Gordon Ridings Leads Men To 29 to 43 Win In Dull Fray

WEBFOOTS ACT TIRED Game, Benefit of Foreign Students, Draws Many Spectators

By JACK BURKE
Displaying real basketball only in the closing minutes of the game, the Oregon basketball team was defeated last night, 49 to 43, by the DeNeffe five, composed mostly of ex-Oregon hoop stars. The Webfoot team was trailing 23 to 19 at half time, and soon started an offensive that tied the score at 34-all. Gordon Ridings, however, soon sank a couple of beauties that put his team in the lead, where they remained until the final gun.

Ridings Mainstay

The mainstay of the DeNeffe attack was the high point man of the game, Ridings. He scored a total of 19 points with seven field goals and five free throws. Scott Milligan, also of the winning team, took second honors with four field goals and three free throws, totaling 11 points. Kermit Stevens was high point man for the Lemon and Green with nine tallies.

Webfoots Listless

Eleven men saw action for the Oregon team, with Bill Keenan, Hank Levoff, Kermit Stevens, Jean Eberhart, and Cliff Horner taking the lead in the offensive. The play of the Webfoots in the first half seemed weakened, as if they were tired of the game.

Extension Lists Members From San Study Club

Tuberculosis Sanitarium Enrolls Thirteen in Correspondence

"We have numbers of unusual people on our registers, but perhaps our most unusual students are the 13 members of the San Study Club," said Miss Mozelle Hair, head of the correspondence department of the University extension division.

The San Study club, according to Miss Hair, is composed of a constantly varying group of patients in the state tuberculosis sanitarium at Salem, who are recuperating from tuberculosis under the supervision of Dr. George Bellinger.

Women Grads Defeat Men In Grade Averages

WOMEN graduates of the University of Oregon, with the class of 1929, won over the male members of the class by a margin of only one-tenth of a point in the grade averages for their four years of college work.

Data compiled by Dr. Howard R. Taylor, director of the personnel bureau, show that the co-eds made an average rating of 2.7, as against 2.8 for the men. These figures apply only to students who completed their course in four years, having entered the University in 1925.

June 25 Set as Sailing Date for Hawaiian Cruise

Summer Session Students Will Leave Port at Vancouver, B. C.

Courses at U. of Hawaii Open to Oregonians

June 25 has been definitely set as the date of the summer session Hawaiian cruise, according to Alfred Powers, dean of the extension division. The group will be taken to Vancouver, B. C., by special train and will sail from that port on the S. S. Niagara of the Canadian Pacific line.

Because of the long stay on the Islands, made possible by this booking, students will be permitted to enter almost all courses in the summer session of the University of Hawaii, Dean Powers says.

The extension division is still being deluged with inquiries concerning the Hawaiian and Alaskan cruises. It has been found, to the surprise of the division faculty, that nearly 20 per cent of the returns from an announcement in the Normal Instructor-Primary Plans were children.

"One would think, judging from the number of juvenile inquiries that the summer sessions office is headquarters for the distribution of Alaskan and Hawaiian pictures to the geography students of the entire United States," stated Dean Powers. A few said they wanted pictures to illustrate their geography, but most of them betrayed their youthfulness only by handwriting and language. Two or three envelopes were addressed to the "Alfred Powers University," and many contained requests for "two informations," "a free booklet," "pictures of the nat'l park"—and all had the additional warning, "and send it in a hurry."

One little boy in Furport, Washington, wrote in an unusually clear childish hand, according to Miss Mary E. Kent, extension division secretary: "Will you send me this book. We have not many books and would be glad if you would send it. I am in a rural school. I am in the fourth grade. We would like to read it in school."

Heads of Houses To Act on Grades

Recommendations Will Be Voted Upon Today

Heads of houses will act today upon the recommendations made recently by a joint committee from inter-fraternity council and heads of houses as to needed changes in the system of figuring the grade list of the living organizations on the campus.

At a meeting of inter-fraternity council held last Thursday, that group passed the recommendations. With only one dissenting vote. However, the question of who was to make out the list of active and inactive members and pledges in each living organization was referred back to the committee.

Heads of houses will pass upon the recommendations as they were originally drawn up, it is reported. It is probable that the question raised by inter-fraternity will be discussed further in today's meeting.

Debate With O.S.C. Set For 7:45 Tonight

Sloan, Miller To Uphold Affirmative for Oregon At Guild Hall

MANAGERS TO ARGUE Corvallis Meet Will Be Broadcast Over Radio Station KOAC

In the first debate between the two schools to be held in Eugene for several years, Errol Sloan and Robert Miller will represent the University against the Oregon State college negative team, composed of Le Roy Swanson and Robert Ewing, at Guild hall at 7:45 this evening.

Eugene Laird and Arthur Potter will debate with the affirmative team from Oregon State at Corvallis. The debate will be broadcast over KOAC at 7:45 this evening. The O. S. C. team is led up of Gordon Winks and Cullen Rish.

Debaters Have Experience

All four of the Oregon debaters are experienced. Both Laird and Winks are seniors and are both debate managers of their respective schools. After the culmination of four years of rivalry they will be pitted together for the last time. Although they have never actually debated with each other, they have done a great deal of work together.

Both teams in this dual debate will use the same question, "Resolved: That world peace demands the demobilization of all armed forces except those needed for police protection."

Jenkins to Preside

Frank Jenkins, editor of the Eugene Register, will preside as chairman of the debate to be held here this evening. Three men have been asked to judge the debate. They are: Dr. G. B. Noble, of Reed college; John F. Dobbs, president of Pacific university; and E. E. Schwarztrauber, head of the history department at Lincoln high in Portland and former director of the labor college at Portland.

Bishop Walter Taylor Sumner will act as chairman at the Corvallis debate, and the judges will be Oscar Hayter, Dallas lawyer; Dean Frank M. Erickson, and Dr. F. G. Franklin, both of Willamette university.

Many Oregonians Enroll in Courses

Extension Division Serves 1532 Adult Citizens

According to figures received by Miss Mozelle Hair, head of the University correspondence division, Oregon holds a remarkably high place among states which lead in adult education. At present, one in every 589 persons is taking a correspondence course.

Bulletins from the extension divisions of Massachusetts and Minnesota, two very progressive states in this field, says Miss Hair, show that Massachusetts during 1929 enrolled 4,676 correspondence students, and Minnesota enrolled 1,944. In 1929 the University of Oregon enrolled 1,532 correspondence students.

By a comparison of enrollments according to population, Oregon was far in advance, for Minnesota had one person in every 1,400 enrolled, and Massachusetts only one in every 917, to Oregon's 589.

Miss Hair considers this quite an accomplishment for the University.

Herr Wolf von Dewall To Lecture on League

Phi Beta Holds Tuesday Evening Music Hour; 7 Soloists Take Part

In an interesting variation to the regular Tuesday evening music hour, sponsored by the school of music, members of Phi Beta, women's national professional fraternity of music and dramatic art, presented a recital program last night at the auditorium. A fairly large audience was warmly responsive to the nicely balanced program. There was a good variety of music and it was presented smoothly and capably.

Those who took part were Mrs. Alvira Honey, Katherine Starr, Estelle Johnson, Nelda Cooper, Cecile Coss, Mabel Kullander, and Marguerite Spath.

George Hopkins, head of the piano department, who is chairman of the recital committee announced a regular Tuesday music hour for March 11 and said that, because of the large number of individual student recitals to be given during the spring term the hours will not be held during those months.

Palmer Arranges Movie Broadcast Program Tonight

Half-hour of Music From KORE Will Herald Show's Return

To interest students and townspeople in the first popular-priced run in Eugene of "Ed's Co-ed," the campus movie, starting Thursday at the Colonial, a special half-hour program will be broadcast from KORE tonight at 8:30 o'clock. Jack Rhine will be on hand with up-to-date piano numbers, and Marjorie Douglass, blues singer, will offer a group of songs. Henry Kaahea will sing popular numbers. Palmer will announce the broadcast.

Free-Lance Tourney Enters Final Round

Double matches in the free lance handball tourney entered the final round of play Monday afternoon when Les Johnson and Ted Jensen eliminated one of the A. T. O. teams, although Bill Whitley and Harvey Benson ran roughshod over Warren Cress and Jack Edlefsen to win 21-10, 21-14.

Sing Harper and Marshall Hopkins got off to a flying start against the Jensen-Johnson combination, winning the first set 21-19, but wilted in the next two and were smothered 21-7, 21-4.

Lowdown on French Play Disclosed by Cast's Director

"Leopold, le Bien-aimé," the funny part of it all is," he went on, "that Art doesn't know any French, and he has had to learn his whole part from sound. And don't think that isn't hard. "The rest of them," he went on, "haven't had the same trouble that Art has. It's not only to learn French that's not our only French but intelligible from the audience, and that's what we're trying to do; but at least it isn't as hard as learning phonetic French. "I don't know just what this bunch is going to do to Leopold," he said. "It's a play I've wanted to do ever since it was presented in Paris, but I've always hesitated a

Oregon Students Selected To Take Test for Aviation

Nine Selected for Flight Physical Exam Given During Vacation

Nine University of Oregon students have been selected to take the flight physical examination preparatory to enrolling in the marine corps reserve aviation school at Seattle for the one-month preliminary course in flying. It was revealed by Capt. L. B. Steadman Jr., commanding officer of the unit, in a letter received yesterday by Hugh L. Biggs, dean of men.

These men will be examined during spring vacation by the flight surgeon at the United States army barracks at Vancouver, Washington. Five of those passing the test will be chosen for the training school. Those who succeed in passing the summer course, numbering usually about half of those appointed will be sent to Pensacola, Florida, for eight months of advanced flight training, to qualify them as second lieutenants in the marine corps reserve.

The Moving Finger

NOMINATION BY PETITION 500-1 RATIO DEFEATED

By OLIVER POLITICUS

Nomination of candidates for student office, other than on the floor of the nominating assembly, almost vanished from the range of possibilities when nomination procedure was discussed by the constitutional revision committee. Nomination by petition was made almost prohibitive with the suggested requirement that 500 signatures be required before a candidate's name be placed on the ballot.

Whatever the purpose was for so penalizing the late nominee, that penalty was in the ratio of 500 to 1. One person may nominate another in the student assembly at the end of the year, while, immediately after the nominations are closed, 500 would be required. Five hundred names of persons who would be willing to sign such a petition would insure election.

Whatever the political science professors may say about the ease of gaining signatures for petitions, University students dislike to put their names on paper. It may be that foreign scholars, questionnaires, tag days, dime crawls, Oregonians, and all, mean money, and that most of them require signatures. This is almost certain—those 500 names would mean election.

Although the 500-name propositions are dissatisfied, or so they seem since the matter was revived after once having been decided, the general committee set on a much lower figure, 50. They felt that there could be no more abuse of the privilege of nomination by petition than by the present method of nomination from the floor.

Class elections will follow the same general plan as the student elections. Here the number required will be 25. Either requirement means more required than the members of one organization, yet both correct the faults of a too early closing of nominations by presidents, or the failure of nominating speakers to appear.
