Oregon Football Team Scheduled For Game With Miami University

Eastern Grid Contest to be Played in Arena Under Big Arc Lights On December 7

Webfoots Billed for Heavy Season With Loss of Four Veterans From Regular Lineup

Oregon will play the University of Florida at Miami, December 7, according to word received by Jack W. Benefiel, graduate manager. The southern institution notified local officials Friday that consent had been obtained. The University of Oregon football team gained permission of the faculty some time ago, so all that was necessary was to obtain the handwriting of the game by the citizens of Miami and receive approval to play from the Miami city officials. This last was accomplished at a meeting Thursday afternoon.

With the scheduling of the Miami game, Oregon will probably have the hardest schedule of any college team in the United States. Two games will be practice affairs; two inter-sectional ones and the other eight big coast contests.

Jack Benefiel

Unusual in football history will be the game with the University of Florida. It will be one of the few contests played beneath brightly burning arc lights, and it will be staged at night, in the same arena in which Jack Sharkey defeated Young Stripling, the southern pride.

The heavy Webfoot schedule includes games with Idaho, Washington, U. C. L. A., Stanford and Oregon State, all conference games. In addition, Oregon will tackle the University of Hawaii at Portland, St. Mary's at San Francisco, and Florida.

Last season Florida had one of the strongest aggregations in the southland and felt but one defeat. Oregon, although its record was not quite so clear, won the northwest championship by walloping Washington, Oregon State and Montana. Stanford and California took games from the Webfoots.

Both Florida and Oregon look for stronger teams in the fall of 1929. Oregon loses four veterans: Hagen, guard; Pope, end; Captain Burnell, half; and Gould, fullback, but recruits from last year's freshmen, and a few athletes not eligible last year will replace the regulars lost by graduation. Florida is reported to have its 1928 team ready to play again.

The complete schedule for Oregon includes:

- Sept. 28—Pacific at Eugene.
- Oct. 5—Stanford at Palo Alto.
- Oct. 12—Willamette at Eugene.
- Oct. 19—Idaho at Portland.
- Oct. 26—Washington at Seattle.
- Nov. 2—U. C. L. A. at Eugene (Dad's Day).
- Nov. 16—Oregon State at Eugene (Homecoming).
- Nov. 23—Hawaii at Portland.
- Nov. 28—St. Mary's at San Francisco.
- Dec. 7—Florida at Miami.

KORE to Sponsor Special Movie Night

Bill Hayward Will Talk On Coming Track Meet

COMING EXTENSION DIVISION-EMERALD BROADCASTS
Tuesday — Special Campus Movie Night broadcast from 8 to 9 o'clock, featuring talks by the stars, theme songs, and special music.
Wednesday — Bill Hayward talking on the Pacific Coast conference track and field meet to be held May 31 and June 1 on Hayward field.

Radio audiences will have their first chance to hear the stars of the Campus Movie Tuesday night when a special Movie Night goes out over station KORE on the regular Extension Division-Emerald time.

George Weber was yesterday appointed director of the Movie Night program by Jim Raley and Carvel Nelson, directors of the Campus Movie.

The feature program will be on the air from 8 to 9 o'clock Tuesday. New dope on the progress of the movie, special talks by the stars, and music will be included on the broadcast, Weber said yesterday. Prospective theme songs for the campus movie will be played, and many surprise numbers will be presented.

Wednesday night, Bill Hayward will step before the microphone for a ten minute talk on the Pacific Coast conference track and field meet, which will be held on Hayward field on May 31 and June 1.

Musical Groups Given
Thirteen members of Phi Beta, music honorary, appeared over KORE last night on the regular Extension Division-Emerald broadcast with a program of piano, violin, and vocal music.

Will, Moe Win Collegiate Golf Title in North

University of Oregon is New Champion of Conference

Webfoot Captain Shoots Par on 72

Divot-Digger Earns Trip to Enter Intercollegiate Tourney in East

SEATTLE, Wash., May 17.—(Special.)—The University of Oregon is the new golf champion of the Pacific Coast conference.

Playing masterly golf, and receiving splendid support from

Don Moe

George Will, his doubles partner, Don Moe, captain of the Oregon team, and Oregon state champion, shot a par 288 for the 72 holes which with Will's 306, gave the Webfoot team the doubles title by 19 strokes.

University of Washington placed second with 613, while Stanford, defending champion, was third with 626.

Moe's brilliant playing gave him the individual championship and earned for him a trip east to the national intercollegiate.

Birdies Are Few
Except for the first nine, when the Webfoot ace shot a 75, he averaged 71 for the other 54 holes—one under par for each 18. The Oregon captain shot only seven birdies in the entire 72 holes of play, but, while his birdies were few, his consistency gave him a handy individual victory.

Chuck Hunter of Washington, the 1928 singles' champion, was second, but he was 15 strokes behind Moe. In fact, until the last 18, he was behind Will. An 80 on the last 18, however, prevented the Oregon No. 2 man from coming in second, and he finished in third place—three strokes behind the Husky ace.

Scores Listed

- The scores of the leaders follow: Oregon 594—Moe 288, Will 306.
- Washington 613—Hunter 303, Richmond 310.
- Stanford 626—Edmonds 312, Staley 314.
- U. C. L. A. 647—Dunlap 312, Houser 325.
- U. S. C. 649—Moser 321, Eckles 328.

Frosh Election Workers Chosen By Class Prexy

Arthur Potwin Will Head Committee in Charge; Polls Open 9 to 3

The general committee in charge of freshman class voting at Villard hall next Tuesday, according to an announcement made by Brian Minnaugh, president, will be composed of Arthur Potwin, chairman, Phil Hammond, and Carol Hurlburt.

Announcement was made at the same time that Dolly Horner would take the place of Carolyn Habersack, in the race with Sally Runes, for secretary.

The poles will be open from 9 o'clock until 3. Those appointed by Potwin to take charge of them are: from 9 until 10, Paul Bale and Muriel McLean; from 10 until 11, Marie Nelson and Bob O'Melveny; from 11 to 12, Hunt Clark and Jean Knapp; from 12 to 1, Charles Teague and Virginia Paris; from 1 to 2, Jean Leonard and Jack Bluffhard; from 2 until 3, Jean Rogers and Chet Knowlton.

'Seabeck Night' Slated For Sunday by Group

A "Seabeck night" will be held Sunday by the Wesley club, student organization of the Methodist church, at the church on Willamette street at Twelfth avenue. The purpose of a special program of talks and music will be to interest students in the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. conferences at Seabeck, Washington, June 8 to 17 and June 18 to 28, respectively. Don Campbell, president of the campus Y. M. C. A., will preside. Talks will be given by Mr. Campbell, Alson Bristol, Margaret Edmunson, and Gwendolyn Shepard.

A half hour of games, will precede the meeting, beginning at 6:30.

Tennis Tilt Today To Decide Winners

Brad Harrison Plays in Semi-Finals

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 17.—(Special.)—Bradshaw Harrison, star Oregon tennis player, will meet John Wheatley of Stanford, in one of the semi-finals matches tomorrow morning, starting at 10 o'clock, while Johnny Doeg, another Stanford luminary, and a ranking national player, meets Francis Hardy of Southern California, starting at 11 o'clock. The winners of these two matches will be pitted in the finals of the Coast conference championships, and unless dope is completely upset, Harrison and Doeg will be finalists.

Harrison had an easier time with his opponents today than did Doeg. Harrison eliminated Jack Herbst of Southern California, 6-3, 6-2, and Frank Westsmith of the University of California at Los Angeles, 6-3, 6-3.

Doeg had his hands full with Dworkin of U. C. L. A. The Los Angeles star won all six games in the opening set and had the Cardinal ace completely at his mercy at first. But Doeg rallied and took the next two sets, 6-3, 6-4.

Sherman Lockwood, No. 2 man on the Oregon team, lost his first match to Hardy, 6-2, 6-3.

The Oregon pair, however, completely outclassed Southern California in the doubles. They defeated Hardy and Herbst of U. S. C., 6-1, 6-0. The Webfoot combination played superbly and Harrison, who carried the brunt of the Oregon attack, received fine support from his team-mate.

By their one-sided sweep over U. S. C., the Oregon duo are favored to win the doubles. Their chief opponent will be the Stanford pair, Wheatley and Doeg.

Washington was eliminated early this morning, losing both of its singles matches.

Knights to Grant New Chapters at Twelve Colleges

Order Votes to Expand Into California and Mountain States

Today's Sessions to End National Meeting Here

The Intercollegiate Knights will expand the organization to a considerable extent by granting chapters to a number of local service groups in Rocky mountain and California universities, it was decided the first day of the national convention held on the Oregon campus yesterday.

The Knights have in the past few years received petitions from groups in every major college west of the Mississippi river, but it has been the policy of the order to build up strength internally before expanding. At the sessions yesterday, however, it was decided by the delegates that the organization was sufficiently strong, and it was voted to install chapters during the coming year at the University of California, Stanford university, University of Southern California, U. C. L. A., University of Arizona, University of New Mexico, University of Utah, Brigham Young university, University of Montana, Colorado Agricultural college, University of North Dakota, and University of South Dakota.

Walter Hendricks, University of Washington, was appointed by Walter Norblad, Oregon, national president of the group, to act as field man in installing the groups in California, Al Kimball, Utah Agricultural college, will aid in the installation of chapters of the Knights at the mountain colleges.

Besides the question of expansion, the internal organization and general problems of the Intercollegiate Knights were discussed yesterday at the two sessions in the Gerlinger building. Norblad appointed a number of committees which will report today.

A banquet for the visiting delegates was held last night at the College Side Inn. Tom Stoddard, president-elect of the A. S. U. O., made the principal address, speaking on "The Relation of the Intercollegiate Knights to the University." Reports of the various chapters of the organization were made by the delegates.

Two more sessions will be held today at 9 and at 2 in the Gerlinger building. Problems of a general nature will be discussed and officers for next year will be elected. The convention next year will be held at the Utah Agricultural college, Logan, Utah, it was decided at one of the sessions yesterday.

Oregon Takes Opener Of Two Game Series With Washington, 5-4

Olinger's Home Run in Eighth Canto Gives Webfoots New Hope; Edwards Wrecks Match

Baker Holds Huskies to Low Score; MacDonald Will Likely Pitch Today at Seattle

SEATTLE, Wash., May 17.—(Special to the Emerald.)—Playing heads-up ball in the closing innings behind class A pitching by Bill Baker, Oregon's ball team defeated the University of Washington 5 to 4 in a Frank Merriwell finish here today.

Washington held the lead until the eighth inning, when Olinger took hold of one of Calhoun's fast ones and drove it over the deep center field for a home run with Epps on first to tie the score.

In the ninth canto, Calhoun made the fatal mistake of walking Robie. Barnes laid down his third perfect sacrifice of the day and put him on second. Edwards slammed a grounder just out of the reach of the Husky second baseman to score Robie with the winning run.

Poor playing by Oregon in the early innings gave Washington a lead of 4-2 with Calhoun sailing along pretty. Olinger's sock over the chicken wire wiped the smile off Coach Tubby Graves' face, and Edwards' timely blow wrecked the ball game.

The Huskies died hard in the ninth. Gaw started off with a stinging single to center. White popped an intended sacrifice into Baker's hands. Hutchinson drove one over Epps' head, but Dave pulled it in after a long run and an impossible stab. Brannon tried hard, but ended the game by striking out.

Olinger for Oregon; and Tellefson and Hutchinson for the Huskies each got two hits. MacDonald will probably hurl for Oregon Saturday. Sunday the team will lay over in Portland. Monday and Tuesday the Webfoots will take on Washington State for two games.

The score:

R. H. E.
Oregon ..... 5 8 3
Washington ..... 4 8 3

Batteries—Baker and Ridings; Calhoun and Brannon.

Two High Schools Will Contest for State Supremacy

Vice-president Barker to Preside, E. E. DeCou Donates New Cup

A debate for the high school debate championship of Oregon will be held at the Guild theater Monday evening, May 20, at 7:30. Scappoose and Hermiston high schools, winners in western and eastern Oregon divisions, respectively, will compete. The question will be a consideration of the state income tax.

Vice-president Burt Brown Barker will preside and will present the cups he has donated to the two teams for winning the championships in the two sections of the state.

At the close of the debate E. C. DeCou will award the new cup he has donated for the state championship to the winning team.

The three judges will be J. K. Horner, professor of public speaking; David Faville, dean of the school of business administration; Robert Prescott, for many years secretary of the high school debate league.

Portfolio of Milton's Poems Now in Library

A facsimile of "Milton's Minor Poems" was purchased recently by the main library.

The book was obtained from a London publishing house at the reasonable cost of two pounds and 10 shillings which equals about $12.00. The volume comes in an attractive portfolio and is unbound. On one page is the exact reprint of Milton's handwriting and on the opposite is a printed reproduction of the same which contains all the correction marks and markings of the original handwritten copy.

The book was published in 1899.

Oregon State to Send Orchestra Here on Sunday

Gershkovitch Leader of Visiting Musicians at Vesper Service

Guest Conductor of Group Colorful Character

Presenting a program which will be under the direction of guest conductor Jacques Gershkovitch, one of the most colorful conductors in the musical world, and which will be featured by a special violin number by Mrs. McManus, who is regular director and who was formerly a concert soloist with Sousa's band, the 80 piece Oregon State College Symphony orchestra will appear at the Music auditorium Sunday afternoon at 3:30. There will be no admission charge.

Gershkovitch, whose fame lies in his ability to garb in brilliant colors whatever music he chooses to interpret, is described as being the dynamic, forceful, and energetic type of director whose very presence and gestures immediately draw the interest of the audience. He is noted for producing effects with his orchestra that are unusual and attractive.

His career has been an extremely varied and exciting one. He is a native of Siberia and has conducted orchestras in Irkutsk, China, Tokio, New York, San Francisco, and at the present time, is conductor of the Portland Junior Symphony orchestra, a group of 100 highly trained and talented young musicians which has already attracted national recognition.

Two numbers of striking contrast—Tschalkowsky's "Slavic" march and "At Church" also by Tschalkowsky—are to be played on Sunday afternoon's program. "At Church" is an arrangement for a composition for piano, for strings, woodwinds and percussion arranged by Conductor Gershkovitch that always has made a deep impression

Collegiate Chaff : : By Ron Hubbs

Editorial Comment on This and That

Since the "burning of the green" on Junior Week-end by the freshmen and their self-election to the wear-as-you-please class, the sophomores and juniors have sought an equal elevation in their class status. It is rather disconcerting to be thought a frosh, and the mistake is easily made with the disappearance of the distinguished green lid. Much to the horror of the traditionalists the sophomores have taken things into their own hands by blossoming out in cords, and the juniors are making a manly endeavor to cultivate scraggly mustaches. Either someone is going to have to use their strong right hand to prevent the change, or some official body will have to legalize the transformation. The latter course might be better since the tradition has already been substantially changed with no apparent harm.

It is an exceptional nomination speech that doesn't state: "My candidate served on the Greater Oregon Committee, the Frosh Bonfire, Junior Week-end, Homecoming, etc." It makes one wonder, what's in a name? Everyone of these committees deals with an important campus function and entails considerable responsibility. Why is it that we seldom hear how well the nominee carried out that responsibility, or how efficiently he performed his task? Is the name these committees carry merely a stepping stone to higher aspirations? We fail to think so. If the glory in holding a committee position is to supersede the accomplishment of a particular task then student activities will reach utter stagnation. One job well performed should carry more weight with the electorate than a bushel basket full of appointments.

We were very interested and pleased to know that the Associated Students of the University of Oregon puts out the best student handbook on the coast. Several of our sister institutions have prided themselves on the handsome covers and attractive print of their handbooks so there must be something more substantial than appearance to our book. It must be quality. If so we shouldn't be surprised. Quality in student personnel and enterprise receives its strongest emphasis at Oregon.

There is one section in the "Hello Book" that is still far behind the rest—the A. S. U. O. constitution. The changes recently adapted clar-
