Moe Awarded High Honor . . .
Frosh Tossers Look Good . . .
Sophomores Strengthen Team . . .

By Harry Van Dine

THE Webfoot varsity is host to the University of Idaho Vandals, one of the teams figured to be in the running for the conference championship, and Coach Bill Reinhart's men are doing everything they can to make the stay of the Vandals one they will long remember. The Webfoots showed a reversal of form in the second Washington State game and are expected to give any team in the circuit a real battle. Bill Keenan and Henry Levoff, the two sophomores injected into the lineup, seem to have furnished the Oregon squad with the necessary punch. These two men should prove to be among the best in the league before they finish their athletic careers. Steve Fletcher, another sophomore, has also shown to advantage of late, and he should improve with experience.

THE idea of training for football by turning out for wrestling during the winter months seems to be gaining in popularity at Oregon, as Bill Reinhart has put his official O. K. on the idea. Bob Zuppke and Knute Rockne, nationally known coaches, have been strong backers of the idea for several years. Several Webfoot grid stars have signified their intentions of turning out for the mat game and their presence will greatly add to the interest in the sport. There are also several wrestlers in school who have won fame in amateur circles and Oregon should be able to turn out a good team. Harry Elliott is acting as coach of the squad and announces that several meets will probably be arranged. Wrestling is an interesting sport and the success of the team will be watched with interest.

THE selection of Don Moe, Oregon's genial golf captain, for a place on the team that will represent the United States in the Walker cup matches, to be played in England this spring, is the highest honor that can be accorded an amateur golfer. Moe is rated fifth among the amateurs of the country and at present holds the Western Amateur championship and the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate title. Don is a sort of fellow who will make friends wherever he goes and he will place the name of the University before millions of people by his playing. Moe's selection hurts Oregon's chances to repeat as coast golf champ, but he will do more for the University on his trip. Don will leave Portland April 20, so will not be registered in school spring term. He will sail from New York on the Mauretania on April 30. After the Walker cup matches he plans to enter several other tournaments in Europe.

COACH PRINK CALLISON has some very likely looking varsity material listed in the ranks of his freshman basketball team this year. The yearlings have not had a great amount of practice and their game yesterday with the Chemawa Indians was the first of the year for the first year men. Callison has been working hard with his men to develop another powerful team and he seems to have succeeded. The frosh do not have a very choice schedule but they have their annual little big series with the Oregon state Rocks. Naturally these games will arouse the most interest and the yearlings are pointing for them. With such men as Clarence James, Bill Bowerman, and Homer Stahl, forwards; George Beechler, center; and Bill Morgan and Don Siegmund, guards, the frosh have a well balanced team.

HUMOR 'COLYUM' IN EMERALD ENDS

Pursuant with a policy announced yesterday by Art Schoen, editor, and Vinton Hall, managing editor of the Emerald, the Lemon Toddy humor column in the paper has been discontinued.

No immediate successor to the column has been announced, but literary creations by Mike Griffin, Emerald literary editor, will appear from time to time in the paper.

Opening their season in good style the Oregon freshman basketball team under Prink Callison yesterday afternoon defeated the Chemawa Indian team, 47 to 25. The first half was uninteresting, the yearlings scoring first and continuing to hold their lead throughout the rest of the game. The Indians made their best bid for the game in the first quarter when their rivals lead was cut down to two points.

Clarence James, forward for the frosh was high point man for the contest accounting for 11 points with five field goals and one free throw. He was closely followed by Siegmund of the Oregon team who scored 9 points for the winners. The high point man for the losers was M. Simmons who tallied 7 points.

Start Old Lineup
In the second half the freshmen started with their original lineup and soon had run up a substantial lead which was not cut down to any great extent the remainder of the game. The game was divided into four periods in place of the usual two halves. The freshmen were leading 27 to 12 at the half. The reserve power of the Oregon team seemed particularly good, 13 men in all being used by Prink Callison during the game. Minney and Thompson showed promise when sent in during the closing minutes of the game.

Roberts Is Ace
Red Roberts, who replaced Beechler for the freshmen was perhaps the outstanding man on the floor taking all factors into consideration, his defensive work being particularly outstanding.

TALES OF BAD SNOWS

could reach with a shovel and as large as an ordinary room."

"I was reared among snowstorms back in Iowa, Kansas and Nebraska," said Dean John R. Landsbury, of the school of music. When Dean Landsbury was 11 years old he lived in Leadville, Colorado, which has an elevation of 10,200 feet. Here they have winter about ten months out of the year and plenty of snow. "I like snow very much when one is prepared for it and I enjoy tobogganing and skiing especially. We used to have large toboggans, then called travelers, which would hold 30 to 40 people, and we would get on this and coast for miles. Horses were used to pull the travelers up the hill again."

Registrar Earl M. Pallett was in Madison, South Dakota, seven years ago when the schools had to be shut down for two days because the snow was so deep. "The snow was four to six feet deep in the drifts and it was utterly impossible for a man to walk for more than two blocks," Mr. Pallett said.

Dr. H. R. Crossland, of the psychology department, has been in Duluth, Minnesota, when the snow was three feet deep and the temperature 40 degrees below zero. This was at Christmas in 1918.

Dean David E. Faville, of the school of business administration, found himself wandering around in the city of Boston with a foot of snow on the ground and more coming, in February, 1927. He had gone back there to do some research work, and having only arrived the same morning spent the day looking for a place to stay. At 11 o'clock that night he located a room in a dormitory and then could not find the janitor to let him in. This was Dean Faville's most disconcerting experience with snow.

All-campus Dance
To Be Given Fri.
By Oregon Club

No-date Affair Will Be
At Gerlinger Hall;
Weber To Play

The annual dance sponsored by Girls' Oregon club for all University of Oregon independents is slated to take place Friday night, January 17, at 9 o'clock in Gerlinger hall.

Although this has always been a dance given especially for campus independents, this year the policy has been changed somewhat, and Oregon club cordially invites the campus as a whole to attend.

Students Cooperate
The Associated Student Body is cooperating with Oregon club in arranging this annual affair. It is providing Gerlinger hall for Friday night, and also arranging for George Weber's orchestra to play for the dance.

Alice Murphy, chairman of the affair, states that the dance is to be informal and no-date. The main idea of the dance is to get everyone acquainted with everyone else, she says.

Committeemen Listed
Under Alice Murphy, as general chairman, are: Alice Clink, chairman of the entertainment committee; Peggy Fisher, chairman of the names committee; Jennie Klemm, chairman of the advertising committee; and Anne Bricknell, chairman of publicity.

Among the patrons and patronesses will be Dean Virginia Judy Esterly, Mrs. Hazel Prutsman Schwering, Dean Straub, and Mrs. H. D. Sheldon. Everyone is invited.

WEEK'S SCHEDULE
McDonald — Tuesday, "Dark Street." Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "Welcome Danger."

Hellig — Tuesday, "The Girl from Woolworth's." Rex — Tuesday, "The Dance of Life." Wednesday and Thursday, "The Night Parade." Friday and Saturday, "Courtship Wildcats." Colonial — Tuesday and Wednesday, "Sal of Singapore." Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "Ben Hur."

State — Tuesday and Wednesday, "The Bachelor Girl." Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "The Cock-Eyed World."

One of the cutest shows, and by this we do not mean vastly intellectual or highbrow is little Alice White's "The Girl from Woolworth's" at the Hellig. Blonde and brave and with a form like a champion she frisks her way to success and into the arms of her faithful Irish sweetheart.

"Dark Streets" at the McDonald, too, deserves a word of praise. Jack Mulhall plays the first dual role of the talkies and does it admirably.

The Rex offers "The Dance of Life." When we mention Nancy Carroll and Harold Skelly we have said enough for one day.

Phyllis Haver leads interest at the Colonial in "Sal of Singapore." As a pretty vixen of the dance halls, she proves a good companion to Alan Hale.

Football Men Are Expected

Team

Ability Being Shown by Large Squad

Wrestling at Oregon is fast regaining popularity, in the opinion of Harry Elliot, Webfoot wrestling coach, who is training about 30 men in the grappling sport. The prospect of a sizeable turnout of football men is in sight now.

Bill Reinhart, varsity backfield coach, is in favor of wrestling as a means of developing and conditioning football men during the off season. It is not an untried principle as Bob Zuppke, head Illinois football coach, and Knute Rockne, acting in the same capacity at Notre Dame, both require their entire football squads to training in wrestling between the end of the football season and the beginning of spring practice.

Veterans Turn Out
Ralph Bates, substitute Webfoot lineman, has signified his intention of turning out for wrestling as soon as his finger, injured in the Florida game, heals sufficiently. Bates weighs 217 and will brighten the heavyweight ranks. Joe Jantsa, 240, will work with Bates. He has had wrestling experience at West Point. This pair may be joined by Tiny Wade, 223, who is interested in the sport although not a football man. Sherwood Billings, 190, star tackle of the frosh eleven, is also out for the ear-twisting game.

Squad Is Large
As the turnout is large and the candidates are showing unusual wrestling ability, Coach Elliot plans on having capable men in every weight to carry Oregon colors this year. The schedule has not been formed, but probably will include matches with other Northwest conference schools and possibly with Portland and Seattle athletic clubs.

Movement

The first of the series of fraternity discussions held each year under the auspices of the campus Y. M. C. A. is scheduled this evening in 21 men's organizations on the campus.

The discussions will be led by University professors and by business and professional men of Eugene who have consented to cooperate in the movement.

Max Adams, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., urged yesterday that house representatives for the discussions announce the meetings to their organization this noon.

Those who have been assigned to the various organizations are: Alpha Beta Chi, Verne G. Blue; Alpha Upsilon, Rev. Clay E. Palmer; Delta Epsilon, Dean Hugh L. Biggs; Delta Tau Delta, Dr. H. L. Boasing; Kappa Sigma, Rev. J. M. Adams.

Phi Kappa Psi, Dean Eric W. Allen; Phi Sigma Kappa, Lt. G. F. Herbert; Psi Kappa, William J. Reinhart; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Prof. Charles G. Howard; Sigma Chi, Prof. H. S. Tuttle; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Prof. A. B. Stillman; Theta Chi, Dean John J. Landsbury.

Alpha hall, Father Leipzig; Friendly hall, Dean David E. Faville; Gamma hall, Prof. Waldo Schumacher; Omega hall, Roy Smith; Sherry Ross hall, Prof. G. W. Robbins; Sigma hall, Prof. E. R. Knollin; Zeta hall, Prof. Ralph R. Huestis; International house, Prof. Walter Barnes.

The two other discussions of the series are scheduled for January 21 and 28.

Idaho Chances Said

Last Night at Igloo

IDAHO'S hopes of winning the three-game series against Oregon are somewhat weaker this morning, as they lost a hard-fought game to the Webfoots last night, but at 7 o'clock tonight Coach Rich Fox's men will have another crack at the victorious Lemon and Green. If they start off as they finished last night's game the customers are in for a treat.

Now in Order

The men's annual ladder tennis tournament will get under way this week. Sherman Lockwood, first ranking tennis player, will have charge and has announced he will receive no entries for the list later than tonight.

The purpose of the tournament is to size up varsity material. No one who is not eligible for the now Oregon's varsity may enter.

Lockwood will post a list of the names in the office of the men's gymnasium. Players will have the right to challenge any one of the three above them. As they win their matches they will take the place of the one they defeated. It will be a process of moving up, hence the name ladder.

Players will not be forced to play out in the snow, but will practice in McArthur court any time before basketball practice at 3:30 o'clock.

This tournament will take the place of varsity practice for the time being and those winning top places will probably form the first team.

Plans are underway, according to George Will, co-holder of the Pacific coast intercollegiate golf championship with Don Moe, to bring the Oregon state amateur golf championship to Eugene.

This tourney will be held the latter part of May, and if it is held in Eugene the entire University of Oregon golf squad will be able to compete. With such outstanding stars as George Will, Vincent Dolp, Bill Palmberg, Francis Heitkemper, Ike Staples, and others the squads' chances of good ranking is assured with possibilities of winning the title.

Due to the fact that this championship has been held in Portland for the last three years, the Oregon State Golf association is desirous of giving new environment to the tournament.

With the exception of Portland, Astoria and Eugene have the only courses of championship caliber in the state of Oregon. The association has asked Eugene to consider holding this tournament at the Eugene country club and is waiting for the club's decision.

"The students have been prevented from playing in this tournament," explained George Will, because heretofore it has been held in Portland at the same time as final examinations.

"Last year," the student golfer declared, "only Don Moe was able to compete and he was permitted to go only because he was the defending champion. It is the hope of every member of the University golf team that this championship be held in Eugene."

Women's League
To Vote on Name
At Next Meeting

Oregon Group Wants Its Title Changed, Says
President Peters

Opportunity to change the name of Women's league to Associated Women Students of the University of Oregon will be given to campus women when voting will take place at a mass meeting at the Gerlinger building Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Helen Peters, president, announced yesterday.

Pointing out that the University of Oregon is virtually alone in its retention of the league title, Miss Peters said that the league council believes adoption of the new name will bring all women students in closer organization. "Colleges everywhere have decided that 'Associated Women's students' is a much more appropriate name," she declared.

An all-day campus waffle dance January 30 has been planned by the women's council for the Foreign Scholar fund. Spring term vacation dances, to be given over the state, have also been planned by the council, according to Miss Peters.
