of friends interested in the exhibition. Nowland B. Zane, assistant professor in design, lectured on the exhibition and Maynard Dixon at that time.

Aggie Rook Relay Team Sweeps Its Meet With Frosh

Corvallis Track Squad Wins All Events on Calendar

Ruff, Jennings Run Fine Races for Webfoots

True to previous dope, the Aggie rooks captured every one of the five events of the annual frosh-rook relay meet yesterday afternoon on Hayward field.

The frosh had poor luck in passing the baton several times, but they did not seriously threaten the rooks in any event.

Dick Jennings ran a pretty half mile in the medley relay, gaining much lost ground and beating his man to the finish.

In the short distances, Paul Bale was the only Oregon man who seemed to be able to hold his own with the rook sprinters. Raymond Neveau broke about even with his man in the 440.

Lloyd Ruff, running the third lap of the mile relay, ran a brilliant race. After losing considerable time in fumbling the baton, he was able to gain 20 yards on his man.

Only four of the scheduled five events were run off. The frosh were forced to forfeit the three-mile relay to the rooks because of lack of material.
