Side Lines

By Harry Van Dine

Doc Spears did it. Old timers around Eugene were mildly shocked when the announcement was made just before the new football mentor arrived in Eugene that he contemplated installing a system calling for games during spring training and many people said it couldn't be done. A trip out to Hayward field yesterday afternoon would have changed that attitude considerably.

When Doc started on his plans for the game he did everything up in a big way. Just preceding the contest there was almost the same attitude among the football players that there is just preceding a conference battle. George Christensen and Austin Colbert, rival captains, laid awake Thursday night planning strategy.

The main problem for the rival leaders to cope with was the results that could be expected if their respective teams lost. Chris and Coley have long been pals around the campus and they take no little delight in kidding each other. It is all in good spirit but some of it is hard to take.

As Chris declared, "What a beating I will take from Colbert if my boys fail me!" Colbert was just as worried, and every man on the two squads got a big kick out of the game. The idea of staging games certainly peps up the spring training period and also enables the boys to try out their new system under fire.

Tom Blankenburg Wins Swim Title

Ex-Webfoot Star Takes Breast-stroke Race

Tommy Blankenburg, who last year was a member of the strong Oregon freshman swimming team, won the national Amateur Athletic union indoor 220-yard breast stroke title. Blankenburg took the race in Chicago Thursday competing under the colors of the Hollywood Athletic club.

The time was fast, 2:52.3-5, but did not break the existing record. Blankenburg barely managed to get into the finals making the third best time in the qualifying heats. Walter Spence, the favorite was forced to take a third place.

have frowned upon student activities of this sort." Plans for the show were started about March 1, with the appointment of Stan Brooks as chairman of the vodvil directorate, and Vinton Hall as vodvil director. Virginia Moore was later named as dancing director and had charge of the choruses.

Tryouts for places in the choruses were held by Miss Moore on March 14 and 15, with a record breaking number of aspirants turning out. A chorus of 24 women and one of 14 men were chosen. Everything was in readiness and rehearsals were begun at the start of this term.

Due to a misunderstanding when Brooks failed to return to school this term the necessary roster lists of members of the choruses were not turned in to the offices of the dean of men, dean of women, and health service as agreed between the vodvil directors and faculty.

Complete Report Submitted
On April 5 Hall submitted a complete report of the progress of the show, along with the list of names of those taking part in the cast, to the dean of men. Both the dean of men and the dean of women vetoed the plan.

Revisions to the show were drawn up by the directorate and every possible concession that would still enable the show to be put on with fewer rehearsals and absolute guarantee of no levity among members of the cast were drawn up by the directorate and submitted to the committee.

The committee was originally scheduled to act upon the matter Thursday but the meeting was postponed until yesterday, when Hall asked that definite action be taken.

Drama Director Approves
Mrs. Ottilie Seybolt, head of the drama department, wrote a letter to the committee in which she stated that the plot of the proposed show was so light that it could be rehearsed in units. She de-

Doc Spears' football innovation proves to be good drawing card; Donut athletes rarin' to go in track and baseball.

Well, it worked fine and Doc has already laid plans to hold some more games. If they prove to be as interesting as the first, and there is no reason why they shouldn't, no one need worry about the support they will get. It was a treat to see eyes to see the Webfoots block and run interference. Doc certainly has a system and it works pretty good.

Intramural athletes will get their share of attention for the next few weeks. The big relay carnival is scheduled for Hayward field this afternoon and donut baseball will swing into action next week. The inter-house competition has been of a higher order this year than ever before and the coming events are likely to be hotly contested.

Bill Hayward and staff have announced that everything is in readiness for the relays to be held today. The track will be in big meet shape and the officials are all competent. Times made in the various events should be comparable with those made in regular meets as several good marks have been turned in lately.

The Willamette Bearcats are ready to take the Webfoots on for another pair of games this afternoon. The first game will start at 1:30 and the second encounter will be limited to seven innings. Ray O'Donnell has developed a powerful nine for Oregon and he has his boys hustling.

Women Cloggers Send Invitations

Eight Co-eds To Do Dance For Entrance

Members of the Women's Clogging club last night decided to send out invitations to try out for membership to eight women students on the campus, according to Miss Margaret Duncan, instructor in physical education and adviser to the group. The requirement for entrance to the club is an original clog dance given before the members.

The group was taught a new dance called "Lindy Lee" by Miss Duncan, at the meeting last night. It was the first gathering with the new members who were taken in last term.

Try-outs will be held at the next meeting, which will be Wednesday, April 16, at 7:30 in Gerlinger hall.

clared that the vodvil was of a much higher calibre than that of previous years and that it would prove to be an interesting show, if well directed.

Bill Whitely, president of the junior class, stated: "I am very sorry that the annual Junior Vodvil must pass this year, after it has come to be so much of a tradition. However, I feel that the course taken by the directors was the only one possible."

Inter-House Ball Tossers Start Monday

Drawings Are Completed For Leagues; 24 Teams Out

Two Clashes Scheduled For First Day

The final drawings in the intramural baseball tournament, which took place at Johnson hall Thursday afternoon, grouped the 24 teams entered into four leagues of six outfits each. Every house will play one game with each member of its league and the highest percentage will decide the winner of the league. Division championships will compete in the play-offs for the championship.

Two clashes, one between Omega hall and Alpha Upsilon and the other between the Fijis and Sigma Chi, are to open the tournament play at 3:15 Monday afternoon. The games will be played on the sawdust lot beside Hayward field and the diamond back of the varsity baseball grounds. The Fijis and the Sigma Chis had two of the strongest nines in competition last year and should put up a spirited battle. Omega hall and Alpha Upsilon are of unknown quality as yet.

Four Games Tuesday
Four games will feature Tuesday's play, namely, Sherry Ross-Beta, Sig Ep-Friendly hall, Delta Kappa Sig, and Sigma Pi Tau-Phi Psi.

Another eligibility clause was inserted by the representatives Thursday. Only players appearing in preliminary games in compliance with the eligibility ruling will be allowed to take part in the play-offs. This action is aimed to prevent the "ringer" possibility. The delegates also reached a decision on postponed games. Contests can only be postponed because of inclement weather or the agreement of both teams with the sanction of the director, Les Johnson.

Houses Buy Balls
The organizations met the baseball purchase suggestion with a counter proposal that each organization furnish five balls. The representatives adopted this plan with the understanding that the baseballs were subject to the approval of the director and could be thrown out if deemed unsatisfactory. Any team not complying to these regulations will lose by default.

Two games will be held on Mondays, four on Tuesdays, two on Wednesdays, and four on Thursdays for a period of five weeks which should decide the league

PANSIES WILT UNDER CREAM-PUFF BARRAGE

ley blocked Johnny Donahue's kick and fell on it over the "Cream-puffs" goal, Hank Heyden, a "Pansy" guard, was offside. It is best that what was said by the "Pansies" be left unreported. It wouldn't be printed anyway.

Erdley Scores
Colbert's team scored first and last, with the first tally coming when Erdley caught a pass from Lawrance, over the goal, early in the second period. The same Wally Lawrance tried to convert with an end run but got dumped. The second score came when Cliff Moore was forced out of bounds on the one-yard line and Wally Lawrance packed it over after one failure to gain. This time "John" Gilbert dove through the center of the line and scored the final point.

"Cream-puffs" Archer, Garnett, and Donahue were involved in both of their sides' touchdowns and all that was required were two passes by Garnett, two catches by Archer and two converts by the "Little Bear."

Archer Scores
Archer didn't score the first touchdown but he carried the ball to the one-foot mark after taking the ball away from a bunch of "Pansies," and his fellow "puffs" had little trouble in making the score. He did score the second unassisted, as they say in baseball.

Speaking of baseball reminds us that there was a ball game yesterday and when it was over someone came over to the battle-grounds and told all the ex-baseball spectators what the score was. Baseball was amusing and entertaining enough when there was no football but when the battle royal started the crowd moved out on the ball players.

Realignment of Political World Sought by Visitor

Howard Williams Speaks Here; Object of Work To Form New Party

A day and a half with only an hour and a half's sleep—from San Francisco to Portland and waypoints. This is the schedule of Howard Y. Williams, executive secretary of the League for Independent Political Action, who spoke on the campus Thursday evening.

Mr. Williams left San Francisco Wednesday, and traveling by train and aeroplane reached Portland Thursday in time to speak there. From Portland he journeyed to Salem, spoke there, and arrived in Eugene Thursday evening at 6 o'clock.

Mr. Williams' lecture here Thursday evening was, "Wanted: A New Political Alignment," in which he brought out the fact that the Republican and Democratic parties are not affording any real competition for each other, and that an opposition party must arise. The object of the league, according to Mr. Williams, is to help form such a new party, not to act as a party itself.

After his address, Mr. Williams spent the rest of the evening in study, preparing for his next appearance, and took a 3 a. m. train out of Eugene. Such is the life of a public man!

TODAY'S ATTRACTIONS

McDonald—"Honey."
Rex—"Men Without Women."
State—"The Long, Long Trail."
Colonial—"Paris."
Heilig—"General Crack."

An excellent variety of week-end attractions greets those who are figuring on show dates to entertain the girl friend. If she is of the artistic type and would appreciate true genius, "General Crack" would be the wise selection, but if she is sweet and youthful and full of fun, "Honey" wouldn't be bad at all. Then, too, the athletic or scientifically inclined would dote on "Men Without Women," a submarine picture, or Hoot Gibson's "Long, Long Trail." And last of all, if SHE has those Frenchy eyes that just won't be have and a musical ear, Irene Bordoni in "Paris" would delight her. Be wise, me lads, and catch on to that personality ensemble idea, the women love it.
