By J. D. BURKE

Last Saturday night the Oregon basketball team, brought joy and hope to the Webfoot rooters and an equal amount of surprise and chagrin to a fairly large body of Corvallis students.

The Lemon and Green team played as it should, against the Black and Orange and showed a style that the campus has been waiting for, since the opening of the season.

Jean Eberhart and Cliff Horner were the mainstays of the Oregon attack while they lasted, Eberhart managing to achieve high point honors for the game even though he was removed with quite some time remaining before the close of the game. Both men were removed on personal fouls though their playing was characterized by speed and strength rather than the roughness which caused Buck Grayson to be ruled out.

Beavers Rough

With about five minutes to play the Corvallis team realized that its ship was sinking and tossing caution and good sense to the winds, tried to outrough the Oregon five. Oregon not to be taken in by such procedure, took advantage of the opportunities such a course offered to boost the final score.

It is hard to single out any one man as the outstanding player on the field as there were many whose playing merits special comment. Jean Eberhart with 13 points led the scoring and some of the shots which swelled his total were classics. They were not the kind that you know are going to drop through, from the time the ball leaves the player's hands.

Webfoots Come to Life Against Beavers

WITH one game safely tucked away in the annual series with Oregon State, Coach Bill Reinhart's varsity tossers are hard at work for the two-game series slated for this week-end against the Beavers. The Webfoots showed their best brand of basketball during the first half of the game with the Orangemen and rolled up an impressive lead and then would not let it slip away. That's the kind of basketball we have been waiting for the Webfoots to play all season, getting the jump on the opponents and then keeping the lead.

Lanky Jean Eberhart was at his best against the Beavers, and he just couldn't be stopped. His tricky one-hand shots off the backboard were working perfectly and his general floor work made him the outstanding player on the floor. Much credit is due to Hank Levoff, also, as his guarding was as good as any seen here this year. He clearly outplayed the much-touted Buck Grayson, and scored eight points to boot.

Reinhart had his men hopped up for the Oregon State game, and they responded in great style. There was none of this gentle playing, the boys were just out to win and they played hard. A little thing like a few headlocks thrown on the Webfoots by the opposition failed to dampen the Oregon spirit, and the boys mixed it up plenty. Bill Keenan showed that he could take plenty of hard knocks and still come up fighting. Cliff Horner was in fine fettle but played a little too rough for Grayson.

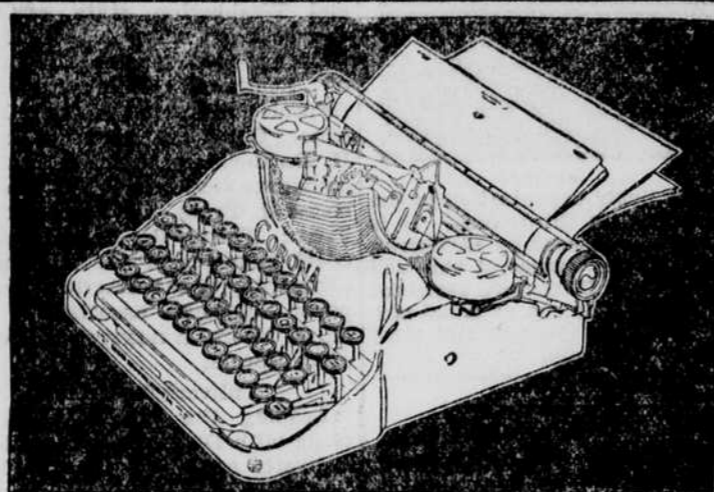

McEwan and Abercrombie Active in East

What do you think of this one?

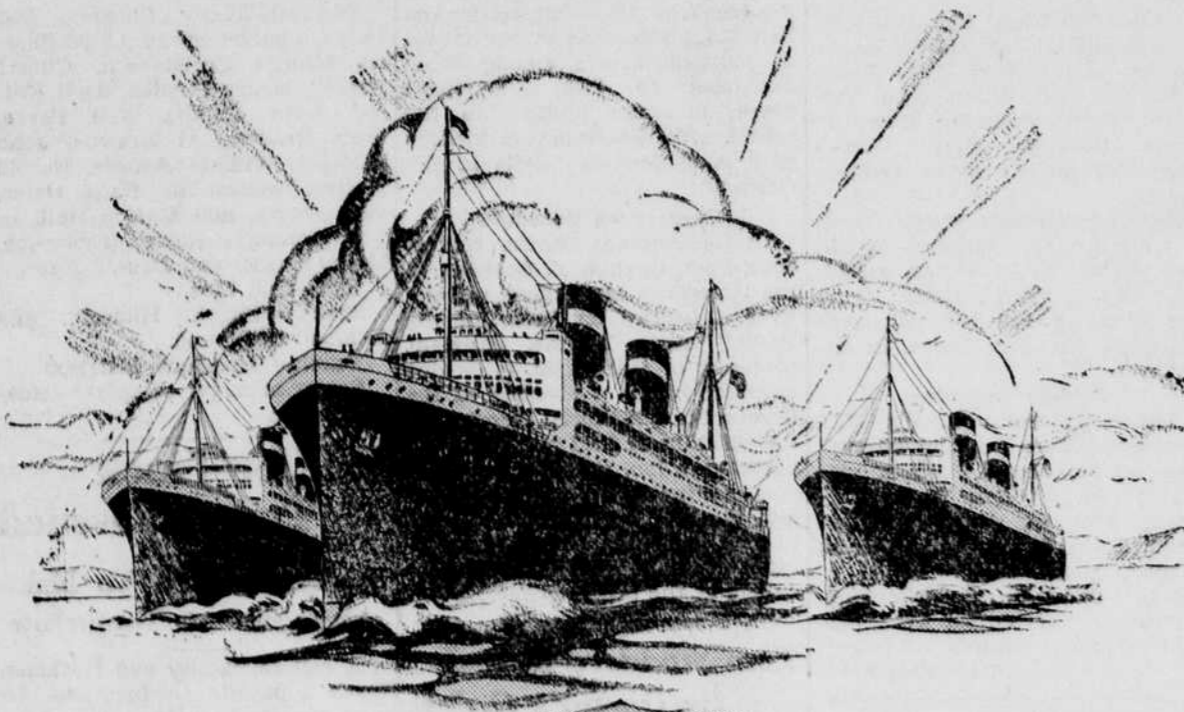

Captain John J. McEwan as head coach at the University of Minnesota—of course there is nothing official to it but the Minnesota Daily declared that the genial former Webfoot mentor had stopped over in Minneapolis for a conference with Gopher officials. The Daily went so far as to say that McEwan, Tom Lieb, assistant coach at Notre Dame; and Tad Weiman, former head coach at Michigan, were the outstanding candidates for the job. Since then, Lieb is reported to have broken off negotiations with the Gophers, and Weiman is supposed to have the inside track. It would be a queer situation if Minnesota and Oregon merely traded coaches.

With interest in swimming and tennis running high on the campus many followers wonder how Ed Abercrombie, former mentor, is getting along. Abercrombie recently dropped a few lines to his former Oregon friends—and he seems to have plenty to keep him busy in New York. Abie is still back of the Oregon swimmers—as about the first thing he wrote was to suggest that Jim Raley, swimming manager, to ballyhoo for a trip south for the Webfoot water-splashes. Abie declared that the Webfoots could split even on the trip by staging water polo matches after the meets.

Abie is attending the Teachers college at Columbia university and he declares that the diving in the east is terrible. Don Neer, Webfoot star, could meet any with his eyes closed and Tommy Thomson could show them plenty of tricks according to Abercrombie. The former Oregon mentor is acting as starter for all the West Point dual meets this year and declares that he is having a lot of fun. He is working for his master's degree in physical education.

Over the Horizon

HERE they come—the nucleus of an all-electric merchant marine. Yesterday, they were a dream. To-day, they are well over the horizon, linking the ports of the east and west coasts with fortnightly service. The goal of the Panama Pacific Line is to build three more turbine-electric ships thus enabling weekly New York-Frisco sailings.

Even now, the three liners California, Virginia, and Pennsylvania, constitute the largest fleet of turbine-electric commercial ships in the world.

Besides propelling these ships, electricity hoists freight, raises anchors, mans pumps, turns rudders, drives winches, and warps the vessels into their berths. It lights lamps, spins fans, operates elevators, cools and cooks food. Its magic touch is apparent on every deck.

The planning, production, and distribution of such equipment has been largely the responsibility of college-trained men who are working with General Electric and who have aided in bringing these ships over the horizon.

Boxers Busy Making Plans For Tourney

Thirteen Aspirants Sign For Contest; Officials Set Week-end Date

Many Titles May Be Given Without Competition

With the boxing tournament only three days off, there is considerable activity in the boxing room of the men's gym. While two of Coach Knox's proteges are busily engaged in slamming each other around the ring, the others are far from idle. Some of them ply the heavy sawdust bag with hefty wallops, others beat a tattoo on the light bag, and still others shadow-box and skip rope.

Thirteen boxers have signed up so far, but other entries are expected before the end of the week. Coach Knox endeavored to engage the armory for the bouts, but was unable to secure it because of a fight card previously scheduled. Therefore the bouts will be held in the boxing room, and Mr. Knox will provide seating arrangements for all who attend.

Those who are all set for the fistic demonstration are as follows: Jack Rhine, Max Pulido, Ben Pasion, Mahr Raymers, Orville Garrett, Mel Williamson, Art Clements, George MacFarland, Les King, Evan Hughes, Horace Etheridge, Charles Binder, and Bernie Hughes.

The Minnesota campus is in a turmoil over reported violations of those ever present rush rules.

'Crack' Wrestler to Assist Webfoot Aspirants Learn All Tricks of Trade; Thinks Many Possibilities in Squad

Impressed by the talent displayed in the wrestling tournament last week, Wildcat Pete, crack Eugene grappler and claimant of the world's junior middle-weight title, is planning to attend the gym workouts of the wrestling squad. "The Wildcat" believes there is great possibilities in several of the University wrestlers, and wishes to give them any help that he can.

Coach Elliott is more than pleased with this prospect, but intimates that "the Wildcat" has a more subtle reason than merely showing the boys the finer points of the game. It seems that everyone at the armory has given up hope of competing with the classy wrestler, so he has to look elsewhere for his workouts.

Wrestling has, as Wildcat Pete pointed out, made great progress here at the University and bids fair to detract considerable interest from the major sports.

After divesting himself of these verbal statements, the Wildcat proved just why he is feared by other coast wrestlers. He and Coach Elliott set a torrid pace in an exhibition match before a group of interested fans. As both men are extremely lithe and slippery grapplers, the onlookers were well entertained.

Due to Pat Lucas' illness, his match with Joe Jansa has been temporarily postponed. Coach Elliott has planned in the near future to stage a "post-war" tournament for the wrestlers who failed to get into the main tourney. Lucas and Jansa will probably show their wares on this card.
