

International Week Slated By Directors

February 24 to March 1
Is Date Planned by Committee

EMERALD BACKS EVENT

Hal Paddock Named Head
Of Affair; Speakers
To Be Obtained

Tentative plans for International week, annual event sponsored by interested campus groups and the Oregon Daily Emerald, were made last night at the initial meeting of the directorate at the Y. M. C. A. hut. Hal Paddock, junior in business administration, was elected chairman of the committee, and Mildred Dobbin, sophomore in journalism, secretary, and Mary Klemm, senior in journalism, in charge of publicity.

Pageant on Program
Events for the week's program, which will last from February 24 until March 1, include the annual pageant given by the Cosmopolitan club, in which the romance language clubs on the campus take part, the dinner for foreign students at which they are guests of American students, and addresses and social events open to the whole campus.

Possible speakers for the week's program include Paul Mung, general secretary of Chinese work in the United States, and Methodist Bishop James C. Baker, of the Corea area. The schedule is not yet definite.

Groups Sponsor affair
Members of the committee which met last night, representing the various organizations sponsoring the affair, include Edna Spenser, Cosmopolitan club; Leonard Jee, International house; Miss Henrietta Thompson, visitor at the local Y. W. C. A.; Mildred McGee, Y. W. C. A.; Professor Charles G. Howard of the law school, representing the social science club; Wilfred Brown, the Emerald; Mildred Dobbin, International Relations study group of Philomate; Hal Paddock, Y. M. C. A.; Don Campbell, Y. M. C. A.; and Mary Klemm, Y. W. C. A.

TWO NEW NIGHT EDITORS CHOSEN

Three major changes in the night staff of the Emerald have been announced by Ralph David, chief night editor. Two new night editors, Embert Fossum and Ted Montgomery, have been appointed to take the places of students resigning from the staff, and Clifford Gregor has been promoted to the status of alternate night editor, a new position on the paper. All three were assistant night editors last term.

Night editors this term are: Monday, Warner Guiss; Tuesday, Embert Fossum; Wednesday, Beatrice Bennett; Thursday, William White; Friday, Ted Montgomery; alternate, Clifford Gregor.

GERMAN CLUB TO GIVE GARDEN FEST

Typically German entertainment in the form of a "Deutsches Garten Fest," will be given by members of the German club, plans for which were discussed at a meeting of the organization Tuesday night. The definite arrangements will be kept a mystery and revealed only at the time the affair takes place.

German musical and dramatic entertainment and refreshments will be features of the evening, according to Diana Deininger, president of the German club. The entertainment is scheduled for the latter part of winter term.

Tryouts for the short plays will be held at the next meeting of the club, Tuesday, January 21, and all students who can speak German are invited to try out for the parts.

Staff of 'Old Oregon' Rescues Small Bird From Death in Cold

IT'S getting colder and colder—in fact it got too cold for one small bird yesterday afternoon. He was just about frozen to death when some kind member of the Old Oregon staff picked him up out of the snow and took him into the Old Oregon office.

Ever took turns holding him, and finally revived to the extent that he was able to walk. The entire length of the bird was about 10 centimeters. He later took the use of his wings, and began to beg for his freedom. He was fed first, and then he was released. He was immediately released to produce some bread crumbs for "a poor victim of the storm."

Two Lying Cups Offered Winners In Radio Contest

Eugene Merchants Donate
Trophies for Best
House Programs

Fred Norton To Announce
Grand Prizes Soon

Two local merchants, interested in the Emerald-KORE radio contest, have offered large silver cups which are to be presented, in addition to the grand prizes, to the man's house and the woman's house whose programs take first prize in their respective sections. The grand prizes have not yet been selected, but will be announced in a short time, according to Fred Norton, contest director.

Paul D. Green, men's clothier, is offering the men's trophy, and the Buster Brown shoe store has presented the other.

Norton expressed himself as very well pleased with the cooperation which the contest has received from Eugene townspeople and businessmen. "I do not believe," he stated, "that any university activity in the past two years has so aroused the public interest."

"Officials of station KORE have informed me that they are satisfied that the Emerald radio contest will be the most popular radio feature that University students have so far attempted."

Mrs. Clara Fitch Recovering From Accident Injuries

Condition Still Serious,
Says Physician
In Attendance

Mrs. Clara Fitch, secretary to the graduate school, who was struck by an automobile Wednesday night at the corner of Eleventh and Kincaid streets, was reported late yesterday to have improved, although her condition is still quite serious.

Mrs. Otilie Seybolt, who was accompanying Mrs. Fitch, suffered only minor injuries and returned to her home last night. According to Dr. G. I. Hurley, who is handling the case, complete investigation revealed that Mrs. Fitch sustained two broken ribs, fractures of the collar bone and shoulder blade, with possible injury to the cervical vertebrae. Dr. Hurley stated last night, that while the case is a very formidable one, it is not necessarily fatal.

F. L. Stetson Working On Booklet for State

In cooperation with J. M. Burgess of the state department of education, Professor F. L. Stetson, a member of the school of education faculty, has been preparing a manual for small high schools throughout the state.

This publication, which will be issued by the state department of education the latter part of January, includes directions and schedules for study to solve the problems arising in smaller high schools.

Dr. Hall Goes East to Meet With Spears

Missoula, Montana, Scene
Of Conference Set
For Today

ACCEPTANCE ASSURED

Executive Council Choice
Approved by University
Alumni Group

The time: 4 p. m. mountain standard time.
The place: Missoula, Montana.
The characters: Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall and Dr. Clarence Wilce Spears.

The action to take place is all arranged. Dr. Hall will tender the contract and the other worthy doctor will sign it. Or that is he hope he will.

Results Certain
This meeting has a parallel in the workings of the political system of the United States, every four years, when the electoral college meets to elect the president of the United States.

Everybody knows what they are going to do and everybody knows the result of the meeting long before it occurs.

So it is in this case. Everybody knows what is to transpire in the city of Missoula and it is more or less of an anti-climax but absolutely essential. Dr. Spears has signified his intention of accepting the terms offered by the executive council of the University and it would be almost more than the student body could bear if there was a hitch in the proceedings and the whole business had to be repeated.

President Leaves

Dr. Hall left Eugene Wednesday morning to make the trip to Missoula and the meeting with the new coach should not require much time as the stage is set and ready for the expected action.

That the choice of Spears was acceptable to the students was demonstrated by the flood of wires that almost swamped the local telegraph office. Confidence in the ability of the newly elected coach was expressed by Woodie Archer, who last season led the football team in playing time.

Archer Likes Choice

Archer said:
"I believe that the University of Oregon is very fortunate in obtaining such a wonderful surgeon as well as a remarkable football coach. Dr. Spears will undoubtedly prove to be a beneficial addition to the influential physical education department as well as an inspiration to his proteges on the grid-iron. His brilliance will have a desirable psychological influence on his men and on those who are aspiring to join his ranks in later years."

That he was also an acceptable choice to the faculty was expressed by Dean James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science and the arts, who said, "We are all gratified at the successful outcome of Dr. Hall's efforts to secure a first rate man for the coaching job. During my recent visit to the University of Minnesota I heard nothing but favorable reports on the work of Dr. Spears and the wholesome influence he exerted for the morale of the student body."

Dr. Del Stannard, alumni member of the executive council, expressed in his opinion, that the selection was favorable to the alumni. He said, "We are all pleased with Dr. Spears. Every one I have talked to is well pleased with our selection. Dr. Spears cannot be considered as undesirable by the alumni faction, for in talking with the various alumni here and in the south they intimated that it would be a wonderful thing if Oregon could get Dr. Spears, but were afraid that we could not. But now that we have him I believe that everyone is satisfied and happy."

Morris Expected Back On Campus This Week

Victor P. Morris, professor in economics, is expected by members of his department to return to the campus within the next few days, it was announced yesterday. Mr. Morris has been in the East taking his Ph. D.

Anxious to Direct Webfoots

Dr. C. W. Spears, who has agreed with University officials to coach the Webfoot gridmen during the coming five years. Final arrangements will be completed today when Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall consults with the new football mentor at Missoula, Montana.

Decoration Motif For Frosh Glee Is Secret, Says Head

Chairman Gillespie Sends
Out Call for Workers
On Decorations

McArthur Will Be Ready
In Due Time

DECORATION MOTIF ... 5 ...
With only one more day in which to make preparations for the Frosh Glee Saturday night, and with the usual amount of rush work confronting him, Chuck Gillespie, general chairman of the committee in charge, is sending out a plea for men and girls to assist this afternoon in the work of decorating McArthur court for the big dance.

Those who plan to attend the hop tomorrow night need not be alarmed over the state of affairs, however, says the chairman. The Igloo is already being transformed into a mass of color and by the time Johnny Robinson's Varsity Vagabonds strike up the first note tomorrow night, there will be nothing to indicate that the last few hours have been hurried ones.

Keep Motif Secret

Neither Gillespie nor Larry Bay, president of the class, chose to reveal the motif of the decorations, which have been especially designed by the John L. Stark company of Portland. "We assure you," they promised, "that the background will be a fitting one for the scores of fluffy frosh which the girls will wear."

Snoozing During Concerts Proves To Be Old Habit

Haydn, 18th Century Composer, Planned Chord To Waken Sleepers

Orchestra Will Feature
Symphony Sunday

Snoozing through concerts was not unheard of, even back in the days of sparkling 18th century courts.

So reveals a story handed down to the present about genial "Papa" Haydn, composer and master of counterpoint of the 18th century. A fortissimo chord that literally jolts listeners of his Third Symphony was the jolly Haydn's way of having a little laugh at those who dozed through his music, according to the tale.

Chord Follows Melody
The chord crashes dramatically toward the first part of the second movement (andante) just after a quiet melodious passage.

University students will have a chance to be "jolted" by the same giant chord this coming Sunday afternoon when at 4 o'clock vespers services, the University of Oregon orchestra, conducted by Rex Underwood, head of the violin department, will make one of its few appearances of the year.

The last of the three concert numbers will be Haydn's symphony which is known popularly as the "Surprise" symphony, because of the famous chord.

Though the chord story is interesting, there is little proof that

Verne Blue Speaks at Meeting

Lecture Topic on 'Nationalism in India'

"Nationalism in India" was the subject of an address given by Verne Blue, assistant professor of history, at a meeting of the International Relations club last night.

Mr. Blue gave a short history of the rise of nationalism in India from its first evident appearance following the Russian-Japanese war, when a demand was made of Great Britain for a dominion status, to the present time and condition of violence and reprisals. England, while not unfriendly, failed to grant India the position of a dominion, and other petitions and demands followed, each in turn to be entirely rejected or revised by the British government.

After each of these discouragements the following petition from the successive Indian conventions would ask for a further degree of home rule until now Mr. Blue believes that even home rule may fail to satisfy the nationalists, who have progressed to the desire for complete independence.

Willamette Smothers Oregon; Score 40-30; Frosh Face Hard Tilt

Yearlings to Tangle With Medford Five

Game Tonight With High School Team To Be In Men's Gym

Many Men Will Get Into Game, Says Coach

By RALPH YERGEN

Tonight at 7 o'clock the frosh basketball team will tangle with the Medford high school quintet in the men's gymnasium. It was necessary to move the tilt from the Igloo because of decoration work there for the Frosh-Glee.

Although Coach Frank Callison did not announce his starting lineup last night, he indicated that he would use a good many men as he did in the initial battle with Chemawa. The illness of Bill Bowerman is a severe blow to the team, as he was one of the most dependable yearling forwards. Bowerman is in bed with a bad cold and probably will not be able to play again before next week.

Many to See Service

Those who are almost certain of seeing service are Clarence James, Homer Stahl, and Hughie Evans, forwards; George Beechler and Red Roberts, centers; Don Siegmund, Bill Morgan, Cliff Garnett, and Roy Shaneman, guards.

James has been the outstanding frosh player on offense. He scored 11 points against Chemawa and is improving steadily with basketball shooting practice. This sharp-eyed forward should develop into good varsity material for next year.

Bill Morgan is a consistent guard, strong on defense and instrumental in breaking up opponent rushes. The babes will need him this year. Siegmund and Garnett are both coming along steadily and are already considered as regulars.

Roberts May Start

The important position of center is ably taken care of by big George Beechler and Red Roberts. Beechler started the game against Chemawa but Roberts has been showing up exceptionally well in practice and may get the starting call. Roberts is the faster of the two and works in well with Callison's style of play. By using a large portion of his squad against Medford tonight and Albany college tomorrow afternoon, Callison will be able to get a line on his material.

The Medford team, headed by Merrill Hagan, coach, arrived in town last night and took a short workout at the men's gymnasium. The Peapicker squad is in fair condition and ready to cross swords with the quintet of their former coach.

DEAN OF WOMEN MAKING SURVEY

The dean of women's office in conjunction with Dorothy Kirk and Joan Patterson of the Women's league is making a survey of the different activities on the campus in order to find out the amount of time spent on them by students.

The head or president of each activity is being required to answer a questionnaire, some of the questions on which are: Is the activity class, departmental, A. S. U. O., University, dormitory or sorority? Is it appointive, elective, or voluntary; social, educational, discussion, administrative or honorary? What are the dues and membership requirements?

"The survey has not been completed as yet but we expect to have the material assembled within a few days," Dean Esterly said yesterday.

'Turn on the Heat' Is Watchword for Oregon Club Dance

"YOU won't have to grab a woman or a tux or a dollar to go to the big All-Campus dance tonight. Just grab an overcoat and mittens and hike out to Gerlinger hall—and you will soon shed those, 'cause it's going to be a hot party!" promises Alice Murphy, chairman of the committee in charge of the annual Oregon Club dance, which is to take place tonight.

Upperclassman or underclassman, old or new student, fraternity members or independents—every campus sheik and sheba will be cordially welcomed by Oregon Club, according to Anne Bricknell, member of the committee. The no-date system is to be the order of the evening, and the committee states that "George Weber and his gang are all set to furnish plenty of whoopee."

Moeller and Lillie Hurt as Bobsled Hits Phone Pole

Track Star and Football Letterman Get Several Cracked Bones

May Keep Discus Hurler From Competition

As the result of a bobsled accident in which the sled on which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole, Ed Moeller, unofficial holder of the world's discus record, and Jerry Lillie, football letterman, are today under medical care; Moeller wearing a cast on a cracked elbow, which may keep him out of track and field competition next year, and Lillie with a cast on his left foot.

The accident occurred Wednesday night on University street, near McArthur court. They were treated later by University physicians.

It will be several months before Moeller will be able to use the injured arm freely, and doctors believe that a permanent stiffness may result, preventing him from entering active competition again.

Lillie's foot was badly crushed, and two small bones found broken, although the injury was not thought serious enough to keep him from playing football under Dr. Spears, Oregon's new coach.

UDALL TO HANDLE DANCE PUBLICITY

Fletcher Udall, junior in economics, was appointed yesterday by Day Foster, chairman of the Senior Ball, to handle the advertising and ticket sales for the ball. Plans are being made to advertise over KORE, through the Emerald, and by means of posters. Vincent Mutton has been secured to make the posters which are to be placed around the campus. Tickets will be on sale at the Co-op and by representatives in each living organization.

"Neither the place nor the price has as yet been decided," said Foster, "but we will probably settle these questions Tuesday when there is to me a meeting of the senior class at 5 in Villard hall."

Two New Patients Put Under Infirmary Care

Faulkner Short and Jose Pimentel are the only new inmates at the infirmary. However, the names of Margaret Litscher, Kenneth Allen, Ruth Van Schoonhoven, Tom Williams, Allan Scavell, and Dessel Helfrich appear on the list of inmates still at the infirmary.

Ducks Take Wallop From Bearcat Five

Salem Game Draws Large Crowd; Keenan High Point Man

Levoff Makes Spectacular Lead in Opening

By JOHN GILHOUSEN

SALEM, Ore., Jan. 16.—(Special to the Emerald)—In a game featured with rough spectacular basketball the Willamette Bearcats walloped the Oregon cagers 40 to 30 here tonight.

The impregnable Bearcat defense and the fast breaking of both teams featured the game after both teams had played a full minute without scoring. Levoff and Eberhart ran a lead to five points before the Bearcats could locate the basket. When the Jason Lee offense once started, they rolled up an opposing lead which was never headed, although Coach Reinhart made numerous substitutions trying to find a winning combination.

The score at the half stood 20 to 8. Oregon staged a belated rally late in the last quarter and drew within six points of tying. A count by Adams put the game on ice by sinking two close ones in rapid succession. Cardinal with 14 points and Adams with 13 were the Bearcats' aces, while Keenan with eight points starred for the visitors.

Summary:
Willamette Pos. Oregon
Scales (8) F..... (8) Keenan
Adams (13) F..... (6) Levoff
Cardinal (14) C..... (2) Eberhart
Houck (0) G..... (0) Dolp
Gibson (5) G..... (0) Calkins

Substitutions:
For Willamette—Carpenter and Peterson.

For Oregon—Fletcher, Horner, Dixon (1), Stevens (1), Rubenstein (4), Hughes (4), Potter (4), Bell.

Referee—Coleman.

BANQUET TONIGHT AT WESTMINSTER

With more than 40 of the 50 campus living organizations represented, a banquet will be given this evening as part of a campaign planned for this term to acquaint the campus with the idea of Westminster house. The dinner will be held in the student room of the house at 6 o'clock.

Dean John Straub will preside at the affair and speak briefly. Other speakers will be Carl Moore, president of the Westminster cabinet; Elaine Williams, vice-president, and Helen Jean Holt, social secretary.

Arrangements for the banquet were in charge of the social committee, headed by Miss Holt, and the publicity committee, headed by Thornton Shaw.

Cartoons for Thesis Problems Under Way

Cartoons for the thesis problems of the post graduate students in painting are well under way, according to Michael Muller, professor of painting. These paintings consist of large decorative easel pictures four feet by five in dimension. The subjects are: "The Expulsion," by Mary Kirkwood; "The Rest Room," by Nellie Best; and "Girls in the Shower," by Lucia Wiley.

"I consider the work of unusual high standard in quality that one would hardly expect to find in other than a professional art school, and of which the dean and staff are highly pleased," said Andrew M. Vincent, assistant professor of painting and drawing.
