

Personnel Bureau Helps Students in Arranging Their Courses

Knots Ironed Out of Work For Freshmen

Hall's Report to Regents States Success of New Venture

Bright College Students May Graduate Early

To assist students in their selection of courses and to advise them on their many problems is the primary purpose of the newly-created personnel bureau of the University, and to this end it has proven quite successful, according to a report by Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president, which is to be submitted to the board of higher education at a meeting to be held in Portland, January 10.

Following the mid-term grade reports last term, about 400 individual conferences were held with students, and many other consultations have taken place throughout the term. Analysis of difficulties and revision of personal programs were services rendered in these cases.

The personnel bureau also has charge of the intelligence and aptitude tests which are given entering students. Special attention is paid to students who are rated in the highest and the lowest 10 per cent.

May Have Special Work

It is possible that special work may be recommended for those who show special aptitude, while for those who test low aid in keeping up with their work will be given.

A proposal made in the report by Dr. Hall would reduce the amount of time necessary for graduation in recognition of a quality of university work that would evidence distinction, originality, and maturity of judgment of an exceptional and unusual nature. Since many students are required to stay more than the usual four years in college because they have failed to fulfill graduation requirements, he suggests that students who have exceptional ability and character and interest should be allowed to cut down the time necessary for graduation. In connection with this Dr. Hall mentions the fact that a program of this sort would be an aid and incentive to students wholly or partially self-supporting, and would also tend to relieve the congestion at the University.

Works With Fresh

The personnel bureau also handles the program of freshman orientation week, at the beginning of the school year. The honor system is also a part of its work. Under this system, for which Oregon is gaining some distinction, about 30 per cent of the junior class each year is made eligible for honors work, and may, by putting forth extra effort, earn their B. A. degree "with honors."

Interest in the program of the personnel bureau is keen, both nationally and locally, and many prominent educators have asked to be informed of all steps in the development going on here.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE WILL PRODUCE PEP

Hoyt, assistant dean of women; and Dean W. L. Uhl of the University of Washington are some of the speakers in the other three divisions of the conference. Both university and high school students will give lectures in their various fields.

Activities Many

Social activity for the delegates, besides the big banquet Friday, will be provided by group pictures and a tour of the campus immediately before the banquet, and the basketball game with Washington State college immediately afterwards. Following the game, a College Night entertainment program, consisting chiefly of music by University students, will be presented for the delegates at Gerlinger hall, under the supervision of Bill Knox, student director.

The administration building will be open for registration of the visiting students at noon today, according to Wilma Enke, student chairman in charge. The name of each representative will be filed with the dean of men, and cards and badges good for admission to the various meetings of the conference will be issued.

All trains arriving in Eugene during the registration period will be met by members of the registration committee, who will provide transportation to the Administration building. There the visitors will be turned over to house representatives.

Students working on this committee, under Wilma Enke, chairman, are Barbara Mann, Dorothy Jean Murphy, Chet Knowlton, and Wes Edwards.

Other students and faculty members who have been active in work connected with the high school convention are as follows: Student committee: Day Foster, general chairman; Eleanor Flanagan, assistant chairman; Phyllis Van Kimmell, secretary; Stanford Brooks, program and student body conference; Harriet Kibbee, correspondence; Kathryn Fry, dean's conference; Delbert Addison, publicity; Charles Laird, accommodation; Harry Van Dine, press conference; Rex Tussing, principals' conference; Helen Peters, women's league; Anne Stange, banquet; William Knox, entertainment; Wilma Enke, registration; Omar Palmer, campus tour.

Faculty committee: Earl M. Pallett, chairman; Ralph D. Casey, press conference; W. C. Beattie, student officers' conference; Mrs. H. P. Schwering, dean of women's conference and girls' league conference; Mr. R. V. Moore, principals' conference; Hugh L. Biggs, reception, registration; Mrs. Charlotte Donnelly, housing; Mrs. Maude H. Macdonald, banquet; Ronald Robnett, entertainment; Paul Ager, budget; Leonard Hagstrom, correspondence; George Godfrey, publicity.

Professor F. S. Dunn Chosen for Offices

Professor F. S. Dunn, head of the classical department, was elected president of the Northern section of the Classical Association of the Pacific States, which met at Seattle during the Christmas vacation. He was also re-elected chairman of the section of classical teachers at the state meeting of the Oregon State Teachers' association at Portland.

23 MEN'S HOUSES WILL PARTICIPATE

Mu Phi Upsilon Has Meeting

Mu Phi Upsilon will hold the first meeting of the term today at 12 o'clock in the music building. It will be in the form of a pot-luck luncheon with Miss Frances Pierce in charge.

Mrs. Prudence E. Clark, president of the organization, will be in charge of the meeting.

Women's Faculty Club Hostess at Tea

The January tea of the Women's Faculty club was held yesterday afternoon in Gerlinger hall. Mrs. George Hopkins was in charge of the arrangements.

A very interesting musical program consisting of voice trio, violin and harp selections, and instrumental trio and solos was given by members of Tau Delta Delta, underclass musical honorary, and Mu Phi Upsilon, women's national musical honorary fraternity.

Mrs. John Straub, Mrs. F. G. Young, Mrs. A. R. Sweetser, and Mrs. L. H. Johnson poured during the afternoon. Twelve wives of graduate assistants of the University served.

Edith Ellis Marries Carroll Groshong

Miss Edith Ellis and Mr. Carroll Groshong were married Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Groshong. Reverend Duncan P. Cameron officiated.

Miss Alice Jacobson was maid of honor and Mr. Keith Fennell was best man.

Mrs. Groshong is from Vale, Oregon. Mr. Groshong is principal of the union high school at Walker, Oregon, and was graduated from the University in 1928.

The young couple will make their home at 1617 Fairmount boulevard, Eugene.

FRIGID WELCOME AWAITS AD MEN

With slight furries of snow all day yesterday which remained on the ground and a steady fall last evening, prospects were of a white campus to greet students this morning.

Alpha Delta Sigma, men's advertising honorary, will hold its winter term initiations this morning on library steps, and advance forecasts look gloomy for the neophytes when they start their speeches.

Desultory snow fights among fraternity men were features yesterday and if snow falling last night remains on the ground today the traditional pitched battles will probably be staged. Intramural snowball fights may be unofficially run off and the losing teams will enter a consolation tournament and meet the winners of the Patterson school eliminations.

AT THE HEILIG—

"Disraeli" at the Heilig theatre is truly a picture in superlatives. The acting of George Arliss is superb and the direction equally good. At the first glimpse, Arliss seems to own the ugliest features that could be collected on one face, but after a few moments one sees only the charm of the man, his polished charm of manner and ability to use the English language.

KRAWL TO PRESENT VAUDEVILLE TEAM

Louise Marvin, buck and wing dancer, who has toured the eastern states on the Keith and Loew vaudeville circuits, will be teamed with Hal Hatton, who has spent a year on the Orpheum stage, as the featured entertainers at the Krazy Kopy Krawl, annual novelty dance given by Alpha Delta Sigma, advertising honorary, which is to be given Saturday at the Campa Skoppe, it was announced yesterday by John Nelson, general chairman for the dance. Sally Adleman, who was one of the stars of the Campus Movie prologue presented recently, will also be heard at the Krawl, as well as several others well known in University circles.

AT THE McDONALD—

Rudy Vallee is the charming musical idol who leads the exceptional cast of "The Vagabond Lover" at the McDonald theatre. The feminine interest centers in the charming Sally Blane who wears seads of new long dresses and breathes the very air of sophistication. The stage scenes are most gorgeous and the music, ah, the music makes one think of starlight nights and June roses.

AT THE REX—

"Married in Hollywood" is a fast moving show, skipping from Vienna to movie land just as easy as can be. Rex shows always have lots of punch and "Married in Hollywood" is no exception.

AT THE COLONIAL—

"Loves of Casanova" at the State features the fiery Lupe Velez and the good looking William Boyd. Jetta Goudell plays villainess so there you have it. Enjoy the show.

Architectural School Honored With Visitors

C. Herrick Hammond, president of the American Institute of Architects, from Chicago, will visit the school of architecture in the middle of February. The school also expects the visit of J. Monroe Hewlette, first vice-president of the institute, from New York, at that time.

Listening in on lectures

IN ONE era of history no young woman was eligible for marriage unless she was able to take flax and weave it into a wedding gown. That plan might not work so well today.—Professor C. L. Huffaker, education.

Rampant individualism as we have it in our present day philosophy is our biggest problem. People misunderstand the relationship between the individual and society—do.

Success of "Disraeli" Due to Arliss' Fine Characterization

One of the greatest plays in the history of the American stage has been made into a Vitaphone production by Warner Brothers. The play is "Disraeli" and this new screen version stars George Arliss, the masterful actor who made such a tremendous success of the mysterious original production. His performance on the screen is a powerful one—the equal of the finest stage performance he ever gave in his life.

Mr. Arliss' portrayal of "Disraeli" runs the gamut of characterization. It is a thing of ever-changing moods and therefore fascinating in its unexpectedness.

Intrigue, romance, strategy—George Arliss deftly brings out the nuance of each passing emotion of the mysterious super-statesman, Disraeli.
