

DEANS TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS

Summer Cruise Ships To Be Inspected by Deans.

RESERVATIONS ARE OPEN

Faculty Members of Seasons Are Listed; Original Quota Is Exceeded.

Alfred Powers, dean of the extension division, and Karl W. Onthank, executive secretary of the University, will leave for Seattle, Saturday, April 26, to make final arrangements for an inspection of the S. S. Rogers, the ship which is chartered to take the second annual University post-session (Aug. 4-26) to Alaska.

From Seattle, Dean Powers and Mr. Onthank will go on to Vancouver, B. C., there to check up on the S. S. Niagara, the big ship of the Royal Australasian Mail Line which has been chartered for the University of Oregon summer cruise to Hawaii. This cruise will take from June 24 to August 16, a total of 53 days with 38 days on the island.

Class Rooms To Be Placed.
A check-up of berths will be made, so they may be assigned, and class rooms will be inspected and worked out on both ships. The S. S. Niagara will take only one more trip before it will leave on the Hawaiian cruise.

Although the quotas originally allowed for each cruise have already been filled, students who wish to go to either Alaska or Hawaii and have not yet secured reservations may get so. This is because, Dean Powers says, the large Canadian boat secured will provide a larger number of reservations to Hawaii than were previously announced; and berth space on the Rogers to Alaska will enable a few more additional students to be accommodated on that cruise also.

More Reservations Open.
Accordingly, states Dean Powers, any students who wish reservations on either of these summer tours should send them in immediately to the extension division.

The faculty for the Hawaiian trip will be: Karl W. Onthank, director in charge; Dr. Warren D. Smith, professor of geology; Dr. Ralph D. Casey, professor of journalism; Dr. Nelson L. Bossing, professor of education; and Mrs. Mable Holmes Parsons, professor of English.

Among the faculty for the Alaskan tour will be: Prof. W. G. Beattie, director in charge; A. R. Sweetser, professor of botany; Nowland B. Zane, professor of art; and Dr. Charles N. Reynolds, professor of sociology at Stanford university. Additional members will be announced by Dean Powers later.

sounding dance scheduled for tonight at the Delta Gamma sorority house. Stags, both men and women, will start arriving at 8:30. All tagging and asking for dances will be done by the women and for once the men can see how it feels to be a wallflower. Maria Wilson is arranging for the "Revenge" and urges that everyone wear campus togs, to get that informal, friendly feeling. The party will break up at 10:30.

All University classes scheduled for Friday afternoon and Saturday morning will be dismissed, Hugh Biggs, acting dean of men, declared. This will enable students to attend all Junior Week-end events.

Flirting Upheld.
The co-eds at Willamette college insist that flirting is the pride, heritage, and ambition of every woman. The college campus is a good place, they declare—one wants some pleasant memories of college life.

MEN PUT AT MERCY OF WOMEN FOR WEEK-END

Senior Leap Week Opens Today with Kappa Koffee at Four; Glass-Jenkins Marriage Announced

Today the events toward which the men of the campus look forward for four years will take place. The senior women will entertain the men and pay the bills. The Kappa Coffee, which is a date affair, will be held at the Kappa Kappa Gamma house. Naomi Hohman is chairman. In the evening the significantly named "Co-ed's Revenge" will take place at the Delta Gamma house with Maria Wilson in charge. It is a strictly no-date affair. Both events are informal. Both are for seniors.

The announcement of the marriage of Eleanore Glass, '28, to Mark Jenkins, ex-'31, is of interest to campus people. The ceremony took place November 17, but was not announced until a few days ago at LaGrande, Oregon, where Mrs. Jenkins is a member of the high school faculty. She is affiliated with Pi Beta Phi and Mr. Jenkins is a member of Psi Kappa.

Chi Delta Sorority entertained with a formal tea at the chapter house yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Mary Dumble, of Los Angeles, national inspector of Beta Phi Alpha, Mrs. Warren D. Smith, patroness, and Miss Margaret L. Dalgh, house mother. Miss Ruth Clark was chairman of arrangements.

Theta Omega sorority will entertain with a tea dance Saturday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:00 at the chapter house. Patronesses will be Mrs. John Hershner and Mrs. Earle M. Pallett. Miss Mildred French is in charge of the affair.

The juniors of Zeta Tau Alpha will entertain the seniors at an informal dinner dance Friday evening, April 24. Spring flowers will be the decoration motif. Nadine Gilkeson and Dorothea Goodfellow are in charge of arrangements.

Pi Beta Phi sorority will hold their annual Founder's Day breakfast at the chapter house Sunday morning at 9:30. Alumni of the chapter will be guests. Afterwards all will attend church in a group.

RADIO PROGRAM IS PLANNED

DR. SPEARS SLATED TO TALK AFTER CHARITY GAME.

Political Night Features Today's Broadcast; Short Speeches To Be Delivered.

Political candidates, their histories, plums and promises will be broadcast tonight over KORE at 8 o'clock in the "Emerald of the Air's" "Politicians Night," according to Art Potwin, director. The whole evening, however, will not be turned over to lengthy speeches or political harranguing, but will feature some of the best campus musical talent yet to be presented. "Flint" Fowler's harmony orchestra is slated to present 20 minutes of syncopated orchestration.

Alpha Phi Trio, Carolyn Haberlach, Flavel Hayner, and Gladys Foster, are scheduled to sing several numbers. They have been heard frequently before, at campus functions, and will prove one of the main attractions of the program.

Bob Guild, popular soloist, accompanied by Maxine Glover at the piano, will sing several numbers. "Gullfin and His Gal," continuity stunt, will return again tonight in their fifth episode, which Slug Palmer, assistant director, promises to be the best yet. The two college lovers and their troubles have been receiving a lot of interest and applause from radio audiences.

As an added attraction to next week's program, Carolyn Haberlach, recently added to the broadcast directorate, promises a variety of April Frolic talent. Johnny Robinson's "Varsity Vagabonds" will also play on several nights, according to Potwin.

Dr. Clarence W. Spears, varsity football coach, will speak over the microphone after the Community Chest football game on May 10, according to Slug Palmer. The subject of Dr. Spears' talk has not yet been announced, but undoubtedly it will be on the varsity football team and its prospects for the 1930 football season.

STUDENT VOTES ARE HIT

was brought under fire during a municipal election campaign. At that time the Register reassured the students, when threats of indictment were hinted at, as to their right of voting in the local election as follows: "The student should lose no sleep over prosecution for illegal voting if he has resided in Lane county 90 days, the precinct 30 days and the state 6 months. No court has ever assisted in the disfranchising of a single man's vote. If the student voted without having gained that right, that is another matter. . . ."

In the fall elections of 1928 the question of student vote was again raised during the campaign against the Sunday movie law. In this campaign the Eugene Federation of Church Brotherhoods threatened to protest the election results in case of the defeat of their cause. As matters turned out, the Sunday movie law was smothered under such a landslide of votes that nothing further was done about the student vote.

FOUR BRAVE MUD ROADS ON SURVEY

Educators Travel Miles To Visit Schools.

HUFFAKER HEADS WORK

Graduate Students Tour County To Inspect Buildings of Outlying Communities.

Great practical benefit to educators is expected to result from the survey now being conducted by Dr. C. L. Huffaker, of the school of education, in Lane and Klamath counties.

Comparison of school systems in these two counties is being made because Klamath has had the county unit plan for several years, while Lane county operates under the old system. The survey is expected to show up weaknesses in both systems, and will probably result in some consolidations of schools in Lane county.

Lane Schools Visited
Starting last fall, Dr. Huffaker assisted by several graduate students, visited every school in Lane county it was possible to reach during the rainy season. This week such an investigation will be started in Klamath county. Each grade and high school visited was rated according to its building, equipment, number of students, subjects taught and number of teachers. The students were tested, and were located in the district with reference to the school, and to the roads which led to the school.

Because of the mountainous character of much of Lane county many of these schools were inaccessible except by foot. A number of these hazardous trips were made by the four graduate students assisting Dr. Huffaker, Irving Mather, Leslie Godard, Buford Wilkerson, and Paul Menegal. These four went as far as they could by automobile, and then traveled on foot through mud and water. If the wet spring continues, it is possible that a few of the schools cannot be reached until after the term is out, Dr. Huffaker said.

While no definite classifications have as yet been determined, Dr. Huffaker stated that they had found wide ranges of standards in the schools and very few average schools. They were either very good or very poor.

Results of this investigation will be published some time during the summer.

CO-OP BOARD TO SELECT NOMINATIONS OF DIRECTING BODY SLATED MONDAY.

Annual Meeting Called for in Constitution; Year's Work To Be Reported.

Nominations for three new members of the Co-op board will take place next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock in room 105, Commerce, according to Day Foster, president of the board.

At this time the year's report of business will be given and those who are to make nominations are asked to be present at the meeting. Since this is the annual meeting called for in the constitution of the University of Oregon Co-operative Store, all students are invited to attend, and make nominations.

The officers who are retiring from the board are: Day Foster, president; Bradshaw Harrison and Esther Kaser. Two students, Ken-
