

Tennis Stars To Battle for Title This Afternoon

Lockwood and Harrison Will Play; Ludlow Beats Young

Bill Ludlow by defeating Freeman Young in three straight but hardfought sets, 7-5, 8-6, 7-5, won the championship of the inexperienced section of the tennis tournament.

Ludlow in the semi-finals had difficulty in disposing of Knox and lost one 22 game set to him. The scores of this match were, 6-4, 10-12, 6-3.

Freeman Young breezed through the semi-finals with an easy victory over Allan Spaulding, 6-1, 6-0.

Sherman Lockwood and Bradshaw Harrison, two of the three stars of the Webfoot tennis squad, will play for the championship of the varsity-fresh section of the tournament today at one o'clock on the faculty courts.

In view of the prevailing good weather a winter free-for-all student tennis tournament is being planned to run off in company with the faculty tournament that is getting under way. Both of these tournaments will be ladder affairs and those desiring to enter either one are requested to give their names to Jack Hewitt at the men's gym. About 15 members of the faculty have already registered and when the list is complete it will be posted at the faculty courts.

Living organizations are urged to send in entries for the student tournament. The practice will be of benefit when the Donut league matches start in the spring. Sherman Lockwood will be in charge of the student tournament. If rain interferes, the final matches will be played in McArthur court in the afternoons. The players finishing as top four will have the privilege of playing there, by arrangement with the tennis coach, and will be regarded as the second team.

Frosh Women Making Colorful Wool Dolls

Rah-Rah Dolls—pert little green and yellow wool fellows that you hang from your lapel—are descending on the campus these days in hordes.

It's the frosh women's doings. Or rather, it's Women's League doings, but the frosh are responsible for their creation. Moreover, they're here for a purpose. They will be sold over the Homecoming week-end.

Virginia Grone, sophomore on the campus has been appointed director of the sale by Helen Peters and she has already put under way construction on a large scale. Five dolls are being made this week by every frosh woman on the campus.

The sale which is to be handled by Kwamas and Theplans, will be carried on at the Ad building and other central points both Friday and Saturday, according to Miss Grone.

VALLEY folk began waxing their skis and patching their flannels in preparation for winter sports when reports reached Eugene yesterday that 8 inches of snow had fallen on the McKenzie Pass. Some were tempted to don the heavy underwear anyway, even though no snow had fallen in the valley.

WITH estimated losses of 10,000 dead on each side, reports from China state that the nationalist government succeeded in repelling an attack of the revolutionary "people's army."

HEAVY fog has been causing difficulties at Swan Island airport up in Portland. A Varney air mail pilot had to land on a neighboring field, and other planes found a great deal of difficulty in safely reaching the ground.

A SOW and five pigs caused a three-mile traffic jam on a California highway yesterday. The porkers had apparently eaten some mash that was dumped on the wayside, and went cavorting down the road intoxicated.

THE state fish commission has in the last year released over eighty million fingerling salmon in the ocean, expecting their return three or four years hence as full sized fish.

O. S. C. and U. of O. both gained unfavorable publicity when the account of the recent vandalism on the two campuses appeared on the front page of the Oregonian.

For the Week-End

Don't let all these a-lums think the house is all down and out. Take a brace and get a shoe shine in honor of Homecoming. It'll improve your appearance a hundred per cent; and you can look the whole world in the face.

Robbins Winner In Song Contest For 'Ed's Co-ed'

Judges Select Waltz Song As Best Suited To Fill Motion Picture Needs

Dale Robbins, sophomore in the school of music, was announced yesterday as the winner of the theme song contest sponsored by the producers of the campus movie, "Ed's Co-Ed." The words for the winning composition, a waltz song entitled "Joanne," were written by William McNabb.

The song, one of those entered in the contest held at the McDonald theater last Friday, was unanimously selected by Dean Landsbury, John Stark Evans, Frank Alexander, and John Weber, as being the entry best suited for motion picture accompaniment.

Honorable mention went to three other campus composers, Boone Hendricks, Hugh Miller, and Graham Covington. "Joanne" was presented at the McDonald as a tenor solo by Bill McNabb, accompanied on the piano by Robbins, and on the violin by Roderick Lemont.

Delts Enter Finals By Speedy 24-14 Win Over S. A. E.

Delta Epsilon-Sphinx Tilt Set for Igloo Today

The Delts stuck to their guns in great fashion yesterday winning the first semi-final basketball game from Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 24 to 14. Today Delta Epsilon and Sphinx will meet to decide which squad will oppose the Delts in the finals next week.

S. A. E. couldn't get started during the first half and the smothering 13 to 2 lead which the Delts ran up represented the margin of victory. Stahl and Ray Bell tossed in three field goals each during the first half.

S. A. E. stock went up at the end of the quarter the count stood 18 to 10. The speedy play of the Delts kept their margin safe, however, despite the S. A. E. rally.

Boyle starred for the losers, grabbing off high-point honors as well. The Delts kept up their smooth work on the floor that has continued without interruption since the start of the tournament. The Sphinx-Delta Epsilon tilt will start at 4 o'clock today on the court at the Igloo.

Society

Phyllis Van Kimmell, Editor

With the exception of a few very interesting teas and dinners, campus society is experiencing a rather uneventful week. All plans seem to point toward Homecoming and the many events which will occupy the limelight in student interest over the week-end.

Sigma Nu Sisters and Daughters Guests At Dinner

The Sigma Nu house was the scene of a very charming affair last night when the daughters and sisters of Sigma Nu were entertained at dinner. The table was very effectively decorated with huge baskets of yellow chrysanthemums. A score of tall candles were used to light the room. Sixteen daughters and sisters were guests of the fraternity.

Theta Sigma Phi Will Entertain O. S. C. Chapter

Theta Sigma Phi will entertain with a tea for the Corvallis chapter in the Y. W. C. A. bungalow instead of in Alumni hall as was previously announced. The tea will be held immediately after the Homecoming game Saturday.

Patronesses of Phi Mu Epsilon Are Entertained

Patronesses of Phi Mu Epsilon were honor guests last evening at a dinner given by the active group of the society at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stark Evans. The affair was in observance of the organization's Founder's day. After an informal buffet supper, an interesting program was given. The honor guests were Mrs. Bruce Bogart, Mrs. P. L. Campbell, Mrs. Campbell Church, Mrs. R. A. Booth, Mrs. C. A. Burden.
