

Westminster Foundation Plans Campaign to Raise $30,000

Organization Is to Develop Religious Life

Campaign to Raise Funds And Acquaint People With Work

Many Speakers Listed for Banquet Program

To raise the money necessary to carry on its work and also acquaint parents, alumni, and prospective students with the religious work which it does at the state universities is the double purpose of a campaign for $30,000 to be conducted by the Westminster Foundation of the state during the week before Thanksgiving, according to word received from Max Adams, student pastor on the campus.

Organized in 1920
The Westminster Foundation was organized in 1920 in the state of Oregon for the purpose of developing the religious life of the students in the state universities. It is the contribution of the Presbyterian church to the educational program of the state. During the eight years of its existence the Foundation has invested $51,000 in properties and maintained a student pastor at the state university as well as the university. Rev. Monroe G. Everett occupies that position at Corvallis, and Max Adams is the local pastor.

The funds to be raised by the campaign are necessary to raise the debts on the Westminster house property both at Eugene and Corvallis, and for the running expenses for the coming two years, according to Mr. Adams.

Banquet Planned
To acquaint a delegation of ministers and campaign chairmen from all the cities in the Willamette valley with the physical equipment and the work of the Westminster houses and to outline the program for this campaign a banquet will be held Friday evening at the home of the student pastor. Presiding will be Paul T. Shaw, Portland, chairman of the campaign committee. About fifty men are expected for this affair. The local student organization will be represented by Carl Moore and John Dodds.

Principal speakers at the banquet will be Dr. William Jasper Kerr, president of Oregon State college, and President Arnold Bennett Hall, who will talk on the relationship of religious work on the campuses of the universities.

Hoskins to Direct
Brice W. Hoskins, who has had several years experience with the San Francisco Community Chest in raising their annual budget of $2,500,000, has been employed as director of the campaign, and he will be here Friday to explain the work to be done to the visiting delegates. Most of the solicitation will be done through Presbyterian churches in the state.

Dr. Harold Leonard Bowman of Portland, is president of the Foundation. O. L. Price, J. J. Ross, Dr. William Jasper Kerr, Karl Onthank, and other men prominent in business and educational circles in the state are trustees of the Foundation.

Numerous Marriages Of Former Oregon Students

Outstanding in this week's social realm seems to be the number of wedding and engagement announcements of former Oregon students. Many prominent alumni whose romances were begun on the Oregon campus have chosen October and November for their wedding dates.

Group of Philomelete Holds Meeting

Presidents of the hobby groups of Philomelete, sponsored by Phi Theta Upsilon, held a meeting at the home of Mrs. Hazel Prutsman Scherwing, Monday evening. Plans for the year were outlined and a discussion carried on concerning admittance of new members, and social affairs for fall and winter terms. Announcement of definite plans for the fall term party will be made soon, according to Evelyn Kjosness, president.

Ten hobby groups have been organized, and women students may join the one in which they are most interested. Meetings are held twice a month. Two Phi Theta Upsilon members are advisors for each group, which are limited to 25 girls.

Those who are serving as presidents for this term are: Mildred French, arts and crafts; Carol Hollingsworth, play; Wanda Lesley, woman in her sphere; Dorothy Kirk, charm school; Florence Long, mythology; Margaret Ormandy, literature and poetry; Wilma Jacobson, international relations; Helen Parrish, music; Helen Prang, drama.

The play group of Philomelete was entertained Tuesday evening when Caryl Hollingsworth, president, gave an attractive and carefully appointed Halloween party at her home.

Shelton-Lundy

Miss Josephine Shelton, of Tillamook, and Herbert Lundy, of Eugene, were married in Portland last Saturday. Mr. Lundy is a reporter on the Eugene Register. He was graduated from the university in 1928, and last year was editor of the Tillamook Herald. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity, and Tabard Inn.

After a brief honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Eugene.

McCraney-Clark

One of the most interesting wedding announcements of the year is that of Miss Helen McCraney and Dudley Clarke, former Oregon students who were married Thursday, October 24, in St. Michael's and All Angels Episcopal church in Portland.

Miss Doris Hudson was maid of honor, and Miss Myrtle Clark was bridesmaid. Paul Clarke acted as best man for his brother. The ushers were Pat Hughes and Lawton Diffendoffer.

Mrs. Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Craney, of Portland. She attended the university two years where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. Mr. Clark was very active in student affairs and prominent in debate work. He was graduated in 1928 and was affiliated with Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

A number of Oregon students motored to Portland to attend the wedding.

Overbeck-Reed

The wedding of Miss Katherine Overbeck and Benjamin Reed was solemnized Saturday evening in Portland in the chapter of Bishopcroft. Only the families and intimate friends were present.

Mrs. Reed is a popular Portland girl who attended school in the east. Mr. Reed is a graduate of the university and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

McCabe-Simpson

Two former students to announce their approaching marriage are Miss Anna McCabe and Harold V. Simpson of Seattle. They are to be married November 2 at the home of the bride's parents in Wauna, Oregon.

Both young people are graduates of the university. Miss McCabe is

'Escape' Play Chosen by Drama Class

Performance Meets Huge Success in New York

ARTHUR GRAY, who is again on the campus after a two years' absence, has been selected as the leading man "Mat." in Galsworthy's play "Escape," which will be produced on the campus early in December. The class in the technique of acting is putting on the play.

When he was here two years ago, Mr. Gray played in "Liliom" by Molnar and "You Never Can Tell" by Shaw, and since that time has played in many productions in the east.

"Escape" caused quite a sensation in New York when it appeared there at the Booth theater in 1927. The leading role was played by Leslie Howard.

Mr. Gray is also directing "Cook Robin," a very interesting mystery play which is to be shown at the Heilig on November 7. It is one of Broadway's latest plays and this is the first time it has been shown outside of New York.

ARTICLE BY BOWEN RECEIVES NOTICE

"If Not Literature in Our High School and Junior College Romance Language Classes, Then What?" is the title of an article appearing in the October issue of The Modern Language Forum, of which Dr. Ray P. Bowen, head of the romance language department, is the author.

In this article Dr. Bowen contends that the German literature makes a more general appeal to high school and junior college students than does French or Spanish literature, but that the literature and culture of the romance languages contributes more that is needed in American civilization and culture than German literature has contributed to American life.

GRADUATE STUDENT RECEIVES M. A.

Elizabeth Karpenstein, present instructor of German and French at Albany college, received her M. A. here Saturday, when she passed her examination before a committee composed of Dr. Schmidt, chairman, Dr. Reinhardt, Dr. Kremen, Professor Tuttle, and Dr. Sheldon, dean of the school of education.

Miss Karpenstein was very active in college affairs and holds an excellent record as a graduate student. She studied one year at Heidelberg, Germany, and acted as assistant here in the German department. She is a member of Phi Lambda Theta, education honorary fraternity, and Phi Beta Kappa.

AT THE NEW HEILIG—

Al Jolson is popular in Eugene this week. First we had him in "The Jazz Singer" and now he comes to delight his audiences with his newest and many say his best hit, "Say It With Songs." With him is Davy Lee, Jolson's little pal. Remember Sonny Boy?

AT THE COLONIAL—

Thrills, sensations, adventures in a great city's underworld mark the swift movement of "White the City Sleeps," a Lon Chaney picture now appearing at the Colonial.

AT THE STATE—

"The Jazz Singer" will remain at the State for another day to be followed Friday by "The Squall."

AT THE REX—

"Side Street," with the three

Moore brothers, now at the Rex theater, contains some very tense and highly dramatic moments, when a notorious bootlegger chief finds he has ordered his gang to murder a plain clothes man who turns out to be his own brother.

AT THE McDONALD—

The romantic-minded, and what co-ed isn't, will thrill to John Gilbert's portrayal of the dashing young Venetian officer in "His Glorious Night."

FRESHMEN WOMEN MEET TODAY AT 4

The Frosh Commission, an organization of freshman women sponsored by the Y. W. C. A., will hold a mass meeting this afternoon in the Y bungalow from 4 to 5 o'clock.

The purpose of the meeting is to organize the commission into groups. Hereafter these groups will convene together. Officers for the commission have not yet been elected for this year.

Dorothy Hallen is adviser to the group.
