

Oregon Emerald

University of Oregon, Eugene

Arthur L. Schoeni Editor
William H. Hammond Business Manager
Vinton Hall Managing Editor

Associate Editors
Ron Hubbs Rex Tussing
Ruth Newman Wilfred Brown,
Secretary—Ann Hathaway

Upper News Staff
Mary Klemm.....Asst. Mng. Editor Victor Kaufman.....P. I. P. Editor
Harry Van Dine.....Sports Editor Osborne Holland.....Feature Editor
Phyllis Van Kimmell.....Society Ralph David.....Chief Night Editor
Myron Griffin.....Literary Clarence Crow.....Makeup Editor

Business Staff
George Weber, Jr.Assoc. Mgr. Larry Jackson.....Cir. Mgr.
Tony PetersonAdv. Mgr. Harold Kester.....Office Mgr.
Addison BrockmanBetty Hagen.....Women's Spec. Adv.
.....Ina Tremblay.....Asst. Adv. Mgr.
Jean Patrick.....Mgr. Copy Dept. Louise Gurney.....Exec. Sec.

Day Editor This Issue..... Elise Schroeder

Night Editor This Issue..... William F. White

Assistant Night Editors..... Isabelle Crowell
..... Michael Hogan

The Oregon Daily Emerald, official publication of the Associated Students of the University of Oregon, Eugene, issued daily except Sunday and Monday, during the college year. Member of the Pacific Intercollegiate Press. Entered in the post office at Eugene, Oregon, as second class matter. Subscription rates, $2.50 a year. Advertising rates upon application. Phone Manager: Office, 1895; residence, 127.

Prevention Versus Cure

STUDENTS of the University of Southern California are being enlisted in a universal effort to eradicate a seemingly quite prevalent "crime wave." The misdemeanors in question have been referred to by the Daily Trojan as casual "borrowing" or "snitching." All members of the student body have been instructed to lock their ears, watch their books and overcoats, and to mark every article with ink, so that it can be traced. The college spirit that encourages students to "hush it up" has been frowned on by the publication.

We are unable to conceive a condition when such strong measures would be necessary. But just as the Trojan holds up the easiness of relying on the same college spirit, that may turn out to be a pitfall for a more light-fingered brother, when it is directed toward encouraging honesty so may we take our lesson. We have no such problem, barring a few exceptions, but measures of precaution are never amiss. A quotation from one of the several editorials on this subject to be found in late issues of the Trojan explains this point.—"The police department can only apprehend the criminal after the crime; it is the students' duty to prevent the crime by leaving no motive."

Oregon is to be congratulated on the honesty of its students. One particular instance is brought to our attention. One member of the student body recalls losing at various times during the previous year some nine articles and of being able to regain possession of them by calling for them a day or so later at the university depot. This is the record Oregon should maintain; one hundred per cent honest.

Typhoid fever, tuberculosis, diphtheria and cholera are among the diseases which may be transmitted by shaking hands, says a Columbia university research student. Which kills the story that money is the root of all evil.

If the senior bench gets scrubbed much more to remove the frequent paint-daubbings it will wear thin and break under some of the heavy dates staged on it.

Some co-eds complain that their boy friends are like used postage stamps. They will stick but they won't take them anywhere.

Campus Forum

ABOUT NEW BOOKS

To the Editor:
We have it—"A New Survey of Universal Knowledge"—the fourteenth edition of the Encyclopaedia Britannica, 1929. It is dedicated to "The two heads of the English-speaking peoples, Herbert C. Hoover, president of the U. S. A., and his majesty, George the Fifth, king of Great Britain and Ireland, et al."

Well might the above quotation be carved on a marble slab and placed over the entrance to the University of Oregon library.

This new and revised set of books now quietly reposes on the reference shelves of the University of Oregon library and I believe it is the philanthropic duty of the Emerald to make a general statement about this "New Model" edition of widely-known reference and general information books.

This is not a piece of propaganda for a publishing house, but merely an attempt to awaken an interest in something really worth while. Allan Nevins, in a recent number of Saturday Review of Literature, says of them: "It is a production in which not merely the editors but the whole world of England and America may take the most hearty pride, and for which everyone interested in education and culture will wish the largest possible circulation."

To us the books offer the very latest in every field of thought. The type has been enlarged, illustrations increased, a more readable style introduced, and every article is written by a widely-known authority.

Now, dear editor, you ought to feel some relief to think that you have not neglected your duty in one important respect by failing to tell Oregon students about these books. Those who do not use them as a daily reference will be missing a valuable opportunity. Self-perusal will bring out the actual values of the "New Model" Britannica.—C. G.

ASK CONDON QUIET

Dear Editor:
Having spent three hours each evening in the Condon library for the past week, I feel rather competent to broach a subject that has caused comment from various sources. That is the problem of the noise and disturbance in the so-called study room of that auxiliary library.

If there is any lingering doubt in one's mind as to the situation, just try to get one of those lessons that must be extracted from a reserve book in the allotted hour. Men and women seem about equal in the quality and quantity of noise and conversation that they carry on. Perhaps the peg heels have a shade more volume of staccato noise than the brogans of the men. But as to conversation—that is on about a par between the sexes.

It would be folly to suggest that signs be placed about the room asking people to refrain from conversation and worse yet to suggest that they walk lightly! Most of those students that walk with every bit of force that their weight can produce would not even see the signs. To go into lamentations that such scuffling of feet and the dragging step and general commotion that students find necessary in getting seated is a sign of poor breeding—well, that does not "get us anywhere."

There is only one solution that presents itself at the moment. That is to place the cork composition on the floor of the type that is used in the old library building. Of course that would entail a very large expense item—but would it not be worth the money to secure a real study room?

(By the way. Can we expect frosh and even sophs to "learn to study" in the bedlam of Condon library?)

Sincerely,
"R."

MEN! BOYS! GIVE A LOOK! SO FAR, A WOMAN IS LEADING IN THE RACE FOR THE McDONALD TICKETS.

This isn't leap year either, so let's get busy with the contributions.

THE LAW STUDENT

Roy—"You can't flunk me, professor, I'm insane."

CONFIDENTIAL GUIDE FOR FRESHMEN

If you wish to change your major consult this department.

No. 1. ARCHITECTURE; most students major in this department so they can go to the Beaux Arts Ball. Then if you drag a journalistic femme you get a bid to the Scribes "Jam." A lead pencil and a carpenter's square fill the need of texts.

FRATERNITY VODVIL

Jack—Is Archibald Fallacious?
Jill—Fallacious? Why, I wouldn't believe him if he told me he was lying.

TODAY'S PUTRID PUN

Give a sentence with the word "attire."

He was driving sixty miles an hour when attire blew out.

Beauty—Oh, that handsome football player in my class must have the most fertile brain.

Beast—Yes, how come?
Beauty—Because he lets it lie fallow so much of the time.

OUR OWN BELIEVE IT OR NOT
In order to accommodate the lower strata of the intelligencia, the University of Oregon is offering a Failing prize of $150 to be awarded to the man flunking the most courses by the narrowest margin.

P.S.—Lemon Toddy offers a $1,000 reward to the person proving the Soda Jerker isn't a liar.

Sassy—Do you let men kiss you?
Suzie—No, but I'm not very strong.
S—m-m-m-m.

Doc Ernst—And what is a collective noun.
Bus. Ad—A housemanager.

Co-eds may break their words once in a while, but they sure stick by their compacts.

He—That guy certainly is a Jew.
Him—Izzy?

Oh, she's only a printer's daughter, but she sure knows her type.

JUST DROP YOUR CONTRIBUTIONS IN THE LEMON TODDY BOX IN THE OLD LIBRARY ENTRANCE.

Thank
THE SODA JERKER.

"Does your wife like to neck?"
"I don't know; I've never asked."

—College Humor.

It isn't because it's cheaper that so many people eat in cafeterias. It's because it's more home-like. You have to wait on yourself.

—Pitt Panther.

"I'm not the most popular man in college, but I love you."
"Introduce me to the most popular man."

—Middlebury Blue Ribbon.

Joe: Come now, what is the difference between a college gentleman and a cigarette lighter?

Joan: All right, what?
Joe: It's so hard to get a cigarette lighter lit.

—Sewanee Mountain Goat.

"What's the matter, old boy?"
"Just heard a recipe for good home brew, and I haven't any home."

—Wabash Caveman.

Helen: How is my dog different from the planet Mars?

Blazes: Well, how?
Helen: We know my dog is inhabited.

—Pitt Panther.

FIRST TEA GIVEN BY WOMEN'S LEAGUE

Cinnamon toast and tea and unlimited opportunities for getting acquainted are promised for all women on the campus attending the first Women's League tea, which will be held today, from 3 to 5, in the sunroom of Gerlinger hall.

Harriet Kibbee, chairman of Women's League teas, urges the attendance of upperclassmen as well as freshmen, stating that the teas, which will be given every other Thursday, are a splendid means of promoting good times among all the members of the Women's League, and that the programs will have pep and variety. The freshmen of each sorority will be hostesses at a tea during the year.

A SIGN OF GOOD READING

The "HIGH HAT" LIBRARY

SOME OF THE NEW TITLES:

White Oaks of Jalna Six Mrs. Greenes
The Deruga Trial The Uncertain Trumpet
On the Anvil Love of the Foolish Angel
The God Who Didn't Laugh Sense and Sensuality

THE "HIGH HAT" RENT LIBRARY
On the Book Balcony of the

UNIVERSITY "CO-OP"

Yes, King Cole

... was a merry old soul, but particular

But if he were to dine in our jolly good dining-room he would roar with approval, and never once would ask for his fiddlers three because he would be so pleased with the dainties we always prepare.

Peter Pan Cafe

TAYLOR U-DRIVE SYSTEM
ATTENTION STUDENTS
Talk to us about our new low rates
Late Model Graham Paige
Call 2185 Coupes and Sedans 857 Pearl St.

Crisp as football weather!

HERE'S a great new cereal with all the snap and tang of sparkling autumn Saturdays.

A cereal so crisp it actually pops and crackles when you pour on milk or cream. Each golden bubble packed with wonder flavor.

Try Kellogg's Rice Krispies tomorrow. Ask your fraternity house steward or favorite campus restaurant to serve them. They are particularly delicious with fruit or honey added.

Kellogg's RICE KRISPIES

The most popular cereals served in the dining-rooms of American colleges, eating clubs and fraternities are made by Kellogg in Battle Creek. They include Kellogg's Corn Flakes, ALL-BRAN, Pep Bran Flakes, Wheat Krumbles, and Kellogg's Shredded Whole Wheat Biscuit. Also Kaffee Hag Coffee—the coffee that lets you sleep.

$5.30

PORTLAND and return
via Oregon Electric

Tickets on sale Fridays, Saturdays or Sundays; return limit Tuesdays—or $6.00

Daily; 15-day return limit
Reduced round trip fares between all O. E. Ry. stations.

SAFE, DEPENDABLE SERVICE

O. E. Ry. trains leave for Portland, Salem, Albany, Corvallis, Junction City and Harrisburg at 7:00 A. M., 10:25 A. M.; 2:15 P. M. (observation car) and 5:40 P. M. daily.

Arrive from these points 11:50 A. M.; 2:50 P. M.; 6:00 P. M., and 9:55 P. M. daily.

For any information about rail trips, phone 140.

F. S. APPELMAN, Agent
L. F. KNOWLTON,
General Agent

Oregon Electric Railway

Perfect-Fitting Sweater
with permafitt seam

McMorran and Washburne

De Neffe's

The telephone grows air-minded

THE BELL SYSTEM has made many successful experiments in two-way plane to ground telephone communication. This new development illustrates how it marches a pace ahead of the new civilization. It is now growing faster than ever before.

New telephone buildings are going up this year in 200 cities. Many central offices are changing from manual to dial telephones. A vast program of cable construction is going on.

This is the period of growth, improvement and adventure in the telephone industry. Expenditures this year for new plant and service improvements will total more than five hundred and fifty million dollars—one and one half times the entire cost of the Panama Canal.

BELL SYSTEM

A nation-wide system of inter-connecting telephones

"OUR PIONEERING WORK HAS JUST BEGUN"