Third Week Contestants To Face 'Air'

Alpha Upsilon, Alpha Tau Omega Programs on Radio Tonight

PLANS ARE WITHHELD

KORE Hours Necessitate Thursday Time Change To 7 to 8 o'clock

Alpha Upsilon and Alpha Tau Omega will face the KORE microphone tonight in the opening programs of the third week of competition in the Emerald-KORE radio contest.

Richard Averill, soloist and program director for Alpha Upsilon, reports that he has assembled a group of musicians who will make a strong bid for the beautiful Majestic radio which has been offered by McMorrin and Washburne as first prize for the contest.

Harper To Direct

Alpha Tau Omega, whose presentation, organized and under the direction of Ermin Harper, has kept the nature of its program a secret, which not to be divulged until tonight.

Fred Norton, contest director, yesterday announced that all Thursday evening programs will henceforth be held at 7 o'clock instead of 8 o'clock as in the last two weeks. This change was made necessary by a nation wide hook-up of the Columbia Broadcasting network which goes on the air every Thursday night from 8 till 9.

"It is important," said Norton, "that contestants appearing on Thursday nights start on time and have their programs well rehearsed and regulated so that they will not run over the time allotted, since the student programs must absolutely be off the air by 8 o'clock."

Smith To Lecture On 'Jazzy Blues'

Class Open To Everyone Interested

"Jazz"—a serious attempt to deal with the business of this interesting type of music—will be the subject of a lecture with illustrations which S. Stephenson Smith, assistant professor of English, will give to his class in criticism, and to Mrs. Anne Beck's class in the "Field of Music" Wednesday morning at 8 o'clock in the music auditorium.

Smith will explain symphonic jazz, and the "blues" music. Demonstrations of the characteristics which he will criticize will be given by some campus jazz-hound, and Smith will also use the phonograph to play the symphony of Gershwin, "An American in Paris."

The lecture is open to anyone interested, and particularly to those who feel energetic enough to crawl out at 8 o'clock, according to Mr. Smith.

Queer Packet in Vault

* * * * *

Forever Alway's Tale

Forever Alway's package still lies in the vault at the main library. It is a plain brown paper parcel tied with grey twine. On the cover of the package is written in pen: "Records of the route of travel of Forever Alway from July 20th to Febr. 25th, 1927. Four seals of blue and white with a five point star in the center sending out white flashes, are pasted on the paper covering. Around the outer edge of each seal is printed: "Alone to almighty God, servant Forever Alway."

A wandering botanist, few students on the campus will remember him. He first appeared two years ago with a pack on his back, travel stained and dirty. Last year he came through Eugene again and impressed with the kind treatment he had received here, left his memoirs and specimens in care of M. H. Douglass, librarian.

Some day he expects to begin writing his adventures, then he will send for his package. The message may come from Asia or South America. Perhaps the message may never come and the parcel will go on collecting dust, until some one of the future will open the package to read something of the life of Forever Alway.

The Moving Finger

FROSH PADDLING... EXTRA-LEGAL POWERS...
—By OLIVER POLITICUS—

Frosh paddling on the library steps or no frosh paddling at all could easily be determined by the constitution revision committee. Nor would there need to be any special legislation on the matter. If the new government is to be paternalistic, its very nature will determine the agency for enforcing traditions.

Any executive agency of the student government should be provided for in the constitution. At present the Order of the O and the Oregon Knights have taken upon themselves the extra-legal executive authority of enforcing past traditions. It is extra-legal because the constitution neither definitely gives them the authority nor even recognizes them as part of the student government.

Since the Order of the O and the Oregon Knights are thus non-existent, and since they indisputably do hold themselves to be two of the strongest arms of the student government.

Six Students To Appear in Music Program Tonight

Increasing Attendance Shows Popularity of Musical Programs

Vocal and Instrumental Music on Tonight

Beethoven "rubs shoulders" with the modern Russians in the program announced yesterday for tonight's Tuesday Evening Music hour, at the school of music auditorium in which six students will appear.

Increasingly large audiences at the weekly music hours, which begin promptly at 7:15 o'clock, have demonstrated their popularity this term.

Tonight's program, including violin, voice and piano music, is regarded as a pleasingly arranged one. It follows:

- Voice—
In Questa Tomba Oscar
- Beethoven
- Ralph Cole
- Voice—
My Lovely Celia.....Old English
To Stay at Home Is Best.....
-Mednikoff
- Elizabeth Gilstrap
- Piano—

Main Library Buys New Art Periodical

"The Art Index," a new H. W. Wilson periodical, has just been received by the main library. It lists articles on art in over 55 magazines and in a supplementary magazine will list 71 more. This service is monthly and is particularly valuable to students in art and others who read articles on the subject, according to M. H. Douglass, librarian.

Other such magazine indexes received by the library regularly are: "The Reader's Guide," "Industrial Art Index," "Educational Index," "The Agricultural Index," and "The International Index."

Garten Feste Plans Will Be Made Tonight

A short discussion in German of some current event will be the main feature of the meeting of the German club tonight in the Y. W. C. A. bungalow.

Further plans for the Garten Feste and a program for the Pageant of Nations to be given during International week will also be discussed tonight.

All visitors are welcome, according to Diana Deiningner, president.

Many Uphold Proposal To Change Plans

Big Game at Corvallis for Webfoot Homecoming Is Criticized

STUDENTS LAUD IDEA

to Oppose Separation Of Major Interest; Opinions Differ

Student and faculty opinion has been both for and against the proposed change in the Oregon Homecoming system which was public last Friday by the student body, and Jack Benefiel, graduate manager.

The proposal to make the Oregon-Oregon State game the Homecoming attraction every year whether played in Corvallis or Eugene, has found more friends than opponents among the students, but the members of the faculty who were questioned on the practicality of the change regarding their stand seemed to be about evenly divided.

Godfrey Upholds Plan

George H. Godfrey, director of the Bureau of Public Relations:—"If we want to have a real Homecoming every year, we must have a big game for it. This plan appears to me to be a real cure for the spiritless Homecomings which we witness here the years the Oregon State game is played in Corvallis.

Jeannette Calkins, alumni secretary and editor of Old Oregon:—"I can't see any possible good in this plan. The great body of alumni would drive from Portland and other cities to Corvallis for the game and return at once, without taking the trouble to visit the Oregon campus. We always have a capacity crowd for the Oregon State game anyway, and merely making it the Homecoming game would not swell the gate receipts. And it would not seem like Homecoming to the alumni. Homecoming would not be Homecoming to them on the Oregon State campus."

Suggestion Criticized

Harold Johnson, junior in business administration: "I am in favor of the general idea, but it seems to me as though it would be rather hard on the alumni. And wouldn't it tend to lower the gate receipts for the season? It certainly couldn't add much to the Oregon State game receipts, and would of course cut down the attendance of the game played in Eugene which would ordinarily be the Homecoming contest."

Joe Freck, junior in business administration: "Why not? Stanford and California have been working the same system for years and they are further apart than Eugene and Corvallis."

Bobby Robinson, football star: "I don't think Homecoming would be Homecoming unless the game were here in Eugene."

"Tony" Peterson, Emerald business staff: "I think that in this day and age of speed, that it is just the thing to do."

John Anderson, star swimmer: "It's a good idea; it would make every Homecoming a financial success."

Brad Harrison, tennis star: "It seems to me that it is the only thing to do."

Bill Knox: "A great idea! I'm all for it!"

Howe Will Have Operation Soon

All Classes Have Been Taken by Professors

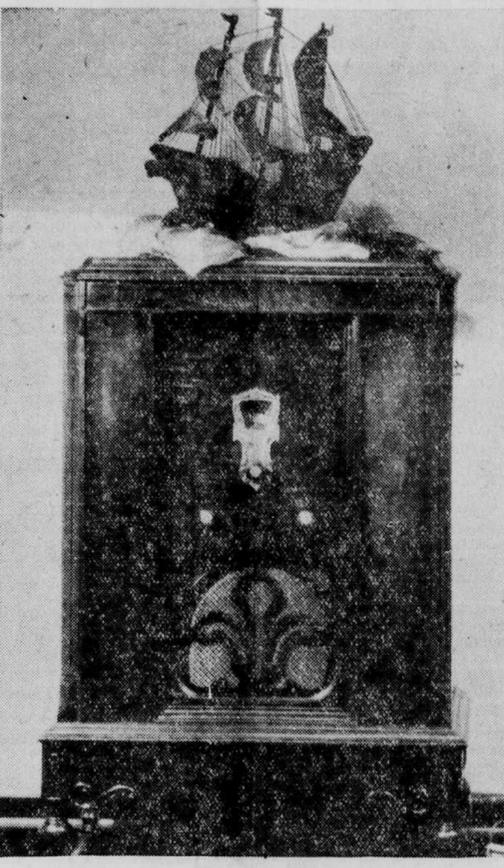

Prof. H. C. Howe, of the English department, has given up all his classes for the rest of the term, and perhaps for spring term, to undergo a thyroid operation, it was announced yesterday.

Professor Howe was bothered with thyroid trouble five years ago, and he recently has had a recurrence of this illness. The date of his operation has not been set, as he is not well enough to stand it at present.

Howe had classes in survey of English literature, living writers, English poetry, and Shelley. All have been taken over by other teachers in the English department except the poetry class, which has not yet been arranged for.

And now comes the news that serenades after midnight at Nebraska university have been forbidden by police.

For Producers of Finest Program

Here it is! Grand prize for the winning living organization in the Emerald-KORE contest which is now entering its third week. It is the newest model 9-tube Majestic radio and is sponsored by McMorrin and Washburne and radio station KORE. To the winner of this will also go a huge silver loving cup, donated by Paul D. Green's store for men. Buster Brown Shoe store is donating a silver cup of equal size for the best program among women's fraternities. Second and third prizes are a bridge lamp and radio lamp, respectively.

Women Debaters Chosen To Stand Against U. of W.

L. Hicks, B. Conoly Picked To Represent U. of O. Tomorrow Night

Lavina Hicks and Bernice Conoly are the varsity women debaters chosen to meet the University of Washington's women team on Wednesday night at 8 in 105 Commerce. The question is Resolved: That the modern diversion of women from the home to business and industrial occupations is a detriment to society.

"There has been an attempt to lighten up the debates on the Pacific coast and to make them more humorous," says Dr. Ralph C. Hoerber, head of the public speaking department. Last Thursday afternoon during a practice meeting S. Stephenson Smith, professor of English, assisted the team by giving a rebuff. "Members of the faculty have been very kind in cooperating with me," continued Dr. Hoerber. Miss Smertenko, professor of Greek and Latin, and John H. Mueller, professor of sociology, also assisted the debaters.

Earl W. Wells, professor in public speaking at O. S. C., will be the judge for the debate. He also will judge the varsity men's debate as well as the Hawaii meet.

Oregon Press Meet is Slated For Thursday

Plans Complete for Annual News Conference on Campus

SPEAKERS ARE MANY

Editor of Oregonian To Be Among Convention Leaders

Newspapers in nearly 150 Oregon towns and cities are sending representatives to the University campus this week, as delegates to the twelfth annual Oregon press conference, which is to convene here Thursday afternoon and hold sessions Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.

The entire program for the week-end is complete, it was announced last night, and copies will be off the press either today or tomorrow.

Besides the Oregon journalists, nine men from outside of the state will make the trip to Eugene in order to attend the conference. Among these will be Dr. John Henry Nash, widely known printer of San Francisco, the chief speaker on the 1930 program.

Other Speakers Named
Others are John D. Long and Fred W. Kennedy, respective field managers of the California and Washington state editorial associations; Marc N. Goodnow, field manager for the University of Southern California; Earl Brownlee, editor of Western Publisher; Ralph H. Heffe and Frank H. Bartholomew, Pacific Division managers respectively for the Associated Press and the United Press; Walter P. Burn, Pacific coast manager of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers association; and M. C. Moore, a newspaper broker of California.

Calvert To Talk
Leading the bill of speakers along with Dr. Nash will be R. G. Calvert, editor of the Portland Oregonian, who is to read a paper on "The Editorials in the Upstate Press."

The other Portland papers will be represented by Ralph J. Benjamin, editor of the News; Lester Adams, managing editor of the Telegram; and Simeon R. Winch, business manager of the Oregon Journal.

At the annual welcoming banquet Friday evening in the Hotel Osburn, Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University, and Eric W. Allen, dean of the school of journalism, are among those scheduled to talk. Margaret Clark, a senior student in the school, will entertain the visitors with a speech on "Girls in the Game."

Spencer on Schedule
In the sessions of the conference, Prof. Carlton E. Spencer, of the University law school, will deliver a lecture on "Law of the Press." Arne G. Rae, assistant professor of journalism, is to give a report before a meeting of the Oregon State Editorial association, for which he is field manager. The association has scheduled a short conclave for early Saturday morning, in order to discuss problems in management, auditing, and publicity which confront Oregon publishers at the present time.

Tom Stoddard in Bed By Doctor's Orders

Acting upon the advice of University physicians, Tom Stoddard, president of the associated students, was confined to bed at his fraternity house yesterday afternoon with a bad cold. His case is not serious, and he is expected to be out again within a couple of days.

During his absence from the executive office he has turned the control of student body affairs over to Vice-president Dick Horn.

Ten Are Confined In Infirmary Now

The infirmary had a full house of thirteen patients over the week-end, but several dismissals and three additions now make a total of ten.

Students now confined in the infirmary are: Katherine Feldman, Mable Ford, Clarence Hamilton, Rice McHaley, Marian Musgrove, Lorenzo Matthews, Walter Adams, Jack Hughes, Norwald Nelson, and Frances Keen.

All the patients are afflicted with colds.

Faculty Club To Give Dance Frolic Tonight

TONIGHT, between the hours of 7:30 and 10:30, faculty members will frolic at a dance given by the University Faculty club at the club house at 14th and Emerald streets.

Dean David E. Faville, who is in charge of arrangements for the affair, promises bridge for those who do not care to dance, Paul Jones' for those who want to circulate around, and features for the enjoyment of all. Unaffiliated members are particularly urged to attend.

A charge of 50 cents will be made to defray the expenses of the dance. Music will be by George Weber.

Brad Harrison To Be Neophyte Of Order of O

President To Be Initiated With Other Lettermen Saturday Night

Skits Will Be Offered Between Game Halves

Bradshaw Harrison, acting in the capacity of president of the Order of the O, yesterday briefly outlined the plans for the initiation of the lettermen for the coming Saturday, during which ceremony he will act in the capacity of a neophyte.

Harrison, the president, announced that the initiation in which Harrison, the neophyte, will take part, will consist of attempts at humor, portrayed through the medium of skits.

It is the annual custom of the order to hold its initiation during the basketball games in the winter term and as Harrison won his letter in tennis last spring, he has yet to be initiated although he is already installed in the highest office of the order.

The list of those to be initiated includes:

Football—Wally Shearer, Pat Lucas, Charles Spear, Lloyd Sherrill, George Christenson, Gilbert French, Henry Heyden, Jack Erdley, Irvin Schultz, Ted Parks, Walt Browne, Al Browne, John Londahl, William Anater, Harold Hatton, Francis Hill, Ralph Bates, Eric Forsta, and Marion Hall.

Swimming—Leonard Thompson, Benny Lewis, and Donald Neer.

Golf—Don Moe.

Track—Harold Hildreth, and Edmund Siegmund.

Tennis—Bradshaw Harrison.

Senior manager of sports—Russell Baker.

Those who were formally initiated as active members of the national organization are: Harry Polcar, Alex Tamkin, Jack Paige, David H. Naimark, Sol Director, Henry Levoff, Isaac Feves, Louis Feves, Charles Silverman, David Bloom, all of Portland, and Max Rubinstein, of Eugene.

National Officer Here

Nathan Feldman, of Chicago, as a member of the Octagon, the national council of the fraternity, acted as the chief installing officer of the Oregon group Saturday night. Others who aided in the installation of the Sigma Tau chapter are: Jack Friedman, president of the University of Washington chapter; Ben Robinson, University of Washington; Ed Dobrin, who is the regional governor for the Pacific Coast province; Abe Glickman, and Milton Zell, alumni members of the University of Washington chapter.

An initiation banquet was held at the local chapter house at 1860 Potter street on Saturday night. Following the installation, the 11 charter members pledged the following: Milton Gilbert, Sam Rottenberg, Calmon Margulies, Morris Schnitzer, Cecil Cohn, all of Portland; Harry and Albert Tuch, of Hollywood, California.

Officers Elected

The charter members then elected as their officers Alex Tamkin, prior; Harry Polcar, recorder, and David H. Naimark, exchequer.

Call for Track Turnout Issued

Students Asked To Make Arrangements Tomorrow

A call to varsity and freshman track aspirants to turn out for first training session came from the office of Bill Hayward, veteran Oregon track coach yesterday.

Hayward requests that all students planning to turn out for track see him at McArthur court sometime tomorrow and arrange for equipment and training hours. Those turning out for regular practice will be excused from gym and may arrange their track practice periods for their former gym periods.

K. D. Club Nominating Committee Appointed

Affie Ragan was appointed chairman of the activity committee at a meeting of the K. B. club held yesterday at the Anchorage. The purpose of this committee is to work out a project for the group, whose only purpose at present is friendship. Edna Dunbar was appointed chairman of the nominating committee.

The club is an organization of University women who belong to the Christian church, and is about to be installed as a chapter of Kappa Beta, a national group. Daphne Hughes is president, and Mrs. R. M. Day, advisor.

Hebrew Group Delta Epsilon Now Initiated

Chapter Known as Sigma Tau; Ceremony Held Last Saturday

Nathan Feldman, National Officer, Here

Eleven men appeared on the campus Sunday with octagonal-shaped badges on their clothing symbolic of the fact that they had been initiated and installed as the charter members of the University of Oregon chapter of Sigma Alpha Mu, national Hebrew fraternity. The organization here is to be known as the Sigma Tau chapter. They were formally installed Saturday night, February 1.

These men who were members of Delta Epsilon, the local Hebrew fraternity on the University campus, were formally pledged as the University of Oregon chapter of the national organization on Saturday, November 3, 1929. The men then went through a period of probation, during which time their petition for recognition was formally accepted at the national convention held during the latter part of December in Detroit.

Those who were formally initiated as active members of the national organization are: Harry Polcar, Alex Tamkin, Jack Paige, David H. Naimark, Sol Director, Henry Levoff, Isaac Feves, Louis Feves, Charles Silverman, David Bloom, all of Portland, and Max Rubinstein, of Eugene.

National Officer Here

Nathan Feldman, of Chicago, as a member of the Octagon, the national council of the fraternity, acted as the chief installing officer of the Oregon group Saturday night. Others who aided in the installation of the Sigma Tau chapter are: Jack Friedman, president of the University of Washington chapter; Ben Robinson, University of Washington; Ed Dobrin, who is the regional governor for the Pacific Coast province; Abe Glickman, and Milton Zell, alumni members of the University of Washington chapter.

An initiation banquet was held at the local chapter house at 1860 Potter street on Saturday night. Following the installation, the 11 charter members pledged the following: Milton Gilbert, Sam Rottenberg, Calmon Margulies, Morris Schnitzer, Cecil Cohn, all of Portland; Harry and Albert Tuch, of Hollywood, California.

Officers Elected

The charter members then elected as their officers Alex Tamkin, prior; Harry Polcar, recorder, and David H. Naimark, exchequer.

Webfoots To Toss Ball With Deneffe's Quintet

THE University of Oregon varsity basketball team will be seen in action tonight at the Igloo against DeNeffe's Clothing five. The DeNeffe aggregation, composed of former University stars, has already lost two pre-season contests to the Oregon hoopers, but the scores were close enough to indicate an interesting game tonight.

The game will begin promptly at 7 o'clock. Student body tickets will admit.
