

Oregon Given Winning Odds In Aggie Meet

Possibilities Loom Big For Webfoot Track Championship

Four Clean Sweeps Seen as Possible

Moeller, Prendergast, Hill, Lowry in Line for High Point Honors

The track championship of the state of Oregon will be at stake tomorrow at 1:30 on Hayward field, and this year the Aggies are rated far inferior to Oregon.

There is a glorious possibility of a complete sweep of all first places for Oregon, though such a thing is hardly probable. O. S. C. made three more points against Washington in a dual meet this season than did Oregon, but took only three firsts, while Oregon took five. The only event that O. S. C. won from Washington that Oregon did not, was the 440-yard dash. Claire McKennon, of Oregon, however, is giving something like a two to three chance of defeating the Aggie quarter-miler.

Moeller Conceded Firsts

El Moeller is conceding an easy pair of first places in the shot and discus. Tyrell Lowry, Bill Prendergast, or Ralph Hill should run him a close race for high point man.

Teamed with Hal Hildreth and Marion Hill in the shot, and with Captain George Stager, and Hildreth in the discus, Moeller should be able to lead the way to at least one shutout in these two events.

At Seattle during the Washington relay carnival, Ed Siegmund led the Aggie entrant to the tape in the 120-yard high hurdles. Harold Kelley and Bill Crawford have been making as good time as Siegmund, and actually beat him occasionally. Barring accident, these men should execute another shutout.

Robinson Given Place

In all probability, Bob Robinson has a cinch on the pole vault. He has gone 9 inches farther than O. S. C.'s best mark. Don Maultby, Robinson's partner in the event, has a fighting chance for a second.

The only field event the Aggies have as much as a fifty-fifty chance in will be the javelin. Whitlock of O. S. C. was at one time able to send the spear close to 200 feet, but this year he has fallen off because of an injury to his throwing arm. Homer Dickson has a possible throw of 190 feet.

If Ralph Hill runs both the mile and the 880, he will in all probability win both events. No Aggie man has ever run off from Hill.

Hill in Shape Again

Clarence Hill has made a comeback in the two-mile run. He has been slowed up all season because of weakness in the leg he broke last fall in a cross country meet. He will be teamed with Ed Jensen and Bill Winter. Jensen, however, will not be so fresh as Hill, since he will compete in both the mile and the two-mile runs. Aggies hope themselves as favorites in this event, but they left Clarence off their lists.

Hayward is planning a surprise in the mile relay. The Aggies took this event in the relay meet and have great expectations of winning again. Claire McKennon, Clark Price, Bill Prendergast, and Ralph

(Continued on Page Two)

Collegiate Chaff : : By Ron Hubbs

Editorial Comment on This and That

Most students picture a major student body office as a perfumed bed of roses in which each and every office holder basks in the glory of popularity. This fiction is about as likely as Paderewski playing in concert with his mittens. There is sacrifice by the earload. A hit and miss education is about all they can expect. There is work. It takes time to run a student government whose assets run up into hundreds of thousands of dollars, and its student body numbers thousands. There is criticism. No one individual can run things to suit the fickle populace.

It's a tough job as those who are singing their swan song will testify. But the vexatious snarls have been patiently smoothed out. Oregon spirit, the Oregon, the constitution . . . these are but a few of the things that caused concern. Truly enough student government wasn't faultless. No government is. But it was well done, and the retiring administration is to be com-

In Recital

Mrs. Buford Roach presented a vocal recital at the music auditorium last night. Mrs. Roach is a member of Madame Rose McGrew's class in opera fundamentals.

Soprano Gains Much Praise In Vocal Recital

Mrs. Buford Roach Pleases Crowd in Well-Chosen Voice Program

Adding to the laurels which she has already gained in campus musical circles, Mrs. Buford Roach delivered a splendid recital, characterized by sweetness and smoothness of execution and the remarkable ease with which she attained high tones without any appearance of effort or without losing any of the superb expression which she instills into her numbers.

Mrs. Roach is an artist. One seems to instinctively sense it by the spontaneity and freedom of her voice which gives the listener the impression that she is singing not for the audience, not as a matter of mere routine, but because she loves to sing for the pure beauty and art of the thing.

The program last night was carefully chosen and was interesting for the beautiful melodies as well as for the difficult technique involved. The program was as follows:

- I
My Lovely Celia
- II
Arranged by Lane Wilson
Child of the Earth with Golden Hair C. E. Horn
A Pastoral Arr. by Lane Wilson
- III
Scherzo Daniel Van Goens
Concerto Romantique B. Godard
The Canebrake Samuel Gardner
- IV
Fetes Galantes Reginaldo Hohn
Tosca Rene Robey
Rosmonde Charminade
- V
Serenade delle Alpi Reynaldo Hohn
Stornello Pugliese Geni Saderio
Salta Lari Lira Victor Gianini
- VI
Concerto in G Minor Bruch
- VII
O Come With Me in the Summer Night Frank Van der Stucken
Cradle Song Max Roger
Across the Fields Leland Clarke

Easton Will be Principal

T. S. Easton, a senior in botany, has accepted a position as principal of Newberg grade and high schools for the coming year.

Oregon Wins Return Match From Vandals

Webfoots Take Game in Eight Innings by 17-7 Score

Schoeni Pitches For Oregonians

Team To Play Columbia Today in Exhibition Contest

MOSCOW, Idaho, May 23.—(Special)—After losing four conference games in a row, Oregon finally broke its slump and hammered the ball all over the lot here today to defeat the Idaho Vandals 17 to 7. Futile pitching on the part of four Idaho hurlers aided by some solid blows helped to put the Webfoots in the win column. Art Schoeni, southpaw, finally broke the Eugene club over the Eugene club and was credited with the victory although he was liberal with his 12 hits but kept them well scattered. Every man on the Oregon team got at least one blow. Edwards drove out two triples and a single in six times up. Nelson belted three singles. Epps, Olinger, and Schoeni each got two hits. The former drove one over center field for a home run. McMillan hit a homer for Idaho in the third.

Idaho scored two in the first but Oregon came back with a heavy attack and counted seven in the second inning off Idaho's ace, Whitey Lawrence. They added two more in the third, five in the fourth and three in the sixth. Idaho drove Schoeni to the showers in the eighth with two runs and Baker pitched the rest of the inning. The game was called at the end of the eighth to allow Oregon to catch the train for Portland where they will play Columbia university in an exhibition game Friday.

Bad luck followed Oregon around the six-game road trip. They lost the second game to Washington in Seattle in the ninth inning, dropped two to Washington State, 13 to 11 and 6 to 5, on rallies late in the games. The fourth loss came when Idaho handed them a 6 to 5 defeat in a ten-inning struggle. Oregon finishes up its session when it meets Oregon State May 31 and June 1.

The score:

	R	H	E
Oregon	17	17	4
Idaho	7	12	7

Batteries: Schoeni, Baker and Woodie; Lawrence, Grabner, Lindsey, Smith, and Kyselka, Price.

Asklepiads Hear Dr. A. R. Moore at Initiation Dinner

Russell Baker to Succeed Morris Temple as Head Of Honorary

Dr. A. R. Moore was the principal speaker at the spring initiation banquet of The Asklepiads, honorary pre-medical society last night at the Eugene hotel. Dr. Moore's subject was "Hippocrates, the Good Guesser," dealing with the history of medicine, and its rise from the belief in the supernatural and spiritual to the scientific study of today. The talk was vitally interesting and suggested the future trend of the practice of medicine.

Russell Baker, junior in biology, was elected president of The Asklepiads for the coming year. Morris Temple is the retiring president.

Faculty members attending the meeting were Dr. A. R. Moore, Dr. R. H. Huettis, Dr. A. E. Caswell, Dr. J. R. Williams, and Dr. H. B. Yocum.

The new members taken into the organization were: Harold Erickson, Ernest G. Everett, Luther Davidson, Howard Johnson, Maurice B. Kinney, Donald McGowan, Roger DeBusk, Kenneth Brown, Melvin Johnson, and Walter I. Wilber.

Pennsylvania Calls Prof

Professor F. S. Stetson, of the education department, will spend the summer at the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia, where he will teach a course on the junior high school.

Special Emerald Ready Tomorrow

Large 24-Page Edition Souvenir Number

The Big Emerald, commonly known as the Special Edition, will be out tomorrow morning. It will consist of 24 pages of campus news and resumes of campus activity of all kinds. "It will be as complete in coverage of university life and as full of interest as hard work and planning could possibly make it," says Carl Gregory, managing editor. He further expressed a hope that the campus population will be satisfied with the special Emerald which has taken the better part of the week to publish.

Contents will be classified as completely as possible and each section.

(Continued on Page Two)

Jewett Speaking Contest Won By Lou Ann Chase

Bernice Conoly Takes Second Prize With Humorous Talk

Women's Division Offers Four Cash Awards

Lou Ann Chase, junior in English, won first prize of $30 in the women's Jewett extemporaneous speaking contest held last night in Guild hall, by effectively strengthening her three arguments to prove that the present system of American education fosters culture. Culture is developed in America in three ways, said Miss Chase, by mass education, liberal education, and higher education.

Bernice Conoly, jokingly telling of American tourists abroad, that is, "the objectionable kind," captivated judges and audience with her humor, and captured the second prize of $15.

Unique in its portrayal, and of especial interest to a large portion of the audience, the delivery of "Has America Developed Any Culture in Music and Art?" by Miss Elaine Henderson, who took the third prize of $10, vividly portrayed in word-pictures those evidences that America had produced art both substantial and of high quality. Gladys Clausen, fourth prize winner.

(Continued on Page Two)

Strawberry Festival No Dessert Wednesday

"What are you waiting for, Mary?"

"Waiting for next Wednesday night to come so I can go to the strawberry festival."

"The what?"

"The strawberry festival, Jim, where they sell fresh strawberry sundaes."

"Where, when and how?"

"Libe tennis courts, 6:30 to 7:30, sponsored by W. A. A."

"They don't need all that space to sell strawberry sundaes."

"Don't be silly—they dance at the festival. George Weber's orchestra is playing. It's a jitney dance. The courts are being boxed special. Something else too—you don't get any dessert for your dinner at your house that night."

"Pretty clever—then we're supposed to eat more sundaes."

"Are we going, Mary?"

"I'm sorry, Jim."

"Mary, after going together for two terms you wouldn't go with somebody else to the last dance of the year?"

"And this somebody is tall and dark, and 12:15 rules that night."

"Why, Mary?"

"It's no dates, Jim, and I'm going with Gladys."

"You little—"

"Shhh—don't say it."

"Well, I'll see you there then."

"OK, Jim."

Josephine Stoffel, Secretary.

Construction On Delta Zeta House to Start

Expenditure of $35,000 Authorized by Alumnae

Building Will Be On Alder Street

Sorority Expects to Live At New Location Next Fall

Construction of an attractive new home for Delta Zeta sorority on Alder street between Sixteenth and Seventeenth avenues east will be started in a few days and will be rushed so that the sorority, now living at Twelfth avenue east and Mill street, may occupy its new quarters next fall.

The Delta Zeta Alumnae association, which is sponsoring the new house, has authorized expenditure of $35,000 on the building. T. M. Gerow, Eugene architect, is drawing up the plans for the structure, which will combine beauty and utility in an attractive English manor house design.

Announcement of the construction plans of Delta Zeta marks the final step in the movement of sorority and fraternity houses away from the downtown district and into the university section of Eugene. At one time a majority of the Greek letter houses were situated between the university and the business section of Eugene, one or two being virtually downtown.

Alder Street Popular

Delta Zeta's construction plans also indicate the growing recognition of Alder street as a sort of "fraternity row." The new house will be situated between the Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, on the south, and the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, on the north. When the Delta Zeta house is occupied there will be nine sororities and five fraternities on Alder street.

Stien brothers have been awarded the contract for the new Delta Zeta house, according to announcement by Mrs. Helen Husband, chairman of the alumnae building committee. Other members of the committee are Glenna Fisher, treasurer, Beatrice Morris, Eldress Judd, Evelyn Hartman and Louise Smartt.

English Style Used

The new house will be particularly pleasing in exterior appearance. It will be finished in brick veneer, with an attractive entrance at the south end. The English style will be carried out in steep slopes of the roof, and many other attractive features.

The front entrance will give access to a large entrance hall, and directly to the right of this will be a spacious living room. Large fireplaces will be placed in both the living room and music room, which will be features of the first floor. The dining room, guest room, breakfast room, and kitchen will also be located on the first floor.

Room Plan Described

On the second floor will be the

(Continued on Page Three)

Students Named By Bristol for Portland Confab

M. Edmunson and L. Jee To go to Pan-Pacific Meeting Next Fall

Margaret Edmunson, junior in sociology, and Leonard Jee, junior in economics, were yesterday named members of the executive committee for the Pan-Pacific conference to be held at Reed college, Portland, during Thanksgiving vacation next fall term. Also Bristol, who made the appointments, announced that the program for the confab, for which the executive committee is responsible to a general committee composed of a member from each college and university in the Pacific northwest, is rapidly taking shape. Other members of the executive council are Frank Shimizu and La Wanda Fenlason, both students here.

Bristol will be chairman of the conference this year. Another Oregon student, Christine Holt, was chairman last November, when the confab was held for the first time. One hundred students, half Oriental and half Occidental, will attend the conference this year, discussing problems of the Pacific. Sixty attended the meeting last year.

Mexican Night Will Be KORE Feature

Spanish Club, Honorary Sponsoring Program

A Mexican Night program will be presented over KORE tonight on the regular Extension Division-Emerald broadcast hour. The Spanish club of the university, and Sigma Delta Pi, Spanish honorary society, are sponsoring the program.

Professor L. O. Wright, of the romance language department, will be the featured speaker. His topic will be "Whither Mexico." Professor Wright has made a detailed study of Mexican affairs and the status of the government, and will talk on the future of the country from an economic, social, and political viewpoint.

Special vocal solos and duets will complete the broadcast tonight. Miss Agnes Petzold will sing two solos, "Seguidilla" from Carmen; and "A Tu Ventana."

Miss Petzold and Ernest McKinney will sing two duets, "La Mananitas," a Mexican birthday serenade; and "Cielito Lindo," a Mexican love song. Professor Wright will play the accompaniments for the duet numbers.

Jack Hempstead, associate editor of the Emerald, will announce tonight's program.

Oregon Adds Harvard Win To Victories

First Telegraphic Golf Meet Results in 123 to 82 Score

Oregon's golf team added further laurels to the championship of the Pacific coast, captured at Seattle last week, by defeating the creek Harvard team 123 to 82 in the first telegraphic meet ever held. The men who played for Oregon were Will, Palmberg, Heitkemper, and Moe.

In the system of scoring used for the meet each player was given one point for each hole played on par, two points for each birdie, and three points for one eagle. The game was of 36 holes, 18 played on each of the two days of competition.

The course records of the Eugene country club was broken during the play yesterday when Bill Palmberg turned in a score of 68 for the 18 holes. The previous record was 69, held by Don Moe.

The score made by the Oregon men in the second day of competition was as follows: Will 16, Palmberg 15, Heitkemper 7, and Moe 18, a total of 56. The team scored 67 points Thursday to make a total of 123.

Harvard's score for the two days was Finley 26, Arnold 17, Murphy 18, and Baldwin 21, a total of 82.

Oregon officials are enthusiastic over the telegraphic golf match. It is probable that other matches will be scheduled with leading universities of the country next year, and that the system will be adopted by other institutions.

O. P. Coshow to Speak

Chief Justice O. P. Coshow of the state of Oregon supreme court will speak before the law school student body banquet tonight at 6:15 in the College Side.

All pre-legal students interested are invited to attend. Those desiring reservations are requested to call at the College Side as early as possible.

Dean Rebec Plans to Go On Long Canoe Journey With Amos Burg

By JO BARRY

Probably the most interesting summer vacation of any Oregon student or instructor will be the one to be spent by Dean George Rebec with Amos Burg on a long, thoughtfully planned canoeing trip on several large north American rivers.

But before Dean Rebec joins Burg he has to go first in the opposite direction to deliver, on June 5, the commencement address at the University of Arizona at Tucson and on June 10, to deliver the annual Phi Beta Kappa address at Tulane university in New Orleans. According to Dean Rebec, the easiest way to meet his colleague will not be by returning to Eugene but by returning north from New Orleans. The dean says, "Because the train to take north from Edmonton, Alberta, goes only once a week, there

Oregana Staff Announced By Executives

Editor, Manager Select Steinke, Creath, Allen For Important Jobs

Wilfred Brown is Assistant Editor

Serena Madsen Summons Conference at Four This Afternoon

The editorial and business staff appointments of the Oregana were announced yesterday by Serena Madsen, editor, and John Nelson, manager, who were recently chosen by the publications committee to fill these positions for next year.

Wilfred Brown will be assistant editor and Henrietta Steinke will be associate editor. The associate business manager will be Dean Creath and the assistant manager will be taken by Robert Allen. Other appointments are Martha Stevens, art editor; Ray Rogers, art editor; Lester McConald, literary editor; Elise Schroeder, administration editor; Dorothy Thomas, college year; Diana Deinaiger, seniors; Neil Taylor, juniors; Jean Patrick, underclass; Carol Hurlbert, drama; Ruff Newman, music; Elaine Henderson, art; Harry Tomkon, publications; Mary Klemm, forensics; Harry Van Dine, R. O. T. C.; Joe Brown, athletics; Dorothy Kirk, women; Bobby Reid, honoraries; Mildred Dobbins, sororities; Barney Miller, fraternities; Willis Dunaway, law.

Business Aids Named

The business assistants will be Brad Harrison, advertising manager; Donna Gill and Ralph Penland, assistant advertising managers; Virginia Sterling, office manager; Gladys Mack, secretary; Betty Beam and Bob Miller, circulation managers; Renee-Grace Nelson, organization.

Not all positions have been appointed, due to the large number of applications received, but others for the staff will be chosen later.

A meeting of the editorial staff has been called by Serena Madsen at 4 o'clock today in 105 Journalism, and she has urged that all members attend as the list of people who have expressed their desire to work on the Oregana will be read and further suggested appointments discussed.

"We believe that those chosen for the staff are all thoroughly competent in doing the work, as they have proven their ability in such work at previous times," stated the editor and manager when telling of their assistants for next year.

Congress Club Elects Roger Pfaff President

Roger Pfaff, freshman in pre-law, was elected next year's president of the Congress Club, public speaking organization, at a meeting held last night at the College Side. Other new officers are vice-president, Wayne Robinson, junior in business ad; secretary, Merlin Blais, freshman in journalism; treasurer, Sylvanus Smith, sophomore in business ad; sergeant-at-arms, Vernon Chantler, freshman in economics. Leland Fryer, retiring president, automatically became parliamentarian, as this position is held by the president of the previous term.

This year's officers were president, Leland Fryer, sophomore in pre-law; vice-president, Bill Knight, sophomore in pre-law; treasurer, George Todd, freshman in math; parliamentarian, G. Allen Belloni. Next year's first meeting will be announced in the Emerald.

Dean Rebec Plans to Go On Long Canoe Journey With Amos Burg

will be a week of time to 'invest' after leaving New Orleans; accordingly I shall probably stop off at Montgomery, Alabama and Nashville, Tennessee, then going on to Chicago and from Chicago via Duluth and Winnipeg to Edmonton. From there I have to take a road that runs 350 miles north to Waterways, right next to the old Hudson Bay Fort McMurray on the Athabasca river.

In the meantime Burg will have launched the canoe, in which he and Dean Rebec are going to travel, a couple of hundred miles farther up the Athabasca river at Athabasca Landing. He expects to be at Fort McMurray when Dean Rebec arrives and the two will start on a canoeing trip down the Athabasca

(Continued on Page Two)