

Oregon Swims To Win Over Oregon State

Webfoots Score 4-3 Over Beavers in Dual Meet Last Saturday

Contest Finishes Season's Aquatic Activities

The Webfoot swimming team scored a decisive 51 to 33 victory over Oregon State in a dual meet last Saturday at Corvallis and after tying the score in a thrilling water polo game, edged out the Beavers in an overtime period by a 4 to 3 count.

The meet which was the last one of the season for Oregon, more than evened the account with the Orangemen for in the first meet between the two schools the score was a tie. The O. S. C. crooks barely nosed out the Oregon frosh in a preliminary contest, 34 to 32.

Anderson Outstanding

Johnny Anderson, Oregon captain, and Fred Wadley, O. S. C. star, were outstanding. Anderson equaled the northwest record in the 40-yard dash making the time of 24.2. He also won the 100-yard dash. Wadley swam a fine 440-yard race and then by a great spurt beat Art Hansen of Oregon in the 220. Oregon lost the opening relay race, but started piling up points in the next event, the 100-yard breast stroke, in which Steve Fletcher and Paul Lafferty took first and second. Bill McNabb was in fine form and took the 100-yard back stroke for the Webfoots. Art Hansen accounted for three second places among the free style races.

Needham Wins 220

Herb Eisenschmidt, rook, and Bob Needham, frosh, staged a battle for personal glory in the yearling meet. Eisenschmidt won the 50 and 100-yard dashes, but Needham came back in a gritty fight in the 220 and took first. The frosh took four out of seven first places. Harrison Spain captured the 100-yard backstroke, Maurice Pease got the verdict in the dives, and James Travis took the 100-yard breast stroke. The rooks trimmed the frosh 6-2 in water polo.

The return meet Oregon was to have with Multnomah club next Saturday has been canceled because Jack Cody, Multnomah's swimming director is taking some of his stars to a California meet.

SIDE LINES

By HARRY VAN DINE

Swimmers Prove Superiority Over Beavers

WHEN the Webfoot swimming team defeated Oregon State at Corvallis last Saturday night, they did not realize that the meet would be the third and last of the season for them. To make the very poor schedule much worse, Jack Cody, Multnomah Club swimming coach, announced after the meet that his team would be unable to meet Oregon in the meet scheduled for the campus next Saturday. Seems as though Cody's team will be split up at that time as a couple of his divers are expected to compete in the South. Therefore Oregon's swimming season is officially closed—and where are we? The season's record shows two wins, one over Multnomah and one over Oregon State, and a technical loss to Oregon State. Quite different from last year's record.

Johnny Anderson ended his collegiate career in as much of a blaze of glory as the schedule permitted. He won both of his dash events against the Orangemen, showing he is still the best speed swimmer in the Northwest. Chuck Silverman, who also was swimming his last race, didn't fare so well and placed second in the 440. Chuck still holds the Northwest record in that event, but he has been slowed up this year by a shoulder injury. At any rate it sure seemed good to take Oregon State to the cleaners, 52 to 34, and erase that so-called technical win they held over the Webfoots.

Probably the most interesting feature of the meet was the performance of Steve Fletcher, sophomore, who won his third varsity letter in as many sports Saturday night. Steve was always figured to be a strong swimmer and he easily won the breast stroke after only being out for the team for a few days. Fletcher started his winning of letters on the football squad last fall, and was rewarded with a varsity sweater for his services as a reserve end. When the Webfoot grid team returned from their long jaunt to Florida, Fletcher turned out for Coach Bill Reinhart's varsity basketball team and won a letter as a reserve center. Three-letter men are a rarity in this day of specialized athletics.

Examinations Slow up Athletic Activity

Winter term examinations are expected to put a temporary crimp in the athletic activities on the campus and there will be an off season until the spring term opens. Coach Doc Spears will give his football men a well earned rest and Coach Bill Hayward will do likewise with the track aspirants. Little baseball practice will be attempted until the examinations are over. Athletics will give way for academic work.

This past winter term has provided its athletic thrills for Oregon students. Probably the most important happening was the securing of Spears as football coach and his subsequent arrival on the campus. He has certainly whipped the Oregon football team into shape. Bill Reinhart's showing with his group of inexperienced basketball players was another surprise. Figured to land near the bottom, the Webfoots stayed in the running for the conference title until the last series against Washington.

The athletic situation for the spring term seems to be in pretty much of a middle-of-course, Hayward will be on deck to handle his track team—and he sure knows how it is done. The varsity and freshman baseball coaching staffs present the real problem. There is every indication that Reinhart and Prink Callison will continue to work with the football team and that Oregon will hire new coaches for the ball teams. Bill Baker has been mentioned for the freshman coaching berth but the varsity job is still up in the air.

and "Murder on the Roof" which needs no explanation. The State offers "Lucky in Love" and "Hard to Get."

A certain man of repute was talking to a class at the University of Arkansas. "Why stop at a mere cigarette?" he asked the woman before him. "If you must act and smell like a man, smoke a pipe."

the brand of characters presented. Today is the last day of "The Bishop Murder Case," which will appeal to those who like mystery shows.

Douglas Fairbanks Jr. and Loretta Young make a very attractive pair of youngsters in "The Careless Age" now at the Heilig-Carmel Myers is the villainess. Poor young Doug always has a score of women after him. Following "The Careless Age" comes "Sally," Marilyn Miller's great musical comedy success.

Papa Fairbanks himself, comes to the Colonial in that most popular presentation, "The Iron Mask." Doug certainly knows that dashing, captivating, restless, daring way of the fearless musketeers. Later comes "Two Lovers" with those two unrivaled screen lovers, Coleman and Banky.

At the Rex we have, "The Melody Man" which sounds like music

U.S.C. Takes Huskies Into Camp 37-29

Winning Two of Three Game Series Places Trojans on Top

Fast Playing Features the Final Battle

With a 37-to-29 win over the Washington Huskies, scored last night, the University of Southern California took their second victory in the Pacific Coast conference basketball race, in as many years.

Sam Barry, the Trojan coach, won his second coast title when in the third game of the series his men started strong and maintained their lead throughout the game. The winners led at half time, 21 to 12.

Second Title for U. S. C.

This series was the second the two teams have engaged in, in the conference finals in recent years. Coach Hec Edmundson having tangled with the Southern team last year at Seattle.

The Trojans had an easier time in their section of the race, being assured of the southern title with three games remaining on their schedule. The Huskies, on the other hand, had to maintain a good record until their last game, to represent the northern section.

Northern Hopes Strong

Northern hopes for a conference title were stronger this year than for many seasons past, as the California members of the race boasted rather mediocre teams and the Huskies looked to be good enough to take the measure of the best in the South. However, the winners outdid themselves and bested the Seattle team in two out of three games. The scores of the first two tilts were: U. S. C. 46, Washington 31, and Washington 37, U. S. C. 31.

When in the second game the Purple and Gold team scored a win, it was hoped that they had had a case of stage fright in the first encounter and would breeze through last night's game to take the title. U. S. C., however, proved to be the stronger in all three games.

HOLDS HOOVER FAILURE AS LEADER OF PARTY

(Continued from Page One)

left by Calvin Coolidge. "At least," he said, "Hoover sees problems and tries to solve them which is more than one can say for Coolidge, because he did not see these problems, and, not seeing, could not solve them. The farm relief, the tariff, and the disarmament conference now going on in London have all been waiting around for a long time, during most of the last administration."

According to Schumacher, Hoover has been just a bit embarrassed during the last year, but shows promise of being as good a leader as most presidents. He is respected by all foreign nations, and will

Tennis Ace Pulls 'Boy At Dike' Act

In the face of a near flood in Professor George Turnbull's class in reporting, Bradshaw Harrison proved again that he is a money player, by quick and resourceful action.

The reporting class is held in room 105 of the Journalism building. Directly overhead a chemistry class has its laboratory. There are weird trappings, quaint odors, and minor scufflings. Yesterday at 1:30 this culminated in a shower of water descending into the room below. With a "do or die" expression on his face that is characteristic of his work on the tennis court, Harrison grabbed a waste paper basket and put it under the leak, averting any possible damage.

gain greater prominence in the next few years. After all, you can't judge him by his first year; he hasn't had time. Just as you students wouldn't like to have your whole college career depend on your first term's work, just so you can't tell, at this early stage.

Frosh-Sophs Pick Tug of War Teams

Park Organizing Battle in Mill Race Event

At a meeting of the Campus Day committee last night tentative plans were outlined for a bigger program for this year's Junior Week-end, according to Bill Donaldson, assistant chairman.

Ted Park and "Red" Hill, in charge of the tug of war, announce that they are working on a plan in cooperation with the presidents of the frosh and sophomore classes whereby teams will be appointed to battle for the longest end of the rope.

"Organized teams," said Park, "will help overcome some of the difficulty experienced in past years of having too many freshmen and not nearly enough sophomores in the mill race classic." Men for the battling teams will be named by their respective presidents in the near future, Park said.

Free Lance Handball Tourney Nears Finish

Despite the fact that only four more games are needed to decide the victors in the free lance handball tourney, the delay in arrangement of the matches may force the play over into spring term. The doubles title, however, will be definitely settled today at 4:30 when Harvey Benson and Bill Whitley tangle with Ted Jensen and Les Johnson.

Dave Bauman assumed the position of one of the finalists in the singles when he eliminated Les Johnson 14-21, 21-12, 21-17. Harvey Benson and Anthony Woodmanse will meet to decide Bauman's opponent for the final tilt.

TYPEWRITER PREJUDICE

WE HAVE ALL MAKES—WE CAN SATISFY IT
GET A TYPEWRITER—USE IT
YOUR GRADES WILL BE BETTER
Buy or Rent at Student Terms

Office Machinery & Supply Co.
Willamette St.—Opposite "Y" Phone 148

A Jaunting Breakfast

In other words, it means taking a walk, and then breakfasting. Try it today at

THE ANCHORAGE

CAMPUS SHOE SHINING PARLOR

Riding boots that wear our shines have made riding the favorite sport for spring vacation.

"Ted Pleases Everybody"

Across from Sigma Chi

THEODORE RADIOS

DON'T MISS THE ONE-ACT PLAYS

"Saved" "The Women Folk" "Aria Da Capo"

—at the—

GUILD THEATRE

Wednesday, March 12, at 8:15

Admission 50c

Box Office Now Open

Movies

Evelyn Shaner, Editor

WEEK'S SCHEDULE

McDonald—Tuesday, "The Bishop Murder Case"; Wednesday to Saturday, "Anna Christie."

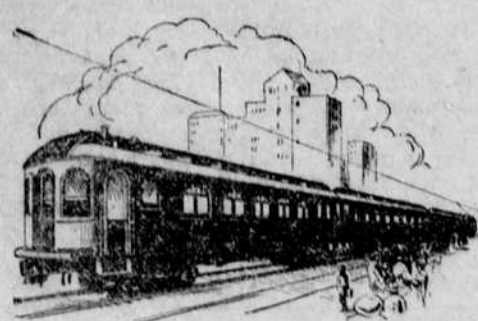

Rex—Tuesday, "Seven Keys to Baldpate"; Wednesday and Thursday, "The Melody Man"; Friday and Saturday, "Murder on the Roof."

State—Tuesday, "Broadway Melody"; Wednesday and Thursday, "Lucky in Love"; Friday and Saturday, "Hard to Get."

Colonial—"The Iron Mask," later "Two Lovers."

Talks on the Talkies

One of the shows causing the most talk this week is Greta Garbo's first talking picture, "Anna Christie," taken from the powerful play by Eugene O'Neil. While it is not a pretty story, it is forceful and only too typical of

$5.70

PORTLAND AND RETURN on the OREGON ELECTRIC for the U. OF O. SPRING VACATION

Tickets on Sale March 18, 19, 20, 21, and 22; Return Limit March 31st.

REDUCTIONS TO ALL O. E. RY. POINTS

Complete Information on Application to
F. S. APPELMAN, Agent. L. F. KNOWLTON, General Agent, Portland

OREGON ELECTRIC RAILWAY

College Ice Cream

MENU

Brick
Shamrock Special

* *

Vanilla

* *

Shamrock Center
Pstatio

The home-loving woman and the up-to-date hostess are aware that frozen creams are correct for every occasion that demands tasty things.

Truly, frozen brick creams in color harmonies add that bit of zest that each hostess strives so much for.

Eugene Fruit Growers Association
Phone 1480 8th and Ferry

for Crowded Traffic or Open Road... under every motoring condition...

RICHFIELD

THE GASOLINE OF POWER