Two close games opened the intramural baseball league with Gamma hall whitewashing S. A. E., 2 to 0, while Zeta hall scored a 5-to-4 upset over the Phi Delt's.

Art Minney pitched steady ball for Gamma, holding the opposing bat wielders to a brace of hits while his teammates were garnering five solid clouts off Blackburne. A slashing single to center by Downs in the third inning scored Bell and Calavan with the winning runs.

S. A. E. threatened in the second and third frames when Minney's support was a bit wobbly, but a double play, Medler to Downs, wiped out their chance in the second and Minney was too tight in the pinches from there on.

Paul Whiteside, lanky Zeta hurler, mowed down the Phi Delt batters in four of the five innings but a sensational rally in the fourth nearly erased the Zeta lead piled up early in the game. Going into the fourth inning five runs behind, Milligan and Mason scratched out singles and scored on Rogers' two-bagger. Calkins brought Rogers in with another timely hit and climaxed the rally by stealing home. With two gone in the fifth, Horner attempted the same feat but was tagged out by the catcher.

Kaplan, Calandra, and Emery led the assault that netted five markers off Milligan in the first two innings, but Scotty settled down and blanked Zeta for the remainder of the game. Les Johnson and Jean Eberhart umpired the contests.

Frosh Ball Team Will Make Debut At 3:30 on Friday

Medford High To Furnish Strong Opposition For Yearlings

Good or not so good—that is the question. Tomorrow at 3:30 on the frosh ball field the popular will commence to find the answer. The yearling baseball squad will make its debut of the season against Medford high's team. Another game will be played Saturday on Reinhart field, starting at 10:30 in the morning.

Bill Baker, frosh coach, says his men are getting better every day. Chuck Shaneman, behind the bat, is rated as a star. As an assistant he has Maurice Whitaker, who is a capable receiver also. The regular infield lines up with Courtney Wheat at first, Hugh Chapman on second, Chet Anderson at short, and Leland on third. This combination is said to be faster than any yearling infield in recent years.

Everett Greenman has alternated at first and in the outfield. Regular outfielders are: Carl Sanding, Ted Jensen, and Leonard Rands. James Hunt and Horace Eldridge are substitutes.

Jack Hughes is the first string pitcher. Cecil Espy, a southpaw, and Peter Schmitz are other hurlers.

Archery Proves A Popular Sport

Campus Classes Are Full! Instructors Say

"Archery is proving a more popular sport this year than ever before," said Ruth Jaynes, head of archery. Archery has been enjoying a revival throughout the country; the campus classes are full; but there is still room for more to come out for intramural archery.

Ernestine Troemel and Harriett Thomson, coaches of archery, made a list of advanced players that should report for intramural archery. They are: Harriett Kibbee, Doris Hardy, Nancy Thompson, Georgia Boydston, Alice Carter, Lenora Andrews, Dorothy Pullin, Ethel Conway, Grace Burnett, Elaine Borthwick, Nadine Gillison, Thelma Lund, Alberta Rives, Dorothy Thomas, Mary Fenton, Dorothy Illidge, and Marian Camp. Four W. A. A. prominent archers are: Marjorie Kelly, Katherine Kjosness, Grace Caldwell, and Ruth Jaynes.

Instead of the picnic, which has been held in the past on Saturday afternoon, the directors of this year's spree plan to hold a luncheon, but only for seniors, back of the tennis courts by the library. Box lunches will be passed around to the crowd, and then a dance will be held on the tennis courts. "No dates, no dates" is the slogan, added Dorothy Belle Endicott, chairman.

The Senior Leap Week ends with a rousing brawl at Hendricks hall. The Bar-room Bust is the biggest affair of the week-end, and "de skoits" take "de guys" to this would-be Lime house. Rat-racing, old-fashioned bars, and plenty to eat is promised by Marjorie Chester, who is in charge.

Coach Bill Baker's freshman baseball team will meet Medford high on the yearling field Friday afternoon and Saturday morning in the opening series of the year for the first year men. Bill has had his squad out for several weeks and, although the recent rainy weather has hindered workouts, the frosh are in good shape. The Peapicker nine is an unknown quantity here, but the southern Oregon school usually puts out a well balanced team.

Baker is having quite a time of it in his first year as freshman coach. He took up the reins when Prink Callison decided to put in all of his time assisting Coach Doc Spears with spring football practice. Yearling prospects were none too good this year, but the team is steadily improving and all of the boys are working hard for Bill.

One thing the first year team has that looks mighty good on paper—and should perform well in the field—is the battery composed of Jack Hughes and Roy Shaneman. That means a lot to a freshman team and Bill has a well rounded infield and outfield to work with the battery.

Hughes will be facing his old time school mates when he works against Medford. He was the star fast ball pitcher on the Peapicker team during his prep school days and he is figured as one of the best varsity prospects of recent years. When we said that Jack had a fast ball we meant it—many think he has as much steam as the great MacDonald.

Shaneman is another man of varsity calibre. He won his spurs at Eugene high and was considered one of the finest high school receivers in the state last year. Espy and Schmitz, pitchers, and Whitaker, catcher, are reserve battery material.

Baker's infield is composed of Wheat, first; Chapman, second; Leland, short, and Anderson, third. This combination is fast in the field and also packs plenty of punch at the plate. All have good throwing arms and know the game.

Carl Sandine, Ted Jensen, and Leonard Rands are holding down berths in the outfield. All three men are good hitters and have ample ability in chasing fly balls. Hunt, Eldridge, and Greenman are a trio of capable reserves and may win a regular berth.

While the yearlings are playing Medford, the varsity nine will cross bats with Columbia university on Reinhart field Friday. The strategy board composed of Bill Reinhart and Ray O'Donnell have not yet named their selection for mound duty but it is likely that Reynold MacDonald will draw the assignment for the opener. Cte Gabriel will work behind the bat.

The excitement caused by the latest development has led most of the "undecided" groups to postpone final decision for a while. They want time to see how the lines of battle will be shaped before committing themselves definitely.

Laird's supporters, although surprised by the sudden move of their opponents, are not asleep to the chance the sudden change of enemy generals gives them to strengthen their position, and are making every effort to extend their spheres of influence as far as possible before Cherry's party again hits its full stride.

Bryan Active

Nor has the third presidential candidate, Cal Bryan, who is running without a ticket on an "individual basis," overlooked the opportunities offered him by the temporary confusion into which the two parties have been thrown. At a meeting held at the Alpha Beta Chi house at 8:30 last night, he explained his plan of "politics on individual merit" to a group of about fifty interested students.

Oregon Swatters To Battle Irish In 2-Game Series

Columbia University Drops Two to Oregon State But Shows Class

Sophomore Hurlers May Get Workout

Tomorrow up in that park surrounded by the impenetrable barbed fence like they have around zoos to keep the animals from getting out, and around ball fields to keep them from gettin' in (for nothing), the Webfoot baseball team will endeavor to win another pre-season game.

Unless rain sets wash the diamond, the formidable cliff-dwellers from Columbia university of Portland, will smack bats with our Ducks starting at 3:30, and should nothing too serious happen they will do so again Saturday.

Reynold MacDonald, Oregon's colorful twirler, will greet the Portlanders, which are nicknamed Irish because of their trouble starting, and he will try to keep all the throwing under his control. Columbia played two games with Oregon State last week. They lost the first one 4 to 3 and the second 2 to 0.

A fellow by the name of Arena pitches for the Irish and he has the reputation of being as good as any heaver in the northwest. Then two sluggers called Costello and Cosgrove certainly hit that ball around over at Corvallis.

The Oregon line-up will be about the same. Cecil Gabriel will catch, Carl Nelson is slated for first base, Johnny Londahl, second, Rabbit Robie, third, and Kermit Stevens, short. Kramer Barnes, Franny Andrews, Lawrence Jackson or Saturday, either Dave Bloom or Curley Fuller will do the pitching. Ed Charles and Ken Scales are two sophomore hurlers who may be tried out in the series.

Women Tennis Fans May Exercise Ability

Women interested in tennis have still time to come out for practices, and may practice at their own convenience although three a week are required, according to Miss Margaret Duncan, coach of tennis.

Advanced and intermediate players will be divided, with a tournament in each section beginning next week. Intermediate players and those wishing special coaching may get it, by reporting at 4 o'clock every day of the week. A doubles tournament will be scheduled later in the term.

Oregana Staff To Name Candidates for Posts

Today at 4 o'clock the staff of the Oregana will make nominations for next year's annual editors, it was announced last night by Lester McDonald, editor.

The editorial staff of the Oregana will meet in 105 Journalism, and the business staff will gather in 104 Journalism building, McDonald said.

Stage Is Set for Annual Ping Pong Tournament

Hostilities in the annual intramural ping pong tourney will start this afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. hut with four battles listed to be staged on the board.

Ruby Rubenstein, last year's champ, will take the field to defend his title in the feature match of the day scheduled for 4 o'clock. George Pratt, the Beta hope, will oppose Rubie.

The world famed Don Eva, wearing the colors of S. A. E., will meet Pat Pascua, pride of the Philippines, in the opener at 3 o'clock. Scott Milligan, who plays ping pong as well as he does basketball, finally consented to lend his presence to the tourney and he will meet Neil Sheeley, Phi Sig flash, in the second game.

Terrible Turk Eberhart is billed to cross racquets with Ethan Newman, hope and joy of Adams street.

The remainder of the first round matches will be played Friday and all games must be played at the scheduled time.

This year's champ will be awarded a large silver loving cup donated by the Co-op.

The telephone looks ahead

Even as you are putting through your daily telephone calls, groups of Bell Telephone experts are calculating your telephone needs for five years, ten years, twenty years from now.

It is their work to discover from all available facts—not fancies—how each state, city and community will probably grow. These facts are reduced to forecast charts, precisely as an astronomer plots the course of a comet.

Thus central offices are planned years before they are actually built. Underground and overhead lines are laid out to fit future as well as present needs. Expansion of service is provided for.

Bell System planners virtually live in the cities of the future. They play a vital part in providing the best possible telephone service for the least possible cost.
