Team Looks Better Daily... Wilderman at it Again... Colbert and Christensen Ready

By Harry Van Dine

ANOTHER day of practice has passed and now only three more days are left before the Ore-

The team will probably work out on the Multnomah stadium field Friday, with only a light signal practice con-

OF COURSE, practically the same lineup is expected to start—but with a wealth of new plays the team is expected to battle to the last ditch to stay in the running for the Northwest title.

ONLY two changes, at the most, are expected to be made in the Oregon lineup. Of course the exact lineup will not be announced until just before the game but it would not be surprising to see Harry Wood, the scrappy veteran, replace Jack Erdley at left end.

THE demon publicity hound—Sam Wilderman—is in Portland and the university can rest assured that Oregon will get plenty of publicity for the game.

"If every student, individually, will consider himself responsible for not only his own conduct but also for the actions of those carrying the university name as well, future football games in Portland will be assured," affirms Tom Stoddard.

Varsity Grid Squad Points For Vandals

McEwan Works Men Hard For Idaho Tilt; Team Looks for Struggle

Coach Demonstrates Way It Should be Done

The Oregon varsity is on fire again. The way the men sweated and tore around at practice last night was evidence enough of that.

For an hour and a half, until it became too dark to see the ball, Coach McEwan had his first two teams driving at each other both in dummy and regular scrimmage.

Once in a while one of the coaches or players would bellow something about Idaho, and immediately the sawdust and saliva would begin to fly.

At the finish of one play, Captain McEwan dived into a pile-up and hauled out one of the reserve guards, roaring something about how rotten he looked on offense.

McEwan braced himself across the line of scrimmage and invited the guard to bowl him over. The guard was unsuccessful. A half-dozen men in succession were then given the same privilege.

Discuss Stanford Game Night before last McEwan had his men up in the McArthur court lecture room watching and discussing slow motion pictures of the Oregon-Stanford game.

The Webfoots are not going to take any chances with Idaho. Scouts have reported the Vandals to be plenty tough. Even comparative scores tell that much.

Idaho has so far exhibited a great passing offense with a running attack seldom carrying outside of tackles. On the outside, the passes are all that should worry the Webfoots, while the line plays, should Idaho continue with the same system, promise to be just Oregon's meat.

Frosh Football Team Will Open Against Indians

Oregon State Rook Game Postponed; Yearlings Need More Fire

Friday, Prink Callison's freshman football team will make its debut against the Chemawa Indians, at Hayward field, in a game scheduled to take the place of the Oregon State Rook game which was to have been played at Corvallis the following day.

Although badly beaten by "Dick" Newman's Rooks last Saturday, the "redskins" can be counted on to give the yearlings a lot to think about. In their present state of mind and condition it looks as though a few Phi Betes or professors are needed to aid in the thinking process.

Not even a tentative lineup for the yearlings' premiere has been decided upon at this time but with a few changes the lineup has remained the same the last week and barring further injury will probably be the same team that has been working together in practice.

To give predictors something to work on, the lineup at the close of yesterday's tea party was as follows: Decker and Larson, ends; Billings and Morgan, tackles; Stoehr and Smith, guards, and Bernie Hughes at center. In the backfield were Currie, number one; Garnett, two; Rushlow, three, and Horzertan four. Of these four backs the number two man seemed to be carrying the burden during scrimmage. He made some good gains and seemed particularly adept on the receiving end of the passes. Maybe he is getting into his stride and will continue to shine and on the other hand he may have showed up only because the others played as they did.

Frosh Who Fail In Wearing Lids To be Given Slips

New System of Checking Described at Oregon Knights Meeting

Punishment to be Given By Order of the 'O'

A new plan for checking up on the wearers of frosh lids was introduced at the meeting of the Oregon Chapter of Interscholastic Knights yesterday afternoon. Under the new system the offenders will be given warning slips by members of the Oregon Knights. Duplicates of the slips will be turned over to the Order of the O, who will be in charge of punishment. The new plan will do away with reports made against freshmen merely for spite or revenge.

Thirty men were formally pledged at the meeting. The pledges were instructed to wear their ribbons for one week and the duties and purpose of the organization were explained to them.

Oregon Knight sweaters with shields will be awarded to sophomores, proving their merit, at the end of the year.

not "artificial treatment"—make OLD GOLD ... a better and a smoother cigarette

OLD GOLD brought about a great change in smoking habits. It gave smokers a new freedom of enjoyment ... without any forbidden limits.

The man who used to say "I can't smoke until after lunch ... my throat is sensitive in the morning" now finds that he can "light up" whenever he pleases. For his morning OLD GOLD has no more throat-scratch than his breakfast omelet.

Likewise all those who have to guard their throats ... salesmen, singers, actors, and the like ... no longer have to stint their smokes, for OLD GOLD is as free of throat irritants as a glass of spring water.

Better tobaccos did it ... naturally good tobaccos ... extra-prime leaf made irritation-free by the violet rays of sunshine ... not by "artificial treatment."

If you like food that is naturally good, instead of food made good by "artificial treatment" ... you're sure to prefer OLD GOLD'S natural tobacco smoothness. Try a package ... and get a vote of thanks from both your throat and taste.
