

Four Committees Are Completing Plans for International Week

Chairman of Affair Makes Announcement

Groups To Be in Charge Of Speakers, Banquet, And Pageant

Three Organizations Join For Cooperation

Arrangements for International Week, scheduled for the week of February 24 to March 1, will be in the hands of four committees, it was announced at a meeting yesterday of the directorate. The announcement came from Hal Paddock, who is general chairman for the week.

The four committees will be as follows: committee on speakers, to be in charge of securing speakers who are well-versed in international affairs; banquet committees, to arrange for the banquet, at which every American student attending will be asked to bring a foreign student with him.

Pageant Closes Week
The pageant committee will arrange the international pageant which always brings the week to a close, and the arrangements committee will have charge of getting various organizations to cooperate in the movement, and will arrange for bringing the speakers to the campus.

Edna Spenser will be in charge of the pageant, which is under the auspices of the Cosmopolitan club. Her entire committee, together with the other committees and committee chairmen will be announced in Tuesday's Emerald.

Three Groups Join
Three more organizations have joined the list of those cooperating in carrying on of International Week, it was reported at the meeting yesterday. These are the International Relations club, Philippensis, and Associated Women students.

One feature of International Week, this year is that the whole world will be covered in the discussions, instead of just the countries of the Pacific region as was the case last year.

Attention was called at the meeting yesterday to the situation of the students in Bulgaria. Mildred McGee was appointed to see if something could be done to help relieve the situation, in connection with International Week here.

New Meeting Scheduled
Another meeting of the directorate will be held at the "Y" hut next Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Any organizations which wish to take an active part in International Week are asked to send a representative to this meeting, or call either Hal Paddock or Mildred Dobbins.

Intramural debate among the fraternities and sororities of the University of California at Los Angeles has a recognized place among the campus competitive affairs.

Mrs. Fitch Slowly Recovering After Recent Accident

Pneumonia Keeping Bones From Mending, Doctor Of Secretary, Says

Mrs. Clara Fitch, secretary of the graduate school, who was seriously injured a week ago yesterday in an automobile accident on the campus, is gradually recovering, and her condition in general is favorable, according to a report from Dr. George I. Hurley last night. Mrs. Fitch is at the Pacific Christian hospital.

Incipient pneumonia, which has rendered the setting of broken bones impossible, is clearing up, Dr. Hurley stated, and he expects to be able to operate within the next few days. Mrs. Fitch incurred a fractured collar bone and shoulder blade, and two broken ribs in the accident. The bones, however, are not in a bad position, the report said.

Mrs. Fitch took up her duties in the graduate school on January 1, having formerly been connected with the administrative offices. Mrs. Robert H. Seashore and Mrs. Ralph D. Casey, the wives of two professors in the University, are holding her job open for her during her illness.

AT THE HEILIG—Colleen Moore is scoring a decided hit at the Heilig this week where she struts her captivating personality in "Footlights and Fools." In addition to her own charm every mechanical device has been employed to make the picture a huge success. Technicolor brings to the screen personalities a resemblance to real life that is most startling. The gorgeous, elaborate head dresses and shapely legs of the chorus is another noteworthy feature.

AT THE STATE—Today is the last showing of "Big Time," the backstage hooper story which has been running at the State theatre.

AT THE REX—"Wall Street," a novel and romantic presentation of the activities of the New York stock exchange, opens at the Rex today. It is a picture of gripping realism with two very capable people in the stellar roles.

1891 Styles for Ladies
A high linen-collar is again noticed with the cloth bodice. For a while womankind had her throat free and untrammelled, but again she has become convinced that the high white edge is needed as a finishing touch to the dark costume. Do not let your collar button show, and under no circumstance break the point of the stiff linen which must be as upright as the curate for which it was named. Walking dresses will continue to escape the floor, though carriage costumes may lie there for three or four inches. (From the Ladies Home Journal for January, 1891.)

What! No Silver For Hope-chest?

Then perhaps you had better be looking into the matter. At Laraway's Jewelry Store on Willamette there are some of the best-looking silverware patterns! Plain patterns seem to dominate, but there are all kinds from the Dolly Madison to the Mary II. They are of solid silver and are very smart.

Legs Go Wool
These days with a bang—but of course those same wool hose must be of the good-looking variety, and that kind may be procured at the U of O Ko-Ed Shop next to the College Side. They have some very smart Bursam silk and wool hose as well as some warm lisle hose with or without hand-made yarn clocks.

Smart Moderns Covering Knees

And McMorrans and Washburne's dress department has some of the cleverest $18 dresses in the new long styles (3 to 4 inches below the knee) with normal waists and circular skirts; the colors of which are very new and good—in flat silk crepes and georgettes in all sizes, including half sizes.

Looking Through Tinted Glasses
Will help many a headache that is caused from the glare on the snow. The many varieties of dull aches that your head may think up as a performance are only too many times caused by a strain on your eyes. So for a headache see Dr. Ella Meade, optician, 14 8th W., for a thorough examination of your eyes.

Let's Make Whoopie

Said the bloomer manufacturers as they sat around thinking of some new styles for underthings—and so they did, and the result was whoopie panties, clever rayon apparel with a snappy style all their own. At Kaffoury's Department Store, East Broadway, they have these panties for only 98c.

Collegiate Feet Endorse Brogues

And these same feet as well as feet just going in for brogues will be glad to hear that the Buster Brown Shoe Store on Willamette is having a sale on men and women's imported Scotch Grain Leather brogues—brogues that are waterproof and durable.

The Busy Co-Ed
Will find that she can save a lot of her most valuable time by visiting a reputable beauty shop where she can have her beauty work done promptly and well. The Eugene Hotel Beauty Parlor, phone 647, has expert operators that are most willing to help her.

The Rejuvenation Of Sally Formal

That good old frock that has seen so many affairs and yet still is in good condition has a good chance to bloom again if it is placed in good hands. Margaret Coldron, 3rd Floor of the Miner Building, does informal and formal dress alterations.

The Elements Lose
In the fight with galoshes! No matter how hard they try to ruin the comfort of your feet they will fail. At Williams Self Service Store, 77 E. Broadway, there is still a good selection of rubber and cloth galoshes moderately priced.
