Pajamas, Noise, Bonfire To Feature Homecoming Rally Before O.S.C. Tilt

Outstanding Attraction is Parade Idea

Many Stunts in Hands of Committees; Will Be
Huge Affair

LIST NOISE PARTNERS

Journalism Jamboree and 'Ed's Co-ed' Showing Will Attract

"Biggest" and "best" are words worn threadbare in connection with publicity on campus events, but nothing short of superlatives can be used to describe the all-campus pep-rally and noise parade to be held on Friday evening, November 15, the night before the Homecoming game with Oregon State, say workers on the rally committee, which has been authorized by Keith Hall, general Homecoming chairman, to manage all rally activities for those hectic two days which will witness, according to Tom Stoddard, student body president, what promises to be Oregon's greatest Homecoming.

Plans for the evening as outlined by Jim Raley, general rally chairman, and his assistant, Joe Freck, include a pajama-clad serpentine from the campus to the business district, a noise parade, a huge rally on Willamette street, and the lighting of the freshman bonfire on Skinner's butte.

Rally Parade Organized

The traditional serpentine will leave the corner of 12th and Alder at 6:30, and wind its noisy way downtown, headed by the band and the Order of the O. Paul Hunt, who is in charge of this feature, announces that the parade will be known as the "pajama-aree," and declares all men will be expected to wear pajamas, the more eccentric the better.

The serpentine will be followed by the noise parade, which is under the direction of Stan Brooks, who was general chairman for the send-off rally for the team before the Washington game. Brooks has paired all men's houses and halls. Two silver cups will be given to the groups entering the prize-winning float, and will be theirs permanently. Judging is to be on a basis of 50 per cent for cleverness, and 50 per cent for quality and quantity of noise.

Chuck Plans Rally

After the noise parade has passed the Heilig theatre, Chuck Reed, yell king, will take charge and conduct a street rally in front of the theatre.

Vawter Parker has secured the loan of two 3-inch field artillery guns from the military department of the Oregon State college, which has offered to send trained crews to Eugene to operate them. These will be placed at the head of Willamette street beneath the butte, and fired at intervals during the rally.

Sid Dobbin is arranging an elaborate display of rockets, flares, and fuses to be set off on the butte at (Continued on Page Three)

Amos Burg Back After Exploring Arctic Rivers; Visits Dr. Rebec

By ROBERT ALLEN

With three thousand miles of Arctic trails behind him, Amos Burg, explorer, and former student in the school of journalism, has come back to the university for a few days to do research work on his northern explorations. In 1928 Burg descended 2,300 miles of the Yukon from Lake Bennett to the Bering sea as cameraman for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. On his last northern voyage, Dr. George Rebec, professor of philosophy and dean of the graduate school, was his companion through the rivers of the Mackenzie basin from Fort MacMurray on the Athabasca, through 13 degrees of latitude to the Mackenzie delta islands in Beaufort sea. Burg has descended practically

Over 750 Seats For 'Ed's Co-ed' Are Already Sold

Business Staff of Movie
Highly Pleased by Advance Sale

Vod-vil Stunts To Precede Premier Showing

Over 750 of the 1,157 seats available for the world premiere of "Ed's Co-ed," the campus movie to be held at the McDonald theater, had been sold by last evening, according to a telephone check of house agents made during the dinner hour by Hal Johnson, ticket manager, and his secretary, Dorothy Shaw.

Ron Hubbs, business manager for the production, expressed himself highly pleased with the advance sale, and said he expects the house to be sold out before one more day has passed. James Raley and Cervel Nelson, co-directors of "Ed's Co-ed," again warn that only 1157 seats will be sold, and that those who wait too long to buy will probably not be able to obtain tickets.

The premiere showing is to be held at the McDonald theatre from 11:00 to 1:00 on the evening of Friday, November 15. The showing of the feature will be preceded by a vaudeville program drawn from the best campus talent which is being organized by Nelson.

Amphibians To Hold Swimming Tests Tuesday

Pledges Will Be Chosen From Girls Who Make Best Showings

All girls interested in swimming are urged by Ernestine Troemel to try out for Amphibian, women's swimming honorary, at the tryouts next Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the pool in the Gerlinger building.

The requirements for membership, which must be passed before the pledges are initiated, are as follows: life saving certificate (senior), form diving: four standard dives, and one optional with an average of 93, form strokes: 3 strokes for form, 1 length each, including the crawl, with an average of 93, speed: two lengths of pool, any two strokes in the time specified: crawl—34 seconds, side—38 seconds, trudgeon—36 seconds, English overarm—37 seconds, breast—40 seconds, trudgeon crawl—35 seconds, and back stroke—35 seconds.

Pledges will be chosen from the best that try out, and all who come out have a chance to make this honorary.

Faculty Exceeds Quota Set for Campus Chest

Dean David E. Faville announced yesterday that in the recent drive for the Community Chest the faculty went over their quota of $3,000. The final returns totaled $3051.10.

Dime Crawl Will Be Held Tonight

Sororities To Collect Coin To Aid Foreign Scholars

Tonight will mark the first Dime Crawl of the year. Convinced that there should be a particular surplus of dimes at this early part of the year, Florence McNeerney, chairman, and the other members of Women's league council, are looking for one of the biggest receipts ever obtained for the crawl.

"We want to remind students that Dime Crawl is for the Foreign Scholar fund and that the foreign scholar work is one of the most important things students do," said Miss McNeerney yesterday.

Dinner will be served at 5:30 o'clock at living residences tonight and men will begin to call at the various groups immediately after dinner.

Y.M.'s and Y.W.'s Plan Retreat for This Week-end

Newport Hotel Is Selected For Event; Dr. Culver Will Speak

U. of O. Delegates Will Have Charge of Rally

The annual Seabeck retreat, a conference sponsored by all the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A.'s of the schools of the state, will open at 6:30 Friday evening at the Ocean View hotel, Newport, with a variety of stunts and features from the various delegations.

Dr. Raymond B. Culver, national student secretary, will lead the discussions Saturday morning with a talk on "The Christian Way of Life." Max Adams, secretary of the campus "Y," and Marcia Seeber, will conduct a discussion on "World Peace."

The leadership personnel is made up of Dorothy Thomas, secretary of the campus Y. W.; Florence Parker, secretary of the Y. W. at Oregon State college; Professor Leamer, of Willamette university, and Charles Crumley, secretary of the Y. M. at O. S. C.

Saturday night delegates from the university campus will take charge of the Seabeck rally meeting. Discussions will be conducted Saturday and Sunday morning, closing with Sunday dinner which will enable students to return to the campus that evening.

FORMAL PLEDGING SET FOR TONIGHT

Formal pledging of the new pledges of Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism honorary for women, will be held this evening at 7:45 at the home of Mrs. Eric W. Allen, wife of the dean of the school of journalism. The address is 2239 Birch Lane.

Those who will receive their ribbons at the ceremony are Lavina Hicks, Portland; Dorothy Kirk, Oregon City; Ruth Newman, Grants Pass; Margaret Reid, Eugene; Dorothy Thomas, Portland; and Phyllis Van Kimmel, Salem. All of these girls are juniors in journalism.

Many alumni of the chapter are expected to be present for the ceremony and the informal meeting which is to follow.

Dr. Mez Gives Facts of Interest About Hoover

Dr. John Mez of the economics department addressed the members of the men's brotherhood of the First Congregational church at the regular dinner at the church Monday evening on "Some Little Known Facts About Herbert Hoover."

Sophs Invite All Students To Big Dance

Igloo To Be Transformed Into Fairyland of Beauty

GOVERNOR TO ATTEND

Long List of Notables To Come as Patrons and Patronesses

The first bit of the herculean task of transforming the vast grayness of McArthur court into the fairyland of beauty and color which will be the setting for the Sophomore Informal on Saturday evening, will be done this afternoon when the construction crew begins laying out special electrical circuits and stringing supporting wires.

Basketball Delays Work
Decoration on a large scale can not begin until Thursday evening at 10:00, Tom Handley, general chairman for the dance, told workers at a meeting held last evening. The late start is necessitated by conflict with basketball practice hours.

Jack Stipe, sophomore class president, has issued an official invitation to the student body to attend the Informal. "The class of 1932 will be hosts for the entire campus Saturday evening," his invitation runs, "and we hope that every student will attend. There is, of course, no admission charge. We especially urge freshmen to attend, as this is the first all-campus dance for them."

Women to Wear Formals
The committee in charge recommends that those attending the informal dress, as is customary for this dance, formal for women and informal for men.

Johnny Robinson and his Varsity Vagabonds will provide the music for the dancing.

Patrons and patronesses will be: Hon. Governor and Mrs. Isaac L. Patterson, President and Mrs. Arnold Bennett Hall, Dean and Mrs. John Straub, Dean Virginia Judy Esterly, Dean and Mrs. Earl Pallett, Dean and Mrs. Eric W. Allen, Assistant Dean Hugh Biggs, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Leslie Schwering, Dr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Romig, Captain and Mrs. John J. McEwan, Mr. and Mrs. George Godfrey, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Jewett, Mr. and Mrs. George Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil D. Earl, Mr. S. Stephenson Smith, Mr. Charles Howell, Mr. Edward Lesch, Mr. Louis Meyers.

Women's League Official Agent for Chrysanthemums

Traditional Homecoming Flowers To Be Sold By Members

The Women's league has been commissioned as the official agent for the Homecoming chrysanthemum sale by action of the student affairs committee, which held its regular meeting yesterday.

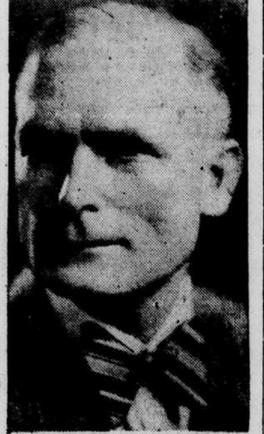

Tom Stoddard, president of the student body, and chairman of the Student Affairs committee, issued the following statement at the close of the meeting: "The sale of chrysanthemums by the Women's league is a traditional feature of Oregon Homecomings. This has been a function of the league for years past, and they rely on the modest profits realized from it to help make up their annual budget.

"I wish to urge every Oregon student who buys a chrysanthemum to order it from a league representative. Their sale is worthy of unanimous support.

Van Guilder To Work For Trade Research

Ted Van Guilder, graduate of the class of 1926, and former president of Pan Kenia, honorary foreign trade fraternity, has been appointed research fellow in the school of business administration. Mr. Van Guilder will work full time on foreign trade research in Portland.

Travels East

Dr. James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science, and the arts, who is making an extensive Eastern tour for a study of a number of institutions of higher learning.

Big 'Jam' Dance Plans Completed By Journalists

All-Campus Entertainment To Begin Soon After Big Noise Parade

Ticket Sale Scheduled To Start in Few Days

Immediately following the big Homecoming rally, Friday night, November 15, the Journalism Jamboree, one of the biggest and most colorful dances of the school year, will open at the Eugene armory. The rally will begin on the campus at 6:45 o'clock and will end near the armory between 7:30 and 8 o'clock.

The men who participate in the rally parade are expected to be attired in various forms of pajamas, and these will also serve equally well as Jamboree costumes. Persons coming without costumes will not be barred, according to Carl Gregory, general chairman of the dance.

Students holding tickets for "Ed's Co-ed," the campus movie, may leave the dance at 11 o'clock in time for the opening of the show. It will be entirely proper for students to go to the theater in their Jamboree costumes, according to Ronald Hubbs, business manager of the movie.

Special tickets for the Jamboree are being designed by Harry Van Dine, and they will be placed on sale within a few days. The dance is a no-date affair, with tickets selling at fifty cents each. Cider and doughnuts will be the refreshments for the Jamboree, it was decided at the committee meeting. Masks will be sold at the dance for those who do not come masked.

MORSE CONDUCTS CRIME SURVEY

The survey of criminal justice in the state of Oregon which is being conducted by the University of Oregon law school under the direction of Professor Wayne L. Morse, assisted by Ronald Beattie, a fellow in sociology, is well under way, according to Mr. Morse. The tentative work sheets for the survey have been completed and preliminary reports are being made.

Mr. Morse explained that the first task in the survey will be to make a study of all the felony cases in Multnomah county for the years of 1927 and 1928, from the point of arrest to the final disposition of the case, including the term served in prison. The main object of the study is to find out just where in the criminal procedure the cases are disposed of.

Mr. Morse stated: "Our purpose is purely one of fact finding. We believe that before sound recommendations for changes or modifications in the administration of criminal justice in Oregon can be made we must know how the system as a whole is working. The study which we are making should shed considerable light on the criminal law in action."

In addition to a study of the felony cases several supplementary studies will be made during the year.

Y.M. Campus Drive starts Work Today

Group's Reorganization to Allow Students All Planning

TO SOLICIT MEN ONLY

Receipts of Work Will Be Used To Carry on Advancement

The only campus drive this year in which men will be asked individually for contributions, according to Y. M. C. A. officials, will, under their direction, start this morning with the solicitation of students living outside of fraternities and halls. Thursday the campaign will be extended to include the campus living groups.

The Y. M. C. A., to which the proceeds will go, has been completely reorganized and is now a genuine student movement, with its entire program planned by students to serve the actual campus situation, it is stated in a pamphlet recently issued by the heads of the new organization.

Funds Placed

The funds raised by the drive will be used to carry on the work of the Y. M. C. A., which includes maintenance of a student employment agency that last year obtained jobs totaling over $50,000, and bringing of prominent speakers to the Oregon campus, according to George Cherry, chairman of the campaign directorate. Also, a radio for the hut will be purchased.

Today's program is as follows: Each independent student will be approached by a solicitor and asked to sign a card pledging the amount he cares to give. The cards will then be turned over to the university administration and the sum pledged by each person will be added to his winter term fees.

Directorate Listed

Besides George Cherry, chairman, the directorate is composed of Dick Horn, Jack Stipe, Joe Freck, Douglas DeCou, Harold Short, and Don Campbell. Short, president of the freshman commission, and Campbell, president of the Y. M. C. A. cabinet, will be in charge of soliciting the independent men, and will be assisted by Wayne Robinson, Jean Eberhart, Mack Hall, Ken Campbell, Wilbur Bushnell, Shailer Peterson, Ed Daniels, Harold King, Mark McCormack, Blayne Brewer, Stanley Stark, Dick Bowling, Virgil Langtry, Bob Needham, Roy Craft, Donald Saunders, Denzil Harper, Herbert Doran, Wallace Campbell, Douglas Wight, Merton Hurt, and Warner Guiss.

Waiting List for Infirmary Grows, Declares Nurse

Conditions at Infirmary Force Students To Await Admission

"Twelve down and one to go, may sound like a football game to some people, but it's a long way from recreation for us," Miss Calahan, infirmary nurse, said today. "When conditions are such that there is a waiting list for the infirmary, it is time that something is being done to relieve the situation. At the present time there is room for one girl, but there are two boys waiting for admission, one with a fever."

The present infirmary on Onyx street has a capacity of thirteen patients but has proven to be too small on several different occasions, according to Miss Calahan. It is hoped by the university health service, that the drive now under way for a new infirmary will reach its goal in the very near future.

The names of those confined in the infirmary at the present time are: Sadie Pondelick, Helen Carlson, Beatrice Bennett, O. A. Turner, Myron Blackwell, John Gintner, Bob Lambson, Dan Sheehy, Charles Elliot, Paul Menegat, Tom Johns, and Raymond Whiteside.

Staff Tryouts at End For Emerald Workers; Final Selections Made

Over 100 students have tried out for parts in "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," a campus play, sponsored by the National Collegiate Players.

Those who are to report for the final tryouts to be held tonight at 7:30 at Guild hall are: Norma Jacobs, Billie Gardner, Virginia Moore, Jack Stipe, Inez Simons, Robert Miller, Jimmy Lyons, Loretta Jaeger, Erma Duvall, Carl Klippel, Marshal Hopkins, Larry Shaw, Margaret Muncy, Charles Jones, Anne Baum, Frank Lombard, Florence McNeerney, Byron Adams, Louise Webber, Lucile Kraus, Louise Marvin, Janet Perry, Gladys Mack, Carol Hurlbert, Burdette Nicklaus, Florence Holloway, Mary Walker, Emily Isaacs, Jewel Ellis, Nancy Thielson, Bob Guild, Roger Pfaff, Eleanor Wood, Sanford Platt, Mabelle Beakley, Barbara Jane Smith, Minnie Herral, Virginia Richmond, Miles Shaw, Leslie Houston, Marian Camp, Doris McMorrin. These students are requested to look at the bulletin board at 105 Johnson for preparation for their tryouts.

Ottillie Turnbull Seybolt, head of the drama department, Cecil Matson, drama assistant and Gordon Stearns, president of the National Collegiate Players, were the judges. Both Mr. Matson and Mr. Stearns said that the competition was keen and that a great deal of talent was discovered.

Twenty-eight will be selected after the tryouts this evening. There will be a main cast of fourteen and an understudy cast of the same number.

DR. SANBORN'S THESIS PUBLISHED

"Hepaticae and Anthocerotae of Western Oregon" is the title of a publication written by Dr. Ethel I. Sanborn, assistant professor of plant biology, which has just been released by the University Press. The volume deals with the hepatic mosses or liverworts of Oregon, those found on the coast and in the Willamette valley being the chief source of study.

The paper is the result of more than four years' intermittent study on the part of Dr. Sanborn, who wrote it as her dissertation for her Ph. D. degree, which she received in 1928 at Stanford. She spent two years at Stanford as a student, studying under Douglas Houghton Campbell, then head of the botanical department, who is one of the best known botanists in the United States. She returned to Stanford last year, having been granted a year's leave of absence. It was during this last year that she wrote her dissertation and received her doctor's degree. She worked under Dr. Campbell and Gilbert Morgan Smith while preparing her paper.

Students Take Aimee for Ride Evangelist Likes College World

By PHYLLIS VAN KIMMELL

WELL, we did it! The three of us set out to find Aimee Semple McPherson, to talk to her, and to take her around the campus if possible. And we did it. Bob Beck's little green "whooper" served as transportation, and Jackson Burke would have been the perfect ballyhoo-ist but for the lack of a megaphone and cap.

Aimee leaned back in the car and let the wind blow her floppy brown felt hat back over her face. "I like this!" she said. "This is really collegiate! Why the whole atmosphere is like a football game." Then she saw the College Side.

Day and Night Editor's Jobs Officially Confirmed; Staff Complete

22 REPORTERS CHOSEN

Changes To Be Made at End of Term, Managing Editor States

After more than a month of tryouts carried on in the editorial department of the Oregon Daily Emerald, the official staff has been chosen and will act for the remainder of the term, according to an announcement made yesterday by Vinton Hall, managing editor.

At the beginning of the winter term, a complete shake-up of the entire organization will be made, allowing a varied coverage of the campus and activities.

Upper News Staff Named

Since the announcement of the upper news staff made at the close of last year by Art Schoeni, editor, several changes have been made. Members of the upper news staff are: Ralph David, chief night editor; Victor Kaufman, P. I. P. editor; Mary Klemm, assistant managing editor; Harry Van Dine, sports editor; Phyllis Van Kimmel, society editor; Myron Griffin, literary editor; Osborne Holand, feature editor; and Clarence Crow, makeup editor.

Associate editors are: Ron Hubbs, Ruth Newman, Rex Tussing, and Wilfred Brown. Ann Hathaway has been named secretary.

Day Editors Selected

Day editors, who until recently have been holding their positions only temporarily, will now act officially. They are Dorothy Thomas, Elise Schroeder, Mary Frances Dilday, T. Neil Taylor, and Barney Miller.

Night editors to act during the remainder of the term under the direction of Chief Ralph David are Carl Monroe, Warner Guiss, William White, Beatrice Bennett, and Rufus Kimball. Assistant night editors are Louise Gurney, Jack Bellinger, Ted Montgomery, Thornton Gale, Dorothy Morrison, Michael Hogan, Isabelle Crowell, Emert Fossum, Helen Rankin, Elinor Henry, Bob Samuels, Clifford Gregor, Helen Jones, John Rogers, and Jane Manion.

General assignment reporters, one of which will work for a day editor one day each week in covering stories not on the regular news beat, are Henrietta Stegler, Merlin Blais, Warren Tinker, Eleanor Jane Ballantyne, and Willis Dunaway.

The sports staff to work under Harry Van Dine is made up of Joe Brown, assistant sports editor; George Erickson, Phil Cogswell, Jack Burke, Beth Salway, Hal Waffle, Mack Hall, Ed Goodnow, Jim Yergen, and Bill Bowerman.

Reporters Assigned

Twenty-two reporters and the part of the campus they are to cover were also announced yesterday. They are as follows: Dave Wilson, student administration; Betty Anne Macduff, university administration No. 1; Roy Craft, university administration No. 2; (Continued on Page Two)
