

Tryouts For Track Teams Today at 3:30

Cinder Prospects as Good Or Better Than Last Year, Says Hayward

Many Lettermen Will Turn Out This Afternoon

Tryouts for the varsity and freshman track teams will be held at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon instead of Saturday morning, it was announced yesterday by Bill Hayward, track coach.

According to Hayward, the varsity is fully as strong as it was last year at this time. The weight men are exceptionally promising, but there is a dearth of candidates for the half-mile. Hayward expects Oregon to be stronger in the pole vault, but because Orville Bredthauer did not return to school, it will be weaker in the broad jump. Bredthauer won the northern section meet last year.

Oregon Seems Strong

Five candidates appear promising varsity material in the dashes. There is Tyrrel Lowry, a letterman; Virgil Scheiber, sophomore, who won the century against the O. S. C. babes last year; Paul Bale, another sophomore, who downed the Corvallis yearlings in the 220-yard dash; Jim Corcoran, another sophomore, who was not in school last spring, and Ivan Anderson, who was a quarter-miler on the 1929 team.

Clare McKinnon, victor in last year's northern conference meet, quarter-mile race, is the outstanding candidate for this event with Ivan Anderson, Ed Otis, sophomore, who was not eligible last year, Lloyd Huff, who won the quarter against the Rooks last year, Tom Johnson and Joe Gerot as candidates for the remaining places in this event.

Hill Will Run

Ralph Hill, Oregon's great miler, will enter in the half-mile with Dick Jennings and Tom Moran also entered. Jennings won the half in last year's Oregon State freshman meet. Hill is a letterman.

There are four candidates for the mile and two-mile, three of whom are lettermen in cross-country, and George Cruickshank. The three lettermen are Clarence Hill, Leonard Steele and Pat Beale. Ralph Hill will enter the mile but not the longer race.

Ed Siegmund and Hal Kelly, both lettermen, will compete with Hubert Allen of last year's frosh, Neff Whisman, Boone Hendricks and Orville Bailey in the hurdles. Allen won against the Rooks last year. Bailey is a transfer from junior college and is out this season for the first time.

Captain Moeller Back

Bob Everts, a letterman, looks to be the best bet in the high jump. He will be jumping with Hubert Allen, who won this event against the Rooks last year. The remaining candidates for the jumps will be Captain Ed Moeller, Orville Bailey, Pat McGinnis and Gilbert French of last year's varsity.

Lowry and McGinnis are the only experienced men out for the broad jump. Bill Minsinger, Allen, and Schieber are promising sophomores, who will vie with the veterans for regular berths.

Bob Robinson and Don Maultby, both veterans, and Bailey are out for the pole vault. Robinson is improving daily and should do better than 13 feet before the season is over.

Besides Captain Moeller, Jiggs Hill-treth, Marion Hall, Bob Eckman, and Homer Dickson are the discus possibilities. All are lettermen except Eckman, although the latter was on the squad last year.

Dickson is the outstanding javelin tosser. French and Carry Thompson, a sophomore, also are fighting for places on the team.

Miss Schwab Resigns Position in Library

Marguerite Schwab, who for five years has worked in the catalogue department of the main library, has resigned her position. Miss Schwab is now in Portland but expects to get a position in a California library soon.

Before leaving Miss Schwab was entertained at a dinner given by Beatrice J. Barker, head of the catalogue department, in her honor. Miriam Yoder, Pearl Watts, Ella Carrick, Jacquise Kirtley, Virginia Reid, Frances Rupert, Nellie Moore, Ethelyn Forrest, and Marguerite Carpenter, all members of the library staff, were present at the dinner on Saturday evening.

OUR old friend, Captain John J. McEwan, is hard at work back at Holy Cross college of Worcester, Mass., installing his football system in preparation for the 1930 campaign. Needless to say, McEwan's many friends on the Oregon campus were happy to hear that he had landed the eastern coaching berth. Cap is right in his environment in the East, as he has many strong contacts there which he formed when he was head coach at West Point.

McEwan will face a tough schedule in his first year at the Jesuit school, the bill calling for ten games. Harvard, Brown, Fordham, Rutgers, Boston college, Catholic university—schools like these turn out some real teams and McEwan will have to keep his men hustling to make a good showing against them. Incidentally, the game between Holy Cross and Boston college is as traditional as the Oregon-Oregon State battle.

Holy Cross has one record of which it is highly proud—it has sent more baseball players to the big leagues than any other one institution of higher learning in the country. McEwan's big ambition is to make it just as well known in football. When he started spring practice he found the men rather small, compared to those at Oregon, but very fast. They ought to fit in well with his style of play.

The Holy Cross officials seem to be giving Mac free rein as Gene Vidal, who served as assistant coach to McEwan for three years here, will be his first lieutenant there. Gene knows his football and, in his prime, he was one of the greatest of Army halfbacks.

When McEwan was dickering for the job in the East, his many friends out here sent a deluge of recommendations to Holy Cross authorities which landed him the job. Writing to Sam Wilderman, Mac stated, "I want to express my appreciation for the splendid recommendations and telegrams from Eugene. They were a great help and determining factor."

That might be said to have closed the book—"McEwan at Oregon"—as everybody seems to be well satisfied. Mac is hard at work there—incidentally he has 1100 men students at Holy Cross—and Coach Doc Spears is working wonders with the Webfoot team here.

Johnny Anderson and Paul Laferty will uphold Oregon's colors in the Oregon State indoor championships at Multnomah club Saturday. The blond Webfoot captain will swim the dashes and maybe the backstroke. He holds the Northwest dash records. Laferty will swim in the breast and back stroke events. Chuck Silverman, holder of the Northwest 440 free style record, will be unable to compete.

Silverman's case is sure tough for a man to take. Chuck was far ahead of anyone last year and was counted upon to have a great season in his last year of competition. He wrenched his shoulder in practice and has never got going since. However, he is still a great little swimmer and should continue on his road to fame after his injury heals up.

ROTC To Benefit If Bill Is Passed

Enactment Would Allow Larger Enrollment

More snappy uniforms for all and an increase in the number of advanced course students in the R. O. T. C. here may be anticipated if the bill before congress which will increase the appropriations for the R. O. T. C. from $2,000,000 to $4,000,000 passes, in the opinion of Capt. C. H. Bragg, of the military department.

"Of course, it is difficult to determine just what effect such a bill would have on the local unit because the money has first to be apportioned among the various corps areas and then subdivided among the various units, but it is quite probable that if the bill were passed we would be able to enroll more juniors and seniors in the advanced course and also furnish better uniforms to both those in the advanced course and those in the basic course," Captain Bragg stated.

There has been a delay affecting all military legislation in congress, so it is rather uncertain whether the bill will pass. The delay was due, in the senate, to the absence of Senator Reed, chairman of the committee on military affairs, who is attending the Naval conference in London; and in the house, to the absence of Congressman James, who has been seriously ill for weeks.

HIGH SCHOOL DRAMA MEET OPENS HERE

Ruth Howe; Henry Berry Lowrie, Alex Volchok.

The judges for the contest are: Mrs. Bess Whitcomb, of the Bess Whitcomb Players and Portland Civic theater, Portland; Dean Collins, dramatic critic, The Telegram, Portland; Mrs. Kathleen M. Clarke, author, of Grants Pass.

Tonight's program includes: St. Helens high school in "Finders-Keepers" by George Kelly, directed by Esther M. Stricker; The Dalles high school in "Thank You, Doctor," by Gilbert Emory, directed by Lois Cray Dahl; Lincoln high school, Portland, in "Aye, Aye, Sir!" directed by Constance L. Roth.

Miss Roth was assistant in the department of drama at the University last year.

Besides these, three more plays will be presented Saturday night and one on Saturday afternoon. A silver loving cup will be awarded to the high school judged to be the best, and a second cup to the individual whose acting is considered the most outstanding.

The general committee for the tournament consists of: faculty, Otilie T. Seybolt, chairman; Mabelle Hair, secretary; Dean James H. Gilbert, Dr. C. V. Boyer, Prof. George Turnbull, and Cecil Mat-

Dr. Casey Given Grant-in-aid by Research Council

Offer Is Recognition of Exceptional Work in Journalism

Coming as a recognition of his outstanding work in journalistic research, Dr. Ralph B. Casey, professor of journalism at the University, has been given a grant-in-aid from the Social Science Research Council of America. These grants are given to aid scholars in specific pieces of research, which seem especially deserving of help.

With the grant Dr. Casey will complete a research project on political propaganda, the major part of which was done during the last two years at the University of Wisconsin, and which formed the subject of his doctor's thesis.

The technique of the 1928 presidential campaign forms the bulk of the research, all of which is complete except the field work which Dr. Casey plans to do next summer. He will go to New York and Washington, D. C., where he will interview the publicity chairmen of the Republican, Democratic and Socialist parties, and others connected with political publicity. As soon as he has done this part of the project, the thesis will be published.

Women Offered Choice of Sports

Grade Average of 3.5 Is Necessary To Compete

Women athletically inclined will find some sport offered this term to interest them, with tennis, baseball, hockey, and archery to choose from.

Hockey is being offered every day at 4 o'clock, under the coaching of Janet Woodruff, who coached the team that played the All-Americans last term. Many of the senior coaches for hockey were also members of the team. All women interested are asked to sign up on the bulletin board in the gym, and report tonight for practice. Naomi Moshberger is head of hockey.

Tennis Practice Will Begin

Tennis practice will begin officially next Monday at 4 o'clock, and will be held every day on the University courts. Margaret Duncan is coaching, and she will be assisted by senior coaches. Those interested in tennis are requested to sign up in the gym. Players will be divided into two classes, intermediate and advanced, with tournaments in each class. There will be the regular interclass meets, for both singles and doubles, and if there are enough women out in each class, there will be interclass tournaments. Beth Salway is head of tennis.

Archery Practice Listed

Archery will be given only twice a week, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 4 to 5:30, with Ernestine Troemel coaching on Thursdays, and Harriett Thomson coaching on Tuesdays. Ruth Jaynes is head of archery.

Baseball practice will be held every day at 5 o'clock, but Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays will be the days for regular coaching; Tuesdays and Thursdays will be set aside for technique. Regular practice begins tonight and all women interested are asked to sign up, and come out.

A grade average of 3.5 is necessary in order to come out for any of the sports offered, under the W. A. A. ruling.

Round In Qualifying Golf Date Postponed

The qualifying round for positions on the varsity and freshman golf squads, scheduled to be held Saturday and Sunday over the course of the Eugene Country club, has been postponed until Monday and Tuesday, according to an announcement made last night by George Will, varsity captain.

Those trying out must turn in their cards to Will by Tuesday evening. Inclement weather conditions caused the postponement.

Outdoor Range Said Necessary

Harvey Wright, Star Firer, Discloses Need

An outdoor rifle range is what the University of Oregon R. O. T. C. needs most if increased government appropriations such as are provided for in the present bill before congress would make it possible for the local unit to expand, Harvey Wright, star member of the rifle team, believes.

"The outdoor rifle range has many advantages over the inside range such as we have now," Wright said. "For one thing it would not be necessary to have artificial light, which is difficult to shoot by. Then there would be ground to brace oneself on, which is very important. The atmosphere in the outdoor range is also much better. There is no steam to bother a person," he added.

Wright also believes that a non-commissioned officer should be provided for who would supervise the shooting. With a man in charge who had no other duties, it would be possible to keep the range open all day, while at present the range is open only part of the time.

The annual Shakespeare birthday festival at Stratford-on-Avon will commence April 21, and continue for five weeks. The regular summer festivals of Stratford-on-Avon will begin July 7, and continue until September 13.

Officer Training School for Prison Work Is Planned

College Men Wanted for Service, Says Letter To Dean Gilbert

Plans are being made to professionalize the federal prison service by enlisting high grade officers and by establishing a system of professional training and promotion on merit, according to a letter recently received from the department of justice by Dr. James H. Gilbert, dean of the college of literature, science, and the arts. A training school for officers has been established in New York City, where the men enter service as guards and take a four months' course.

At the conclusion of the training course officers are assigned to one of the federal penitentiaries or one of several prison camps in various parts of the country. A man enters the federal prison service with a base pay of $1,620 per year and allowances which bring the total remuneration to $1,860. Within the guards' grade it is possible to reach a salary of $2,100 a year, and salaries in administrative positions for which one may qualify after experience range from $2,100 to $7,000.

"College men with specialized training for prison work have their place in the progressive penal program laid down by the attorney general and the superintendent of prisons and embodied in bills now before congress," states the letter. "An urgent appeal is made to the undergraduates and recent graduates of American colleges and universities to consider entering the federal prison service at this time."

CALIFORNIA MOTHERS AND DADS ORGANIZE

closer contact between parents and students. He brought out the importance of the fine arts, especially music, in the students' emotional development.

Regarding the educational program of the University, Dr. Hall explained that one of his principal aims is to train students to think for themselves. He spoke of the vocational work being carried on by the personnel bureau, the Missouri system of grading, the advisory system, honors courses, the Portland medical school, and many other angles of his University work.

Forty-seven guests were present at the dinner—27 California parents and 20 alumni. Short talks by the dads, mothers, and alumni completed the program. Mr. Kimball acted as toastmaster.

Plans are now being made by the California group for regular annual meetings with Dr. Hall to discuss matters relative to the University and Dr. Hall's development program.

Newsreel Shows Reversed Drive

Tree-Climbing Canine Is Also Film Feature

A trick picture in which a girl is shown diving from a bridge into the millrace and going back to the bridge is the feature of this week's Register-McDonald newsreel recently finished by George Godfrey, director of the public relations bureau. The picture, Godfrey asserts, is not reworked or taken backwards, but actually shows the "reverse dive."

The reel will also show members of Alpha Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, and Zeta Tau Alpha swimming in the millrace, and pictures of the Amphibian initiates. Shots of Art Anderson, Ed Hansen, and Paul Lafferty swimming when the snow was on the ground will be run again. A tree-climbing dog is to be included in the pictures, which will be shown at the McDonald theatre starting tonight.

The Bible, still the best seller in the world, is now being dressed in colored covers, according to Edward S. Mills, president of the National Association of Book Publishers. Reds, blues and purples are replacing the somber blacks in cover designs for the Holy Book.

April Schedule For 'Y' Promises Many Activities

Campus Organizations Will Greet Mrs. Induk Kim, Of Korea, Monday

A busy month is anticipated by the campus Y. M. C. A., according to the April schedule released yesterday by Max Adams, executive secretary of the organization.

Monday and Tuesday of next week Mrs. Induk Kim, one of the leaders of the youth movement in Korea, will be on the campus. Mrs. Kim represents the Student Volunteer movement, and will interpret modern Christian missions. Her program in Eugene is being arranged by both the student Y. M. and Y. W.

On April 14 the secretary of the League for Industrial Democracy will be on the campus to meet student groups of men and women who are interested in economic problems.

Charles H. Corbett, Christian World educational secretary for the student Y. M. C. A.'s and Y. W. C. A.'s, will be here April 18 to assist in organizing an international relations group of men. On the same day Roy McCullough, executive secretary of the Intercollegiate Prohibition association, will be on the campus to organize a student group to study the liquor question.

April 23, Frank Packard, president of the Student Y at the University of Washington and also of the Northwest Field council, will consult with the Y cabinet here and also will consult with men interested in the Seabek conference.

Members of the Y cabinet will go to Corvallis April 11, 12, and 13 for the cabinet officers' training conference for student Y's of the state. Speakers at the conference will be Dad Elliot, Charles Corbett, and Roy McCullough.
