

Leads Arrive To Take Part In 'Requiem'

Pease and Boardman on Nation-wide Tour To Sing

Portland Artists Take Other Leads

200 Voices Under Evans To Support Singers in Big Musical Affair

Rollin Pease, baritone of the Washington, D. C., Grand Opera company, and Arthur Boardman, tenor of the La Scala Grand Opera company, of Milan, Italy, arrived in Eugene last night on nation-wide tours to sing the leading male roles in Verdi's "Requiem" which is being presented tonight and tomorrow night in the music auditorium by the Eugene Oratorio society.

Miss Jane Burns, soprano, and Miss Bernice Alstock, contralto, both of Portland, will sing the other two leads. Both are well known in the northwest through their work over K. G. W. Both have also appeared in Eugene, Miss Burns having sung in two other oratorios, "Elijah," of last year in which Mr. Pease sang the title role, and in Hyden's "Creation." Miss Alstock is a graduate of the University school of music, and has appeared many times in concert in Eugene.

200 Voices to Sing

Over 200 voices will sing in the production, which is under the direction of John Stark Evans of the school of music, and is one of the biggest musical events of the year. The Oratorio society is composed of both Eugene and University of Oregon singers, all of whom have given liberally of their time and effort in order to perfect the difficult choral parts.

"The Requiem" is one of the most difficult oratorios to produce, according to Mr. Evans, but it is one of the most beautiful. It was written as a memorial to the soul of Manzoni, a famous musical conductor of Italy.

One Part Composed by Verdi

One part of it was composed originally by Verdi as a part to an oratorio which was to be made up of compositions from a number of musicians. The experiment, however, never worked, and Verdi used this as a nucleus for the "Requiem."

Mr. Evans is in charge of the ticket sale, and all seats are reserved for both nights. The performance starts promptly at eight o'clock. Practically all the seats are sold for Tuesday night already.

Women Break Two Records in Track And Field Events

Anne Berg Beats Broad Jump Record by One and One-half Inches

Two Oregon records in women's track and field events have been broken by members of the physical education majors track and field class, according to Ernestine Troemel, instructor.

Anne Berg set a new mark of seven feet, nine and one-half inches in the standing broad jump. The old record of seven feet, eight inches, was held by Nellie Johns.

Two women broke the old record for the discus throw, formerly held by Virginia Lounsbury, with a mark of 67 feet 7 inches. Editha Bartell threw the discus 72 feet 1 inch; and Hilda Top broke the new record with a mark of 79 feet 4 inches.

KORE To Feature Talk By Smith

Hempstead Will Give Summary of News

A talk by a professor tonight, and a play to be put on by the drama department tomorrow night have already been scheduled for the entertainment of the radio audience. Friday night's broadcast plans have not yet fully completed.

Tonight from 8 to 8:30, Dr. Warren D. Smith, head of the geology department, will talk on "Will the Pacific Always be Pacific?" A news review summarizing the latest campus news will be given by Jack Hempstead, associate editor of the Emerald, who is in charge of the broadcasts.

Cooperation of the extension division with the Oregon Daily Emerald in broadcasting over the local station has brought programs really representative of university talent before the microphone. The tri-weekly broadcasts will continue the rest of the term and will include lectures by professors, more plays, music comedy sketches and news features.

Student Officers Leave Today for Meeting in South

Stoddard and McKeown Make Trip to Study Student Problems

Traditions to be Discussed At Prexies Conclave

Joe McKeown, president of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon, and Tom Stoddard, president-elect for the coming year, will leave on the Shasta at 11:45 this morning to attend the meeting of the Pacific Student President's association which will open Wednesday at the University of California and which will last four days. They will be accompanied by Eddie McDowell, Washington State student body president, who, by the way, pitched the Cougars to a win over the Webfoots yesterday. McKeown and Stoddard expect to return to Eugene Monday noon on the Cascade.

McKeown and Stoddard will take copies of the new University of Oregon constitution with them to the conclave. According to McKeown the University of Oregon is recognized as having one of the best forms of student government in the west, and, as other schools are eager to study this system, copies of the constitution will be distributed among the delegates present. In connection with this, McKeown will present the new plan, adapted this year by the University of Oregon, which provides for but one central body which will control all work through various committees. McKeown states that this idea is a new one in the west and is bound to create much interest and discussion.

The purpose of this convention is to bring the old presidents and the incoming presidents together to discuss all problems relating to student government, athletics, and academic work.

'Oh Dear' OK Say All Best Ever Is Opinion

"The Best Ever" was the almost universal opinion of those who attended the performance of "Oh Dear," the 1929 Junior Vodvil, at the Heilig theater last Friday and Saturday.

The satire on college life, not too gentle and not too subtle, proved immensely popular, and the comedy played to capacity houses on each of the three presentations. An accurate check on the financial success of the show has not yet been made, but it is assured that a good profit was realized, according to Paul Hunt, general chairman.

The work of the producing staff and of the cast of the show was lauded by Hunt and by Sid Dobbin, general chairman of Junior Week-end. "Boone Hendricks especially is to be praised for his work in directing the show," Hunt said. Dobbin praised the work of Virginia Moore and Bob Warner, dancing instructors, and also the cast for its interest in the work and cooperation with the directors.

Water Events Arrangements Are Complete

Tomorrow Is Last Day To Register for Big Carnival

Bailey Offers Cut Rate to Entrants

More Than Thirty Women Expected to Enter Swim Race

Plans are practically complete for the first annual water carnival which will be held on the mill race Saturday morning at 10:45 o'clock, it was announced yesterday by Jim Sharp, chairman of Campus Day on the Junior Week-end Director.

Swimming and canoeing races, fancy diving, canoe tilting, and aquatic vaudeville skits will form the principal features of the entertainment. The university band will furnish music.

Tomorrow is the last day on which anyone may possibly register for any of the events, Sharp announced yesterday, as the programs will be printed within a day or two.

More than thirty are expected to enter the women's swimming race from the portage to the Anchorage, according to Ione Garbe, who is in charge of the contest. Contestants may enter either singly or as representatives of houses.

The first prize for the women's race will be a Jantzen sunbuck swimming suit. Free canoeing privileges will be awarded the second and third entrants in the race. Girls who have not yet signed up may do so by calling either Ione Garbe at the Kappa Delta house or Beryl Harrah at the Alpha Gamma Delta house by tomorrow. The names of all contestants will be printed on the carnival programs.

All entries for the men's free-for-all swimming race must also be registered by tomorrow, it was announced by Charles Silverman, who is to be in charge of the event. All men on the campus who are not members of the varsity or frosh swimming squads are eligible to enter. As there are a great many entries already in, and more being received, it will be necessary to run the race off in two heats, so that the men will be swimming against time instead of other swimmers. A Jantzen swimming suit will be awarded the winner of the race, with free canoeing privileges given as second and third prizes.

Another unusual feature of the water carnival is the mixed doubles canoe race from the portage to the Anchorage. Twenty-two canoes, representing an equal number of

Alpha Hall Leads All Men's Groups

But Four of Men's Houses Place Above Standard Set for All Campus

Winter term grades were issued yesterday with Alpha Chi Omega heading the list for the whole school while Alpha hall took the honors for the men's section.

Delta Gamma was a close runner-up for the lead with only .40 points difference, while the Phi Psi's seconded Alpha hall in the men's list with even a closer score.

The all university standard was set at 43.38 but only four of the men's organizations came above this and none of the women's reached that low. Alpha hall, although heading the list of men, came the twenty-first in the complete list.

The entire grade report was divided into six groups with the standard as the dividing line for the plus and minus groups. Those above the standard were rated in a plus group according to their respective points and those below in a minus group the same way.

Interfraternity Council to Argue Pledging Changes

Systems of Seventy-five Colleges Considered in Research

Pros and cons of deferred pledging will be considered at a meeting of the interfraternity council to be held Thursday afternoon of this week, Hugh Biggs, assistant dean of men announced yesterday.

The subject was brought up at the previous meeting and a report compiled by William Y. Powell submitted giving the results of an investigation carried on by the university with 75 other colleges.

Forty-seven of these schools have promiscuous pledging such as is practiced at Oregon and of this number 13 are contemplating changing their system. Twenty stated their belief that deferred pledging rectifies mistakes in pledging, 11 thought it strengthened freshman class spirit, 11 believed it enabled frosh to orient themselves to university life.

Eight voter their way on the question of deferred pledging tending to erase social distinctions between fraternity men. The question of whether it decreased the expense of living during the freshman year and whether it improved the scholastic standing of frosh showed preponderance of opinion either way.

Of the 75 schools answering the Oregon questionnaire 47 have promiscuous pledging, 13 have deferred and 15 have deferred for a short period.

Offers Received To Present Movie

University Film Obtains National Publicity

Several tentative offers to secure rights for the screening of "Green," the campus movie, have been received at the local office of the university production, it was announced yesterday by Ronald Hubbs, business manager of the movie, and by James Raley, Bea Milligan, and Carvel Nelson, the production directors.

Because it is known as the largest amateur undertaking of its kind in the country, the various offers have been received, according to leaders of the campus movie. The picture will first be shown in a Eugene theater in June or July.

Nation-wide publicity for the university film has been secured on various occasions through the efforts of George H. Godfrey, director of the bureau of public relations of the university, and faculty advisor of the movie.

Work on the filming of the picture has been going on rapidly the last few days under the leadership of James McBride, technical director of the film.

Preliminaries For Jewett Extempore Meet Are Today

Men Orators to Speak in Tryouts at Villard Hall

"Politics and Business" is Subject for Talks

Preliminaries of men's extempore Jewett public speaking contest will begin their rapid-fire rattle in a rapidly conceived barrage of words today in Villard assembly at three o'clock, Prof. J. K. Horner, debate coach, announced yesterday.

Each of the men will draw a subject under the general topic of "Politics and Business," take one hour to review the subject, and then deliver his speech. The number of entrants will probably prolong the contest until after five o'clock.

The Jewett contest is an annual event on the campus, given by Mrs. W. F. Jewett from the estate of the late W. F. Jewett, in order to foster and stimulate interest in public speaking. There are separate divisions for men and women. Prizes given are four in number, $30, $15, $10 and $5.

All who intend to compete including those in the public speaking courses, are asked to meet today at two o'clock in Mr. Horner's office to draw for their subjects. All contestants must be present, he declared.

Women who will enter the women's division will report to Mr. Horner before May 11.

Dime Hop Tomorrow Crawl's Last of Year

Dimes will clink with an altruistic tinkle into gaping cups, hats and boxes tomorrow night at women's residences when the third and final Dime Crawl of this year will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock.

Women's League foreign scholar fund will be swelled by the proceeds. Martha Swafford, chairman of the foreign scholar committee, is heading arrangements.

"It's the last one of the year, and it's spring term—so we hope for larger proceeds tomorrow night than at either of the two previous ones," commented Miss Swafford yesterday.

At the winter term dime crawl approximately $100 was realized. Delta Zeta, which has previously had men come to College Side for the crawl, will be at their home instead, tomorrow night.

Professor Thacher Makes Business Trip

W. F. G. Thacher, professor of advertising and English, consulted in Portland, Saturday, May 4, with Harry Smith, the advertising manager of Lipman, Wolfe & Co., a graduate of the University of Oregon, and former editor of the Emerald, concerning the "University Day" to be held in Lipman, Wolfe & Company's store on May 23.

While in Portland, Professor Thacher also consulted with Mrs. Doris Smith, the director of the pageant, "Sunset Trail," to be produced in connection with the Trail-to-Rail triennial, July 25, 26, 27. He discussed the feasibility of his plans for the scenery for the pageant with Mate Larrimer, who is designing the scenery.

Cougars Beat Oregon Team By 8-4 Score

Webfoot Players Make Four Bingles and Get Six Errors

Ninth Inning Rally Fails to Win Game

"Big Train" Socks Home Run to Tie Score, But Goes to Showers

By DEB ADDISON

The Washington State baseball team hit three Oregon pitchers for ten safe bingles and took the opener between Oregon and the Cougars by an 8 to 4 score, yesterday afternoon at Reinhart field.

The Oregon squad played like a prep school nine, making six errors and getting only four hits for the whole game. The teams will meet again today at 3:30.

Oregon made a rally in the final inning, but obtained only seven runs needed to win the game. The game ended when Ken Robie, shortstop, was retired with three strikes and the bases loaded. On his second strike Robie lifted a Texas leaguer over first base, but it landed foul by a few feet.

MacDonald when seven were needed to win the game. The game ended when Ken Robie, shortstop, was retired with three strikes and the bases loaded. On his second strike Robie lifted a Texas leaguer over first base, but it landed foul by a few feet.

MacDonald Hits Long One

In the third inning the contest game some promise of becoming a repetition of the first Oregon-Idaho game last Friday. The score was two to nothing against Oregon, one man was on base, "Big Train" MacDonald, who pitched and won the Idaho game, came to bat for the first time, and on the first ball pitched to him lifted a high drive over the left field fence for a home run. This was exactly what happened last Friday, but from this point on the similarity ceased.

Washington State Scores

Washington State made three hits and three runs in the sixth inning and two hits and three runs in the seventh. In the mean time the Oregon outfit was busy making errors and getting times at bat. The Cougar sluggers sent MacDonald and "Curly" Fuller to the showers, and Art Schoeni finally finished the game. Fuller and Schoeni are both southpaws and specialize in curve balls. Eddie McDowell, the Washington State hurler, held Oregon to

Games to be Open to All; Will Help Determine Soft Ball Champs

Two undefeated teams, Delta Epsilon and Phi Delta Theta, will meet in the men's gymnasium pool at seven o'clock this evening in an intramural water polo game that will help decide the ultimate softball league champion. This game, as well as the two immediately following it, will be open to the public.

Henry Levoff, Delta Epsilon star, will be on hand to show the spectators some fast swimming and hard tackling.

At 7:30 the Alpha Tau Omega paddlers, also undefeated, will face the Phi Sigma Kappa squad. The Phi Sigs have lost several games but have fought hard continually and can be counted on to make it a battle all the way through. Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Kappa Sigma will be the rivals in the third tussle, beginning at eight.

Bleacher seats have been placed around the pool for the game tonight, and will stand until after the Oregon-Oregon State contest Friday evening. Coach Abernombie expects the seats to accommodate at least 200.
