Vandals to be Real Threat in Portland Game Saturday

Oregon to Have Trouble With New System Being

Used by Calland's Men Oregon Lineup Uncertain; Fight for Places Keen

WALDEMAR Pederson is the man who wears the name of the "Galloping Swede" and he has been playing havoc with the Idaho opponents this year. He plays quarterback on the Vandal team and has piled up more yardage than any other Idaho ball carrier. His scoring record totals six touchdowns. Press reports say that he really gallops after he gets through the line, but we will venture to say that he will have one tough time to puncture the Oregon forward wall. Of course Pederson has very good interference with Bill Kershishnik and Orville Hult clearing his path and these men hit plenty hard. However, Coach McEwan has always been noted as a man who develops great lines and Oregon's first line of defense is not weak.

Kitzmiller Idaho has a bunch of hard-boiled sophomores this year to take into account, the most talked about of these being a fellow called the Galloping Swede. This Waldemar Pederson is hailed as Kitzmiller II, and from all reports is called the Galloping Swede just for the purpose of letting people know he is in a class with the Oregon Flying Dutchman, Johnny Kitzmiller.

To date, however, the Spud-diggers have failed to produce a man they can introduce as a second Bobby Robinson. Of course the Vandals hate the name Cougar, since W. S. C. and Idaho are only a few miles apart. That may be why they hesitate to tack a sobriquet of wild cat or cougar onto one of their beloved sons, and no one can say that catty doesn't come nearer describing Bobby than any other word.

New System There is one huge factor that clogs up dopesters' pens on this game—Coach Leo Calland and the new system he has brought to Idaho this year from Southern California where he played under the Trojan coach, Howard Jones. Oregon never did play one of Jones' thundering herds, although O. S. C. has done so nearly every season. The Trojans have a funny system, and Calland has transplanted it.

Instead of allowing all four backs to carry the ball on various plays, the Vandals this year have been developing a number of ball-carrying specialists who are sent into the contests one at a time and carry the ball on every down until they are tired out. The other three men of the backfield are interference runners.

It is hardly probable that there will be any change in the Oregon first string lineup Saturday, but there is some conjecture as to who the 11 men starting the game will be.

End Hotly Contested There are about 15 men on the Oregon varsity who are apparently so close together in abilities that the coaches always have a job on their hands picking just one team. Colbert, Shields, Lillie, Stadelman, and Christenson are likely to start in the line, but the end positions are being hotly contested. Wood, Archer, Erdley, Fletcher, and Browne have all been getting practically an equal amount of attention this week.

Abilities won't count for so much in the backfield as type. If McEwan wants a steady, plugging, hard-hitting backfield his lineup will include Williams, Douahue, Moeller, Kitzmiller, and Mason. If he wants to work with speed and passes he will rely on Robinson, Moeller, Hutton, Mason, Kitzmiller, and Londahl.

Last night in practice Ralph Bates, reserve tackle, took a blow on the nose during scrimmage. The injury may not keep Bates from playing Saturday should he be badly needed, but it is probable that he will be given a chance to recover before being called into a game.

A Pair of Idaho Threats

Here we have the Vandals' Galloping Swede, Waldemar Pederson, and his running mate, Pederson is the big noise of the Idaho attack.

TENNIS TEAM WILL FEEL LOSS OF TWO LAST YEAR VETERANS

OREGON'S tennis team which won the Pacific Coast Conference title last year will lose two of its four star players, but still prospects are bright for a winning team next season.

Bradshaw Harrison and Henry Neer will be missing from the varsity when it goes on the courts again. Harrison has won a letter at California and one here. He loses a year of competition through the year of transfer and so will be ineligible. Henry Neer has won his three stripes.

Sherman Lockwood and Stanley Alquist will be eligible and should be a doubles combination that will be very strong. As singles players they have had a great deal of experience and from their previous performances they can be classed as real stars.

Gordon Jason and Bob Hoogs, sophomores, are the men that are expected to fill in the shoes of Harrison and Neer and keep the strength of the team up to what it was last year. That is expecting a good deal considering that they are green in varsity competition. Tennis tournaments, however, are not limited to colleges.

Freshman Squad Starts to Show Signs of Promise

Yearlings to Open Season At 3:45 Tomorrow in Game with Indians

Although hampered to a great extent by their first attempts at handling a wet ball, the yearling football team last night, showed more promise of greater things to come than at any time so far this season.

However, it's about time, for any team or squad of men who have been worried over and drilled as they have been by Prink Callison, should at least show promise. Somewhere in the last day or so they have learned to show some signs of spirit and enthusiasm. After running through a play in practice last night they would hurry and line up on the ball in a way which somewhat approaches the manner Prink desires. If this spirit grows as it should and the men play as they should and can play, there will be a massacre tomorrow and it won't be the "white man's last stand."

The game with the Chemawa Indians will be played at 3:45 o'clock tomorrow afternoon and will be preceded by a local high school game. As yet the starting lineup is still in the mind of the first year coach and any man's guess as to who will get the choice is as good as the next. The only position over which there seemed to be any doubt last night, however, was guard. Jack Hughes and Smith alternated in the position throughout the session and it looks to be a toss-up as to who will have the call tomorrow. In the backfield Don Watts replaced Forrest Howerton, his injured foot having mended to such an extent that he was able to resume his place at number four. With these exceptions the lineup remained as it was Tuesday night.

Donut Basketball To be Divided in Four-Club League

Schedules for Skirmishes Drawn; Play to Start October 22

Donut basketball schedules were drawn yesterday, dividing the twenty-eight teams into seven four-club leagues. Entries do not close until 4 this afternoon, but there is little likelihood of additional teams entering. The leaders of the leagues will be determined by the percentage system of games won and lost, and the school championship will be decided in the same manner between the league winners.

Hubert McCormick requests the organizations to turn in today the names of the men which they expect to use unless they have done so previously. Only listed men will be allowed to play. McCormick also states that when play starts October 22 each team must be ready to go exactly on time. Referees will be empowered to forfeit games if the players are late.

Crisper, tastier Better Bran Flakes A bowl of Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes with milk or cream makes you "sit up and take notice." They are so much crisper. And what a flavor! It's the famous flavor of Pep. As you eat each spoonful remember that you are getting the nourishment from the wheat. Ask that Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes be served at your fraternity or campus restaurant. The most popular ready-to-eat cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include ALL-BRAN, Corn Flakes, Rice Krispies, Wheat Krumbles, and Kellogg's Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit. Also Kaffee Hag Coffee—the coffee that lets you sleep. Kellogg's PEP BRAN FLAKES
