

Williamson To Publish Book on 'Donne Tradition'

Work of English Prof. Will Be Printed by Harvard Press

Another Book by Author Concerns T. S. Eliot

"The Donne Tradition," a book written by Dr. George Williamson, of the English department faculty, has been accepted for fall publishing by the Harvard University Press.

This is the first book Mr. Williamson has written, and it is a signal honor for him to have it accepted by the Harvard Press, according to his colleagues. It deals chiefly with John Donne as a poet, and the influence he had on the poets of the 17th century. He and his followers are called the metaphysical poets.

It is fitting that the subject of John Donne should be treated in this manner at present as so many of the modern poets go back to Donne, among them Eleanor Wylie, T. S. Eliot, Allan Tate and Hart Crane.

Another smaller book, "The Talent of T. S. Eliot," also written by Mr. Williamson, will be published at the University of Washington Press this fall. It will be one of the series of "Chap Books" put out at that press, and deals with Eliot as a follower of Donne.

At present there is a growing interest in Donne, as shown by the number of critics and writers preparing books on this subject. T. S. Eliot is working on one to be called the "School of Donne."

Mr. Williamson was graduated from Stanford, received his M. A. at Harvard and his Ph. D. from Stanford. He came to the University of Oregon in 1928. This year he has a class in the Donne tradition of poetry; this is not generally taught in schools over the country.

AT THE McDONALD—

After reviewing such a sophisticated continental love battle as shown in "His Glorious Night," sighing over John Gilbert's increasing good looks, envying Katherine Dale Owen's blonde beauty, and laughing at the dumb but willing Colonel Crale, it is indeed hard to think straight. For Gilbert's voice is ideal in the love scenes, low, persuasive, tense with emotion.

AT THE REX—

"Big News" at the Rex is a sure fire attraction to journalists who want to see how it's done in a big city office. The time lapse in the whole picture is only twelve hours.

AT THE COLONIAL—

Lon Chaney leaves off being a criminal and turns detective in his picture "While the City Sleeps," now at the Colonial theatre. As a New York police officer pitted against a sinister band he has a chance for much dramatic impersonation.

AT THE STATE—

Jack Holt finds the people like him better in dramatic roles with an emotional appeal than in straight westerns so he made "Father and Son." Micky McBain as the son has a piping small boy voice.

AT THE NEW HEILIG—

Al Jolson again sings his way into his hearers' hearts in his latest attraction "Say It With Songs" now showing at the New Heilig theatre.

Burrell Has Article Accepted by Journal

Professor O. K. Burrell, of the school of business administration, has recently had accepted for publication by the Journal of Accountancy Bulletin an article entitled "Capital Stock Valuation in Tax Cases."

VILLARD HALL BOASTS MYSTERIOUS FOSSILS

(Continued from Page One) few decades. There is the long sloping bench kind that used to grace the assembly hall in Villard years ago, but were a nuisance because they had to be carried downstairs and chairs put up for examinations. Even the husky lads of yore got tired of this after a time and the benches were permanently ditched in the basement. Old wornout furnaces, bits of tools, tables, scores of wire cots and mattresses, dressers, book-cases, and experiment tubes practically fill the remaining space.

Society

Phyllis Van Kimmell, Editor

Formal open house of Theta Chi will be held this evening, Friday, at the new chapter house, 19th and Potter streets. Invitations have been issued to faculty members, students and townspeople.

Dean Virginia Judy Esterly, Dean Hugh Biggs, and Carvel Nelson, house president, will be in the receiving line. The hours are from eight-thirty to eleven.

Dean Esterly and Dr. Osborne Will Entertain

Mrs. Virginia Judy Esterly and Dr. Wilmoth Osborne will entertain today at 12:30 o'clock with a luncheon at the Osburn hotel. The party is to honor Dr. Edith Sappington, the new medical advisor at Oregon State College, and Mrs. Kate W. Jameson, dean of women at the college, both of whom will be in Eugene for the day. Covers will be placed for sixteen.

Alliance of Tri Delta Honors Miss Hoyt

An interesting affair of the week was the charming tea given Thursday afternoon by the Delta Delta Delta Alliance at the home of Mrs. Carlton Spencer to honor Miss Blanche Hoyt, new house-mother for the sorority.

Lovely baskets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums were used effectively about the rooms. Mrs. A. R. Sweetser and Mrs. John J. Rogers presided at the tea tables. About sixty guests called between four and six o'clock.

At present there is a growing interest in Donne, as shown by the number of critics and writers preparing books on this subject.

Pi Beta Phi Observes Chapter Birthday

An interesting affair on the campus Wednesday evening was the formal banquet which Pi Beta Phi sorority gave in observance of the founding of the local chapter, which was October 29, 1915. The affair was given at the chapter house, and in addition to the active girls, fifteen alumnae were invited to celebrate the event.

Candles and flowers in the sorority colors of wine and blue decorated the lovely "U" shaped table.

Look-Miller Wedding Set for Nov. 18

Miss Marion Look and Mr. James Francis Miller have announced November 18 as their wedding date. The ceremony will be performed in the Westminster Presbyterian church in Portland. Miss Look is a former Oregon student. She was prominent in student affairs and a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. Mr. Miller is a Delta Tau Delta on the University of Washington campus. The announcement of the engagement was made here last spring.

Tau Delta Tau Holds First Meeting

Members of Tau Delta Tau, music honorary for undergraduates who are high in scholarship, met Tuesday evening in the music building for their first meeting of the year. Miss Nancy Thielsen is president of the organization. The group plans to organize a chorus and orchestra and to sponsor a series of teas and vesper programs.

Seats Reserved for Women's Order of O

Members of the women's Order of O will have a special section reserved for them at the Ucla game, Saturday, and also at the Homecoming game, November 16, according to Mahala Kurtz, president of W. A. A.

With the members of the "O" will be the associate members, those who have won their small letters, for 500 points earned in intramural sports. The members of the Order of the O are those who have won their sweaters, representing 1000 points earned. All "O" women and associate members are urged to take this section at the next two games.

HALL RETURNS FROM TRIP OVER OREGON

covered in the tour, the party starting at Hood River and ending at Marshfield. This trip is only the first of a series planned. Both Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Hill expressed their appreciation of the opportunities, afforded them through the trip, for meeting other Oregon Mothers.

New Mentor for Swimming Team Yet To Be Named

Earl and Benefiel Handed Responsibility for Selection

Oregon's swimming situation is all up in the air, to use Johnny Anderson's expression, because there has yet been no coach appointed to take Abercrombie's place.

The selection of a coach has been left to Jack Benefiel and Virgil Earl. Organized practice will be delayed until they appoint one and also no meets will be scheduled even though swimming season starts the first of next term.

Oregon has a wealth of swimming material this year. Most of last year's point getters are back, including the whole of the star relay team. In addition, some of the sophomores are expected to furnish a lot of strength.

Veterans on hand include: Johnny Anderson, Johnny Creech, Hal

Hutton, Chet Floyd, Chuck Silverman, Leonard Thompson, and Don Neer.

Time Short

Thompson and Neer are varsity divers. Their training period has been cut in half now for they should have been out the first day of the term. However, arrangements have been made for all divers to practice on their own hook Monday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings between 6 and 7 in the women's tank.

Paul Lafferty, breast stroke specialist, and Howard Dirks, diver, are from last year's frosh and are considered among the best of the new prospects.

There is only one real shortage and that is of backstroke men.

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE WILL COMMENCE MONDAY

There are thirteen hundred women students and we must have thirteen hundred dollars to carry on the work," explained Miss Templeton. "It is a big problem and we are urging that every woman on the campus realize that it is partly her problem. The work of the organization is invaluable on the campus and it is up to the women to make its continuation possible."

Dean James H. Gilbert Traveling in the East

Dean James H. Gilbert was in Chicago, Illinois, from the 20th to the 24th of October and is now in Ann Arbor, Michigan, according to a letter received from at the president's office.
