

Subscribe to the Emerald for Your
Folks at Home

Oregon Emerald

THE WEATHER
Oregon: Fair today. Variable westerly winds. Temperature today: maximum 56; minimum 29. Rain precipitation 0. Stage of river —1.8 feet.

VOLUME XXXI UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1929 NUMBER 28

REED RESIGNS POST OF YELL-KING

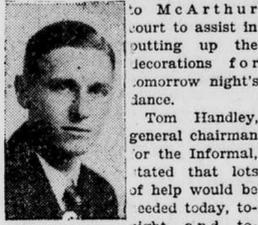

Sophs Urged To Help With Decorations

Plans for Informal Being Carried Out by Committees

MEN, WOMEN NEEDED

Construction Crew Busy Hanging Drapes and Wires at Igloo

A call went out from Sophomore Informal headquarters last night, summoning all second-year men and women to McArthur court to assist in putting up the decorations for tomorrow night's dance.

Tom Handley, general chairman of the Informal, stated that lots of help would be needed today, tonight and tomorrow in order to have the elaborate decorations ready by Saturday evening.

Need Aid of Class

"We haven't asked the class as a whole for any help so far," he said. "The committees have done all the preparatory work. But now is the time for the whole class to pitch in and help. The sophomores must remember that this is their dance, and the success of it depends entirely upon the way they turn out to the Igloo to work."

Max Williams, chairman of the decorations committee, states that women should turn out in as large numbers as the men. "There is a great deal of sewing to do," he declared, "and we gotta' have gals to do it for us."

Work Late at Night

Eldred Jeffers, head of the construction crew, worked with his helpers yesterday afternoon and up to the small hours this morning putting in lighting circuits for the eight, six by eight feet chandeliers which will provide light for the floor, and stretching a framework of wires for the immense non-inflammable canopy which will make a great tent of the floor.

Members of Jeffers' committee are Don Call, Howard Null, Bernard Clapperton, Harry Hanson, Lloyd Ruff, Lloyd Ramp, Bob Otto and Amos Lawrence.

Collier Returns From Journey to Portland

Percy M. Collier, extension lecturer, has just returned to the campus from Portland where he has been on high school debate league business.

Student Recital Exceptionally Free From Rough Spots; Program Praised

By GEORGE BARRON

A very creditable performance was given last evening by student groups of the school of music. The few rough spots, which, however, were far less frequent than in the usual student recital, were completely overshadowed by the nicety of performance of the program taken as a whole.

Each group of numbers was interesting in its variety. The first group, played by quartet number one, was composed of: Allegro—Haydn, featured by its delicacy of tone and clear-cut phrasing; Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes—arranged by Pochon, a beautiful old English tune arranged in a most pleasing manner; and Tango—Albeniz, a lilting Spanish dance tune.

The second group, played by quartet number two, was made up of: Menuetto—Bach, a lighter work of that great master; Allegro Grazioso—Gretry, a melodious

Free Plane Ride Tickets Await Winners

AIRPLANE RIDE tickets for all who earned them during the Oregon campaign are at Jack Benefiel's office and can be obtained by asking for them there, John Nelson, business manager announced yesterday. According to the records those who have not already received their tickets are: Wilmadean Rickolson, Dulcie Lytseil, Clare Thoman, Connie Baker, Gretchen Wintermeier, Hope Shelly, Ray Adams, Drew Moshberger, Art Schaffer, Harold Oliver, Art Potwin, Dave Winins, and Ed Wells.

'Sez Sue' Chosen Title of Emerald Women's Column

Shopping Announcements Will Be Published Every Friday

350 Suggestions Turned In By 50 Persons

The shopping column contest that has been running for the last two weeks ended last Saturday with Gladys Bentley, freshman education major, as winner. "Sez Sue," was the name chosen by the committee of judges cosupposed of Betty Hagen, Harriette Hofmann, and Ina Tremblay.

Three hundred fifty suggestions were turned in by 50 contestants. A five dollar merchandise bond as prize for the winning name was offered by McMorran & Washburne.

"Sez Sue" will be a weekly feature of the Emerald. This column sponsored by Betty Hagan will be in the Emerald every Friday and will contain announcements by the leading merchants of Eugene. Up until three years ago, there was a shopping column, but due to the lack of a manager, it was discontinued.

"Sez Sue," a column given over to the interest of women shoppers, is something that the Emerald has needed and should be appreciated by everyone, Betty Hagan said.

NINE CHOSEN BY LATIN HONORARY

At a meeting yesterday of Pi Sigma, Latin honorary, nine students were pledged to membership.

The choice was made on scholastic standing and interest in the field.

Those pledged are: Ruth M. Clark, Elizabeth Hall, Louella Fluatte, Dorothea Bailey, James Whitman, Catherine Dunlap, Alice Olmsted, Olga Sadelac and Dorothy Eads.

Initiation will take place Wednesday, November 13, at 5:30, in Alumni hall of the Gerlinger building.

Cast Nearly Complete For Campus Play

Judges Still Considering Three To Play Part Of Lord Dilling

13 CHOSEN TO DATE

Seybolt, Matson, Stearns Say Great Talent Is Displayed

After a series of three tryouts, Otilie Turnbull Seybolt, Cecil Matson and Gordon Stearns, the judges, have announced the cast for "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," a campus play being sponsored by the National Collegiate Players.

Those chosen for the main cast are: Nancy Thielsen, Mrs. Cheyney; Marshall Hopkins, Lord Elton; Florence McNeerney, Marie (Lady Frinton); Jewel Ellis, Joan; Loleta Jaeger, Mary; Eleanor Wood, Mrs. Ebley; Carl Klippel, Charles; Jimmy Lyons, Willie; Sally Runes, Mrs. Wynton; Burdette Nicklaus, George; Byron Adams, Jim; Jack Stipe, Roberts; Jack Waldron, William.

Three persons are still being considered for the part of Lord Dilling.

12 Understudies Picked

The following is a list of those chosen as understudies: Virginia Moore, Margaret Muncy, Billie Gardiner, Louise Webber, Jack Waldron, Miles Shaw, Maybelle Beckley, Jack Stipe, Frank Lombard, Byron Adams, Emily Isaacs, Leslie Houston.

"This will undoubtedly be the best play the National Intercollegiate players have ever produced," Mrs. Seybolt said. She also said that the cast were all very talented and fitted their parts remarkably well.

According to Cecil Matson, the competition was so keen that there was difficulty in making the final decision. He also said that remarkable talent was discovered among those who tried out.

Switchboard for Telephones Plan For Campus Soon

Dial Phones To Be Ready For University Use Early Next Year

A complete campus telephone system with an exchange has been planned for the university, according to the comptroller's office, and will be ready for use in February or March.

A semi-automatic switchboard will be installed in the administration building, with operator service the entire 24 hours. All conduits will be underground, and there will be no extension phones, each phone being an individual station.

The system will be automatic in that all the phones on the campus will be dial phones. To get a number outside the campus, a phone must be dialed. All incoming calls will be handled through number 3300, the new number for the university which will not be automatic. All intercampus calls will be entirely automatic.

FORMER STUDENT NOW IN TURKEY

Lucille Saunders McDonald, a former Oregon student, is now working as a correspondent for the New York Times in Constantinople, according to a letter received from her by George S. Turnbull, of the journalism faculty.

Mrs. McDonald sent in her letter samples of interesting headlines in Constantinople. She majored in journalism while on the campus.

Merit Highest Honors

Coveted membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national honorary scholastic fraternity, has been won by the above group of students. They are: upper left, Lewanda Senhason, and right, Naomi Hohman; lower, Katherine Karpenstein and Mary Klemm, with the lone man, Karl Landstrom, in the center. A photograph of Jeanette Edge, the other member of the "Senior Six," was not available.

Theme Songs for 'Ed' Co-ed' To Be Heard Tonight

Prize Winners for Card Contest Announced By Raley

Tonight at 9:00 the stage of the McDonald theatre will be cleared for the "Ed's Co-ed" theme song contest. The song adjudged the best will automatically become the theme song for the musical score of "Ed's Co-ed."

Songs written by Graham Covington and Howard Wahl, Dale Robbins, Maxine Glover and Boone Hendricks, and Hugh Miller will be presented.

Mac Miller will act as master of ceremonies.

Prize winners in the "Ed's Co-ed" poster contest held recently, were announced yesterday by Jim Raley, co-director of the movie. First prize was divided between Martha Stevens, Edward Isaacson and Gibson Davis, whose posters were judged equally clever. Honorable mention goes to Marion Frost, Lou Liston, Elizabeth Darling, Jack Marshall and Iris Edmanson.

Tickets Ready

Hal Johnson, ticket manager for the premier showing of "Ed's Co-ed," will be at the Co-op from two till four o'clock this afternoon to give out the tickets to house agents.

Magazine Publishes Article by Turnbull

An article by Prof. George S. Turnbull, of the journalism faculty, is published in the October number of the Scholastic Editor, a magazine published in the interest of high school newspapers and magazines.

Prof. Turnbull's article deals with headlines in high school papers, showing examples of poor heads and ways of improving them.

Concrete Work Progresses on Art Memorial

Constructors To Complete Labors by Spring, Says Onthank

The concrete for the foundations, first floor, and walls up to the level of the second floor of the Fine Arts building has been poured, and the forms for the second floor are being put up this week, according to information given out by Karl W. Onthank, executive secretary of the university.

The work on the structure is progressing very satisfactorily, and the building will probably be finished sometime this spring, if present plans materialize.

Mr. Onthank stated that since it is not a rush job, the administration is giving the contractors plenty of time to do it well. Although there was some delay in the plans when considerable rock was found in excavating for the basement, construction should go on smoothly now, he said.

In addition to building the forms for the pouring of the second floor, forms are also being made for the stairways, which will be of concrete with a marble margin. Mr. Onthank expressed the opinion that the stairway would be an exceptionally fine feature of the building.

The basement extends only under the museum part of the building, while the Campbell memorial court will be built on ground foundation.

Graduate of '24 Class On Campus Wednesday

Mrs. Marion Lay Davis, '24, was on the campus Wednesday with her husband, who is prominent as a writer of poetry and fiction. They were on their way to Santa Fe, New Mexico, to spend the winter.

Mrs. Davis and her husband formerly lived in The Dalles, but for the past year they have been living in Seattle.

Failure To Support Leader Held Reason

New Features in Decorations Announced for Homecoming

Hagen, Golf Ace, In Great Uphill Fight, Ties Moe

Oregon Man Takes Early Lead, but 'Haig' Stymies Him

Country Club Links Scene Of Close Match

That masterful golf artist, "Sir" Walter Hagen, fought and wise cracked an uphill eighteen-hole struggle against Oregon's Don Moe, to a tie over the fairways of the Eugene Country club yesterday. After a brand of exhibition golf that fairly drew the breaths from a few hundred spectators, there arose a great cheer, among sighs, indicating an unusually thrilling afternoon.

Don Moe, who is the present Western amateur champion, and who has enough championship notches in his putter to make counting difficult, obtained a two-up lead over the king of the links, out of the first three holes. He fought the "Haig" even for the next five holes and then collected another one at number ten. With a three-hole lead going to the eleventh green, Moe looked like a certain victor over the veteran.

Eleventh Hole Hoodoo

The eleventh hole, however, proved to be the Waterloo of Don, as he encountered a called stymie cutting his lead to two. Hagen took the next, Moe's ball kicking into the rough. The thirteenth found Moe with another impossible stymie, but it was so perfectly executed that it came within a fraction of an inch of dropping.

This evened the match and the remaining holes were played with all the skill the two champions possessed, neither being able to conquer the other. Moe displayed the more beautiful shots of the two, but encountered all the tough breaks.

Stock Goes Up

The Oregon golf wizard is classed as one of America's greatest amateurs and by his feat yesterday, removes all doubt.

The scores:
Moe in 4 4 4 4 4 5 3 4 4—36.
Hagen in 5 4 5 4 4 5 3 4 4—38.
Par in 4 3 5 4 4 5 3 4 5—37.
Moe out 4 4 5 5 3 3 3 3 4—37; 36—73.
Hagen out 5 4 4 4 4 3 3 4—35; 38—73.
Par out 4 4 4 4 3 5 3 3 5—35; 37—72.

BEARDS FLOURISH ON U. OF W. SOPHS

University of Washington, Seattle.—(PIP)—Sophomore razors took the shelf here recently when the second year men started a 30-day contest to determine the best man in the class from the point of view of facial adornments. Women will act as judges to determine the "best looking bearded man," "the toughest bearded man" and the "least bearded man."

Oregon State Has Fraternity Debate

Oregon State College, Corvallis.—(PIP)—Forty-seven teams have entered the first round of intramural debates on the campus this year. The question chosen for the first debate was "Resolved, that military training in American colleges should be elective." Outstanding speakers in the intramural contests are eligible for the varsity debate squad without further tryout.

Freck Names Committee To Assist With Work; Plan Arch Near Condon With Neon Tube Sign

The big feature of the decorations for the 1929 Homecoming will be a large arch across Thirteenth street near Condon hall, bearing a Welcome sign in letters of red Neon 12 inches high, if the plans of Joe Freck, Portland, chairman of the decorations committee, materialize. Freck said last night in announcing his plans that he is practically certain of getting the Neon, but if he should fail, the arch will be constructed anyhow and some other form of lighting will be used.

Wilbur Sohm of Eugene, a student in the school of art, was named by Freck as assistant chairman of the decorations committee. Sohm has drawn plans for the arch, which will be more elaborate and artistic than any ever erected here before. Other major appointments announced by Freck are: Harriette Kibbee, Portland, secretary; Bud Murray, Santa Monica, California, campus and field decorations; Hal Paddock, Portland, labor and clean-up; and Jack Edlefson, Portland, materials.

Frosh to Make Pennants

Thirteenth street will be decorated with green and yellow cloth pennants from the Sigma Chi corner at Alder street, to Johnson hall, as has frequently been done in past years, Freck announced. A call for helpers will be sent out by Hal Paddock next Monday, and the houses and halls of the campus will be expected to contribute freshmen to assist in making pennants. Working under Paddock on the labor committee will be Omar Palmer, George Cruikshank, Hal Fraundorf, George Cherry, Ken Edick, and Walter Evans.

An entirely new feature will be used in the decorations at Hayward field this year. At either end of the east grand-stand will be erected a large green flag. One will bear in yellow the numerals of the class having the largest number of alumni in attendance, and the other will bear the numerals of the oldest class represented by returning alumni. It is expected that this will become a new

(Continued on Page Two)

New Man Will Be Named To Fill Vacancy

'Lots of Fight for Game With Staters,' Urges Former Pep Chief

Stoddard Praises 'Chuck' As 'Hard Worker'

Charles "Chuck" Reed, Oregon yell-king, yesterday handed in his resignation from that position to Tom Stoddard, student body president.

The move came as a surprise to the campus and is explained in the body of the resignation, which follows: Thomas Stoddard, Pres. Assoc. Students:

"I wish at this time to hand to you my resignation from the position of yell king of the University of Oregon.

"As explanation for my decision to resign from this service to the Associated Students, may I explain my position. When student elections were held last year I was asked to run for the office of yell leader. Having practically no previous experience along this line, I hesitated in accepting it. However, I reconsidered later and went ahead with the hope that I had the potentialities for this position.

"I have now enjoyed eight weeks of active service as the yell leader of the Associated Students. From that past service to this body I have reached one important decision: That I find that I have not those hoped-for potentialities of a yell king which the students expected of me at my election. For this reason, and this alone, I believe it fair to all concerned that I resigned and make room for one who has those capabilities.

"Our Homecoming game with O. S. C. will be an event at which the students can really demonstrate their "Oregon fight" and "Oregon Spirit." For this game, my hope is that you will give my successor the heartiest of support.

"My sincere wishes are for a "howling mad" rooters' section for the Homecoming game."

Sincerely yours, (Signed) Charles Reed.

In a prepared statement yesterday, Tom Stoddard said:

"It is with regret that I ac-

(Continued on Page Two)

Albania Lotus Land of Plenty and Beauty, Declares Student Booster

"Albania is one of the most beautiful countries in the world—and one of the smallest," Alexander Elbasani declared when discussing the land where his parents still live. The picturesque little town, the rolling slopes covered with great olive groves, and the lofty snow-capped Alps making up the background of the picture are all very enchanting, thinks Elbasani. "In fact," he says, "I once saw an American woman weep bitterly when the time came for her to leave Albania. The simple hospitality of the people, and the beauty of the region just make a person feel that way."

The country still bears, outside of the main cities at least, the characteristics which make it so interesting in history as ancient Elyria, Elbasani will tell one remniscently. Albania is only 12,000 square miles in size, but it borders the Adriatic sea, and has resources enough to maintain it as one of the nations of the world. Elbasani, who is a special student in the university, hopes to acquire his degree in the geology department this spring. He received his college preparation at Groton, Mass., and has attended the University of Des Moines, and the University of Utah. He became connected with a Canadian exploration concern three years ago, and has lived in Oregon ever since, having been stationed at the Cornucopia mines in Eastern Oregon, where he does engineering and surveying work. He has been offered a position as mine inspector in Albania, which has recently begun to develop its mineral resources. The

(Continued on Page Three)