

School Pride Stressed by Dr. H. Rosson

Frosh Assembly Lecture Includes Advice on Student's Conduct

Favorable Opinion Sought From Strangers

"Proper Things in Proper Places" was the subject of a talk given to the freshman class last evening by Dr. Hugh Rosson, of the college of law.

Dr. Rosson's main point was a plea to the freshman to assume a real pride in his school and a definite responsibility for reasonable conduct. The speaker cited as instances of questionable conduct the several university students who appeared at the game Saturday quite definitely under the influence of liquor; he also mentioned the fact that students often thoughtlessly appear at important functions in "cords" and even shirt-sleeves, thereby giving to the casual visitor a rather unfavorable opinion of the school. Dr. Rosson advised the student to be discreet and considerate of his school's reputation, as well as of his own.

John H. Stehn, director of the band, led the first year men and women in a rendition of the Pledge Song and of Mighty Oregon at the close of Dr. Rosson's talk.

VOLLEYBALL FOUND POPULAR BY WOMEN

Forty-five women have already turned out for volleyball but more are wanted, as there is still room for more on teams, according to Miss Phyllis Gove, coach in charge.

The practices have turned out to be very peppy and a lot of fun, and will be enjoyed by all who are interested in the game. Monday is open night, and practice will start at 4:45 and last until 5:20, on account of so many early dinners then. Teams will be chosen in two weeks, also class captains and class managers.

TRACK ASPIRANTS TO HOLD MEETING

A meeting of all freshman cross-country track aspirants has been called for 4:00 o'clock this afternoon by Lawrence Bay, freshman president. All freshmen who have been turning out for cross-country or who wish to turn out are urged to be present at this meeting. According to Bill Hayward, track coach, no frosh team will be sent to Medford next month to compete with the Oregon State Rooks unless a sufficient number of runners turn out.

WOMEN'S SWIMMING MANAGERS NAMED

More girls are asked to come out for swimming by Alberta Rives, head of that sport. Expert coaching has been provided; racing, racing dives, and fancy diving being taught. No experience is necessary other than a fundamental knowledge of swimming.

Monday is open night; Tuesdays and Thursdays, freshman and sophomore practices; Wednesdays and Fridays, juniors and seniors. All practices last from 5:00 to 5:30.

Class managers have been announced as follows: Peggy Slautson, freshman; Barbara Mann, sophomore; Margaret McMillan, junior; and Myrtle Gorst, senior.

GUIDANCE OF OPINION WILL BE SURVEYED

(Continued from Page One) The city during times of war. It is expected that some interesting results will come from this section of the survey.

Wilfred Brown, senior in journalism, will study the influence of reading matter of various kinds on the public opinion of the people of Eugene. The city and university libraries will co-operate in this study.

The influence of the school on public opinion will be studied by Laura Clithere, through interviews with teachers, examination of textbooks and analysis of various school activities believed to have an influence on opinion.

ADVANCE IS SHOWN IN DISARMAMENT

(Continued from Page One) out it has proved effective. For 112 years the U. S. and Canada have maintained an unprotected boundary line and have avoided war through the treaty of 1817.

Similarly, the boundary line between Chile and Argentina, and the demilitarization of the Rhine zone are outstanding examples of the successful disarmament.

"With the Paris peace pact for the renunciation of war accepted by the entire civilized world," Dr. Mez concluded, "and with perfect agreement between the leaders of Great Britain and America, the foundation has been laid for so promising an international structure of good will, that the ancient ideal of disarmament seems to be within the reach of mankind."

Women's Tennis Drawings to be Made Wednesday

Aspirants Asked to Sign Today on Gerlinger Bulletin

All women interested in tennis are asked to sign up today on the bulletin board in the Gerlinger building for the annual fall tennis tournament. Drawings will be made tomorrow and the results will be posted Wednesday.

The tournament will be on a strict elimination basis, with the better players seeded. As this tournament is not sponsored by the Women's Athletic Association, no points toward a letter or sweater will be awarded.

If the good weather continues, the tournament will be completed in a short time. Matches will be arranged at the convenience of players, and referees will be provided by the physical education department. Watch the Emerald for the announcement of the pairings.

TUTTLE GIVES TALKS ON CHILD TRAINING

Harold S. Tuttle, of the education department, has been asked by the Portland Parent-Teacher association to give a series of lectures on Child Training. Mr. Tuttle gave his first speech at a large audience last week to a Portland audience.

This week he will give his second lecture on Thursday at the Portland library on "Education, Moral and Immoral." Mr. Tuttle conducted a series of lectures on the problems of "Home Discipline" last year for all mothers who were interested in the problems of the school child.

NINE ACTIVITIES ON CAMPUS SHOW PROFIT

(Continued from Page One) student ticket receipts. Faculty and student tickets, both regular and duplicate, last year brought in $35,665.25. This was at the rate of $4.50 per student-term (the remainder of the $5.25 going to the Emerald). Student registration, full-time, was 2,826, 2,410, and 2,516 for the three terms. These receipts were balanced with the apparent deficit of $41,764.61 and brought that amount down to the $6,099.36 announced in the last article.

Activities' profits, listed by classes, are: from one to one hundred dollars—Oregon Knight sweater deposit, Order of the "O," Homecoming; from one hundred to four hundred, Canoe Fete, graph, student directory; others, Oregon—$662.23 (after salaries were paid); Emerald, $3,526.02 (same); and varsity football—$9,739.14. The directory stands in a peculiar position for its profits are its income. There are no expenses charged against it.

'8-BALL' SHOWS SPIRIT BY CARRYING DRUM

(Continued from Page One) cleared a space on one of the tables; did a clog-dance and sang Al Joison's "Mammy" song with such professional nicety that the members of the band, even though they were Oregon students, tossed him about $4 in change.

Business looked good, and "8-Ball" accompanied the boys to the Broadway theatre for the pep rally. Here he repeated his song and dance act and received a big hand.

Carrying the drum in the parade earned him admission to the stadium. "8-Ball," who confided that his real name is Marion Fullove, had never seen a football game before, but he soon got the general idea, and every time an Oregon back caught a pass or made a long run, he made as much noise as a boy four feet high can muster.

Marion was sorry to see the gang leaving for Eugene, and he assured the band that he would always be ready to help out the cause with his professional services when it came to Portland.

Order an Oregonian.

Oregon Program Staged Friday at Portland Schools

Stoddard, Hunt and Reed Talk; Quartet and Band Broadcast

Student bodies of five Portland high schools were entertained last Friday with an Oregon program put on by Tom Stoddard, president of the A. S. U. O.; Chuck Reed, yell king; Paul Hunt, chairman of the Greater Oregon committee; and the university quartet.

By arrangement with the city superintendent of schools, special assemblies for the Oregon group were called at the Washington, Grant, Roosevelt, Franklin, and Benson high schools.

"We were very well received at each school," said Stoddard in commenting on the tour. "Seri-ously, the students hated to see us go."

Stoddard spoke of the university's interest in the Portland schools; Reed talked about the Idaho game; and Paul Hunt outlined the work of the Greater Oregon committee.

Oregon songs were featured by the quartet, which is composed of George Barron, William McNab, John McMullen, and Don Eva.

This group also appeared in a radio program over KGW at 10:00 Thursday evening. Two other radio appearances were put on Friday evening in conjunction with the band, the first over KEX at 6:00 and the second from KGW at 10:00.

Many Fine New Books Added to Homer Aggregate

Unique Four-Volume Set of 'Divine Comedy' Included

Nineteen handsomely bound and illustrated books have been added recently to the Pauline Potter Homer collection of beautiful books in the main library.

Unique among these recent additions to the shelves of the collection is a four-volume edition of Dante's "Divine Comedy," translated by M. B. Anderson. The set is bound in classic vellum and is printed upon a specially prepared European watermarked stock. It is one of a limited edition of 230 copies, released by John H. Nash of San Francisco.

The books received this fall form an important addition to the collection, being illustrated by such well-known artists as Hatheral, Rackham, McDowall, Leighton, Thomson, W. G. Simmonds, and R. C. Alexander.

The complete list is as follows:

- "Return of the Native," by Thomas Hardy.
- "Spanish and Portuguese Gardens," by Rose W. Nichols.
- "Tragedy of Hamlet," by William Shakespeare.
- "Tragedy of Romeo and Juliet," by Shakespeare. (Gift of Mrs. Addie Osborn.)
- "Vicar of Wakefield," by Oliver Goldsmith.
- "The Little Duke," by Charlotte Yonge.
- "Castle of Oranto," by Horace Walpole.
- "Diary 1851," by David Garrick.
- "Peaks and Frescoes," by Arthur McDowall.
- "Hansel and Gretel," by Grimm brothers.
- "The Cloud That Lifted," by

Maurice Maeterlinck. "The Great Secret," by Maurice Maeterlinck. "Springtime of Life," by A. C. Swinburne. "Great Painters and Their Famous Bible Pictures," by William Griffith.

"Book of the American Spirit," by Howard Pyle. "The Book in Italy," by William D. Orcutt. "Fairland," by Ida R. Outhwaite.

FRENCH STUDENTS TO HOLD MEETING

The French club will hold its first fall term meeting this Thursday night at 8 o'clock at the Girls' Oregon club, 1374 Onyx street.

"Everyone interested in French is urged to come," Felix Legrand, instructor in French announced yesterday. Membership is limited to all second year and upper-division students but the meeting this week will be open to everyone.

The program for Thursday has not been made out as yet, nor has the yearly calendar been decided upon, but last year the French club was very active. A French play was given by the club, with the aid of faculty members, and it not only proved a great success, but also an inspiration for future productions. A play of similar nature may be given this year, but it has not been selected.

GIRLS MUST HAVE PARENT'S LETTER

Girls attending the game with Washington in Seattle this weekend must have a letter of permission from their parents, as has been the rule in previous games, it has been announced at the dean of women's office. If girls travel at night or stop anywhere along the way, they must have a chaperone as is the case if they stay in hotels in Seattle.

Saturday classes will not be dismissed for the game.

State College, Pa.—(IP)—Pennsylvania State College is planning to have the largest harmonica band in the world, with each of her twelve hundred freshmen practicing on the instruments. The new-fangled band is to be used, if successful, in giving musical aid to the home team in football encounters. The musicians are being instructed by Professor R. W. Grant, director of the college music department.

EVERYBODY'S GOING

NEW STATE THEATRE

RUBENY FAMILY SHOWBOAT

Today!

MONTE BLUE

In

"CONQUEST"

A

Vitaphone All-Talking Drama of Air-Adventure at the South Pole

Also

Pathe Sound-News

Discussions Soon To be Started by Y. W. C. A. Groups

Preparations Are Complete For Study Meetings For Women

With leaders from the university faculty and from Eugene church circles, Y. W. C. A. discussion and study groups will begin next week, according to Betty Hughes, general chairman, who yesterday outlined the schedule for the program.

Preparations have been completed and Miss Hughes and others helping with arrangements are confident that the program is an excellent one that will offer, in one of its branches, a particular appeal to many women students.

The series will last about six weeks with one hour meetings each week. The schedule follows:

"What Is the Relation of Sociology and Psychology to Religion?" Rev. Clay Palmer, of the Congregational church, leader. This will be concerned with the consideration and evaluation of the contributions of these social sciences to religious thought. The group will meet Wednesday at four o'clock at the Bungalow.

"The Expression of Religion in Art," with Dr. Reinhardt as leader. This group will meet one evening every two weeks. The date will be announced later. It will take up the interpretation and appreciation of the arts, with special attention on religious phases.

"The Life of Jesus, with Special Reference to the Attitudes He Developed," will be the subject Dorothy Thomas, Y. W. secretary, will have. Her group will meet at three o'clock on Wednesday afternoons. It will deal with the attitudes Jesus developed, why they were developed, and whether they would have been the same today.

Dean Virginia Judy Esterly will lead a group on "The Oregon Woman," meeting at 4:15 Wednesday at the Y. W. bungalow.

Society -

Phyllis Van Kimmell, Editor

Social Affairs Are Lax On Campus Due To Game

Social events of the week-end were practically overlooked in anticipation of the Oregon-Idaho game in Portland. The majority of the students on the campus made a general exodus north to witness the Oregon victory. Those students remaining on the campus were entertained Saturday evening by open house held at the Pi Beta Phi house and also by an impromptu dance arranged by members of Alpha Tau Omega and Theta Chi, and given at the Theta Chi chapter house.

Officer Is Honored By Zeta Tau Alpha

Members of Zeta Tau Alpha honored their national inspector, Miss Mildred V. Spragg of Dellair, Ohio, and their housemother, Mrs. Elizabeth Scaiefe at a tea held in their chapter house on Eleventh street, Friday afternoon. The decorations were in the colors of the sorority, turquoise blue and steel gray.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Scaiefe, Miss Spragg, Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, Mrs. C. L. Schwerling, and Miss Mary Frances Dillard. Mrs. Harry W. Titus, Mrs. S. D. Allen, Mrs. John H. Seavey, and Mrs. J. H. McKinley poured. About two hundred guests were invited.

Y. W. C. A. National Secretary Guest

Miss Marcia Seeber, national student secretary of the Y. W. C. A., will be honored today at a luncheon given by members of the local Y. W. C. A. advisory board, at the Osburn hotel. Mrs. John Maxwell Adams and Mrs. Roy

Wood are in charge of the affair. In addition to the active members of the board, the following honorary guests have been invited: Mrs. Prince L. Campbell, Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall, Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly, and Mrs. C. L. Schwerling.

Logs of 130 species of trees brought back from Liberia by an expedition, are to be experimented on by Yale scientists this year in an effort to find their medicinal qualities. At least 75 of the trees are said to contain poison either in their barks, leaves or fruits.

Movies -

Evelyn Shaner, Editor

McDONALD—Richard Barthelmess in "The Drag."

REX—"The Awful Truth" with Ina Claire.

STATE—Monte Blue in "Conquest."

COLONIAL—"The Man and the Moment," starring Rod La Rocque and Billie Dove.

... and even

Julius Caesar

could'nt say with assurance

"How's for a clean shirt, Etheop'?"

Even you Freshmen can command more than Caesar did without receiving the traditional hack by just calling the—

Eugene Steam Laundry

178 8th W. Phone 123

NOW! WILLIAM FOX SILVER JUBILEE

Can young love and old live happily under the same roof?

Richard A. Rowland presents

RICHARD BARTHELMESS in "DRAG"

A First National Vitaphone Picture Tense, Human Drama Interspersed with Hearty Laughter

First Motion Pictures OREGON-IDAHO Football Game A Scoop!

NOW PLAYING

Alice Day Lucian Littlefield Tom Dugan Lila Lee

McDONALD FOX WEST COAST THEATRES

100% TALKING PICTURE

On That Date!

TRY OUR NEW SPECIAL

Date Walnut

ICE CREAM

EAT ICE CREAM THE DESSERT SUPREME

OCTOBER SPECIALS

Week Beginning October 27

BRICK

Vanilla Rubynette Ice Cream
Date Walnut Ice Cream
Vanilla Rubynette Ice Cream

BULK

Date Walnut Ice Cream

Eugene Fruit Growers Assn.

Phone 1480 8th and Ferry

Always a Good Show

FOX REX

STARTING TOMORROW

"HOLD YOUR MAN"

With LAURA LA PLANTE 100% TALKING

INA CLAIRE In "THE AWFUL TRUTH"

And Round Up in Sound

LAST DAY

Tuesday Wednesday

Two of the screen's greatest lovers in an Elinor Glyn romance!

BILLIE DOVE and THE MAN and the MOMENT

with ROD LA ROCQUE

Coming Thursday

JOHN GILBERT in "DESERT NIGHTS"

Elinor Glyn's torrid tale of a loveless contract marriage, made in a moment of madness, broken in a moment of love.

Comedy, "TIGHT PLACES"

USUAL PRICES FOX NEWS

Colonial THEATRE