

Ion Lewis of Portland is Gift Donor

Gift Contains Rare Titles From Personal Library Of Architect

Whidden Collection Also Sent as Loan

A gift of 240 books, manuals, magazines, photograph albums, plans, plates, portfolios, etc., presented to the school of architecture by Ion Lewis, retired architect of Portland, has been received at the main library. As fast as the checking, accessioning, and cataloguing can be taken care of, the collection is being transferred to the architectural library.

"This is one of the most valuable gifts that has been received at the library for some considerable time," said M. H. Douglas, librarian, commenting on the collection.

Writings Ancient

The gift, which contains some old volumes, written during the seventeenth century, is Mr. Lewis' personal library and will be valuable for research work.

"The act of his giving it," said Ellis Lawrence, dean of the school, "is a manifestation of the interest Mr. Lewis has always felt toward the university."

Word Received

The school has received word of the shipment of the Whidden library from William Whidden, also a Portland architect. This group is considerably larger and for the present is only being loaned to the university, Dean Lawrence said. It is expected, however, that this collection will also become the property of the university after certain matters of estate are cleared up.

Messrs. Whidden and Lewis, both very prominent architects, have been partners in business in Portland for more than 40 years. It was in their office that Dean Lawrence first began his career as a young architect.

GLENNA FISHER ACCEPTS POSITION

Miss Glenna Fisher, graduate of the school of business administration, 1927, and for the past two years secretary to Dean James H. Gilbert and Karl W. Onthank, has resigned, it was made known yesterday.

Miss Fisher has accepted a position as secretary to Dean Philip A. Parsons of the School of Applied Science situated in Portland. She will assume her new duties the first week in November.

While in school, Miss Fisher was a member of Kwama, Mortar Board and Phi Chi Theta, and was senior woman on the Student Council. She will be succeeded at the university by Miss Melba McDonald who attended the university a year ago and is at present employed in Eugene.

Methodists to Have Party Friday Eve

A barn party for all Methodists on the campus will be given Friday night by the Wesley club, student organization of the Methodist church, it is announced by Wilbur Sohm, president of the group. He extends a cordial invitation to all Methodist preference students.

Adelaide Benjamin is general chairman for the affair. Assisting her are Ruth Bryan, chairman of the refreshments committee; Bob Smith, in charge of decorations; Bill Vermont transportation; Beth Bowerman, program.

Games, stunts and group singing will feature the program. Those attending are asked to wear old clothes and meet at the Methodist church, Willamette street at Twelfth avenue, at 7:30 on Friday evening. A hayrack will take the students to the barn on the College Crest Loop road where the party will be held.

his or her complete section. Solicitation of unaffiliated Eugene students begins this morning under the direction of Hope Shelley and Ed Wells.

At the kick-off luncheon held yesterday noon at the College Side Inn, Lester McDonald explained to the gathering that the motif of the Oregon has been changed to a Hindu idea. This gives Martha Stevens, art editor, a broader and more colorful theme. Workers were urged to keep plugging during the whole campaign, and not to stop soliciting even though their own territory was finished. At the close of the successful meeting last night, everyone adjourned with an even more determined resolve to make the campaign and the 1930 Oregon a bigger success than ever before.

Those interested in membership in the organization are asked to attend.

RELATIONS CLUB TO HEAR DR. BARNES

China and Russia in Manchuria

"China and Russia in Manchuria," a paper by Dr. Walter Barnes of the history department, will be read by its author at a meeting of the International Relations club tonight at 7:15 in the Gerlinger building. The paper is particularly timely because of the Chinese Eastern Railway dispute, commented Avery Thompson, chairman of the organization. Dr. Barnes is an authority on Russia, having only this summer completed the manuscript for a volume on Russian history.

Those interested in membership in the organization are asked to attend.

Former Instructor is Instructor in Physics

Miss Beatrice A. Mason, who was probably the only woman to receive an M. A. in physics at the university, was an instructor in physics and mathematics at Yuba County Junior college, Marysville, California, this last summer.

Society - "New Spring" Given At Music Building Friday Night

Tomorrow evening the music building will be the scene of one of the larger affairs of the fall. This is the evening of music and drama being given by Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, Mrs. Eric W. Allen, Mrs. Otilie Turnbull Seybolt, and Mrs. Dean H. Walker. The entertainment is scheduled for eight-fifteen o'clock, and about five hundred guests have been invited to call.

The program will consist of a one-act play with Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Allen, and Mrs. Seybolt in the cast. The play was written by Mrs. Allen, and is titled "New Spring." Mrs. Thacher will give a group of piano solos and Mrs. Seybolt will read.

Dr. M. L. Bossing, professor C. L. Huffaker, H. V. Mathews, and I. A. Mathers, of the education department, left this morning for Bend. They expect to build a survey for a new elementary school there, and will not return until the latter part of the week.

Mr. Mathers and Mr. Mathews are graduate students of the department of education.

TEMINDS TO HOLD MEETING TONIGHT

A meeting of all active members of Temind, national collegiate honorary of the Eastern Star, has been called for 7:30 this evening by Renee Grace Nelson, newly elected president. The meeting is to be held at the Craftsman's club.

Plans for the year's activities will be outlined at the meeting, according to Miss Nelson, who says that a pledge list of 18 or 20 of the most prominent women in the freshman class will be announced in about two weeks.

Infirmiry Patients Not so Numerous

Patients now at the infirmiry are: Sarah Jo Dammasch, Pulido Maximo and O. A. Turner. Margaret Poorman and Bill McNabb were also treated at the infirmiry but were released yesterday.

MEN'S EMPLOYMENT DIRECTOR GRATIFIED

$10,000 worth of business had passed through the office and we thought that was a huge sum," Mrs. Donnelly said. "In comparison, last year the employment amounted to $52,000. Three years ago the university added the housing, and now I have a helper."

"I am still here in the Y, because I like to be in close contact with our boys. I like this work much better than teaching; it is such a worthwhile service to those who need an opportunity of earning an education," Mrs. Donnelly commented.

The new students who come to school are "the best ever!" in Mrs. Donnelly's eyes. She likes the freshmen and is greatly interested in their development.

Mrs. Donnelly said that much of the success in student employment is due to the loyal support of the people of Eugene in providing work for the students.

Gridgraph Speed Quicken by Use Of Radio Reports

Game with Huskies will be Featured with Combined Transmitters

Direct radio returns of the Oregon-Washington football game in Seattle Saturday will be received at McArthur court and will be combined with the Order of the O gridgraph to be held during the game, according to Ronald "Doc" Robnett, assistant graduate manager. The radio returns will be amplified by a series of loud-speakers owned by the university so that all present will hear plainly. At the same time the gridgraph will be operated from the radio returns, showing the position of the ball on the field and keeping account of yardage, etc.

The new arrangement has been contemplated by the Order of the O since the failure of the gridgraph to keep up with the radio during the Stanford-Oregon game. "No more will the Paul Reveres of the gridgraph be able to gallop in and announce the score fifteen minutes ahead of time," remarked Robnett, in commenting on the new plan.

Mez Speaks on Peace For Lecture Series

Dr. John R. Mez, of the economics department, gave a lecture last night, opening a series sponsored by the Portland League of Women Voters. The talk was given in the Portland Central library. The lectures are planned to be given monthly as open forums to take up current events.

Dr. Mez spoke on the present status of the peace movement, discussing Ramsay MacDonald's visit, the disarmament program, and other important developments. After his lecture the question was thrown open for discussion.

OREGON GRID CAPTAIN IS YOUTHFUL STAR

nically under way has been—disaster.

George is from The Dalles. He was born in 1908. After playing two years for The Dalles high, he came down to Oregon in the fall of '28 being what the coaches call a "find," and how many coast teams have "found" that out!

George has probably played his last for Oregon although we can scarcely realize it. It is mighty hard on him but it is the team that has lost the most, because—well it has lost Stadelman.

AT THE McDONALD

Beau Brummel was a devil with the ladies; Cleopatra was one with the men, but what's one devil or even two compared with four, especially if they be an acrobatic team in a circus daring all in every act? "4 Devils," which makes its premiere today at the McDonald, is not only a most absorbing circus story with an unusual love plot; it is Janet Gaynor's first talking vehicle long awaited by her vast army of admirers.

AT THE REX

"Hold Your Man," now at the Rex theatre, is a very amusing comedy of a young wife who wanted romance and got it a la carte in Paris; but when hubby tried the same stunt, well you know how these American women can fight for their men if need be.

AT THE COLONIAL

Give John Gilbert a desert night and a beautiful girl and the result will be Romance in capital letters. In the Colonial attraction, "Desert Nights," he has both. The desert scenes are captivating and the girl, Mary Nolan, a former Follies beauty, does not shirk her share of the love making.

AT THE STATE

One by one they go marching by. First we had "In Old Arizona." Now we have "In Old California." State by state we may have them all yet. "In Old California" is a robust romance of the great southwest, vibrant with adventure, romance, and Spanish fire.

Reid Hall Headquarters For International Federation

American college students or graduates planning to study abroad will find in Reid Hall, 4, Rue de Chevreuse, Paris, a very comfortable residence and an opportunity for acquaintance with university people of France and other nations, it was announced at the dean of women's office yesterday.

Reid hall is a residence for American, French and British graduate students and a headquarters of the International Federation of University Women. It is a picturesque building in the Latin quarter, with an attractive garden.

Those persons interested may communicate with Virginia Newcomb, American secretary, 165 West 83rd St., New York City.

BALLOTS MAILED FOR HOMECOMING

Ballots were sent out today to over 4000 alumni in the state of Oregon for the purpose of selecting delegates to the Alumni convention during Homecoming. "A great display of interest is indicated. Everything points to the biggest convention we ever have had," says Jeannette Calkins, Alumni secretary.

The state is divided up into districts, each district representing one or more counties, and a chairman appointed at the head of each district. Through these chairmen a list of nominees is obtained and the ballots sent out. The votes will be counted on November 4.
