

Complete Committee for Annual Dad's Day Celebration Listed

Successful Day Assured In Response

Evidence of Support Seen In Early Replies to Student Letters

Twenty-one Included In Committees

Rosser Atkinson, chairman of the Dad's day directorate, has announced the following assistants to aid the committee chairman in sponsoring the annual Dad's day, November 2.

They are: Registration, Betty Fairchild, chairman, Marshall Shields, Murdina Medler, Kenneth Jette, and Margaret Hurley; banquet, Kenneth Curry, chairman, James Dezenford, Jane Cullars, Dorothy Eberhard, and Mary Marlark; reception, Crosby Owens, chairman, and Kenneth Edick. These committees will choose sub-committees to work with them later.

Other committee workers are: Announcements, Hal Paddock; secretary, Gracia Haggerty; publicity, Lavina Hicks; campus decorations, Donald Call, chairman, and Jesse Douglas, Josh Alexander, Hobie Wilson, Dorothy Tongue, and Harriet Kibbe.

Nothing is being left undone by the student and faculty committees to make the affair a huge success, and an enthusiastic response has already been received from a large number of the dads.

DRAMA STAFF HAS NEW INSTRUCTORS

There is a much larger enrollment in the drama department this year than heretofore, according to Otilie Turnbull Seybolt, head of dramatics here. Two new members have been added to the staff, Cecil Matson as assistant and Fred Harris as art director. This makes possible the addition of two new courses in the drama division, stage design and theatre workshop. A large number of students have enrolled in both these classes. There has also been an increase in the enrollment in all of the more advanced drama courses.

"I am planning several changes in the general procedure of the department this year," Mrs. Seybolt said. "I hope later in the year to institute a series of studio performances. Tryouts for these will be open to students outside the department who would like to participate occasionally in college dramatics but for various reasons are unable to give time to the field as a regular study. 'Gods of the Mountain' was a production of this kind last year." The plans for the first quarter are very nearly completed and will be announced soon, according to Mrs. Seybolt. She also said that the department would be glad to hear at any time from students, faculty or townspeople who have in mind any particular play which they would like to see produced in the university program.

MRS. BEN HOOPER TO ADDRESS CLUB

A meeting of all members of last year's International Relations club and others interested is scheduled for Thursday evening at 7:15 in the geology lecture room on the first floor of Condon Hall by Warren D. Smith, acting head of the group. Organization for the year will take place at this time, and plans will be discussed.

Mrs. Ben Hooper, prominent in International Relations work in the middle west, will speak to the club on work being done in this field in other parts of the country. Mrs. Hooper is a personal friend of President Arnold Bennett Hall and is to speak to the club largely through his efforts in securing her.

Lectures Scheduled By Education Profs

Several of the instructors of the school of education are visiting Oregon cities this week. Dean H. D. Sheldon left last night for La Grande, where he will give a lecture on Civics to the students of the Eastern Oregon Normal school. Dr. N. L. Bossing is now in Salem where he will address the teachers institute. Dr. B. W. DeBusk will leave Thursday for Marshfield, where he will lecture, and Professor Harold S. Tuttle is at Medford delivering an address

The Shadow Screen

McDONALD—Ruth Chatterton in "Madame X"; last day.

REX—Laura La Plante in "The Love Trap."

COLONIAL—Clara Bow in "Dangerous Curves"; last day.

STATE—Fox Movietone Follies of 1929.

McDonald Picture Has Dramatic Force

In the current offering "Madame X" at the McDonald theatre, Ruth Chatterton makes her role one of the triumphs of her career. The vivid scene in the courtroom, where she faces her husband and the son who never learns of her identity, is one of the most gripping episodes ever seen on the screen. The makeups in this gripping drama are noteworthy. Appearing at five different ages and grades on the social scale, Miss Chatterton adds five years to her age in every scene.

Movietone Follies Has Youthful Cast

One of the biggest numbers in the William Fox Movietone Follies of 1929, now at the State theatre, is filmed in color. It is called "Under the Sea," and is a beautiful fantasy, based upon a wondrous Japanese fisherman who was at the teachers' institute there. Dean H. D. Sheldon, Dr. N. L. Bossing, and Dr. C. L. Huffaker will attend the high school meeting at Salem, October 18 and 19.

18 OREGON CO-EDS ATTEND MEETING

Eighteen University of Oregon women participated in the annual Seabeck meet of the Y. W. C. A. members from the northwest division at Seabeck, Wash., during June, comprising the largest representation at the gathering. The group, most of whom are back on the campus this year, taking active part in the local Y. W. C. A., was made up of: Margaret Edmunson, Eldress Judd, Mildred Wharton, Margaret McKnight, Ruth Johnson, Betty Hughes, Dorothy Hallin, Gwendolyn Shepherd, Mary Klemm, Jennie Klemm, Gertrude Maurer, Lucile Vitus, Mildred Vitus, Louise Huls, Ruth Griffin, Lorena Wilson, Daphne Hughes and Dorothy Collier, of Eugene, who acted as registrar.

Many Attend Women's League Tea Tuesday

Approximately 300 women called during the afternoon at the Women's League tea, held yesterday at Alumni hall in honor of Dean Virginia Judy Esterly and Miss Elizabeth Morwood, the foreign scholar.

From four o'clock on through the rest of the afternoon Alumni hall was filled with women students who greeted the two honor guests, in their places in the receiving line. Others in the line were Mrs. C. B. Schwering, assistant dean of women; Helen Peters, president of the league; Joan Patterson, vice president; Florence McNeerney, foreign scholar committee chairman.

Music during the afternoon was provided by Peggy Sweeney, violinist; Caroline Haberlach, pianist; Alice Holmbeck, Evelyn Hollis, Aladeen Hollister, and Maude Kerns. Members of Kwama served.

Instructor in Art Attends Summer Class at Harvard

Miss Avakian Selected by Carnegie Corporation For Scholarship

Miss Victoria Avakian, instructor in the School of Architecture and Allied Arts, who spent most of her summer attending summer school at the Fogg Art Museum of Harvard university, was one of the twenty persons who received the Carnegie corporation scholarship. Not more than one student was chosen from each of the larger institutions scattered over the United States. The appointments were made by the American Institute of Architecture through its committee on education.

At the end of the session, the corporation in addition to paying all expenses, gave each appointee $150 to invest in material with which they as instructors could acquaint students with the newest work that is being done in the field of the applied arts. Miss Avakian used her allowance in buying twenty attractive ceramics or unique pieces of modern pottery representative of the work being done in the leading European craft schools.

Other attractions of Miss Avakian's trip, besides her courses in painting and contemporary design in the industrial arts, were the fine exhibits of students' work in the museums of the Chicago Art Institute and the New York School of Fine and Applied Art.

LAW GRADUATES PASS BAR EXAMS

Five seniors who graduated from the Oregon law school last June and were members of Phi Delta Phi, national law honorary, have successfully passed their examinations. These five are: Bill Adams, former president of the honorary, Chris Boesen, Lester Oehler, president of the law student body last year, John Bell Jr., and Orval Yokom. Bill Adams is now practicing law in Portland, Bell is with the Lane County Title and Abstract Co., and Boesen is practicing in Marshfield.

Ex-Harvard Students Meet Tomorrow at Six

The Harvard Club, an organization of men who have formerly studied at Harvard university, will meet Thursday evening at 6 o'clock at the Anchorage. Any one who has ever attended the eastern institution is invited to attend, according to Frederick Dunn, professor of Latin and president of the club.

William Tugman, editor of the Guard, is vice-president. Leavitt O. Wright of the romance language department, is treasurer. There are about 20 active members in the group.

Clara Bow Comes To Colonial Screen

Clara Bow, the mad whoopee girl of "The Wild Party" is now being featured at the Colonial theatre in an entirely new type of role in "Dangerous Curves." It is a story of the circus folk, Miss Bow playing the part of a bareback rider and clown.

As preparation for the exacting role the red haired Clara learned to clown from some of the most famous funsters who ever wore a jester's motley. Her teachers were performers from Al W. Copeland's circus.

Laura La Plante Stars On Rex Screen Today

Laura LaPlante comes to the Rex screen today in her latest starring vehicle, "The Love Trap." Miss La Plante wears a collection of very striking gowns in this picture and predicts a season of long-life and wider skirts for the lady of fashion.

Season for Donut Sport Competition Opens Soon at Gym

Representatives of Houses Meet Thursday to Make Plans for Year

Within the next few days the Donut Season will again be opened, and competition will be plentiful. Handball, basketball and tennis tournaments have been arranged and the campus is agog with "bear stories," and prospective "dark horses."

Basketball seems to be the center of attraction, but handball, fast becoming one of the popular intramural sports, is receiving a share of attention.

Tennis play will start in the annual free lance tournament as soon as the schedule can be drawn up. According to Gilbert Hermance, director of physical education, there will be a meeting of representatives of the various men's living organizations at the office of the Men's gymnasium at four o'clock, Thursday afternoon, to arrange the entire details of the various intramural sports. It is very important that all organizations have a representative at this meeting.

Journalism Honorary To Hold Open Meeting

All women journalism majors and wives of journalism instructors are to be invited to an open meeting of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary, to be held one week from today in Alumni Hall. This decision was reached at a meeting of the society yesterday noon at the Anchorage.

A short business meeting was conducted by Elise Schroeder, president, and it was decided that the organization will meet every other Tuesday hereafter.

Society

Phyllis Van Kimmell, Editor

Yesterday the Emerald printed the university social calendar and upon the same day, social activities of the Women's league began. The week will continue with the freshman assembly, the Get Wise Party for all women on the campus, and dances given by Alpha Omicron Pi, Theta Chi, and Chi Psi, terminating with Open House on Saturday night.

Women's League Has Reception for Mrs. Esterly

The Women's League reception Tuesday afternoon was held in Alumni hall of the Gerlinger building, honoring Dean Virginia Judy Esterly and Elizabeth Morwood, foreign scholar. Mrs. Esterly has been absent from the university for a year, studying abroad. Miss Morwood was the student chosen this year by the Women's League to study at the University of Oregon. She is from Belfast, Ireland. In the receiving line were Dean Esterly, Miss Morwood, Mrs. C. L. Schwering, Helen Peters, president of the Women's League, Joan Patterson, vice-president of the league, and Florence McNeerney, chairman of the foreign scholarship committee.

Chi Omegas Wedded During Summer

The announcement of the marriage of Mary Margaret Farrell, Chi Omega, to James Johnson, Sigma Chi, was made in September just before the opening of school. The marriage took place July 27, 1928, but had been kept secret until this time. Both graduated last spring. They are making their home in Honolulu, Hawaii. Two other Chi Omegas were married during the summer months. In August Mary Clark, '28, married Frank Riggs, '28, who is affiliated with Beta Theta Pi. The wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents at Heppner, Oregon. The couple are living in Eugene.

Frances Murphy, who attended the university here in '27, married Lieutenant John Wadman early in September at Vancouver. They are living at the Vancouver barracks, where Lieutenant Wadman is employed.

Houck-Fariss

A marriage of interest to many Houck, '25, to Cercene Fariss, '21. Mrs. Fariss is affiliated with Delta Zeta. She was a member of Theta Sigma Phi and well known in journalistic circles. The ceremony occurred June twenty-eighth at the home of the bride's parents on the campus is that of Gertrude in Portland.
