

Oregon Emerald

University of Oregon, Eugene

ARDEN X. PANGBOERN, Editor LAURENCE E. THIELEN, Manager

EDITORIAL BOARD

W. E. Hempstead Jr., Assoc. Editor Leonard Hagstrom, Assoc. Editor
Joe Pigney, Assoc. Editor Wilfred Brown, Assoc. Editor
Harry Tonkon, Chief Night Editor Arthur Schoeni, Managing Editor

UPPER NEWS STAFF

Carl Gregory, Asst. Managing Editor Joe Pigney, Sports Editor
Donald Johnson, Feature Editor Lavine Hicks, Society Editor
Serena Madsen, Literary Editor Leonard Deiano, F. I. F. Editor
Jo Stofel, News and Editor Phone 668

EDITORIAL STAFF

DAY EDITORS: Vinton Hall, Lawrence Mitchellmore, Serena Madsen, Carl Gregory, Mary Frances Dillard, Mary Klemm and Harry Tonkon, assistants.
NIGHT EDITORS: Fred Bechill, Thornton Shaw, Charles Barr, Merlin Blais, Max Carman.

ASSISTANT EDITORS: Evelyn Hartman, Beatrice Bennett, Jo Barry, Gracemary
Rickman, Dulcie Lytsel, Jessie Foley, Gladys Mack, Martiel Duke, Dorothy Page, Fern Baker, Ellen Selway, Alice Cook.
GENERAL ASSIGNMENT REPORTERS: Wilfred Brown, Carol Hurburt, Beas
Duke, Elise Schroeder.

SPORTS STAFF: Delbert Addison, Alex Tamkin, Joe Brown, Fred Schulz, Harry Van Dine, Warren Tinker, Harold Frankford, Jim Yergin.
REPORTERS: Mary Klemm, Myron Griffin, Marjelen Koppal, Cleta McKennon,
Margaret Reid, Alice Gorman, T. Neil Taylor, Willis Dunaway, Dorothy Thomas, Phyllis VanKimmel, David Wilson, Helen Barker, Elise Schroeder, Osborne
Holland, Merlin Blais, Mack Hall, Helen Cherry, Barney Miller, Bob Guild, Mary Ellen Mason, Lenore Ely, Ruth Campbell, Alice Cook, Bernice Hamilton, Dorothy Kirk, Elizabeth Fauston, Jean Garman, Kathryn Feldman.

BUSINESS STAFF

William H. Hammond, Associate Manager Charles Reed, Advertising Manager
George Weber Jr., Foreign Adv. Manager Harold Keiser, Asst. Adv. Manager
Dorothy Ann Warner, Asst. Foreign Mgr. Ted Ewert, Circulation Manager
Phil Hammond, Services Dept. Larry Jackson, Asst. Circulation Mgr.
Louise Gurney, Secretary Margaret Forman, Mgr. Checking Dept.
Business Office Phone 1396

ADVERTISING SALESMEN: Addison Brockman, Lucile Catlin, Margaret Harris,
Bernard Clapperton, John Patton, Elaine Henderson, Bob Holmes, Iva Tremblay, Betty Hagen, Jack Gregg, Don Abney.
OFFICE ASSISTANTS: Constance McKenzie, Louise Gurney, Florence Jordan,
Estelle Mays, Helen Sullivan, Dorothy Bell, Kathryn Perigo, Julianne Benton, Harry Hanson, Fred Reid, Harold Allen, Lloyd Henagen.

The Oregon Daily Emerald, official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon, Eugene, issued daily except Sunday and Monday, during the college year. Member of the Pacific Inter-collegiate Press. Entered in the post office at Eugene, Oregon, as second class matter. Subscription rates, $2.50 a year. Advertising rates upon application. Residence phone, manager, 2799. Jo Stofel, secretary.

Day Editor This Issue—Serena Madsen
Night Editor This Issue—Charles H. Barr
Asst. Editors This Issue—Dulcie Lytsel
Jessie Foley

Magazine Worthy Of Campus Support

"TABARD TALES," the first literary publication in recent years will make its initial appearance on the campus tomorrow. The magazine is being sponsored by Tabard Inn, writer's honorary, and the purpose is to present to the readers of the campus the highest type of literary production here.

"Tabard Tales" is worthy of the support of every student on the campus. There is a great quantity of very creditable literary material produced here, and heretofore there has been no medium of conveying it outside of the very small group able to read it in manuscript form. Every year Edison Marshall, noted novelist who attended the University of Oregon fifteen years ago awards a prize of $50 to the student writing the best short story. The contest provokes a great deal of interest every year, but not until this year has the winner been available to the readers of the campus.

The first issue of "Tabard Tales" includes the story winning first place in the Edison Marshall contest, and one of the stories receiving honorable mention. If the plans of its promoters materialize, it will be issued regularly next year and will serve as an incentive to further literary production on the campus.

The Naughty College Girl

YOUTH, which despite some forced optimism on the part of a few elders is quite generally frowned upon secretly if not condemned outwardly, was welcome and needy encouragement in a recent article by Rita S. Halle in the New York Herald Tribune magazine section.

Miss Halle is concerned principally with presumably the most shocking personality in the snafu whirl of young people—the college girl. The writer's pleasant and favorable impression is not mere conjecture to make her story popular and widely read. It is based on what Miss Halle says are undisputable facts obtained from presidents, deans and many students at a number of the most renowned eastern colleges for women—Wellesley, Vassar, Bryn Mawr and a host of others.

"Nothing to them," says Miss Halle in referring to the chief accusations against the college girl which are that she smokes and drinks, and pets and is very bad-mannered.

Smoking, Miss Halle dismisses as a diversion not concerned with any moral problem. Several colleges permit smoking under certain provisions. Where it is prohibited, Miss Halle admits nicotine is inhaled secretly. But, she writes, "The authorities do not have a disproportionate amount of trouble on this account."

As to alcohol and other liquors which pop-eyed individuals apart from university life believe are consumed by every college attendant, Miss Halle finds: "Out of the 8,300 students in seven colleges I visited there have been less than twenty cases of drinking brought up in the last three years." The girls interviewed by Miss Halle declared that neither would they drink at or around college, nor would they shower attentions and party invitations upon young men who indulged indiscreetly in the use of intoxicating liquors.

After talking with a wide number of all sorts of girls attending these representative eastern institutions, Miss Halle concludes that "spoonying," which in the modern age has incurred the titles of petting and necking, is indulged in promiscuously by none of the college girls.

"We have other entertaining interests," Miss Halle reports as the prime statement of one of the most popular eastern college girls when questioned on this subject.

And so it is. Those who actually study college life outside the classroom where it is said to fall to a cynical level, are finding the social offenders to be few and far between. It is these few students whose escapades enlarged upon and spread rapidly overshadow the work of the majority of others who are going to university with expanding ideals which are being realized by diligent and commendable study and thought.

—Daily Nebraskau.

DUCK SOUP

NOBODY TAKES ANYTHING IN THIS COLUMN SERIOUSLY, BUT THERE REALLY IS A HOBI AIRPLANE CONTEST STARTING.

Duck Soup will honest and truly give a free ride in a Hobi plane for the best original contribution.

RULES, FEW AND SIMPLE

1. No bright cracks are to be taken at either Dr. Ernst or Prof. Lersch.
2. You need not be a licensed airplane pilot to enter the contest.
3. The winner will be expected to go out to the flying field. The plane absolutely will not call for the winner at his or her home.

WIN THE CONTEST AND SHOW YOUR MOTHER HOW SMART YOU ARE. SHE HAS BEEN GETTING YOUR GRADES AND DOESN'T BELIEVE IT.

WORD TO CONTESTANTS

Remember you are not to expect too much. We cannot guarantee you a part in the campus movie if you win, or even a chance to sing for the Emerald Radio Hour. You will have your picture in this column, then you will be taken up in an airplane, and then the whole thing will be dropped.

ONE OF THE DEFEATED CANDIDATES WAS SEEN IN A DOCTOR'S OFFICE THE OTHER DAY. COMPLAINED OF EAR TROUBLE. Yeah? Maybe he thinks he didn't hear the election returns right.

INTRAMURAL DOG FIGHTS

Several important scheduled matches have been called off lately. The only fight of any importance in the last day or so was between the Sigma Nu bar-tender and the Phi Delta snipe hound.

AUNT DUCKLIE

(Ask her to help you with your troubles. She is always willing to give you what advice and help she can.)

Dear Aunt Ducklie,
What is meant by "giving the bird?" It seems to be a common campus term but nobody offers to disclose to me what the underlying meaning is.

PERPLEXED "BIG TRAIN"

Dear P. B. T. M.,
I know what it means, but can't quite explain it. If a cat killed a robin on the campus and somebody saw the poor thing and handed it to you he would be "giving you the bird."

AUNT DUCKLIE

LITTLE GRETCHEN WANTS TO KNOW IF THE FLOATING UNIVERSITY IS GOING TO BE ENTERED IN THE CANOE FETE.

Speaking of the canoe fete, we're going to keep right on calling it that. Our linotype operator refuses to stay overtime. And besides, he says he couldn't spell it even if he did. The nearest he can come to it is "Fantome du Flop."

THE FUNNY PART IS THAT HE ISN'T SO FAR OFF.

Yes, we are serious about the Hobi airplane contest. Get busy, and remember your contribution MUST BE ORIGINAL. The prize isn't for the person who is handiest with the scissors.

THE COOK

MCDONALD—Wallace Beery and Florence Vidor in "Chinatown Nights." Also George Lewis and Dorothy Gulliver in the "Collegians."

THEATERS

HEILIG—The Taylor Players present "Married But How."
REX—"Fleetwing" with Barry Norton, Dorothy Janis and Beu Bard. Also Chapter 9 of "Tarzan the Mighty."

Carnival Entries May Still Be Made

(Continued from Page One)
in each event. A silver cup will be awarded to each of the houses represented in the winner of the canoe race and free canoeing privileges will be given the runners up. The cups and the swimming suits are on display at the College Side Inn.

Entries will still be accepted for the swimming races. Anyone wishing to enter, should notify either Anderson or Jim Sharp at once.

Entries in the canoe race should be practicing together, Sharp said. Rules of the contest are posted at the Anchorage.

The roller skates which will be used in the roller skate hockey match on the library tennis court have been secured, and from all indications the match will be as big a kick as was the one at the Igloo last term. There is still an opportunity for men to sign up for the contest, according to Hal Hutton, who is in charge of the meet. Any one who can skate and is not afraid of risking his life or limb should sign up with Hutton at once. There will be seven men on each team.

Lib. Steps Yes? No? Decide Today; 10:50

Soups and fish mixed with hams and eggs or what have you will be the feature presented on the library steps by the Sigma Delta Chi pledges at 10:50 today.

Five pledges will mount the library steps while dodging a bombardment of rotten eggs, tomatoes, and the proverbial dead cat, will present a new and different stunt, according to the pledges.

Abandoning the usual practice of witty speeches, the neophytes have promised something new in the line of a stunt. But, that's a big secret, and can only be found out by visiting the library steps today before 11 o'clock.

The five men pledged to membership were chosen on the basis of their achievement along journalistic lines. Those elected were Vinton Hall of Lakewood, a day editor and formerly on the news staff; Neil Taylor of Portland, a member of the general assignment staff and editor of the Emerald book; Harry Van Dine of Portland, a sports writer; Rex Tussing of Halsey, former chief night editor; and Delbert Addison of Eugene, sports writer for the Emerald and sports editor for Old Oregon.

Society

By LAVINA HICKS

Miss Olive Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Adams, announced her engagement to Reuben Carl Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Young, at a tea given by her mother at her home yesterday afternoon between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock.

The announcement, with the date of the wedding, which is to be June 19, was told to the guests on small cards which were passed around in a basket.

Miss Mary-ellen Foley and Miss Catherine Adams assisted in serving.

Miss Adams is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honorary, and Pi Lambda Theta, educational honorary society. Mr. Young, who attended the university, is now with the Eugene Register.

The faculty of the school of music gave a no host luncheon at the Osburn hotel, Wednesday noon, having as honor guests the four soloists for the Oratorio society's "Requiem."

They included Mrs. Bernice Alstock Williamson, Miss Jane Burns, Arthur Boardman, and Roland Pease.

In the evening the four soloists were entertained at a supper party after the concert at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stark Evans. A group of 25 were invited to the affair.

A dinner for members of the Y. W. C. A. and their friends will be a second event of the week. It will be given Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Estelle Mays is in general charge and will direct the ticket sale. Marguerite Looney is head of the food committee.

Cabinets of Y. M., Y. W. To Have Joint Meeting

A joint social meeting of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. cabinets will be held Tuesday, May 14, at the home of Henry W. Davis, secretary of United Christian work on the campus. Members of the two groups will go to Mr. Davis' home, The Horizons, for a dinner around his outdoor fireplace.

A dinner for members of the Y. W. C. A. and their friends will be a second event of the week. It will be given Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Estelle Mays is in general charge and will direct the ticket sale. Marguerite Looney is head of the food committee.

A dinner for members of the Y. W. C. A. and their friends will be a second event of the week. It will be given Thursday evening at 6 o'clock. Estelle Mays is in general charge and will direct the ticket sale. Marguerite Looney is head of the food committee.

Classified

LOST—Brown Conklin fountain pen with slip Tuesday, between Oregon building and Hendricks Hall. Call Winifred Kaiser, 688. 5-9-2

LOST—Square blue and tan silk scarf Saturday at Heilig. Finder please call: L. Jaeger, 2340. 5-9-3

You Can't Run...

—from mother when she arrives this week-end and finds your clothes soiled. —You'll want to see her with the cleanest duds you can muster. Spruce up by calling

504
NU-WAY
Cleaners
"They Deliver Quickly"

CAMPUS BULLETIN

Kwama members and pledges meet at Woman's building today, at 4 o'clock.
Oregon Knights meet at 11 o'clock in room 110 Johnson.
Alpha Kappa Delta will hold a business meeting in the office of the Sociology building at 5 o'clock today.

Webfoots Win Contest With Eugene, 6 to 4

(Continued from Page One)

in basketball and baseball. Both men graduated last spring.

Today Washington meets Oregon State for the second time in Corvallis, and Washington State and Idaho play at Pullman. On Friday and Saturday the only two teams to be in activity are Oregon and Washington. Both games will be played in Eugene.

By the end of this week the season will be half over. If Oregon can win both games from the Huskies the team will finish above .500, of only one game is won mid-season will be finished with even losses and wins, and if both are lost the Webfoots will be below the half-way mark.

Requiem Meets With Greatest Approval

(Continued from Page One)

She pleased her audience with the rich tones of her voice.

To have a tenor from the La Scala Grand Opera company of Milan, Italy, is a singular honor and treat for any Oratorio society, and Mr. Arthur Boardman seems already to have taken his hearers by storm. Mr. Boardman is a dramatic tenor Ain't Them Hard Trials!

About this time of year, available funds grow scarce, and the "that comes—'Is it worth the effort!'" If it is financing your way through school that bothers you, investigate the Consumer's Merchandise Association offer to student salesmen.

Earnings during vacation for our salesmen range from $400 to $2,500. Hard work does it. Experience is an asset but not required. No investment. Write or call for further information.

Consumers Merchandise Association
410 Cedar Avenue
Minneapolis

CAMPUS MOVIE CALL LIST

FOR THURSDAY
Meet at 1 o'clock at the movie office: Verne Elliott, Dorothy Burke, Bill Overstreet; mill race serenade scene.
Meet at 3:30 at Gamma Phi Beta house: Dorothy Burke, Helen Allen; sleeping porch scene.

Rooms for Mothers Available on Friday

A list of rooms available for mothers who are guests on the campus for Junior Week-end will be ready at the registration office on Friday. The rooms are being solicited under the direction of Mrs. Charlotte Donnelly, secretary of housing and employment for men, who has supervised the work for several years. Solicitation is being done by telephone from the employment office.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

CAMPUS MOVIE CALL LIST

FOR THURSDAY
Meet at 1 o'clock at the movie office: Verne Elliott, Dorothy Burke, Bill Overstreet; mill race serenade scene.
Meet at 3:30 at Gamma Phi Beta house: Dorothy Burke, Helen Allen; sleeping porch scene.

Rooms for Mothers Available on Friday

A list of rooms available for mothers who are guests on the campus for Junior Week-end will be ready at the registration office on Friday. The rooms are being solicited under the direction of Mrs. Charlotte Donnelly, secretary of housing and employment for men, who has supervised the work for several years. Solicitation is being done by telephone from the employment office.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to the bank was under the supervision of two bank officials, who carefully explained the work of every department as the students were shown through.

Class Visits Bank

The nine o'clock bank management class, with their instructor E. L. Moser, associate professor of business administration, were shown through the First National Bank yesterday morning at their regular class hour. The visit to