Great Game in Prospect . . . Hawaiians Experienced Players Webfoot Schedule Hard . . .

- By Harry Van Dine -

COACH OTTO KLUM and his University of Hawaii "Roarin" Rainbows" arrived in Portland vesterday morning to be greeted by a large delegation of sports fans. Among the turnout were many civic officials, business leaders, and over a hundred former Three Professors Are To students at the University of Oreogn. The stay of the Hawaiian team in Portland will be a continual round of entertainment, with the residents of the Rose City ex

COACH JOHN McEWAN and his Webfoot squad left for Portland this morning and will have their final workout on the Multnomah Civic Stadium field this afternoon. The Oregon team is in good physical condition for the game, with the exception of the injured Kitzmiller. It is not known whether or not the varsity mentor will start his regulars or give his second string a chance to show what they can do. The regulars will come in for their share of action, however, as the Hawaiians should extend the Webfoots to win. Coach Klum isn't over here to put up a good fight against Oregon, he and his team are here to win the game, and they have plenty of confidence in themselves.

MOST of these Hawaiian players have been playing football ever since they were big enough to pack a ball, and they don't know the meaning of the word quit. They play barefooted until they are well along in high school, and even some of the older fellows would rather play barefooted than with shoes on. They are great athletes and good sports. The island boys play hard, clean football, with a great amount of deception worked into the game. Coach Klum has a well balanced team this year, with plenty of fast moving, heavy line for a forward wall. The Hawaiian ends are fast and are expert pass catchers, and deadly tacklers.

WITH the great Rusty Holt leading the attack with an array of dazzling runs, long punts, and accurate passes, the Hawaiians can boast of one of the greatest backs in the game. If the Webfoots watch Holt too closely, Johnny Wise is likely to break away for long gains. He, too, is a triple threat player. Then there is Kaahua, the plunging fullback, who can usually be counted upon to plug the line for a couple of yards. MacFarlane, the Hawaiian signal barker, is a brainy player and does his share of ball carrying. Wise and Kaahua are sophomores and are among the most promising players ever turned out in the islands.

THE Webfoots will not have much rest after the Hawaiian game as they hit the Pullman cushions again Tuesday noon, to start on their long trek to the southland. The traveling party will include thirty-five persons, including players, coaches, trainer, manager, and faculty representative, and will leave Eugene on the Shasta Tuesday noon. The squad will arrive in San Francisco Wednesday morning, ready for the tilt with the powerful St. Mary's eleven Thursday. That same night the squad will again entrain for Miami, to meet the University of Florida 'Gators in the final game on the Webfoot schedule.
