

Side Lines

Another Jones Plays Football . . .
Willamette Here to Win . . .
Reinhart to Direct Webfoots . . .

By Harry Van Dine

A FEW years back Lynn Jones was one of the Webfoots' greatest backfield men, winning mention on several All-Coast teams. He was one of those hard-hitting fullbacks who could plunge through for some gain almost every time he carried the pigskin. Today, on Hayward field, another Jones will don a football outfit, but not that of Oregon colors—he will play for the Willamette Bearcats. This younger Jones, Keith by name, is a freshman at the Salem institution and is holding down a regular tackle berth. Reports coming from the Capital city say that he plays his position like a veteran—he will show his stuff this afternoon.

THESE Willamette collegians are down here with the intention of winning the old ball game if they possibly can. It won't be the old story of how large a score Oregon will roll up, if press news is any indication of the strength of the Bearcats. They are reputed to have their best team in years, and they gave Oregon State a good workout in an early season game. Coach Spec Keene, the Bearcat mentor, is a smooth going sort of fellow, but he certainly teaches his men some first class football.

ONE young man who is fairly well known on the Oregon campus will don the moleskins for Willamette today. Ed Cardinal has been a star on the Bearcat basketball team for three years, but this is his first year on the gridiron. He is showing well as an end and also shifts to the backfield to take care of the punting duties quite frequently. If he plays football of the same class he shows in basketball he will cause the Webfoots plenty of trouble.

BILL Reinhart, backfield coach, will take over the job of directing the Webfoots in today's game, as Head Coach McEwan left yesterday for Seattle to view the Huskies in action against Southern California today. Six Oregon regulars will start against Willamette with reserves filling the other positions. Oregon's probable starting lineup of Wood and Fletcher, ends; Colbert and Christensen, tackles; Lillie and West, guards; Stardleman, center; and Robinson, Donohue, Captain Mason, and Hatton, backs, is a well balanced one and the Salem team will have to have plenty of power to stop them.

A LARGE crowd for a minor game is expected to be in the stands at Hayward field when the opening whistle is blown today. We feel certain that most of the freshmen will be attending the contest, escorted by their bigger brothers, and they will parade before the grandstand between halves. The new band will be there to supply the proper music for the affair, which will be the first trial of the new system of intelligently initiating the freshman class. Immediately after the ceremonies a new wave of green will be much in evidence—the green to be worn on the tops of the various freshmen's heads. Thus will a new class come to Oregon.

TWO other northwest schools will try their hands against California schools today—Washington meeting Southern California at Seattle, and Washington State mixing it with the California Bears at Berkeley. At present Southern Cal is leading the conference, by virtue of its two victories over conference members, and the Huskies, who were held to a 6 to 6 tie by Montana last Saturday, will have a busy afternoon trying to stop the Trojans. The Huskies show flashes of real power but have failed to consistently play good ball. The Cougars haven't met any strong teams thus far and are really an unknown quantity. California played St. Mary's to a 0 to 0 tie last week.

Tom Mix to Be at State Theatre Soon

The State theatre will also change its bill Sunday, offering the old Western favorite, Tom Mix, in "Outlawed." The current attraction, "Two Lovers," being a romantic tale of life and love in the sixteenth century.

Frosh Work Hard After Varsity Tilt

Lineup Stays Unchanged After Week's Practice; Reserves Strong

Plays Gain Precision, Snap in Practice

"Do it again." This phrase uttered with remarkable frequency by "Prink" Callison indicates just what the freshman football team is doing these late afternoons. The squad has reached the stage where they have an idea of what they are trying to do and Callison and his assistants are working on the theory that if you do a thing enough times you will get it right. Through the policy of "do it again," the plays that the first-year men go through in dummy scrimmage are acquiring that element of timing and precision which makes for yardage in a game. The coaches have been working on the line and backfield as separate units, drilling them in their respective duties in the execution of the plays and then bringing the two together in dummy scrimmage against the second team.

Backfield Named

Yesterday the first backfield was made up of Currie, Watts, Sheehey, and Rushlow with Dirks alternating with the latter for a part of the afternoon session. This combination has been the regular lineup consistently during the week and have successfully withstood the competition of the second team, which is quite a job, by the way, as there is a lot of good reserve material in the squad which in time will make it hot for the first string. Particularly noticeable at the practice sessions is the fact that the freshmen backs are handling the ball with more ease than heretofore. In reverse plays and plays involving lateral and basketball passes the men handling the ball have developed timing and precision which has been stressed by the coaching staff.

Line Unchanged

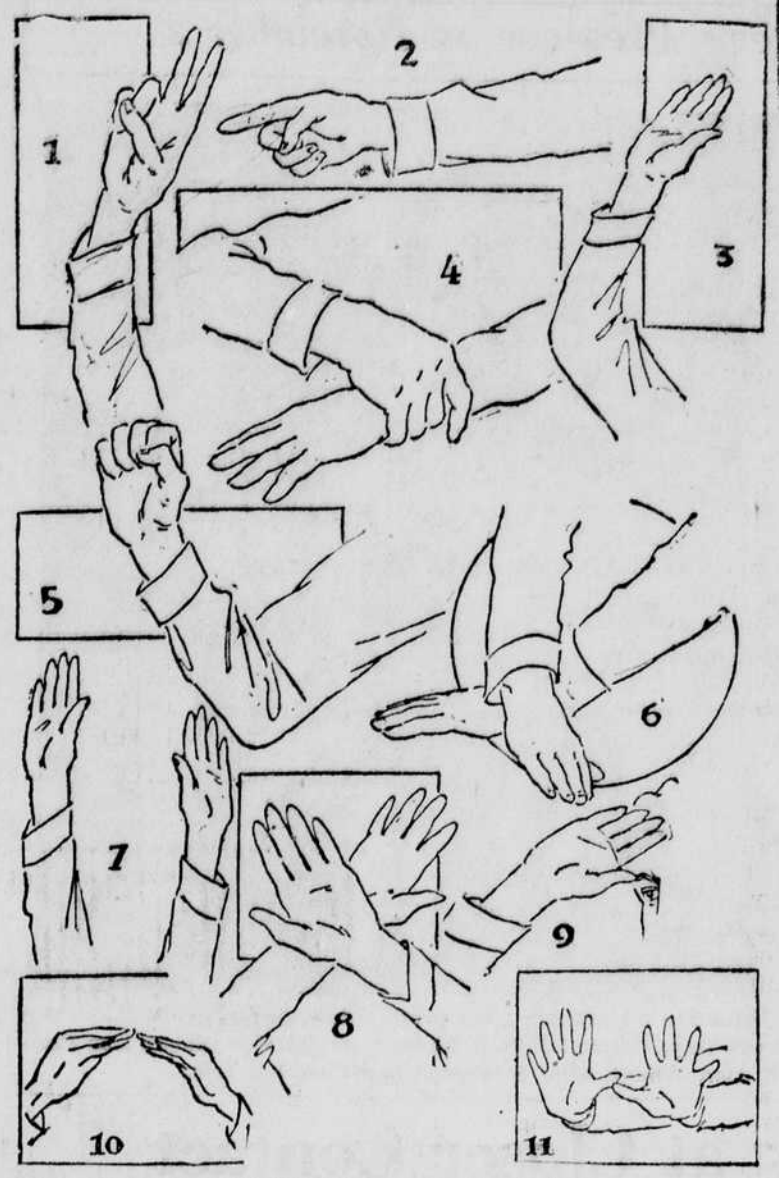

Like the backfield lineup, the line has not been changed this week, Hare and Decker being at end; Morgan and Cliff at tackle; Jack Hughes and Stoehr at guard; and Bernie, the other member of the Hughes family, at center. Callison is devoting the major part of his time to perfecting the line play and the line has improved a great deal in the past week. The guards are coming out to form interference faster and harder, and the line generally is working with more snap. Due to the fact that the varsity was taking a light workout yesterday in preparation for the game with Willamette today, the freshmen were denied the chance of a scrimmage with them. However, the encounters earlier in the week gave the coaches an idea of what the men could do and they have been working this week to remove the weak spots which showed up in the struggles.

U.C.L.A. Fraternities Get National Charters

Los Angeles — (P.I.P.) — Two new national fraternities are represented in the student body at the University of California at Los Angeles with the beginning of the fall semester. They are Beta Kappa and Lambda Chi Alpha. The two national bodies issued charters to two local groups at the university during the summer months. The granting of the two new charters brings the total of national men's fraternities on the campus of the university of California at Los Angeles to nineteen. Plans for the formal installation of the new chapters are being made.

A well-educated Vienna man has offered to sell the film rights to his suicide, which he is planning for the near future. He plans to blow himself up with a home-made infernal machine.

Here's Grid Signals

IT MAY BE INTERESTING to the football fans to study the above signals, which will be used by officials this fall on the gridiron. This "penalty code" will make it much easier to follow the action and better understand what is going on. The meaning of the signals:

1. SAFETY—Right arm raised, first two fingers opened.
2. OFFSIDE—One arm extended, index finger pointing at offender.
3. DEAD BALL—Both arms raised over head, palms forward.
4. HOLDING—Both arms extended shoulder high, right hand grasping left wrist.
5. CLIPPING, ROUGHING, PILING ON—Right arm extended to side and extended upward from elbow, fist clenched.
6. INCOMPLETE PASS OR MISSED GOAL—Arms crossed before body, palms down.
7. TOUCHDOWN OR GOAL—Both arms raised overhead, palms forward.
8. TOUCHBACK—Arms raised over head, crossed at wrists.
9. PENALTY DEADLINED—Right arm raised in saluting position.
10. FOUL ON BOTH SIDES—Both arms raised over head, finger tips touching and palms down.
11. INTERFERENCE—Both arms extended in posture suggesting "warding off."

Cross Country Men in Training For State Meet

Hayward Looking for New Course to Replace Old Inadequate Trail

With twenty men turning out daily the cross-country training program is well under way. As yet, due to conflicting schedules which do not permit all the men to turn out at the same time, Coach Bill Hayward has not been able to organize the squad as well as he desires. However, he hopes to iron out all the difficulties in the near future and make the best use of time between now and November 2, the date of the meet with Oregon State. Though the old course has been pretty well torn up with sections of pavement and he is looking for a new trail, Hayward is satisfied for the present to let his men train on the cinder track and the old course. When the squad is better organized and the men have attained some degree of condition he will try out some of the lanes and by-ways in the vicinity of the campus in an effort to find a suitable substitute for the old, inadequate course. The squad as it now stands is not complete and anyone interested may still sign up on the bulletin board outside Hayward's office in McArthur court or see the coach personally. The time scheduled for the daily turnout is 4 o'clock in the afternoon. Hayward urges that all who are able to turn out at this time, do so as it will aid him in organizing the team.

Seventy-seven new faculty members were added to the staff of Washington State college this fall by the board of regents.

Oregon Ducklings To Help with Yells On Hayward Field

Youngster's Organization Holds Meeting to Promote Pep

When the opening whistle of today's game shrills across Hayward field, there will be some 350 young men from the grade and high schools of the city, organized into their own rooting section and yelling their heads off for Oregon. These are the Oregon Ducklings. This group, which was organized to stimulate interest among the high school and grade school students of Eugene in university athletics, had a pep meeting last night at the downtown Y. M. C. A. under the direction of "Doc" Robnett and "Chuck" Reed. Reed has been drilling the Ducklings in Oregon yells and Robnett has been sponsoring the organization. This group of rooters, which is expected to reach a membership of 500 by the time of the Oregon State game, has its own yell leader in the person of "Brue" Stauffer, who is under the tutelage of Reed. Robnett announces that the only fee for membership is the 75c which they pay for a season football ticket.

October Number of 'Old Oregon' Large

Enlarged to 44 pages over the customary 34, the October issue of "Old Oregon," alumni magazine, will be the largest in many months. Questionnaires were sent out during the summer to all alumni asking "who's doing what and why" so that there will be three times as much news of the classes as usual. A special picture of the faculty which includes practically all the members was taken for "Old Oregon" at the last meeting. The sports section will also display

DENTIST
1209 Pearl Phone 2929
DR. L. L. BAKER

"SAVE YOUR EYES"
And you will be money ahead.
DR. ELLA C. MEADE
OPTOMETRIST
14 8th Ave. W. Phone 330

P. A. Test Scheduled At Gym This Morning

FRESHMEN who missed the first physical ability test, or those who are desirous of raising their total points in that event will have an opportunity to do so this morning, according to Gilbert Hermance, who is in charge of the examination. Due to conflicting Saturday classes, two sections will be held this morning. The first will start promptly at eight o'clock and the second at ten.

new and different photographs. Delbert Addison, editor of the sports section, has obtained a picture of thirteen football letter men, the captain of the team, and the new coaches as well as the "quarter ton babies," Colbert and Christensen.

Language Department To Hold First Meeting

The faculty of the dance language department will hold its first meeting of the year at a banquet to be held at the Anchorage at six o'clock Friday evening. The dinner will be informal, and all business will be dispensed with for the occasion. All members of the romance language faculty and their wives are invited to the banquet.

Booth-Kelly Lumber Co.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Douglas Fir Lumber
Lath—Slabwood—Hogged Fuel

ALL LUMBER GRADE MARKED

... Two Birds with One Phone

Just Phone 825

Now, you may enjoy the convenience of having both your laundry and dry cleaning done at the same establishment. Here, you may be sure that the job will be done with all speed, care and thoroughness possible.

New Service Laundry

839 HIGH STREET

Frosh Lids 30c

COMB FREE

UNIVERSITY PHARMACY
Students' Drug Store

TAYLOR U-DRIVE SYSTEM

ATTENTION STUDENTS
Talk to us about our new low rates
Late Model Graham Paige
Call 2185 Coupes and Sedans 857 Pearl St.

Barbara Gould Creams

4 BASIC AIDS TO BEAUTY

Cleaning Cream Tissue Cream
Astringent Cream Finishing Cream

$1.00 Each—Ask Us for Samples

Kuykendall Drug Co.

870 Willamette St.

I don't know whether you folks know it or not—but we have most of our goods ordered for Christmas now. Maybe it's a little too early—but you might be interested in this advance tip.

I've seen some of the things they ordered and folks—if you think we've had good gift displays before—Well, as Al Jolson would say: "You ain't heard nothin' yet!"

I can hardly wait until you can see 'em, too. And the boss says I can tell you it won't be long now until you can!

Let me know!

TICK.

"If it comes from Skeles it must be good."

SKELES
Jewelry Store
927 Willamette

THINGS THAT REMIND YOU

—OF—

OREGON

Four years from now is a different matter. The memory of that picnic, that date or that game will go slithering off to nothingness—unless you have a few reminders of those pleasant times about you.

Now is the time to buy your Memory Book as a place to keep those reminders. Now is the time to start gathering about you all those things—pennants, jewelry or banners—that are to remind you of Oregon in years to come.

MEMORY BOOKS $3.75—PENNANTS 45c TO $3.25—OREGON SEAL JEWELRY—BOOK ENDS—PILLOWS—BANNERS—RACKET COVERS

the UNIVERSITY "CO-OP"

Harry Van Dine, Editor
Joe Brown, Asst. Editor
George Erickson, Phil Cogswell, Jack Burke, Fred Elliott, Beth Salway, Hal Waffle, Mack Hall, Dave Wilson.